

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

General Rush C. Hawkins, of New York,

Author of—"Titles of the First Books from the Earliest Presses in Europe before the End of the Fifteenth Century, with Brief Notes upon their Printers," etc.

NEW YORK:
GEORGE A. LEAVITT AND CO.,
787 AND 789 BROADWAY.
March, 1887.

"Thus our time may we pass with rare books and rare friends,
Growing wiser and better till life itself ends:
And may those who delight not in black letter lore,
By some obsolete act be sent far from our shore."
—J. M.

As if there had been ringing in the ears of GENERAL RUSH C. HAWKINS the words of "Titus Andronicus"—

"Come and make choyse of all my Library,"

And, as if he deemed it a duty to act in accordance with that suggestion of "Shakespeare," this brave soldier—who erstwhile was "euen in the Canon's mouth"—determined to issue a general invitation to the world of book-lovers to take their pick and eat their fill of his literary treasures.

The word of command was given to make a roster of his books.

And this "CATALOGUE OF THE HAWKINS LIBRARY" is the result.

An unpretentious effort in bibliographical perlustration of the thousands of tomes of its bibliognostic owner, who is remembered from civil war times by all Americans as the author of "HAWKINS' ZOUAVES" and is recognized by the inner circle of select bibliophiles as the savant compiler of—"Titles of the First Books from the Earliest Presses, Established in Different Cities, Towns and Monasteries in Europe before the End of the Fifteenth Century, with Brief Notes upon their Printers."

* * *

The "HAWKINS LIBRARY" has been styled "Bibliotheca Extraordinarissima."

What I have catalogued is only a part, the larger portion numerically, and which with the balance conserved, make up an unit that our Dominie Sampsons would call truly "prodigious!"

We have, however, only to consider the rations served out by order of the GENERAL.

The "HAWKINS LIBRARY CATALOGUE" has been arranged in five divisions as follows:

I. BIBLIOTHECA AMERICANA, including Discoveries of North, Central and South America; Cosmography; Voyages and Travels; Indian Aborigines; Colonial, State and Local Histories; Wars of American Revolution, 1812, Florida and Mexico, also the Civil War; Statesmanship and Economics; Biography and Miscellaneous Americana.....Numbers I to 1211

II. DRAMA AND POETRY, inclusive of SHAKESPEAREANA.

Numbers 1212 to 1530

III. ILLUMINATED VELLUM MANUSCRIPTS, etc Numbers 1531 to 1584

IV. INCUNABULA AND BLACK LETTERS.....Numbers 1585 to 1754

V. VARIA LITERARIA, comprising Art, Gallerics, Facetiæ, Curiosa, Biography, Science, Natural History, Bibliography, Travels, Fiction, History and other Miscellanea, including a Very Important Collection of Eighteenth Century French Literature.....Numbers 1755 to 2578

The "AMERICANA"—comprising over twelve hundred numbers and the alphabetically arranged "FIRST DIVISION" of this bibliography—represent a diversified collection. The whole combined leaves nothing wanting for the student who desires information upon any of the phases of the history and vicissitudes of America from the time of the discovery of the Continent by the great Genoese navigator, if not during prehistoric, aboriginal conditions.

Some of the earliest and rarest AMERICANA in existence will be found in the HAWKINS LIBRARY. Thus I have described in the following pages such nuggets as:—

The celebrated "Giustiniani Polyglot Psalter," printed in 1516 at Genoa, but rigidly suppressed by the Senate of that Italian Republic on account of containing libels upon Columbus and which are found in the first life of that discoverer, inserted in the Bishop's commentary on the Nineteenth Psalm; Vadian's edition of "Dionysius Afer," Vienna, 1515; Amerigo Vespucci's 1509 edition of his "Voyages" and the first book in which it was proposed to give the name of "America" to the newly discovered land; the excessively rare 1520 edition of Solinus containing the earliest engraved map of America—also the 1543 Basle edition of the same author including the eleventh chapter of Pomponius Mela on the Islands of the Atlantic; Apian's "Cosmographia," the 1524 and 1553 editions with revolving diagrams on which is the word "America" and with the well-known fourth chapter in which this renowned geographer states that Vespucci was the actual discoverer; Bordone's "Isolario" with plan of the City of Mexico and maps of the West Indian Islands, etc.—both the Venetian editions of 1528 and 1547, the former being the original; a copy belonging to Catherine de Bourbon, Henry the Fourth's sister, of the 1532 Cologne "De Insulis Nuper" of Fernando Cortes in which are letters by the First Bishop of Mexico, Juan Zumarraga, Peter Martyr and others; Vadian's "Epitome," printed at Zurich in 1534, with references to America; the three volumes of the 1534 Venice edition of Peter Martyr, published under the auspices of Ramusio; the collection of Grynaeus printed at Basle in 1537 and containing the "Voyages" of Columbus, Vespucci, Varthema, Peter Martyr, etc.; two of the 1552 Seville tracts of the good Bishop Las Casas of Chiapa, in favor of the persecuted aborigines; the 1553 Antwerp "Cosmographia" of Gemma Frisius; Zarate's "History of Peru," printed at Venice in 1563; the "Isole Piv" of Porcacchi—both the 1572 and 1576 Venice editions, with American maps and plans; Acosta's "Botany of the Indies," Venice, 1585; Antoine Colin's "Drugs of the Indies," Lyons, 1602; the "De Bry Voyages"; the 1653 Elzevir edition of Campanella; Robert de Berquen's "Wonders of the Indies," Paris, 1669; the 1697 and 1704 editions of the "Voyage and New Discovery" of Father Hennepin; etc.

The Mexican, Guarani, Huasteca, Otomi and Carib indigenous American dialects are explained in copies of the works of Arenas, Paredes, Brasseur-de-Bourbourg, Perez, Ruiz-de-Montoya, Tapia-Zenteno, Yepes and Breton.

Later Discoveries in the New World appear in books like:—the original 1703 edition of the "Voyages of Baron Lahontan"; the very rare "Voyage to New France" of Diereville, printed at Amsterdam in 1710; Father Gage's "Voyages in New Spain," the 1721 Amsterdam edition; and the 1771 Paris edition of Herrera, that "Prince of Historians."

The "Colonial and State Histories" of our Republic are very strong in the HAWKINS LIBRARY. Among the rarer of these are:—Beverly's "History of Virginia"—the London edition of 1705 and the French translation of 1707; Lawson's rare quarto works on Carolina, printed at London in 1709 and 1718;

Thomas Prince's "Chronological History of New England," Boston, 1736; some valuable sermons preached on behalf of the infant Colony of Georgia and published as early as 1730; Brickell's "Natural History of North Carolina," 1737; the rare 1747 London edition of Cadwallader Colden's "Five Indian Nations"; the original edition of Smith's "History of New York," London, 1757; Roberts's "Account of Florida," London, 1763; Isaac Backus's "History of New England," printed 1777-96; the "History of Vermont," by Samuel Williams, 1794, also many rare and early Vermont imprints; Robert Proud's "History of Pennsylvania," printed at Philadelphia, 1797 and 1798; Haywood's very rare "History of Tennessee," Knoxville, 1823; and a large paper copy of Baylies's "Historical Memoir of the Colony of New Plymouth." Anent this department are various collections of State Historical Societies, including a—"Certificate of One Share of Stock in the Publication Fund of the New York Historical Society."

"American Poetry" will be found in:—many original editions presented by their authors to the late Bayard Taylor; Mrs. Mercy Warren's "Poems," Boston, 1790; several rare editions of Philip Freneau, printed at the end of the last century; and the extremely rare first and second editions of William Cullen Bryant's first published volume, the "Embargo" printed at Boston in the years 1808 and 1809.

The "American Revolution," its heroes and statesmen, have a considerable exhibit. There are:—rare editions of Thomas Paine; the "Peter Porcupine" controversial brochures; Baron Steuben's "Army Regulations," New York, 1787; John Drayton's "Memoirs of the American Revolution," as well as the "Tour" of the same, Charleston, 1794; an unique volume of Ramsay, full of his manuscript corrections; some "Frankliniana" of rarity, including "Poor Richard's Almanac" printed by the American patriot in 1749; twenty numbers of "Washingtoniana," inclusive of "the Journal of Major George Washington" printed at London in 1754; and much curious and scandalous "Hamiltoniana," also the New York 1788 excessively rare first collected edition of "The Federalist."

The "Civil War," in which GENERAL HAWKINS played a noteworthy part, is brought to mind by a quantity of original printed documents issued by the Confederate President, members of his Cabinet and the Rebel Congress, as well as schoolbooks and bonds put forth by the Southern States during their struggle for the dismemberment of the Nation.

"DRAMA AND POETRY, INCLUSIVE OF SHAKESPEAREANA," is the title of the "SECOND DIVISION" of the Catalogue and are particularly rich. In the nearly three hundred and twenty alphabetized numbers are early quarto plays—mostly first editions from the Burton Library—Early and Modern English Poetry, besides superb French Poetical Erotica.

The earliest example of the "Elizabethan Drama" in the Collection is the extremely rare black letter tragedy of "King Cambises" by Thomas Preston and imprinted at London when the "Bard of Avon" was a six-year-old boy—"creeping like snail unwillingly to school."

Of "Rare Ben Jonson" there are two copies of his own first collected edition printed in 1616, one with the 1641 "second folio" added, also an A. D. 1600 "first quarto" of his "Euery Man Ovt of His Hvmor." Other Early Drama of his and Shakespeare's period are:—Marlowe's "Tamburlaine," London, 1606; Marston's "Fawne," of the same year; the remarkably rare "Tragedie of Cæsar and Pompey," acted at Oxford in 1607; Markham and Machin's "Dumbe Knight," London, 1608; William Smith's extremely rare "Hector of Germany," London, 1615; Holyday's "Mariages of the Arts," London, 1618; Randolph's "Myses Looking Glasse and Amyntas, a pastoral acted at Whitehall," Oxford, 1638; and two copies of the 1647 "first folio" of the "Comedies and Tragedies of Beavmont and Fletcher," also several "first quartos" of the same dramatists. Carlell, Chamberlain, Chapman, Daborn, Davenport, Dekker, Ford, Glapthorne, Gwinne, Haywood and Rowly, Killigraew, Massinger, Mead, Shirley and Webster are also among the Early and Elizabethan Drama in the shape of very rare quartos.

"SHAKESPEAREANA" counts some forty members:—Rowe's Shakespeare, which has the merit of being the fifth, the first illustrated and first small edition of the poet's works; the 1807 reprint of the first folio; Richard Grant White's edition and the 1823 Chiswick edition are among the collected plays. The very rare "second quarto" of "Loue's Labour's Lost" of 1631 and the very scarce reprint of the first quarto "Hamlet" are included in the separate dramas. The rarest of the Shakespeareana is, however, "The Returne from Parnassus" printed at London in 1606 in Shakespeare's lifetime and containing allusions to him. The Shakespeare Society's publications, the first edition of Lamb's "Tales from Shakespeare," illustrated by William Blake, as well as the first American edition, Philadelphia, 1813, and Samuel Ireland's "Picturesque Views on the Warwickshire Avon" should be noted.

"Restoration and Later Dramatists" have original quartos and editions of:—Beckingham, Behn, Boyle, Carpenter, Cartwright, Cary, Cibber, Congreve, Dennis, Digby, Dilke, Dryden, Etherege, Freeman, Goff, Gould, Granville, Higgons, "the Berkshire" Howards, Killigrew, Nat. Lee, Lillo, Middleton, Motteux, Murphy, Neville, Powell, Quarles, Rowe, Sedley, Southerne, Steele, Trotter, Vanbrugh and Wilson.

The "Biography of the Stage and Drama" includes lives of—Bellamy, Congreve, Cooke, Corneille, Cumberland, Edwin, Forrest, Holcroft, Holland, Jordan, Kotzebue, Mellon, Mowatt, Payne, Reynolds and Weston—also a delightful, extra-illustrated and unique copy of Percy Fitzgerald's "Life of David Garrick," extended to four volumes and bound by Zaehnsdorf.

The "Early English Poetry" can be said to commence with "the well of English undefiled" in the shape of a grand copy of the black letter 1602 edition of Chaucer. The first and second folios of the collected edition of Edmund Spenser's works, i. e., of 1611 and 1617 are good examples. There are also copies of:—the first edition of the works of John Taylor "the water poet," London, 1630; Fulke Greville, Lord Brooke's "Learned and Elegant Works," the "squat folio" of 1633; Sir John Harington's very rare translation in folio of "Orlando Furioso," London, 1634; the Duke of Sussex's copy of Alexander Brome's "Songs and Poems," London, 1668; Sir William Davenant's works, the first edition, London, 1672-73; John Oldham's "Poems," London, 1683-84; and "Miltoniana," including the extremely rare first edition of the poet's "Tenure of Kings and Magistrates," an apology for the execution of Charles Stuart.

"Modern Poetry" contains some "Burnsiana," thirteen numbers of "Byroniana," a large paper copy of Glover's "Leonidas," also editions of:—Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Cowley, Cowper, Dibdin, Gay, Goethe, Goldsmith, Halleck, Herbert, Hood, Locker, Lover, Pope, Porter, Rogers, Schiller, Scott, Tasso and Tennyson, as well as biographies of Campbell, Moore, Savage and Petrarch.

A remarkable portion of the "SECOND DIVISION" of the Catalogue is the "French Poetry, mostly Erotica." Among these are:—a magnificent copy of the original and beautiful "Farmers General" edition of La Fontaine, in unrivalled condition with brilliant impressions of Eisen's plates and bound by Chambolle-Duru; Jean Chapelain's "La Pucelle" Paris, 1650; the original of Delille's "Jardins," printed by Didot in 1782; a superb set of Lemonnyer's limited reprints of the "Conteurs Francais," six volumes, illustrated by Duplessis-Bertaux; two copies of the exquisite Lemonnyer edition of "Les Baisers" of Dorat, both large paper, one of which is on Japan paper; a sumptuous copy of Laborde's "Chansons" with the music, limited Japan paper reprint of the 1773 edition; De Faure's "Quatre Heures," Duboisson's "Tableau de la Volupté," and Pezay's "Zelis au Bain," each being number five, of ten copies on Japan paper by Rouveyre and like most of these last named, in the very best reliure of Pagnant of Paris.

The "Drama and Poetry" also comprise:—the grand Hexaglot of Virgil's "Georgics"; Parke's "Original Poems and Lyric Works of Horace"; two works of Costume on large paper; the Latin Priapic poems entitled "Erotopægnion," Paris, 1798; Thomas Morley's sixteenth century "Ballads" with Elizabethan music, printed at London in 1595; and "Comédie Moderne," a rare volume on the stage, formerly the property of King Louis the Fifteenth.

The "THIRD DIVISION" of the HAWKINS CATALOGUE consists of nearly sixty numbers of "ILLUMINATED VELLUM MANUSCRIPTS, etc." They make an extraordinary collection—painstaking in script, lovely in color, and bright with gold. These examples of book-making before the invention of printing throw a "Moyen Age" halo of the genuine olden time on the Library, which, strong as it is in other departments, is by the association of this UNIQUE DIVISION transformed into a complete gathering of the book-clans.

These beautifully illuminated manuscripts were principally executed during the period of the Renaissance and comprise specimens of the Italian, Burgundian, French and German schools of mediæval miniature painting and floriated ornamentation. A peculiar feature of this array of vellum tomes is the strange fact that over half of them come from the library of one ancient monastic institution. These make up a set of what GENERAL HAWKINS styles "Hymn Books of the Middle Ages," and embrace "Hours," "Offices," "Antiphonaries," "Obsequiales," "Ceremoniales" and a number of "Psalters" used at their religious services by the members of this conventual community over four-hundred years ago. These venerable volumes are all on vellum and mostly in the original bindings. There are two folio "Antiphonales" of later date, one of the Seventeenth and another of the Eighteenth Century, the last named being according to the "Benedictine Use" as well as a very remarkable religio-grotesque "Horæ" finished in 1622, with nearly three hundred illuminated borders and miniatures of humorous and Scriptural character most fantastically intermingled.

But what the owner deems the treasure of his whole Library, is the wonderful and complete set of folio "Choir-Books" of this South-German religious house. These have been valued at several thousands of dollars and consist of two "Antiphonaria," a "Hymnarium Ecclesiæ Romanæ," an "Officia Sanctorum" and an "Officiale Omnium Sanctorum." They are uniform in illumination, script, music and binding. Every volume stands nearly two feet in height. The condition of the vellum is superb and the many miniatures, each nearly six inches square, are glorious specimens of colors and gold. The smaller colored capitals, of which there are thousands, are weird and eccentric master-pieces of caricature. At the commencement of two of the volumes are unique distemper paintings—one depicting, amid saints and nuns, the donor of these remarkable manuscripts which were purchased in the City of Nuremburg about the year 1490.

There are other "Hours of the B. V. M.," and Ecclesiastical Offices obtained by the GENERAL from different sources. Among these are:—a very fine Fifteenth Century French "Hours," with handsome and curious page miniatures; a splendid mediæval German Missal on vellum, with twelve miniatures and hundreds of colored capitals, heightened with gold; a Fifteenth Century Catholic "Offices" from a Mexican convent; a sumptuous black letter "Heures de Troyes," printed by Geoffroy de Marnef, at Paris in 1488 and on vellum, with numerous illuminations painted by hand, in gold and colors; and a Hardouin illuminated vellum "Hours" issued in 1505.

The "THIRD DIVISION" has many other bibliophilistic gems such as:—a Fifteenth Century manuscript German "Recht-Buch"; an early Fifteenth Century curious will and codicil made by an Italian traveler about to voyage beyond the seas; an autograph cheque of George Washington; Curmer's beautiful fac-simile of the "Heures" of Maistre Estienne Chevalier, executed by Jehan Fouquet; and three veritable examples of American illuminational work, of Hispano-Mexican origin and written centuries ago.

Nothing to be compared with the "FOURTH DIVISION" of the HAWKINS CATALOGUE has ever been offered for sale, in such quantity and quality, in America. These "Incunabula, Black Letters and Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth Century Tomes" with their "meadows of margin and rivers of text" remind one most forcibly of the lines of Austin Dobson—

"Not as ours, the books of old,
Things that steam can stamp and fold;
Not as ours, the books of yore,
Rows of type and nothing more.

"Then a book was still a book Where a wistful man might look. ."

Very few public libraries in this country can show such a muster of early printed books as are described in the following pages. Two volumes printed by Gutenberg, one published by Fust but printed by Schoeffer, and two printed by Schoeffer after the death of his two patrons, can very rarely be found together in one private library.

Yet they honor the HAWKINS COLLECTION.

All bibliographical authorities unite in agreeing that the volume of the "Statutes of the Archbishopric of Mayence" was printed by the inventor of the art typographic about the year 1455, and there can be little doubt that the black letter "Sifridus" which commences the HAWKINS INCUNABULA was also imprinted about the same time by John Gutenberg.

The colophon of the 1466 "Cicero" states positively that it was set up by Peter Schoeffer himself, and that Fust published this nugget of printing. It should not be overlooked by those who may be interested in this portion of the Collection that about a month ago a London book-dealer asked TWENTY-SIX THOUSAND TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS in one of his catalogues for a copy of Fust and Schoeffer's "Psalter" of 1459, which is a far rarer work than even the Gutenberg or "Mazarine Bible." The other books printed by Schoeffer will be found on pages 218 and 224 of this bibliography. Both bear the name of Gutenberg's associate in the colophon, below which is the time-honored typographical device of Fust and Schoeffer.

The printers who followed the founders of the art at Mayence are in great plenty in the one hundred and seventy chronologically arranged numbers of the "FOURTH DIVISION." They exhibit a wonderful diversity of types and show the evolution of the old Gothic letter into the chaste Venetian and bold Roman. Some of the volumes illustrate the hankering of their owners to tread in the old paths, and we find many with capitals and borders in gold and colors, just as they were in the vellum paleographical books of Mediaevalism. Others are rich with printed floriated initials and xylographic cuts of the early Fifteenth Century woodblock order. There are quite a number of volumes from the famed collection of the late Dr. George Kloss of Frankfort-on-the-Main and some are rebound by modern bibliopegists like Roger Payne and Rousselle, one being an 1851 exhibition prize binding, while the larger portion are left in their antique covers of well-worn leather on sturdy oak.

There are in this DIVISION some of the earliest imprints of the following places:—Amsterdam, Anvers, Augsburg, Basle, Bologna, Cologne, Cremona, Delft, Deventer, Eichstadt, Esslingen, Ferrara, Florence, Haguenau, Leyden, Louvain, Lyons, Mantua, Memmingen, Milan, Nuremberg, Paris, Pavia, Reggio, Rome, Salamanca, Strasburg, Treviso, Turin, Venice, Vicenza, Ulm and Zwoil.

The more important printers represented are:—Nicholas Alamanuca, Paulus Manutius Aldus, John de Ammerbach, Bernardinus Benalius, Dionysius Bertoch, Bartholomew Brusch, Matthew Capcasus, John de Cerito, John de Colonia, John Cleyn, Frederic Creusner, John Crespin, John Crugher, Carolus A. Darleriis, Charles Estienne vel Stephanus, John Fabri, Jehan Frelon, Conrad Fyner, Galliot du Pre, Philip Giunta, John Manthen de Geretzen, Henry Grau, Bartholomew Grevius, Heinrich Heinrich, Wolfgang Hopyl, Louis Hornken, Jacob Jacobzoon Van der Meer, Claude Jammarr, Nicholas Jenson, Thielman Kerver, Henry Kifer, John Kolhoff, Albert Künne de Duderstadt, George Lauer, Herman Lichtenstein, Michael Manger, Michael Manzol, John Mentelin, Alexander Minuticinus, Mischomini, Francis Nierg, Renald de Novimagio, Peter Os, Leonard Pachel, Richard Pafraet, Jehan Petit, Philip Pincius, Paul de Plüzpach, Henry Quentell, Ehrard Ratdolt, Francois Regnault, George Reyser, Francis Renner, Theodoricus de Reynsburch, Michael Ryser, Henry Sancto Urso, Ulric Seinzenceller, Octavian Scotus, John Sensenschmidt, Eucharius Silber, John Soter, Thomas Soubron, Vindelinus de Spira, Antonio de Strata, Baptist de Tortis, John de Tridino, Bartholomew Unckle, Leonard Unild, Laurence de Valencia, John Veldener, John of Westphalia, Gunther Zainer, John Zainer, Bartholomew de Zanis, Antonio Zarotus, Ulric Zell and Damian Zennaro.

That celebrated family of typothetæ, the Elzevirs, exhibit some twelve imprints published at Leyden and Amsterdam between the years 1622 and 1662.

Martial, Palladius, Plautus, Hippocrates and Plato are, in each instance, the "editio princeps."

In such a mass of typographical curiosities, it is impossible to particularize all those which deserve special mention. All are honestly described, and in the Catalogue—into which I have woven many bibliographical points—is carefully told the separate story of the various numbers.

It may be well, however, to state that among the more interesting examples in this Unique Collection are:—the extremely rare first edition printed at Florence in 1486 of the "Morals of St. Gregory," including a remarkable metal portrait of that pontiff; the first edition of the Emperor Justinian's "De Tortis";

the first book printed at Nuremburg and bound by Roger Payne ; the first volume having Hebrew characters ; the first book printed at Wurzburg ; the biggest volume printed in the Fifteenth Century ; the first edition of " Euclid," which is the first book printed with woodcut diagrams ; the first book with a Memmingen imprint ; the 1483 " Chronicle of Eusebius," containing a reference to Gutenberg as the inventor of printing and which authority has been neglected by bibliographers ; the " Cologne Missal," printed by John de Lubeck, the friend of William Caxton ; the Giunta and Sotherini 1512 edition of Josephus, in Italian ; the 1517 Milan " Stephanus Niger," dedicated to John Grolier and with complimentary verses to that famous bibliognoste ; Galliot du Pre's 1529 " Virgil " in handsome, contemporary, Grolieresque reliure ; the excessively rare first " French History " printed at Paris in 1528, with curious illustrations and the author of which was Nicolle Gilles ; John Crespin's magnificent 1529 edition of " Virgil " profusely illustrated and bound by Clæssens ; the 1569 Strassburg edition in German of Sebastian Brandt's " Ship of Fools " ; the very rare 1570 bibelot of " Rabelais " bound by Eenhaes ; a fine copy of the very scarce " Breeches Bible " printed at London in 1599 and charmingly bound by De Coverly ; and the first edition of Vecellio's " Costumes " with the designs of the great Italian painter Titian vel Tiziano Vecelli—and superbly bound in the style of Grolier.

There are also some rare works on the Mediæval Israelites and of Oriental Polemics, as well as others on Astrology and Alchemy.

Some of the most popular authors read by the profoundly learned students living in the first century of printing, will be found in this INCUNABULIC DIVISION, viz.:—Ægidius Romanus, Æneas Sylvius, Albertus Magnus, St. Ambrose, Bishop John Andreas, St. Antoninus, Applanus, St. Augustine, Balbus, Beroaldus, Boccaccio, St. Bonaventure, St. Bruno, Archbishop Campanus, Robert di Carracciolo, Baldesar Castiglione, Diogenes Lærtius, Diomedes, Giustiniani, St. Jerome, Jovius, Justin, Lascaris, Peter Lombard, the Carthusian Ludolf, Nicholas de Lyra, Martianus, Antonio Mancinelli, Michael of Hungary, John Nider, Ovid, Petrarch, Francis Philelphus, Pomponius Lætus, Pomponius Mela, Prudentius, George Purbach, Rolevinck, Sabellicus, Sallust, Seneca, Sextus Rufus, Battista Spagnuoli, Tacitus, St. Thomas Aquinas, Turrecremata, Ubaldus, J. P. Valerianus, Franciscus Venturinus, Vitruvius, Gerard Vliedervoven, James de Voraigue, cum multis aliis.

The great Mediæval text-books the " Almagestum " and the " Cosmographia " of Ptolemy, are placed among the " Black Letters," although the last named should more properly come under the head of " Americana." GENERAL HAWKINS has seven editions of the " Cosmography " in this Catalogue. Four are in Italian and three in Latin, including the editions of Sylvanus and Sebastian Munster. Six of these examples were printed at Venice in 1511, 1561, 1562, 1574, 1598, 1599 respectively—and one at Basle in 1545. No more curious instance of evolutionary gyration in cartography can be exemplified than the marvelous geographical development of the New World exhibited in these volumes—the 1511 edition with its crude " Mappemonde," giving but little more than the fabulous " Atlantis " of Plato and the imprint of ninety years later showing America with her rightful share of majestic dignity among the Continents of the Earth.

The last, but not the least part, of the " HAWKINS LIBRARY " is the " FIFTH DIVISION," which has been given the comprehensive title of " VARIA LITERARIA," as it includes works on a number of different subjects. It has been arranged alphabetically and embraces nearly eight hundred and twenty-five numbers.

The Painters, Sculptors and Engravers of the Old and Modern Schools are brought forward at their very best in the luxurious volumes, splendid galleries and works on Art in the "HAWKINS CATALOGUE." No finer productions of American and modern European publishers have been issued than some of the sumptuous editions-de-luxe here specified:—a set of signed artists' proofs on parchment and limited to six copies of the "American Etchings" of the "New York Etching Club"; another set of proofs on India paper from the burins of the Modern American School of etchers, as well as artists' proofs on Japan paper of the same; "Artistic Homes of the United States," illustrated with two hundred plates; the "Art Treasures of America," India proofs; the edition-de-luxe of "Great Modern Painters," Japan proofs before letters and colored, also a duplicate set on satin; Birch's "Heads of Illustrious Persons," engraved by the famous artists Houbraeken and Vertue—a large paper copy; that grand work on the "River Thames" with text by Coombe, printed by Bulmer and published by Boydell, with plates in aqua-tint, many beautifully colored by hand; rare "Cruikshankiana" inclusive of the Hone brochures on the scandalous life of George the Fourth; Britton's "Fine Arts of the English School," London, 1812; the de-luxe "Gallery of Famous Men and Women," with proofs on India paper; the limited edition of Louis Goussier's work on "Japanese Art," with proofs on Japan paper; Hayley's "Life of Romney," with Caroline Watson's engravings and lovely portraits of Lady Hamilton, the mistress of the "Hero of the Nile"; edition-de-luxe of "German, Flemish and Dutch Art," mostly Japan proofs before letters, also selected proofs on satin of the same; the grand architectural works of Jean Le Pautre; the "British National Gallery," two copies, one being the first edition; the "National Portrait Gallery"; large paper copy of "Select Views of London" with duplicate proofs and etchings; Seymour's "Schoolmaster Abroad," London, 1834; large paper copy of the "Vernon Gallery," with India proofs; magnificent copy of the edition-de-luxe of Gavard's "Versailles Gallery," with impressions of the plates on China paper; artists' proofs of etchings after Vibert, with an extra set from the defaced plates; the "Benjamin West Gallery" engraved by Henry Moses; Woltmann and Woermann's "History of Painting" in tree marbled calf; the splendid "Boyer d'Aiguilles Gallery," Paris, 1744; a copy of the rare plates engraved by De Marne after Raffaello and other Old Masters, 1579; a fine, tall copy of Hope's "Costume of the Ancients"; the "Musée Français," four volumes; magnificent copy of the "Orleans Gems" bound by Rivière; a genuine Rembrandt etching—the "Descent from the Cross"; engraved illustrations after Peter Paul Rubens, Antwerp, 1642; "Select Engravings of the Italian, Dutch and Flemish Masters," London, 1818; a series of etchings by William Unger after the Old Masters; and the superb work published by Boydell in 1764, of "Guercino, Michael Angelo, etc.," principally engraved by Francis Bartolozzi.

"Facetious Literature and Curiosa," some in the finest conceivable bindings, make up a large section of the "FIFTH DIVISION." Unequalled in their way are the subjoined works:—a magnificent copy of the "Delices des Césars" characteristically bound by David, in two volumes; Queen Margaret's "Heptameron," the four volume limited edition on specially manufactured paper and bound by Pagnant; a large paper copy of Pickering's "Decameron" in Italian; Aretino's "Dialogues," limited edition; original edition of Dorat's "Fables" and "Baisers," the last named being large paper and with brilliant impressions of Eisen and Marillier; Aphra Behn's "Land of Love," 1717; Montesquieu's

"Temple of Gnide" with four sets of plates, both on large and Japan paper, and bound by Pagnant; Michæel Baydier's "Histoire du Serail," Paris, 1631; large paper copy of Renouard's edition of Le Grand's "Fabliaux," illustrated by Moreau le jeune; Amyot's translation of "Daphnis and Chloe," one of ten copies on Japan paper and deliciously bound by Pagnant; Grandville's facetiously illustrated works; Lachatre's "Mysteries of the Confessional"; "Parnasse Satyrique," limited edition bound by Pagnant; Ovid's "Epistles" published by Jacob Tonson at London in 1680; various limited editions of Marc de Montifaud; edition-de luxe of "Manon Lescaut"; unique collection of engravings of erotic gems; John Wilkes's suppressed "Essay on Woman"; the first English translation of "Rabelais," London, 1653; large paper copy of Jesse's "Beau Brummel"; John Bulwer's "Artificial Changeling," the 1650 London edition and one unknown to all bibliographers; unique and extremely rare edition of the "Satyre Menippée" printed on China paper by Didot and bound by Trautz-Bauzonnet, the king of modern binders; the "Cabalistic Letters" of the Marquis d'Argens, 1741; "Trial of the Judges of Charles the First"; George Hanger's "Life," London, 1801; a rare work on "Massaniello" translated by Howell, London, 1664; the curious and facetious "Memoirs" of Lackington, the bookseller; the 1625 London edition of Markham's "Book of Honor"; "Lisander and Calista," London, 1635; the "Killing no Murder" of Colonel Titus; and some magnificent editions of the beautiful works of Octave Uzanne, among others being "L'Eventail" and "L'Ombrelle"—each with a duplicate set of plates on Japan paper in two colors, and both sumptuously bound by Pagnant.

There are some very fine imprints of "Choice Belles-lettres" of which may be enumerated:—the 1639 "Essayes" of Lord Bacon, as well as Pickering's seventeen volume edition of his "Complete Works," edited by Basil Montagu; the 1638 folio of Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy" printed at Oxford; the limited "parchment edition" of Thomas Carlyle in twenty volumes; the original issue of Maria Edgeworth's works in eighteen volumes; the first editions of "Barnaby Rudge," "Old Curiosity Shop" and "Oliver Twist," the last named illustrated by George Cruikshank; the Quantin "Vicar of Wakefield" in French and illustrated "à l'aquarelle"; large paper "Johnsoniana," London, 1836; the first American edition of Irving's "Sketch Book"; the excessively scarce translation by Florio of Montaigne's "Essays" published in 1613, at London, in folio; Curmer's rare edition of Perrault's "Fairy Tales," struck off from engraved plates; edition-de-luxe of Pepys's "Diary"; Henry Sotheran's limited edition of Samuel Richardson's works; large paper and delightful copy of Baskerville's edition of the "Characteristics," by Lord Shaftesbury; Walton and Cotton's "Complete Angler"—a large paper copy of William Pickering's two volume edition with the proofs on India paper.

Among the "Bibliographical and Literary Authorities" are:—the superb volume on Christopher Plantin by Max Rooses; Audifreddi's scarce volume on "Italian Incunabula," Rome, 1794; an unique copy of Nichols's "Literary Anecdotes," in seventeen volumes; a handsome set of Isaac D'Israeli, as well as the first edition of his "Curiosities"; and the following works of Thomas Frognall Dibdin—"Bibliographical Decameron" 1817, "Tour in France and Germany," 1821, "Ædes Althorpianæ" 1822, and the "Bibliomania" on large paper.

The "Historical Literature" comprises:—the Oxford 1732 large folio of Clarendon's "History of the Rebellion," with fine portraits; the works of Henry Hallam, Dean Milman and Adolphe Thiers; Stapleton's translation of "Strada," London, 1660; some curious and early volumes on King Henry of Navarre;

Udall's "Historie of Mary Stuart," London, 1624; John Milton's "History of Britain," Amsterdam, 1694; fifty numbers of "Napoleoniana," containing many very rare pieces relating to the First and Second Empires, some of a scandalous character, also a volume specially bound for the use of Napoleon the Third; more French history, some relating particularly to the Revolution of 1789, including very rare newspapers published during the Reign of Terror; and the Italian Translation in thirty-one volumes of the "Annals of China" by Thoungh-Kian-Kang-Mou.

Several books on Heraldry are in the Collection including Moule's "Bibliotheca Heraldica" and the famous "Display of Heraldrie" of old Guillim.

There might be specified in addition to this synopsis of the more interesting, valuable, curious and rare tomes, many others of equal importance—but space forbids. It is worth while, however, to state in conclusion that there are sets of:—the "Camden Society Publications"; the celebrated French "Encyclopedie"; Brian Walton's grand "Polyglot Bible" with Castell's "Heptaglot Lexicon"; and the great "Della Crusca" "Vocabolario."

It is also worthy of note that scattered throughout the Catalogue are numerous examples of fine old bindings—some by Dérome, Dusseuil and other bibliopagists—and a few stamped with coats of arms, including two volumes bearing the royal fleurs-de-lys and label of that notorious roué the Regent D'Orleans.

NEW YORK PRESS CLUB,
March, 1887.

The Hawkins Library.

The sizes of books in this catalogue are defined relatively to signatures and according to the following page, height and inch measurements :

LARGE FOLIO, over 18 inches ; FOLIO, below 18 and over 13 ; SMALL FOLIO, below 13 and over 11.

LARGE QUARTO, below 15 and over 11 ; QUARTO, below 11 and over 8 ; SMALL QUARTO, below 8 and over 6.

LARGE OCTAVO, below 11 and over 9 ; OCTAVO, below 9 and over 8 ; SMALL OCTAVO, and TWELVEMO, below 8 and over 6. MINIMO, below 6 inches.

These eleven designations preserve the important part of the nomenclature formerly used, and do away with the old technical paper prefixes, such as "Royal," "Foolscap," "Crown," etc., as well as the confusing smaller sizes of the past. These represented in all, both big and little, some two hundred possible book sizes, ranging from an "Antiquarian Folio," to a "Pot 123mo."

As the old specific definitions are now gradually becoming almost obsolete, this new schedule was formulated. It was wisely recognized that the present time is inopportune for the measurement of books by the metric system.

THE 1524 AND 1553 EDITIONS OF THE COSMOGRAPHY OF APIANUS.

- 41 APIANUS (PETER). COSMOGRAPHICUS LIBER PETRI APIANI Mathematici studiose collectus. Numerous cosmographical plates, some with revolving diagrams, globe on title and arms on verso of title. Small 4to, boards (slightly wormed). Landshut, J. Weyssenhurger, 1524

VERY RARE BLACK LETTER and a fine copy of the first edition of the "Cosmography" of Apianus. This, from MS. on the title, was at one time in the possession of an Augustinian monastery. The woodcut of the globe on the title, and the arms of the Cardinal Archbishop of Salzburg, are printed from wood-blocks in two colors, black and red. This is a very early specimen of block printing in colors. On page second is a globe with the word "Ameri" on an island. There are several revolving diagrams, some on earlier printed matter—that on page 63 contains the word "America." On page 69 the fourth chapter begins in Latin with—"America, which is now called the fourth part of the world, took its name from Americus Vespuccio, who discovered it; and it is called an island for the reason that it is surrounded with water."

"Edition très rare."—BRUNET.

Peter Bienevitz, or Apianus, was born at Leissing, in Saxony, in 1495. He died at Ingolstadt 1551-52. where he held a professorship for more than thirty years. According to Melchior Adam, not only was Apianus rewarded for this work by Charles V. with the order of knighthood, but he received in addition 3,000 golden crowns. He was the designer of the earliest map which contains the name of "America." Vide "Solinus" in this catalogue.

- 42 APIANUS.—COSMOGRAPHIA PETRI APIANI, per GEMMAM FRISIVM apud Louaienses Medicum et Mathematicum insignem, etc. Illustrated with cuts, diagrams, some revolving and printed on earlier MS. or printed matter, also charming wood-block letters. 4to, vellum.

Antwerp, Gregorius Bontius, 1553

VERY RARE, and printed in Roman letter. This is a later edition of the preceding lot, and was edited by Gemma Phrysius. The cosmographical points suggested in previous note in relation to America also refer to this edition. The statement in the fourth chapter as to the discovery of America is identical with that in the first edition.

THE MEXICAN VOCABULARY OF ARENAS.

- 43 ARENAS (Pedro de). VOCABULARIO MANUAL de las Lenguas Castellana y Mexicana, en que se contienen las palabras, preguntas, y respuestas mas comunes, y ordinarias que se suelen ofrecen en el trato, y comunicacion entre

ISAAC BACKUS'S HISTORY OF NEW ENGLAND.

- 52 BACKUS (Isaac, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Middleborough). A History of New England with Particular Reference to the Denomination of Christians called Baptists. 3 vols. small 8vo, half morocco.

Boston and Providence, 1777-96

VERY RARE. The three titles disagree considerably, having the names of different printers. The first volume was printed by Edward Draper at Boston for Philip Freeman, 1777; the second by John Carter at Providence for Philip Freeman, of Boston, 1784; and the third by Manning and Loring, of Boston, 1796. Vols. 1 and 2 have MS. names on the tops of titles, and all three volumes are foxed somewhat. The balance of Vol. 2 after page 418 is added in manuscript.

Mr. Bancroft remarks that this history, as to its facts, is—"more to be depended on than any of the early histories of New England."

- 53 BACKUS. History of New England. Vols. 1 and 2. Small 8vo, old half calf (binding broken, foxed slightly and MS. name on titles).

- 119 BRASSEUR DE BOURBOURG. Collection de Documents dans les Langues Indigènes. Front., maps and numerous fac-similes, also music. 3 vols. large 8vo, fresh half crushed purple levant morocco, top edges gilt, others uncut, by DAVID. Paris, Bertrand, 1861-64

RARE. The Brinley Library copy, and purchased for thirty dollars at that sale. The set is arranged as follows:—Vol. I., "Popul Vuh, Le Livre Sacré et les Mythes de l'Antiquité Américaine, avec les Livres Héroïques et Historiques des Quichés"; Vol. II., "Grammaire de la Langue Quiché, Espagnole-Française, Accompagné des notes philologiques; suivi d'un Vocabulaire; et du Drame de Rabinal-Achi"; Vol. III., "Relation des Choses de Yucatan, de Diego de Landa, Texte Espagnol et traduction Française en regard, comprenant les signes du Calendrier et de l'Alphabet hieroglyphique de la Langue Maya, etc."

It is very difficult to assign the place which this extraordinary man will occupy in the annals of science, for his works are to-day nearly as great mysteries as the hieroglyphs his labors have illustrated. His industry in his researches into the history of the Aztec races is something not less than marvelous. Following his vocation as a priest and missionary, his literary appetite could only be allayed by writing a history of Canada, and perhaps the most unfortunate event for his fame which could possibly have happened was that it was printed. It did not escape the notice of historical students that the Abbé had accepted so much that was apocryphal that his history was little better than a romance.

When, therefore, he had, with heroic sacrifice of all personal ease, accepted the life of self-immolation of a missionary to the Indians of Mexico; had studied for years the relics of Aztec picture writing; had learned and systematized in great treatises their modern dialects; the immense works which he then printed upon the history of the pre-Cortesian races, made scarcely a ripple on the quiet of the scientific world. He stands alone in the vast temple of learning which he has restored, if he did not erect. No human being can contest his solution of Aztec pictographs, nor does there exist one who can prove it to be true. His numerous volumes have at least this merit—they have done much to perpetuate the memory of a wonderful race.

WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT'S EMBARGO—THE VERY RARE FIRST AND SECONDED EDITIONS OF 1808 AND 1809.

- 138 [BRYANT (William Cullen).] The Embargo, or Sketches of the Times; Satire. By "a Youth of Thirteen." 12mo, fresh crushed levant morocco, inside gold tooling, top edge gilt, by ALFRED MATTHEWS. (12 pages.) Boston, printed for the purchasers, 1808

EXCESSIVELY RARE AND ORIGINAL EDITION. Bound uniformly with the following lot.

"At the early age of ten years he [Bryant] published translations from some of the Latin poets, and when only thirteen wrote 'The Embargo,' a political satire which was printed at Boston in 1808. This remarkable effusion of precocious genius was so successful that a new edition was called for in a few months."—ALLIBONE.

"Bryant early displayed the poetical faculty, and fastened upon the genial influences of nature about him. He began to write verses at nine, and at ten composed a little poem to be spoken at a public school, which was published in a country newspaper. At the age of fourteen [thirteen] he prepared a collection of poems, which was published in Boston in 1809 [and 1808]. The longest of these is entitled 'The Embargo,' a reflection in good set heroic measure of the prevalent New England anti-Jeffersonian Federalism of the times."—DUYCKINCK.

- 139 BRYANT. The Embargo; or, Sketches of the Times. A Satire. The Second Edition corrected and enlarged, together with the Spanish Revolution, and other Poems. By WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT. 12mo, fresh crushed levant morocco, inside gold tooling, top edge gilt, by ALFRED MATTHEWS. Uniform with the preceding lot. (36 pages.) Boston, printed for the author, by E. G. House,
No. 5 Court Street, 1809

This valuable little volume, in addition to "The Embargo," includes:—"The Spanish Revolution," written August, 1808; "Ode to Connecticut River," written May, 1808; "The Reward of Literary Merit," written 1807; "Enigmas," December, 1807; "The Contented Ploughman, a Song"; "Drought," July, 1807; "Translation from Horace, Lib. 1, Can. XXII."

A peculiarly interesting feature of this volume is the two-page preface, dated "Cummington, October 25, 1808," in which the youthful poet charges the Administration with—"terrapin policy," and asserts that—"our political prospects are daily growing more and more alarming,—the thunders of approaching ruin sound longer and louder,—and faction and falsehood exert themselves with increasing efforts to accelerate the downfall of our country." Preceding the preface is a page "advertisement," stating that—"a doubt having been intimated in the 'Monthly Anthology' of June last, whether a youth of thirteen years could have been the author of this poem—in justice to his merits the friends of the writer feel obliged to certify the fact from their personal knowledge of himself and his family, as well as his literary improvement and extraordinary talents."

CALLENDER'S HISTORY OF AMERICA—VERY RARE.

- 159 CALLENDER (James Thomson). Sketches of the History of America. 8vo, half sheep. Phila., 1798

VERY RARE. Of particular interest to those interested in Hamiltoniana. Chapter V. consists of—"Remarks on Mr. Alexander Hamilton's explanation of his correspondence with James Reynolds," and the Hamilton apology therefor (vide Hamilton in this catalogue), which Callender thus sums up:—"the entire form and essence of the vindication is so vile, so disgusting, so grossly indecent, that one hardly knows either how to describe or abridge it." Then he luxuriates in all the interesting salacious details ad nauseam.

- 160 CALLENDER (John). Civil and Religious Affairs of the Colony of Rhode Island, with Memoir, Biographical Notices and Annotations and Original Documents, etc., by ROMEO ELTON. Fac-simile front. 8vo, cloth (foxed slightly). Boston, 1843

N. Y., 1848
- 168 CARLI (J. R., Le Comte). Lettres Américaines. 2 vols. small 8vo, half sheep. Boston, et se trouve à Paris, 1788
RARE. Translated from the Italian into French by Jean Bapt. Lefebure Villebrune. Count Carli's work was intended as a continuation of the memoirs of Ulloa and a defence of our aborigines against the aspersions of De Pauw. Thus—"when De Pauw recites from Herrera that the caciques of some Indian nations deflowered all the virgins of their tribes before permitting them to marry, the Count reminds him of the primal noctes of the French seigneurs and the Romans. Where the first charges the Indians with Phallic worship, Carli recalls the obscene rites of Isis and Cérés."

OF DIONYSIUS AFER—1515.

- 344 DIONYSIUS.—DIONISU. FRI AMBITUS ORBIS RUFO
FESTO AUIENO PARAPHRASTE: CASTIGATISSIME IM-
PRESSUS. PELLEGEANTE ET CONFERENTE PROBA EXEPLARIA
JOACHIMO VADIANO HELUETIO. Small 4to, fresh vellum. Vienna, Joannes Singrenius, 1515

VERY RARE and BLACK LETTER. Singrinus was the second printer of Vienna and was noted for the beauty of his typographical work. The upper portion of some of the pages of the above are stained slightly.

This early edition is the Latin paraphrase by Rufus Festus of the well-known hexametrical description of the earth written originally in Greek by Dionysius Periegeles, Libicus or Africanus, towards the latter part of the third century.

Dionysius is placed among the early Americana on account of his indirect references to our portion of the globe. The 1518 edition of Dionysius by the first Vienna printer, John Winterburg, has on the reverse of the title slight allusions to the recent Oceanic discoveries. On the title-page of the 1543 and Venetian edition of this author by the poet-laureate Lemnius is a large woodcut, representing two globes, one issuing out of an open eye, the other with the word "America."

THE EXTREMELY RARE, CELEBRATED AND SUPPRESSED "POLYGLOT PSALTER" OF 1516, IN WHICH IS THE FIRST BIOGRAPHICAL ACCOUNT OF CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS.

- 461 GIUSTINIANI (AGOSTINO). PSALTERIUM, HEBREUM, GRECU., ARABICU., ET CHALDEU., CU. TRIBUS LATINIS ITERPRATATOIBUS. ET GLOSSIS. Finely engraved and rubricated title. Folio, original old stamped calf, beveled sides on wooden boards, rebacked. Genoa, Peter Paul Porrus, 1516

EXCESSIVELY RARE and SUPPRESSED. This is a tall copy, with wide margins, of the celebrated Psalter of Agostino Giustiniani, Bishop of Nebbio, in Hebrew, Greek, Arabic and Chaldean. It is one of the earliest polyglots ever printed, and is especially valuable as being the first book with a life of Columbus. This is to be found on the first page of the twenty-sixth leaf. It was inserted there by Giustiniani on account of Columbus having frequently proclaimed that he had been chosen by God to exemplify the thought of prophecy, expressed in verse four of the Nineteenth Psalm. The first lines of the life have been translated as follows, viz.:—"Then it was that Christopher named Columbus, a Genoese by birth, of low family, who, in our times, by his energy, explored in a few months a greater extent of land and of sea than almost all the rest of mankind ever did in all past ages, etc., etc."

The volume was condemned to be burned by the common hangman as it contained statements injurious to Columbus and thus indirectly attacked Pope Alexander the Sixth's deeding the Continent of America to Spain, on the assertions of the discoverer. Fernando Columbus, in his—"Historia del Amirante" and refutation of "The twelve lies of Giustiniani," says:—"We will only add that considering the many mistakes and falsehoods found in the said Giustiniani's History and Psalter, the Senate of Genoa has laid a penalty upon any person that shall read or keep it; and has caused it to be carefully sought out in all places it has been sent to, that it may, by public decree, be destroyed and utterly extinguished."

The above copy was saved from the flames in consequence of having been preserved in a monastic house. On the title is the MS. inscription:—"liber Conventus Brulensis," where it was probably conserved in honor of the erudite Dominican and ecclesiastic, who, hounded and persecuted in his native country, found earnest sympathizers in France, Holland and England.

- THE FEDERALIST—THE EXCESSIVELY RARE FIRST COLLECTED EDITION.
- 501 [HAMILTON, MADISON and JAY.] THE FEDERALIST: A Collection of Essays, written in Favour of the New Constitution as Agreed upon by the Federal Convention, September 17, 1787. 2 vols. 12mo, fresh purple morocco gilt, inside gold tooling, top edges gilt.

N. Y., 1788

EXTREMELY RARE, and FIRST EDITION, in a collected form. With autograph on the title of "T. Ford," and page of MS. in handwriting of Timothy Ford, rebound in the volume, as to the authorship of the various essays. Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 and 64 were written by Jay; Nos. 10, 14, 17, 18, 19, 21, 37 to 58, 62 and 63 were written by President Madison; the remainder by Alexander Hamilton. Madison's contributions were much changed in the subsequent editions.

- 502 HAMILTON (Alexander). Observations on Certain Documents contained in Nos. V. and VI. of 'The History of the United States for the Year 1796,' in which the Charge of Speculation against ALEXANDER HAMILTON, late Secretary of the Treasury, is Fully Refuted. Written by Himself. 8vo, sewed, uncut.

Phila., printed pro bono publico, 1800

RARE. "'Written by Himself,' or this little book of 96 pages would most likely have been pronounced the greatest libel upon the greatest man New York ever produced. It has been claimed, to the honor of his friends, that they endeavored to suppress it. It was copyrighted, and never reprinted but once until recently; but, scarce as it has become, it is now part of American literature. Hamilton was charged with 'a connection with one James Reynolds for purposes of improper pecuniary speculation.' 'My real crime,' confesses the late Secretary, not without a blush, 'is an amorous connection with his [Reynolds'] wife, for a considerable time with his privacy and connivance.' That was how he came to be the private banker of the husband of Mrs. Reynolds, 'from whose conversation it was quickly apparent that other than pecuniary consolation would be acceptable,' p. 18. Truth never appeared so naked as in these confessions of Alexander Hamilton."—STEVENS.

- 503 HAMILTON.—Letters to ALEXANDER HAMILTON, King of the Feds, ci-devant Secretary of the Treasury of the United States of America, Inspector-General of the Standing Armies thereof, Counsellor at Law, etc., etc., etc. Being Intended as a Reply to a Scandalous Pamphlet lately published under the sanction, as it is presumed, of MR. HAMILTON, and signed with the signature of "JUNIUS PHILÆNUS," by TOM CALLENDER, ESQ., Citizen of the World. 8vo, paper.

N.Y., printed by Richard Reynolds, No. 27 Dey Street, 1802

RARE. James Thomas Callender, the writer of the above, was at one time a friend, afterwards a violent opponent, of Thomas Jefferson. He was drowned in the James River in 1803. Callender was the author of the 'History of the United States for 1796,' the work which contained—"those famous charges of speculation against Alexander Hamilton, which finally induced that distinguished statesman to saw a leg off to cure a corn."—Vide "Callender" in the "Bibliotheca Americana" portion of this Catalogue.

FATHER HENNEPIN'S "VOYAGE AND NEW DISCOVERY"
—THE 1697 AND 1704 EDITIONS.

- 537 HENNEPIN (Louis, Missionnaire Recollect et Notaire Apostolique). Nouvelle Decouverte d'un tres Grand Pays Situé dans l'Amerique entre Le Nouveau Mexique. Front., view of Niagara and 2 maps. Small 8vo, vellum. Utrecht, Guillaume Broedelet, 1697

VERY RARE. Dedicated to—"His Britannic Majesty William the Third." This is the first edition of the first part of Father Hennepin's larger work, which was the next year translated into English, and published under the title—"A New Discovery of a Vast Country in America." The work includes the substance of his first book, but more minutely describes the characteristics of the Indian tribes through which he passed. It was very exactly reproduced in English, even to the divisions into chapters and the tables of contents, maps and plates. The preface, containing a lengthy narration of his imbroglia with La Salle, his own order and the French Government, was very greatly abridged. The second part was not published until the following year.

Field says:—"It has been the fashion until late in this age to deride the work of Father Hennepin, as smacking of the marvellous. Indeed, some of our savants have endeavored to prove that the very excellent Father Recollect never saw any of the wonders he narrates. This severe criticism proceeds from sources which entitle him to the benefit at least of a doubt of its impartiality."

II. LAHONTAN. Suite du Voyage de l'Amerique, ou Dialogue de Monsieur le Baron de LAHONTAN et d'un Sauvage dans l'Amerique. Plates and maps. A la Haye, 1703

TOGETHER 3 vols. Small 8vo, vellum (foxed slightly).

RARE and original editions. The voyages of Lahontan have not received the amount of credit to which they are really entitled, although written by a man of more than ordinary learning and intelligence. Had he written no other works than the "New Voyages," it is probable that they would have experienced no lack of esteem; but his "Relations," even when scrupulously exact, have felt the influence of the skepticism and infidelity which he infused into his subsequent work.

The second work in the above description is that just alluded to, and its translated title reads—"Dialogue between the Baron Lahontan and an American Indian, containing an exact description of the Manners and Customs of the Savage Natives." The dramatical part of the work is probably imaginary. The traits of the savages are doubtless fairly illustrated in its course; but it was used as a medium by the author to proclaim his deistical theories.

LAS CASAS—TWO OF HIS VERY RARE AND BLACK LETTER 1552 TRACTATES.

- 636 LAS CASAS (Bartholome, Bishop of Chiapa in Mexico).
Entre los remedio q. do. FRAY BARTOLOME DE LAS CASAS obispo de la ciudad real de Chiapa . . . para reformatio, de las Indias. Rubricated title with wood engraved border, with arms. Small 4to, boards.

Seville, J. CROMBERGER, 1552

VERY RARE and BLACK LETTER. The works of Las Casas attracted great attention throughout the Christian world when they first appeared. Some were immediately translated and printed in Latin, German, Italian, French and English.

The character of Las Casas may be inferred from his career. He was one of those to whose gifted minds are revealed those glorious moral truths which, like the lights of heaven, are fixed and the same for ever. He was a reformer, and had the virtues and errors of a reformer. He was inspired by one great and glorious idea. This was the key to all his thoughts, all that he said or wrote, and to every act of his long life. It was this which made him reckless of obstacles, led him to count too confidently on the coöperation of others, animated his discussion, sharpened his invective, too often steeped his pen in the gall of personal vituperation, led him to gross exaggeration, and a blind credulity of evil that rendered him unsafe as a counsellor, and unsuccessful in the practical concerns of life. . . . The best commentary on his character is the estimation which he obtained in the court of his sovereign. A liberal pension was settled on him after his last return from America, which he chiefly expended on charitable objects. No measure of importance relating to the Indians was taken without his advice. He lived to see the fruits of his efforts in the positive amelioration of their condition, and in the popular admission of those great truths which it had been the object of his life to unfold."—PRESCOTT, "History Conquest of Mexico."

This copy had not, neither has the above, the large map to which, on a leaf at the end of the Second Book, the reader is referred and informed that it was prepared from two maps made in Seville. In the Stevens Catalogue, Part 2, sold in London July, 1886, it is stated:—"This map probably did not accompany the book, but was published separately. Only one copy is known, namely, the one supplied by Mr. Stevens to Mr. Lenox in 1853, and from which Mr. Stevens had the fac-simile made (see Henry Stevens' 'Recollections of Mr. James Lenox,' chapter XVI., page 137). The small map of 'Spagnvola' [the earliest we have of St. Domingo] is also very rare."

THE EXCESSIVELY RARE 1520 AND 1543 EDITIONS OF SOLINUS—THE FORMER WITH THE VERY RARE MAP.

- 981 SOLINUS—CAMERS.—IOANNIS CAMERTIS, Minori-tani, Artium, et Sacrae Theologiae Doctoris, in. C. IVLII SOLINI HOATISTOPA enarrationes Additus eiusdem CAMERTIS Index, tum literarum ordine, tum rerum notabilium copia, per-commodus Studiosis. Woodcut border to title and colophon, etc., on wood. Small folio, purple morocco, beveled sides (a few pp. slightly stained).

Vienna, Austriae, per Ioannem Singreniu, 1520

EXCESSIVELY RARE, with the very rare map engraved on wood, wanting in most copies. This map, which measures 11 $\frac{5}{8}$ by 16 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches, and is mounted on linen, is of great interest, inasmuch as it is said to be the earliest engraved one yet known bearing the name of AMERICA. It is called—"a Delineation of the entire world; prepared according to the teaching of Ptolemy, the cosmographer, and the voyages of Americus Vespucius and others, by Peter Apian of Leissnig." The southern continent of America is separated from the northern, and extends just to the equator. On the southern part we read:—"Anno 1497, hac terra cum adiacetib. insulis inuenta est per Columbum Iannensem ex mandato regis castelle America punicia." The northern continent is termed "Terra Incognita."

This valuable map was also inserted in the Pomponius Mela of 1522 and necessarily preceded the "mappemonde," also bearing the word "America," in the sumptuous Ptolemy of 1522.

In LE CLERC's "Bibl. Amer." (1831) a copy is priced 500 francs; and in Ellis & White's catalogue (1877) £25.

SIR JOHN HARINGTON'S TRANSLATION OF ORLANDO FURIOSO—VERY RARE.

1212 ARIOSTO (Ludovico).— | ORLANDO | FVRIOSO | in | English Heroical | Verse by | SR IOHN HARINGTON | of Bathe Knight | Now thirdly revised and | amended with the Addition | of the Author's Epigrams. | Engraved title and curious plates. Small folio, mottled calf gilt, inside gold tooling, lemon edges, by JENKINS AND CECIL.

London, printed by G. Miller for J. Parker, 1634

VERY RARE, and with separate title-page to the "Epigrams," viz :—"The Most Elegant and Wittie Epigrams of Sir John Harington, Knight, Digested into foure Bookes. London, Printed by George Miller, MDCXXXII." The general title-page has been cleaned and the vignette portrait is foxed. On the title and over the dedication are the signatures of "Ff. Morgan" and "Ellen Hindley ye gift of my son J. H. Hindley."

Sir John Harington, who was born in 1561 and died in 1612, was a great favorite with his godmother Queen Elizabeth, although she temporarily banished him from Court for writing a witty work upon an objectionable theme. Warton says, Harington's translation of Ariosto—"enriched our poetry by a communication of new stories of fiction and imagination, both of the romantic and comic species of Gothic manners and familiar manners." Milton's nephew, Edward Phillips, in his "Theatrum Poetarum," writes of:—"Sir John Harington, no less noted for his book of witty epigrams than his judicious translation of Ariosto's 'Orlando Furioso.'"

FIRST EDITION OF BEAUMONT AND FLETCHER—ALSO RARE SEPARATE PLAYS.

1216 BEAUMONT (Francis) and FLETCHER (John). COMEDIES AND TRAGEDIES. Never printed before, and now published by the Authours Originall Copies. Portrait of FLETCHER by MARSHALL. Thick small folio, old calf, gilt, rebacked.

London, Humphrey Robinson and Humphrey Moseley, 1647

RARE and very fair copy. Added thereto is "The Wild Goose Chase, A Comedie," printed in 1652, of which the last page is slightly holed.

"First collected edition, containing—Plays dedicated by ten comedians to Philip, Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery. In this edition, edited by John Shirley, are 36 plays, printed for the first time."—LOWNDES.

"Beaumont and Fletcher are lyrical and descriptive poets of the first order; there is hardly a passion, character, or situation which they have not touched in their devious range, and whatever they touched, they adorned with some new grace or striking feature; they are masters of style and versification in almost every variety of melting modulation or sounding pomp, of which they are capable in comic wit and spirit, they are scarcely surpassed by any writers of any age."—HAZLITT.

1217 BEAUMONT and FLETCHER. Another copy of the 1647 edition. Small folio, old half sheep.

RARE. Lacks portrait and being simply a regular copy does not include—"The Wild Goose Chase." With stamp of—"Peter F. Hunn" on back of title. A few pp. stained.

THE TRAGEDIE OF CÆSAR AND POMPEY, 1607—REMARKABLY RARE.

- 1256 CÆSAR AND POMPEY. The Tragedie of, or CÆSAR'S Revenge. Small 4to, half roan.

At London, Imprinted by G. E. for Iohn Wright, and are to bee sould at his shop at Christ-church Gate, n. d.

REMARKABLY RARE. In manuscript on the title are the words—"Anon. Acted at Trin. Coll., Oxford, 1607." This edition was printed before 1607, and the Duke of Devonshire has the only other known copy, according to James O. Halliwell in his—"Dictionary of Old English Plays Existing either in Print or in Manuscript." He writes:—"Acted by the Students of Trinity College in Oxford. 4to. 1607. Of this play there is in the collection of the Duke of Devonshire another edition, apparently an earlier one, without a date, and with no mention of its having been acted by the students of Trinity College. There was also a very ancient play on this subject, entitled, The History of Cæsar and Pompey, exhibited before 1580. See Gosson's School of Abuse. A new play, under the same title, was produced by Henslowe's company in 1594, and a second part in the following year." Geo. Chapman also wrote a play with the same title printed in 4to, 1631.

- 1257 CALIDAS. Sacontala; or the Fatal Ring: an Indian Drama. Small 8vo, old morocco, gilt edges. London, 1792

RARE EDITION. Translated from the original Sanscrit and Pracrit.

ORIGINAL EDITION OF THE "DESERUING FAUORITE"—
LONDON, 1629.

- 1259 CARLELL.—The DESERUING FAUORITE, as it was lately Acted, first before the King's Maiestie and since publikely at the Black-friers, by his Maiesties Seruants, written by LODOWICKE CARLELL, esquire, Gentle-man of the Bowes and Groome of the King and Queenes Priuie Chamber. Small 4to, sewed (2 leaves inked).

London, Mathew Rhodes, 1629

VERY RARE AND ORIGINAL EDITION. This piece met with great applause, and was acted several times before the King and Queen at Whitehall, and at the Black Friars.

- 1260 CARPENTER (Richard). A New Play call'd The Pragmatical Jesuit New-leven'd. 4to, half calf, cloth sides.

London, n. d. [circ. 1657]

RARE. Burton's copy. This play was written against the Order of Jesus by the eminent poet and divine Richard Carpenter, who was born a Protestant, joined the Catholic Church, returned to the Established Church, and died a Roman Catholic.

Anthony A Wood writes:—"Those that knew him have often told me that he was an impudent fantastical man, that changed his mind with his cloaths, and that for his juggles and tricks in matters of religion he was esteemed a theological mountebank."

- 1261 [CARTWRIGHT (William).] The Royall Slaue. A Tragi-Comedy. Small 4to, half morocco (title and last leaf soiled—some other pages stained).

Oxford, Printed by William Turner
for Thomas Robertson, 1639

RARE AND ORIGINAL EDITION. Mitford's copy with his autograph:—"J. Mitford, 1811." Dr. Busby acted a part in this play, vide Baker's "Biographia Dramatica." The first representation was by the students of Christ Church in Oxford before King Charles I. and his Queen in 1636. It was acted before the Court early in 1637, the sum of £30 extra having been paid to Taylor's company—"for their paynes in studying and acting the new play sent from Oxford, called the Royal Slave."

- 1262 CARY (Henry Lucius, third Viscount Faulkland). The Mariage Night. Small 4to, half calf (foxed slightly, and MS. name of author on title). London, R. Crofts, 1664

RARE AND ORIGINAL EDITION. Halliwell says:—"This play contains a great share of wit and satire, yet it is uncertain whether it was ever acted or not. It was published in the original edition of Dodsley's Collection; but omitted in that of 1780. Scene, Castile."

BURTON'S COPY OF THE "SWAGGERING DAMSELL."

- 1263 [CHAMBERLAIN (Robert).] The Swaggering Damsell, a Comedy, written by R. C. Small 4to. Half morocco, by RIVIERE.

London, printed by Tho. Cotes for Andrew Crooke, 1640

VERY RARE. From the Holgate and Burton libraries. The last-named owner did not have it rebound, but intended to, as his directions to the binder are on a fly-leaf. The name of the author, who was born in 1607, is added in MS. on the title, with the note:—"His only play. First edition." At the back of the title is a stencilled coat-of-arms of an English nobleman.

CHAPELAIN'S "LA PUCELLE," PARIS, 1656.

- 1264 CHAPELAIN (Jean). La Pucelle ov La France Delivree
—Poëme Heroique. Fine portrait by NANTUEIL, plates, front., head and tail pieces by VIGNON, BOSSE, etc. Folio, half russia gilt (some pages stained by age).

Paris, chez Augustin Courbe, au Palais
en la Gallerie des Merciers, à la Palme, 1656

RARE. Cardinal Richelieu had Chapelain made a member of the Académie Française. His "Pucelle" was epigrammatised in two Latin lines by Montmaur, thus translated by Linière:

"Nous attendions de Chapelain
Une Pucelle
Jeune et belle;
Vingt ans à la forger il perdit son Latin,
Et de sa main
Il sort enfin
Une vieille sempiternelle."

FIRST EDITIONS OF GEORGE CHAPMAN.

- 1265 CHAPMAN (George). CÆSAR and POMPEY: a Roman Tragedy, declaring their Warres, out of whose euent is euicted this Proposition—Only a just man is a freman.
Small 4to, sewed (title holed).

London, printed by Thomas Harper, 1631

RARE. MS. note on title—"first and only edition." In some copies the title-page runs—"The Warres of Pompey and Cæsar. Out of whose events," etc. This was perhaps a second title-page, issued for some trade reason.

- 1266 CHAPMAN.—The Conspiracie and Tragœdy of CHARLES
DYKE OF BYRON, Marshall of France Acted lately in two Playes, at the Black-Friers and other publique Stages.
[Part One.] Small 4to, half calf (title holed).

London, printed by N. O. for Thomas Thorp, 1625

RARE, with the following signature on page 13:—"Danll. Defoe—De | fereo." Chapman's "Byron's Conspiracie," as originally written was objected to by the French Ambassador, and certain incidents were consequently omitted. The last page of the above ends—"Finis Actus Quinti et vltimi."

THE BLACK LETTER 1602 EDITION OF CHAUCER.

- 1267 CHAUCER.—THE | WORKES OF OVR | Ancient and learned English | Poet, GEFREY CHAVCER, | newly

Iacke Vpland, against Fri | ers: and CHAUCER'S A. B.

C. called La Priere | de nostre Dame, at this Impression added. Engraved title (stained and mounted); also coat-of-arms. Small folio, mottled calf (rebacked).

London, Printed by Adam Islip, 1602

VERY RARE, BLACK LETTER and dedicated to Sir Robert Cecil Knight. With two title-pages, one described above and another with large coat-of-arms thereon as follows:— | “The Workes of | Geoffrey Chavcer, newly | Printed, with diuers additions. | With the Siege and Destrvc- | tion of the worthie Citie of Thebes, compiled by Iohn | Lidgate, Monke of Burie. | “Vertue flourisheth in Chaucer still,

Though death of him hath wrought his will.”

The above is a fine copy. On the back of the second title is the heraldic book-plate of:—“Jeremiah Milles, DD.”, also a few MS. notes.

“Maister Chaucer that nobly enterprysed,
How that our englysshe might fresshly be enued.”

—SKELTON.

1268 CHRISTMAS WITH THE POETS: a Collection of Songs, Carols, etc., relating to the Festival of Christmas. From the Anglo-Norman Period to the Present Time. Illuminated title and fifty finely tinted illustrations by BIRKET FOSTER, initial letters and borders in gold. Large 8vo, green morocco gilt extra, beveled sides, inside gold borders, edges gilt.

London, David Bogue, 1851

BURTON'S COPY OF COLLEY CIBBER.

1269 CIBBER (Colley). Plays, written by MR. CIBBER. 2 vols. large 4to, half calf, cloth sides, marbled edges (titles slightly cut).
London, 1721

RARE. W. E. Burton's copy with his name lettered on the backs. Colley Cibber was George the Second's Poet Laureate. Pope put him in the “Dunciad,” Fielding ridiculed him and Samuel Johnson talked of him with Boswell.

1270 CLAYTON (Ellen C.). Queens of Song; being Memoirs of Celebrated Female Vocalists and a Chronological List of all Operas that have been performed in Europe. Numerous portraits. Small 4to, cloth.
N. Y., 1864

LOUIS THE FIFTEENTH'S COPY OF A RARE VOLUME ON THE STAGE.

1271 COMEDIE MODERNE, Essai sur, par “Monsieur M. L. J. D. B.” 12mo, old mottled calf gilt, marbled edges.
Paris, 1752

RARE. Stamped on title—“Bibliothèque du Roy—Palais Royal.” There was also another mark in blue on title of the royal arms of France—this, some “sans culotte” seems to have tried to stamp out—but the “fleur-de-lys” and crown of Louis XV. are still visible. This very scarce little volume—“refutes the recent observations of M. Fagan on the subject of condemnations pronounced against comedians, followed by an abridged history of works which have appeared for or against comedy since the 17th century.”

- 1272 CONGREVE (William). Memoirs of the Life, Writings and Amours of, Interpersed with Miscellaneous Essays, Lectures, and Characters Written by Him, Compiled by CHARLES WILSON. Portrait by VAN DER GUCHT. Small 8vo, half calf. London, printed in year 1730

RARE. W. E. Burton's copy. Includes—"some very curious memoirs of Mr. Dryden and his family, with a character of him and his writings by Mr. Congreve."

"We have had in Congreve a humorous observer of another school [than Swift], to whom the world seems to have no moral at all, and whose ghastly doctrine seems to be that we should eat and drink and be merry when we can, and go to the deuce—if there be a deuce—when the time comes."—THACKERAY.

- 1273 CONGREVE. Love for Love: a Comedy acted at the Theatre in Little-Lincoln's-Inn Fields, by His Majesty's Servants. 4to, sewed (last leaf torn). London, Jacob Tonson, 1695

RARE and FIRST EDITION, with—"A Prologue for the opening of the new Play-House, propos'd to be spoken by Mrs. Bracegirdle in Man's Cloaths." The music to this comedy was composed by Eccles.

- 1274 CONSTANT NYMPH (The), or the Rambling Shepherd, a Pastoral, as it is acted at the Duke's Theater. 4to, half calf, cloth sides (last page mended). London, printed for Langley Curtis in Goat Court, on Ludgate Hill, 1678

RARE and ONLY EDITION. This was—"Written by a Person of Quality," who tells us that it suffered much through the defects of setting it off when it came upon the stage. The scene is Lucia in Arcadia. It was licensed, August the 13th, 1677, by Sir Roger L'Estrange. There is an "Epilogue spoken by Clinias" and a "Prologue spoken by Mrs. Lee, in man's cloaths."

This sumptuous edition was exclusively distributed among the subscribers to the complete collection of "Les Conteurs," illustrated by Duplessis-Bertaux, and which—"ne peut être ni exposée ni vendue séparément."

The names of the authors of the above speak for themselves as a guarantee of the entertaining, spicy and facetious character of these works, and of which genre the "Fond du Sac" has no equal.

1276 COOKE (George F., late of the Theatre Royal, Covent Garden). Memoirs of the Life of, edited by WILLIAM DUNLAP. Portraits. 2 vols. minimo, half calf gilt, marbled edges. N. Y., 1813

VERY SCARCE. "Those who desire a faithful portrait of this stage genius may be safely referred to the Life published by Dunlap, a close observer and a truthful writer."—WOOD.

1277 CORNEILLE and His Times, by GUIZOT. 8vo, cloth, uncut. London, Bentley, 1852

W. E. BURTON'S COPY. With his instructions for binding on fly-leaf.

THE "COSTLIE WHORE," 1633.

1278 COSTLIE WHORE (The), a Comick Historie Acted by the Companie of the Revels. Small 4to, half calf, cloth sides.

London, printed by Augustine Mathewes, for William Sheares, and are to be sold at his shoppe in Brittaines Burse, 1633.

VERY RARE, and early edition, from Burton's library and his name on the back. With prologue. This piece is by Phillips, attributed to Robert Mead, but without any foundation. The scene lies in Saxony, and the play has considerable merit.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF WILLEMIN'S ANCIENT COSTUME.

1279 COSTUME.—CHOIX DE COSTUMES, Civils et Militaires, des Peuples de l'Antiquité, leurs Instruments de Musique, leurs Meubles, et les Decorations Intérieures de leurs Maisons avec un Texte tiré des Anciens Auteurs, dessiné, gravé et redigé par N. X. WILLEMIN. Illustrated with a splendid series of admirably executed plates after the antique from designs on monuments, vases, statues, frescoes, etc. 2 vols. folio, half calf, marbled top edges (rubbed slightly). Paris, chez l'auteur, 1798

LARGE PAPER and a very fine copy of this excellently printed work from the press of Pierre Plassan. This was W. E. Burton's copy, is stamped on the back with his name and lettered—"History of the Stage, Costume," etc.

CHINESE COSTUME—LARGE PAPER.

- 1280 COSTUME OF CHINA, with French and English Text by GEORGE HENRY MASON. 60 handsomely executed plates, COLORED BY HAND IN IMITATION OF THE ORIGINAL DRAWINGS. Large 4to, half calf.

ROBERT DABORN'S EARLY SIXTEENTH CENTURY PLAYS.

- 1285 DABORN (Robert). A Christian turn'd Turke, or, The Tragical Liues and Deaths of the two Famous Pyrates WARD and DANSIKER as it hath been publickly acted, London, printed by for WILLIAM BARRENGER, 1612; also—The Poor-Man's Comfort, a Tragi-Comedy, as it was divers times Acted at the Cock-pit in Drury Lane with great Applause, written by ROBERT DANBORNE, Master of Arts, London, 1655. 2 vols. in 1. Small 4to, half calf, cloth sides. Interleaved.

RARE and FIRST EDITIONS. W. E. Burton's copy with his name stamped on the back. The first described play is taken from Andrew Barker's account in 1609 of the overthrow of these two pirates. Daborn was a contemporary of the Immortal Bard.

- 1286 DANTE. L'Enfer, Poème. Traduit de l'Italien par M. LE COMTE DE RIVAROL. Small 8vo, old sheep, gilt.

London and Paris, 1788

FIRST EDITION OF DAVENANT'S WORKS.

- 1287 DAVENANT.— | The | WORKS | of | SR. WILLIAM
DAVENANT Kt | Consisting of | Those which were formerly Printed, | and | Those which design'd for the Press: | Now Published | Out of the Authors | Originall
Copies. | Fine portrait by W. FAITHORNE after Io. GREEN-
HALL. 2 vols. small folio, half calf, cloth sides, marbled edges. London, printed by T. N. for Henry Herringman, 1672-73

VERY RARE and FIRST COLLECTED EDITION, with separate title, and at the end of Vol. 2, paged 1.-111, is "News from Plimouth." W. E. Burton's copy, with his name stamped in gold upon the backs. It has been claimed that Davenant was an illegitimate son of Shakespeare by the wife of an Oxford vintner, whose house the "Bard of Avon" frequented in his journeys between Warwickshire and London.

- 1288 DAVENANT.—Madagascar, with other Poems. Minimo, calf (one cover loose). London, 1638

RARE. Lowndes only mentions the editions of 1635 and 1648, which he calls the second. With poems by Suckling, Carew, etc.

DAVENPORT'S PLAYS—VERY RARE.

- 1289 DAVENPORT (ROBERT). PLAYS, i. e.—

I. A Pleasant and Witty Comedy: Called, A New Tricke to Cheat the Devill. Written by "R. D. Gent."

FIRST EDITION. London, printed by John Okes
for Humphrey Blunden, 1639

II. The Bloodie Banquet. A Tragedie. By "T. D."
London, printed by Thomas Cotes, 1639

III. KING IOHN and MATILDA, a Tragedy. As it was Acted with great Applause by her Majesties Servants at the Cock-pit in Drury Lane. Written by ROBERT DAVENPORT, Gent. FIRST EDITION.

London, printed for Andrew Pennycuicke, 1655

IV. The City-Night-Cap; or, Crede quod habes, et habes.
A Tragi-Comedy. By ROBERT DAVENPORT. As it was Acted with great Applause by her Majesties Servants at the Phoenix in Drury Lane. FIRST EDITION.

London, printed by J. A. Cottrell for Samuel Speed, 1661

TOGETHER 4 vols. in 1. Small 4to, morocco, gilt edges (back rubbed and some pp. foxed).

London, 1639-61

VERY RARE. The "New Tricke to Cheat the Devill" met with great success when first produced. The plot of Fryar John discovering the intrigue between the constable and the woman was plagiarized by D'Ouville and also by Ravenscroft in his "London Cuckolds."

In regard to the "Bloodie Banquet," the following MS. note appears on a fly-leaf:—"I have introduced 'the Bloodie Banquet' as one of Davenport's plays, but the authorship seems by no means to be conclusively ascertained; and only one of the initials 'T. D.' inserted in the title-page is his. Seven or eight other plays, attributed to the same author, either singly or in conjunction with others, either were never printed or have become extinct.—J. F." This statement is corroborated by Halliwell, who says—"it was enumerated in a list of his plays that formerly belonged to the Cock-pit Theatre.

"King John and Matilda" belonged to the Cock-pit company in 1639. The publisher, Andrew Pennycuicke, acted the part of "Matilda."

A portion of the plot of the "City-Night-Cap" was borrowed from the "Curious Impertinent" in Don Quixote and another part from Boccaccio.

- 1290 DEKKER (Thomas, author of "The Gull's Horn Book").
The Wonder of a Kingdome. Small 4to, half roan, gilt (title stained and MS. name on back thereof).

London, printed by Robert Raworth for

Nicholas Vavasour, 1636

RARE and FIRST EDITION. Reprinted in Dilke's "Old Plays." When Jonson quarrelled with Dekker, "rare Ben" thus attacked the latter's physiognomy: "You staring Leviathan! look on the sweet visage of Horace; look, parboiled face; look—he has not his face puncht full of eylet holes, like the cover of a warming-pan."

ORIGINAL EDITION OF DELILLE'S GARDENS—PRINTED
BY DIDOT IN 1782.

- 1291 DELILLE (Jacques, Abbé). Les Jardins ou l'Art d'Embellir les Paysages—Poème. Large 4to, fine old green morocco gilt, edges gilt.

Paris, de l'Imprimerie de Franç. Ambr. Didot l'aîné, 1782

RARE, ORIGINAL EDITION, and a fine copy of this superbly printed and early example of the Didot press.

- 1292 DENNIS (John). Rinaldo and Armida, a Tragedy, as it is Acted at the Theatre in Little-Lincoln's Inn Fields. 4to, sewed (some pp. torn). London, Jacob Tonson, 1699

RARE and ORIGINAL EDITION. The scene of this tragedy is laid on the top of a mountain in the Canaries. Dennis obtained considerable notoriety as a political writer and critic, as well as dramatist. He handled Addison's "Cato" without gloves, so to say, and his reflections upon Pope's "Essay on Criticism" secured him a place in the "Dunciad."

- 1293 DES HOULIERES (Madame et Mdlle.). Œuvres de. Portrait. 2 vols. minimo, mottled calf gilt, red edges.

Paris, 1754

Madame Des Houlières, the 17th century poetess, was known as—"the tenth muse, the French Calliope."

- 1294 [DIGBY (George, Earl of Bristol).] Elvira, or the Worst Not Always True, written by "A Person of Quality." 4to, half morocco, cloth sides, stilted (2 leaves damaged).

London, printed by E. Cotes for Henry Broom, 1667

RARE, ONLY EDITION and Burton's copy, with the name of the author, etc., in MS. on the title—"By the Lord Digby, his only play." Walpole styles the author "a singular person, whose life was contradiction."

- 1295 DILKE (Thomas). The Louer's Luck, a Comedy, as it is Acted at the Theatre in Little Lincoln's-Inn Fields, by His Majesty's Servants. 4to, half sheep. London, 1696

RARE and EDITIO PRINCEPS. With autograph of "Margaret Bankes" on title and quartered coat-of-arms of English nobleman on back of the same. The scene of this play is laid in London, and it was always acted with general applause.

- 1296 DILKE. The Pretenders, or the Town Unmaskt, a Comedy, Acted at the Theatre in Little Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, by His Majesty's Servants. 4to, half calf (foxed slightly and title cut down). London, Peter Buck, 1698

RARE, ORIGINAL EDITION. Scene—Covent Garden, London.

MAGNIFICENT EDITIONS OF DORAT'S KISSES.

- 1297 DORAT. LES BAISERS, précédés du Mois de Mai, poème (par DORAT). Frontispiece and engraved plate by EISEN, engraved title, 22 vignettes, and 22 tail-pieces by CHARLES EISEN, 2 by MARILLIER, and all in TWO STATES, BLACK and SEPIA. Large 8vo, superbly bound in dark red crushed levant morocco elegant, dark green morocco gilt doublé, top edge gilt, others uncut by BRADSTREETS.

Rouen, J. Lemmonyer, 1880

LARGE PAPER. No. 160 of LIMITED EDITION of 200 copies, of which 50 were on Japan, 50 on China, and 100 on Whatman papers, the above being one of the last named. This is a splendid reprint of one of the most charming books issued from the press in the last century. A copy of the original edition was priced 3,000 francs, uncut by Morgand-Fatout, and another copy by the same, bound by Trautz-Bauzonnet, 2,200 francs. Also priced 35 guineas in a late London catalogue, bound in ordinary calf.

- 1298 DORAT. Another copy of the same, but on JAPAN PAPER, with the ILLUSTRATIONS IN FOUR STATES. Sumptuously bound by PAGNANT in orange yellow crushed levant morocco elegant, with colored (white, red, green and blue) mosaic leathers let into the sides and back, inside gold tooling, rounded corners, gilt edges, and with monogram on the sides, in leather-lined drop case.

Rouen, J. Lemmonyer, 1880

LARGE PAPER. No. 25 of LIMITED EDITION of 50 copies on Japan paper, with the illustrations in four tints—sepia, "crayon sanguine (genre Boucher)", blue and black.

- 1299 DRYDEN (John). Loue Triumphant, or Nature will Prevail, a Tragi-Comedy as it is Acted at the Theatre Royal, by Their Majesties Servants. 4to, paper.

London, Jacob Tonson, 1694

RARE ORIGINAL EDITION. This piece was the last that Dryden wrote for the stage. The plot appears to be founded on the story of Fletcher's "King and no King."

- 1300 DRYDEN. Amphitryon, or, the Two Sosias, a Comedy
Alter'd from DRYDEN [by HAWKESWORTH] as it is Perform'd at the Theatre Royal in Drury Lane with a New Interlude of Music, an Occasional Prologue and some Account of the Alterations. Small 8vo, sewed (title stained).
London, J. Payne, 1756

RARE. This play, as the author observes in his dedication, is founded on the two "Amphytrions" of Plautus and Molière, more closely following the latter.

- 1301 DRYDEN. Poetical Works. Portrait and vignette title.
Large 8vo, cloth, uncut. London, 1859

With Notes by Joseph Warton, John Warton and others to Dryden's original poems, tales and translations.

- 1306 EDINBURGH REVIEW, Selections from, edited by MAURICE CROSS. Vols. 1 and 2. 8vo, half calf, cloth sides (top edges stained slightly). Paris, 1835

W. E. Burton's copy, with his name on the backs. These volumes relate entirely to poetry and the drama.

- 1307 EDWIN.—The Eccentricities of JOHN EDWIN, Comedian, Collected from his Manuscripts and Enriched with Several Hundred Original Anecdotes, Arranged and Digested by "ANTHONY PASQUIN," Esq. 2 vols. 12mo, half calf.

Dublin, 1791

RARE. W. E. Burton's copy. The author of this work, John Williams ("Anthony Pasquin"), was adjudged by Lord Kenyon "a common libeller," stigmatized by Dr. Watt "a literary character of the lowest description" and tersely called by that classical scholar, Lord Macaulay—"a malignant and filthy baboon" and "a polecat." Yet he survived and edited a Democratic newspaper!

"PRIAPEIA"—LATIN EROTIC VERSES.

- 1308 EROTOPÆGNION, SIVE PRIAPEIA VETERUM ET RECENTORUM.—Veneri Jocosæ Sacrum. 2 loose inserted Priapic plates. Small 8vo, tree calf gilt, edges gilt.

- 1311 FAMOUS TRAGEDIE OF KING CHARLES I., Basely Butchered, etc. Small 4to, half russia.

[London], printed in the year 1649

VERY RARE. BURTON'S COPY and with his directions to the binder on a fly-leaf. In "Act IV." Hugh Peters acts as a procureur for Oliver Cromwell and succeeds in persuading Mrs. Lambert, wife of the Parliamentary general, John Lambert, to accede to the amorous desires of the Protector. "Act V." commences—"Ent. Cromwell with Mrs. Lambert, in their night Robes." The dedication is to King Charles II., following are verses "To the Author on his Tragedy," signed "E. D.," and then "the Prologue to the Gentry" in which Shakespeare, "Johnson," Goffe, "Devenant," "Sucklin," Beaumont, Fletcher and "Sherley" are named.

UNIQUE COPY OF GARRICK'S LIFE BY PERCY FITZGERALD.

- 1312 FITZGERALD (PERCY). THE LIFE OF DAVID GARRICK ; from Original Family Papers and Numerous Published and Unpublished Sources. Portraits and fac-simile. 2 vols. extended to 4. 8vo, fresh tree marbled calf extra, gilt edges, by ZAEHNSDORF. London, 1868

UNIQUE and HANDSOME COPY. These volumes have been enriched by the insertion of 167 extra plates, which include:—Portraits of Garrick's friends and contemporaries; fellow-actors; views of theatres and places mentioned in the text; theatre tickets, etc., etc., many of which are very scarce or rare.

The whole forms an unique and very curious collection. Among the rare prints may be mentioned a fine impression of the portrait of Mrs. Cibber, the wife of the notorious son of the eminent Colley; Garrick in the "Farmer's Return," etched by Samuel Ireland; Mrs. Jordan as "Nell"; the first engraved portrait of Mrs. Garrick; Hogarth, etched by Samuel Ireland; Mr. Kemble and Mrs. Jordan in the characters of "Richard" and "Matilda." This last named is of the greatest rarity. A complete list of the inserted prints—as well as those which occur in the text—will be found in each volume.

FIRST EDITIONS OF FLETCHER'S PLAYS.

- 1313 FLETCHER (John). The FAITHFUL SHEPHERDESSE. By JOHN FLETCHER. The second edition, newly corrected. Small 4to, sewed (MS. name on title, soiled and slightly wormed). London, 1629 RARE. With poems to the author by Ben. Jonson, Fr. Beaumont, G. Chapman and Nath. Field. On the first production of this play in 1610 it met with an ill reception, but afterwards with great applause at the private house in Black Friars. It was introduced by a dialogue song, by Sir W. Davenant, between a priest and a nymph.

London, 1781

RARE. This life of the great Garrick was written by Thomas Davies, a discontented bookseller who foolishly turned actor. Churchill's unmerciful, yet just ridicule, drove him from the stage:—

"With him came mighty Davies:—on my life
That Davies has a very pretty wife!
Statesman all over,—in plots famous grown,—
He mouths a sentence as curs mouth a bone."

- 1323 GAY (John). Poems on Several Occasions. Front. by FOURDRINIER. 2 vols, 12mo, old calf, gilt. London, 1745

LARGE PAPER and RARE.

- 1330 GOETHE (John Wolfgang Von). Life and Works. 12 vols. small 8vo, fresh half blue morocco, top edges gilt by R. W. SMITH. London, 1881-83

This HANDSOME SET includes:—Autobiography, translated by Oxenford. 2 vols., portrait; Poems, translated by Edgar Alfred Bowring; Dramatic Works, translated by Scott, Bowring, Swanwick and others, front.; Faust, translated by Swanwick; Novels and Tales; Wilhelm Meister's Apprenticeship, translated by Boylan; Wilhelm Meister's Travels, edited by Edward Bell; Early and Miscellaneous Letters, with Biography, by Bell; Travels in Italy; Conversations with Eckermann and Soret, translated by Oxenford; Miscellaneous Travels, edited by Schmitz.

Each of the most powerful impulses by which, in turn, the social and intellectual life of Germany in turn was governed, found in Goethe its earliest and also its most striking representative; and while he interpreted the tendencies of the age with felicitous intuition, and prefigured their results with wonderful richness of imagination, he gained a firm hold on popular feeling through that very coldness and practicality of moral sentiment which always kept him, from an ethical point of view, on a level with the world around him.

- 1331 GOETHE. Auto-Biography translated by JOHN OXENFORD. Portrait. Small 8vo, cloth, uncut (MS. name on title) London, Bohn, 1848

BURTON'S COPY OF GOFF'S DRAMATIC WORKS.

- 1332 GOFF (Thomas). Dramatic Works. 2 vols. small 4to, half calf, cloth sides, interleaved. London, 1656

VERY RARE. W. E. Burton's copy and with his name on the back of the bindings. This set includes four plays—I., "The Raging Turk, or Bajazet the Second," MS. on title and dedicated to Sir Richard Tichborne; II., "The Courageous Turk, or Amurath the First, a Tragedie," dedicated to Sir Walter Tichborne, and MS. on title back; III., "The Tragedy of Orestes"; IV., "The Careless Shepherdes, a Tragi-Comedy." Goff's melancholy fate is a warning to bachelors. Anthony A Wood writes—"Taking to his wife a meer Xantippe . . . he was so much overtop'd by her and her children which she had by a former husband, that, his life being much shortened thereby, he died at length in a manner broken-hearted!"

- 1333 GOLDSMITH (Oliver). The Traveller, a Poem. Numerous fine etchings on steel by BIRKET FOSTER. 4to, cloth gilt, beveled sides, edges gilt. London, David Bogue, n. d.
- 1334 [GORE (John).] The Manuscript, comprising the Fratricide and Miscellaneous Poems. 12mo, sewed. Boston, 1827
- 1335 GOULD (Robert). The Rival Sisters, or the Violence of Loue, a Tragedy, as it is Acted at the Theatre Royal by His Majesty's Servants. 4to, sewed (foxed and cut down). London, 1696

RARE, ONLY EDITION and with prologue and epilogue by Tom D'Urfey. The following MS. memorandum appears in this copy:—"Gould, who was first a footman, and afterwards a schoolmaster, wrote the Rival Sisters, a play stolen from Shirley, and God's Revenge against Murder"—'Dibdin's History of the Stage'—and yet he had the impudence in a satire to abuse Shirley as a contemptible writer."

- 1336 GOULD (Hannah F.). New Poems. Illuminated title. Small 8vo, cloth Boston, 1850
- 1337 GOZZI (Gasparo). Scritti di, con giunta d'Inediti e Rari, Scelti e Ordinati da NICCOLO TOMMASEO. 3 vols. small 8vo, half red roan, marbled edges. Florence, 1849

INDIA PAPER COPY OF THE BEGGAR'S DAUGHTER.

- 1347 HARVEY (Wm.). Beggar's Daughter of Bednall Green, as edited by DR. PERCY, with numerous fine woodcuts by BRANSTON and WRIGHT, from the designs of WILLIAM HARVEY, London, 1832; also—Children in the Wood, with engravings by GILBERT, from designs by HARVEY, Philadelphia, 1848. 2 vols. in 1. Small 8vo, half morocco, uncut.

VERY SCARCE. This copy of the "Beggar's Daughter" is one of a limited edition printed on INDIA PAPER.

- 1348 HAYWOOD (Tho.) and ROWLY (William). Fortune by Land and Sea.—A Tragi-Comedy, as it was Acted with great Applause by the Queen's Servants. Small 4to, half calf (title mended). London, 1655

RARE ORIGINAL EDITION. Halliwell says this play met with great applause in the performance, but was not printed till after the decease of the authors. The scene lies in London. One of the publishers of the comedy was—"Robert Pollard at the Ben Jonson's Head behind the Exchange." It was reprinted by the Shakespeare Society in 1845.

This copy came from the Holgate, Jolley and Burton libraries. The signature of Burton will be found on a fly-leaf in his instructions to the binders.

- 1349 HEYWOOD (Thomas). The Wise-Woman of Hogsdon, a Comedie. As it hath been sundry times Acted with great Applause. Small 4to, sewed (cut down).

London, Henry Shephard, 1638

RARE and FIRST EDITION. This play by a contemporary of the Bard of Avon, met with great success, and is commended in a copy of verses to the author. Heywood himself tells us there were no less than 220 plays in which he had—"either an entire hand, or at the least a main finger." Charles Lamb calls him—"a sort of prose Shakespeare."

- 1350 HEADLEY (Henry, A.B.). Select Beauties of Ancient English Poetry, with Biographical Sketch of the Editor by HENRY KETT. 2 vols. in 1. 8vo, half morocco, cloth sides. VERY SCARCE. London, John Sharpe, 1810

London, Printed for S. Briscoe and sold by J. Nutt, 1702

RARE and ORIGINAL EDITION of the author's only play. Wood enumerates five poems by Higgons, who accompanied James II. into exile and died in France.

- 1353 HOLCROFT (Thomas). Memoirs of, Written by Himself and Continued to the Time of his Death, from his Diary, Notes and other papers. Portrait. 3 vols. small 8vo, half calf gilt, marbled edges (some pp. foxed). London, 1816 SCARCE. Thomas Holcroft, the son of a London shoemaker, after having been a groom and an actor, became a not unsuccessful dramatist, poet, novelist and translator.

- 1354 HOLLAND MEMORIAL. Sketch of the Life of GEORGE HOLLAND, the Veteran Comedian, with Dramatic Reminiscences, Anecdotes, etc. Etched portrait. 4to, cloth, top edge gilt, others uncut. N. Y., 1871

"Edition limited to 250 copies, 50 of which are on quarto paper," like the above.

HOLYDAY'S PLAY OF "TEXMOGAMIA," ACTED AT THE BEGINNING OF THE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY.

- 1355 HOLYDAY (BARTEN). TEXMOGAMIA, or the Marriages of the Arts, a Comedie. Small 4to, half russia gilt (3 leaves mended and title soiled). London, printed by William Stansby for Iohn Parker, 1618

VERY RARE and ORIGINAL EDITION. Burton's copy, with signature and instructions to the binder on a fly-leaf. This comedy, by Shakespeare's contemporary, was acted before the University of Oxford at Shrovetide, and also before the Court at Woodstock.

Halliwell says:—"This drama was a favorite subject for the wits of the time, and one of the persons who attacked it was called in derision, Half-Holiday, as only possessing half its author's worth. One of the epigrams upon it was as follows—

'At the "Marriage of the Arts" before the King, Lest those brave mates should want an offering,
The King himself did offer,—what, I pray?
He offer'd twice or thrice—to go away.'

- 1356 HOMER. Hymns of, Translated into Verse, with an Inquiry into the Life of HOMER by C. C. CONWELL. Medallion portrait. Large 8vo, boards, uncut (foxed). Phila., 1830

THE PLAYS AND POEMS OF THE "BERKSHIRE HOWARDS"—W. E. BURTON'S COPIES.

- 1361 HOWARD (SIR ROBERT). WORKS, i. e. :—

I. Poems, viz. 1, A Panegyrick to the King; 2, Songs and Sonnets; 3, The Blind Lady, a Comedy; 4, The Fourth Book of VIRGIL; 5, STATIUS his ACHILLEIS, with Annotations; 6, Panegyrick to GENERALL MONCK. Minimo bound to large 8vo, interleaved, uniform with the following. London, 1660

II. Five New Plays, viz. The Surprisal, Committee, Comedies; and the Indian Queen, Vestal Virgin, Duke of Lerma, Tragedies. As they were Acted by His Majesty's Servants at the Theatre Royal. Loose inserted portrait after KNELLER. Large 8vo. London, 1692

TOGETHER 2 vols. Uniform half calf, cloth sides.

RARE. Burton's copies, with his name on the backs. On the title of the first described is the signature—"W. E. Burton," and on the title of the other volume is the same autograph and the MS. note—"For 'The Blind Lady' the only other published Play by Howard see his 12mo vol. of Poems."

Sir Robert Howard, like his two brothers, vide infra, was a brother-in-law of Dryden, and a son of Thomas, Earl of Berkshire. Shadwell ridiculed him and his dogmatism under the character of "Sir Positive-At-All." Sir Robert criticised Dryden's "Essay on Dramatic Poetry," and his brother-in-law replied with considerable acrimony. Macaulay writes:—"The poetry of the Berkshire Howards was the jest of three generations of satirists."

- 1362 HOWARD (James, brother of the preceding). The English Monsieur, a Comedy, as it is Acted, at the Theatre Royal, by His Majesty's Servants. 4to, sewed (title torn).

London, 1674

RARE and FIRST EDITION, with the autograph on title of—"Thos. Foord, His Booke, 1741." Pepys saw this play acted in 1666, and was particularly pleased with the performance of "Little Nelly," who no doubt acted "Lady Wealthy." The "Biographia Dramatica" states the above comedy:—"was represented with success," and, like his other plays, was—"held in esteem in their time."

- 1363 HOWARD (Edward, brother of the preceding). The Usurper, a Tragedy, as it was Acted at the Theatre Royal by his Majesties Servants. "Licens'd August 2, 1667, ROGER L'ESTRANGE." 4to, sewed. London, 1668

RARE and FIRST EDITION, vide MS. note on title. The plot of the play is founded on the story of Damocles, the Syracusan, under whose character, it is supposed, the author intended to point at that of Oliver Cromwell. Hugo de Petra, another of the characters, is meant for Hugh Peters.

"Sir Robert [Howard] was the original hero of 'The Rehearsal,' and was called 'Bilboa.' In the remodelled 'Dunciad' Pope inserted the lines—

'And high-born Howard, more majestic sire,
With Fool of Quality completes the Choir.'

Pope's 'high-born Howard' was Edward Howard, the author of 'The British Princes.'—MACAULAY, "History of England," Vol. iii.

- 1364 HOWITT (May). Tales in Verse. Illustrated. 12mo, cloth. Boston, 1839

- 1365 HUGO (Victor). Marion de Lorme, Drame. Minimo, half roan. Brussels, 1838

- 1366 JAMESON (Anna). Memoirs of the Loves of the Poets. Minimo, stamped morocco, gilt edges. Boston, 1858

FIRST EDITIONS OF "RARE BEN JONSON."

- 1367 JONSON (BENJAMIN). THE WORKES OF. Engraved title by HOLE (mounted). Small folio, antique calf, beveled sides.

London, printed by W. Stansby, and are to be sould by

Rich. Meighen, 1616

VERY RARE, and BEN JONSON'S OWN FIRST COLLECTED EDITION, so highly praised by Gifford. There are ten prefatory pages with poems by I. Selden, Ed. Heyward, Geor. Chapman, H. Holland, I. D., E. Bolton and Franc. Beavmont—three by the last-named. Then follow 1015 pages of plays (9) "Epi-grammes, the Forrest, Entertaynments, Panegyre, Masques and Barriers."

These have false title-pages. On the last page are the autographs of Will. Spencer, John Bunton, Robert Benton, etc. There are also other MSS. on "the Catalogue," and in the margins. On page 72 among the "principall comedians," in "Euery Man in his Humour," and "first acted in the yeare 1598," appears the name "Will. Shakespeare."

"His parts were not so ready to run of themselves, as able to answer the spur; so that it may be truly said of him, that he had an elaborate wit, wrought out by his own industry.—He would sit silent in learned company, and suck in (besides wine) their several humors into his observation. What was ore in others, he was able to refine himself.

"He was paramount in the dramatic part of poetry, and taught the stage an exact conformity to the laws of comedians. His comedies were above the Volge (which are only tickled with downright obscenity), and took not so well at the first stroke as at the rebound, when beheld the second time; yea, they will endure reading so long as either ingenuity or learning are fashionable in our nation"—FULLER'S Worthies of England.

1368 JONSON. Workes of. Engraved title. 2 vols. small folio, calf, gilt (rebacked and Vol. 1, with coat of-arms in gold on the sides). London, 1616-41

VERY RARE. This copy of Ben Jonson consists of the first folio as described in preceding lot, also the second volume of Jonson's collected works, "imprinted at London," lacking general title, and which Gifford calls—"the second folio a wretched continuation of the first, printed from MSS. surreptitiously obtained during his life, or ignorantly hurried through the press after his death. It bears a variety of dates, from 1631 to 1641 inclusive."

The "second folio" of the above copy includes the following, with separate titles:—"The Divell is an Asse," 1641; "The Magnetick Lady," 1640; "A Tale of a Tub," 1640; "The Sad Shepherd," 1641—making prefatory matter, 4 pp., and continuous pagination, 1-155. Then comes "Masques" (without title); "Under Woods," 1640, and "Mortimer, his Fall," 1640—the two last with titles, and the three continuously paginated 1-292. "Horace, his Art of Poetrie," "The English Grammar," and "Timber or Discoveries," separately titled and paged 1-132.

In the last-named, on pp. 97-98, we find the following celebrated quotation on Shakespeare, beginning:—"I remember, the Players have often mentioned it as an honor to Shakespeare, that in his writing (whatsoever he penn'd) hee never blotted out line. My answer hath beene, would he had blotted a thousand. Which they thought a malevolent speech. I had not told posterity this, but for their ignorance, who choose that circumstance to commend their friend by, he most faulted. And to justifie mine owne candor (for I lov'd the man, and doe honour his memory (on this side Idolatry) as much as any). Hee was (indeed) honest, and of an open and free nature; had an excellent Phantsie; brave notions and gentle expressions; wherein he flow'd with that facility, that some times it was necessary he should be stop'd, etc."

1369 [JONSON.]— | The Comickall Satyre of | EVERY MAN |
OVT OF HIS | HUMOR. | As it was first composed by the Author B. I. | Containing more than hath been publicly | spoken or acted. | With the seuerall character of euery person |. Small 4to, half morocco, cloth sides.

London, Printed for Nicholas Linge, 1600

EXCESSIVELY RARE, FIRST EDITION, and the first quarto Jonson. This play is called "Every One out of his Humour," in a list of plays acted in 1605, but it was first acted and with the above title in 1599. This copy is imperfect, lacking two leaves of sheet "A," containing the description of the characters, as in the 1616 folio and the beginning of the play, the last of which is, however, added in MS.

- 1370 JORDAN (Mrs. Dorothy). Life of, including Original Private Correspondence and numerous Anecdotes of her Contemporaries, edited by JAMES BOWDEN. Portrait and fac-simile, also 2 inserted plates in character. 2 vols. 8vo, half calf, gilt. London, 1831

SCARCE. Mrs. Jordan was the mistress of Queen Victoria's uncle, William the Fourth. Her sons were ennobled.

- 1371 JUVENAL.—Les Satyres de JUVENAL en Latin et en François de la Version de M. DE MAROLLES, ABBÉ DE VILLOIN; also—Les Satyres de PERSE en Latin et en François. 2 vols. in 1. Small 8vo, old mottled calf gilt, with coat-of-arms—"a key and sword crossed"—stamped on the sides, gilt edges.

RARE.

Paris, Guyot de Ligny, 1653

- 1372 KILLIGRAEW (Henry, D.D.) The Conspiracy, a Tragedy as it was Intended for the Nuptials of the LORD CHARLES HERBERT and the LADY VILLIERS. Small 4to, sewed (title and last page mended). London, 1638

RARE and ORIGINAL EDITION. Killigrew wrote the above when only seventeen years of age for the entertainment of the King and Queen at York House. The commendation bestowed on it by Ben Jonson and Lord Falkland created the author some envy among his contemporaries. The above edition is a surreptitious one. Killigrew was so ashamed of the first edition, that to prevent its being known as the same piece he altered the name of it to "Pallantus and Endora."

- 1373 KILLIGREW (Sir William). PANDORA, a Comedy. Enlarged from minimo to 4to by interleaving, half calf (MS. on back of title) London, 1664

RARE, ORIGINAL EDITION, and with MS. note on fly-leaf as to other plays entitled "Pandora." The second edition of the above is called—"Pandora, or the Converts." The play was originally a tragedy, but not being approved on the stage in that form was altered to a comedy!

- 1374 KEMBLE (Frances Anne Butler). Poems. Fine portrait (foxed). Small 8vo, half morocco. Phila., 1844

- 1375 KEMBLE. Records of Later Life. 3 vols. small 8vo, cloth, uncut. London, Bentley, 1882

- 1376 KOTZEBUE (Augustus Von, dramatist). Life and Literary Career, with Journal of his Exile to Siberia, Written by Himself. Portrait. 2 vols. minimo, half calf.

London, 1827

VERY SCARCE. W. E. Burton's copy, with his name on the backs.

SUMPTUOUS COPY OF LABORDE'S "CHANSONS" WITH THE MUSIC—JAPAN PAPER EDITION, AND BOUND BY PAGNANT.

- 1377 LABORDE (JEAN BENJAMIN DE). CHOIX DE CHANSONS Mises en Musique par M. DE LA BORDE, Premier Valet-de-Chambre Ordinaire du Roi, Gouverneur du

Louvre—dediees a MADAME LA DAUPHINE. With the titles, fronts., plates and vignettes of J. M. MOREAU, printed in three colors—black, bistre and “crayon sanguine (genre BOUCHER)”—and the whole printed from plates. 4 vols. 4to, handsomely bound by PAGNANT in crushed blue levant morocco extra, rounded corners, inside gold tooling, gilt edges. Paris, De Lormel, 1773

SUPERB COPY, and No. 37 on JAPAN PAPER of a VERY LIMITED EDITION of this SPLENDID REPRINT. Laborde was the valet-de-chambre and favorite of Louis the Fifteenth, by whom he was made “fermier général.” He was guillotined during the Reign of Terror.

1378 LABRUNE (J. de). Histoire des Testaments en Vers. 12mo, mottled calf gilt, red edges (foxed). Amsterdam, 1731

MAGNIFICENT COPY OF THE “FARMERS-GENERAL” EDITION OF LA FONTAINE, BOUND BY CHAMBOLLE-DURU.

1379 LA FONTAINE.— | Contes | et | Nouvelles | en Vers | par M. DE LA FONTAINE | . 2 vols. small 8vo, bound in full red crushed levant morocco extra, inside gold borders, rounded corners and edges gilt on marble by CHAMBOLLE-DURU. A Amsterdam, 1762

SUPERB COPY in UNRIVALLED CONDITION of this BEAUTIFUL EDITION, with BRILLIANT IMPRESSIONS of the portraits, the numerous erotic plates by Eisen, and charming head and tail pieces, vignettes, etc.

Among the “livres de luxe” of the eighteenth century there is one which is a marvel and a chef-d’œuvre, an example without an equal in the richness of a book. This work, the great monument and triumph of the “vignette,” which rises above and crowns all other illustrations of the day, it is needless to state to all amateurs, is the Tales of La Fontaine known as the edition of the “Fermiers-Généraux,” a truly royal book of the last Mecoenean financiers; one of the grandest of the intelligent and sensual outlays of money of the reign of Louis the Fifteenth, and an inimitable model of gallant engraving applied to the illustration of light narrative.

1380 LA GRANGE-CHANCEL (F. J. de). Théâtre, Revu et Corrigé par lui-meme. Fronts., plates and vignettes by PICART, etc. 2 vols. old mottled calf gilt, red edges. Amsterdam, 1746

VERY SCARCE. This dramatic author wrote the “Philippiques” against the Regent Orleans.

1381 LEE (Nathaniel). The Rival Queens, or the Death of ALEXANDER THE GREAT, acted at the Theatre-Royal, by their Majesties Servants. 4to, paper (foxed, and MS. name on title). London, Richard Bentley, 1690

RARE. “Nat. Lee,” after—“an unsuccessful attempt as an actor, finally settled down as a dramatic author. Habits of dissipation resulted in insanity, which led to his confinement for four years in Bedlam, from which he was discharged in 1683, little to his benefit,—as about three years later he was killed in a street-brawl during a drunken frolic.”—ALLIBONE.

- 1382 LERMONTOFF (Michail). The Circassian Boy, translated by S. S. CONANT. Rubricated borders. Small 4to, sewed. Boston, 1875
- 1383 LILLO (George). Dramatic Works and Memoir edited by THOMAS DAVIES. 2 illustrations. 2 vols. in 1. Small 8vo, half red morocco gilt, marbled sides and edges. London, W. Lowndes, 1810
- SCARCE. Includes—"George Barnewell," with the Ballad, etc.
 "He [Lillo] is a master of terrific but not of tender impressions. We feel a harshness and gloom in his genius, even while we are compelled to admire its force and originality."—CAMPBELL.
- 1384 LINN (John Blair, A.M., First Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia). Powers of Genius, a Poem. Minimo, sheep. Phila., 1802
- RARE. With plates by Alex. Lawson after Barralet.
- 1385 LOCKER (Frederick). London Lyrics. Portrait and cuts. Small 8vo, cloth, totally uncut. N. Y., printed for the Book Fellow's Club, 1883
- LIMITED EDITION. No. 61 of 140 copies printed by De Vinne from type for subscribers—4 on vellum, 6 on "plated paper" and 94 on Holland paper.
- 1386 LOVER (Samuel). Metrical Tales and other Poems. Numerous illustrations from designs of W. HARVEY, H. K. BROWNE, KENNEY MEADOWS, etc. 4to, cloth gilt, bevelled sides, edges gilt. London, 1860
- 1387 LUDLOW (N. M., Actor and Manager). Dramatic Life as I found it. Thick 8vo, cloth. St. Louis, 1880
- 1388 MACREADY RIOT.—Rejoinder to Replies from England respecting MR. MACREADY, together with an Impartial History and Review of the Lamentable Occurrences at the Astor Place Opera House, 10th of May, 1849, by "an American Citizen." Large 8vo, sewed. N. Y., 1849
- 1389 MANNING (Francis). The Generous Choice, a Comedy. 4to, paper (stained). London, 1700
- RARE and FIRST EDITION. Scene—Valencia, in Spain.

THE VERY RARE ORIGINAL EDITION OF THE "DUMB KNIGHT"—LONDON, 1608.

- 1390 MARKHAM [and MACHIN].—The DUMBE KNIGHT. A Pleasant Comedy, acted sundry times by the children of his Maiesties Reuels. Written by IARUIS MARKHAM. Small 4to, sewed (cut down and MS. on title). London, printed by Nicholas Oakes for Iohn Bache, 1608

VERY RARE and ORIGINAL EDITION. The dedication—"To the Vnderstanding Reader" is signed—"Levves Machin." Halliwell, in his "Dictionary of Old English Plays," writes:—"Though this play was acted several times, it found many enemies, as we may perceive from the preface, where the author says the play was misconstrued. He also says that, in the composition of the play, he had a partner whose worth hath often been approved; and as the name of Markham is found in some copies in the place of Machin [vide above copy], perhaps it is the joint production of those two writers."

MARLOWE'S "TAMERLANE THE GREAT"—PRINTED IN 1606.

- 1391 [MARLOWE (Christopher).] TAMBURLAINE THE GREATE, with his Impassionate furie for the death of his Lady and Loue faire ZENOCRATES, his form of exhortation and discipline to his three Sonnes and manner of his owne death—the Second part. Small 4to. London, 1606

BLACK LETTER, RARE, with occasional MS. notes, title mended and stained somewhat. Marlow, who was—"Educated at Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, became an actor and a dramatist, led a loose life and was killed in a quarrel, not of the most reputable character."—ALLIBONE.

Ben Jonson speaks of—"Marlowe's mighty line," Thos. Heywood calls him—"the best of poets," and Phillips styles him—"a second Shakespeare."

THE FIRST AND 1606 EDITION OF MARSTON'S "FAWNE."

- 1392 MARSTON (Iohn). Parasistagter, or the Fawne, as it hath bene divers times presented at the blacke Friars, by the Children of the Queene's Maiestes Reuels. Small 4to, half morocco, red edges, by RIVIERE. London, 1606

VERY RARE and FIRST EDITION. Two editions of this play were published in 1606, the latter being issued as—"corrected of many faults, which, by reason of the author's absence, were let slip in the first edition." It is to this comedy that Wood possibly refers, when he asserts that Marston—"was in great renown for his wit and ingenuity, in 1606."

- 1393 [MARTIN (Theodore) and AYTOUN (W. E.).] The Book of Ballads, edited by "BON GAULTIER." Vignette woodcuts. Small 8vo, cloth. N. Y., 1858

MASSINGER'S RENEGADO—PRINTED IN LONDON, 1630.

- 1394 MASSINGER (Philip). The Renegado, a Tragæ-Comedie, as it hath been often acted by the Queene's Maiesties Seruants, at the priuate Play-house in Drurye-Lane. Small 4to, calf.

London, printed by A. M. for John Waterson, 1630

VERY RARE and ONLY EDITION. Mitford's copy, with autograph on end paper—"J. Mitford, Feb., 1845. Not Reprinted.

This is considered an excellent play. Following the dedication to "Baron Barkley" are commendatory verses by "James Shirley" and "Daniel Lakyn." The play is mentioned in Herbert's Manuscript Diary, under the date of April 17th, 1624—"for the Cock-pit, the Renegado or the Gentleman of Venice, written by Massinger."

- 1395 MASSINGER.—The Plays of PHILIP MASSINGER, with Notes Critical and Explanatory by WILLIAM GIFFORD. Engraved portrait and vignette title. Large 8vo, antique calf, beveled sides, red edges.

London, Henry Washbourne & Co., 1856

VERY SCARCE. "There can be no doubt that Massinger admired and studied Shakespeare. In the haste of composition his mind turned up many phases and thoughts of the elder writer, in a more or less perfect state of preservation; but he was neither a plagiarist nor an imitator. His style, conduct, characterization and metre are perfectly distinct. No serious dramatist of the age owed Shakespeare so little."—HARTLEY COLERIDGE.

- 1396 MEAD (Robert). The Combat of Loue and Friendship, a Comedy. Small 4to, sewed, gilt edges. London, 1654

RARE and ONLY EDITION. This play was presented, during the author's lifetime, by the gentlemen of Christ Church College, Oxford, of which he was a member, but it was not published until after his decease. Phillips erroneously attributed to him—"the Costlie Whore," vide lot 1278.

- 1397 MELLON (Harriot, Actress and Duchess of St. Albans). Memoirs of, by MRS. CORNWELL BARON-WILSON. 2 vols. small 8vo, cloth (foxed). Phila., 1840

- 1409 MORLEY.—ALTVS, OF THOMAS MORLEY, THE FIRST BOOKE OF BALLETS TO FIVE VOYCES. 4to, half roan. In London, by Thomas Este, 1595
- EXTREMELY RARE. This copy includes title (mounted); dedication to "Sir Robert Cecil," with verses "M. M. D. to the author" on back of the same (mended); and the whole of the XXI. Ballads with the curious Elizabethan music. The last leaf is "the Table," mounted. The binder has transposed sheets "B" and "C," but the volume is perfect, although mended.
- This was "T. Jolley's" copy and has his heraldic book-plate. On a fly-leaf is the MS. note—"Nicholas Brown, bought as a souvenir at the auction of my valued friend the late Rev. Dr. Choules of Newport, R. I., 1856."
- Morley was born about 1550 and died in 1604, in Shakespeare's lifetime. He was an eminent composer of music, and his "Plaine and Easie Introduction to Practicall Musicke" was in great repute for more than 150 years.
- "Next to Byrd, whose publications of this kind are numerous, we may mention Thomas Morley, no less remarkable for his skill in music and for his fertility in the production of madrigals, ballets, and canzonets."—DRAKE'S "Shakespeare and His Times."

THE PLAYS OF MOTTEUX—FIRST EDITION.

- 1411 MOTTEUX (Peter Anthony). Love's a Jest, a Comedy as it is acted at the New Theatre in Little-Lincoln's Inn-Fields by His Majesties Servants. 4to, sewed (foxed slightly). London, 1696

RARE and ONLY EDITION. Motteux was one of the translators of Rabelais into English.

- 1412 MOTTEUX. The Loves of MARS and VENUS, a Play Set to Music. 4to, sewed. London, 1696

RARE and FIRST EDITION. "The author in his preface owns the story to be from Ovid, and that he has introduced a dance of Cyclops which bears a resemblance to, yet is very different from, Shadwell's 'Psyche,' which he says is borrowed almost verbatim from Moliere, who in his turn took his from an old Italian opera called 'Le Nozze de gli Dei.'"—HALLIWELL.

- 1413 MOTTEUX. The Novelty. Every Act a Play. Being a Short Pastoral Comedy, Masque, Tragedy and Farce after the Italian Manner. Written by MR. MOTTEUX and other hands. 4to, sewed. London, 1697

RARE, and only edition. The model of this compound of pieces seems to be taken from the hint of Sir W. Davenant's "Playhouse to be Let." It consists, as the title implies, of five distinct short dramatic pieces.

- 1414 MOTTEUX. The Island Princess, or the Generous Portuguese, made into an Opera. 4to, sewed (foxed). London, 1699

RARE and first edition. This is only the principal parts of Fletcher's "Island Princess" formed into an opera, and performed at the Theatre Royal.

- 1415 MOWATT (Anna Cora). Autobiography of an Actress, or Eight Years on the Stage. Portrait. 12mo, cloth, uncut. Boston, 1854

PARKE'S "REVOLUTIONARY" TRANSLATION OF HORACE—PHILADELPHIA, 1786.

- 1425 [PARKE (John).] LYRIC WORKS of HORACE translated into English Verse; to which are added a number of Original Poems. By "a Native of America." Front. Small 8vo, old sheep. Phila., Eleazer Oswald, 1786

VERY RARE. A very long account of Col. John Parke and his poems will be found in Duyckinck's "American Literature," Vol. 1, pp. 305-308. The author dedicates his poems to—"George Washington," not forgetting to include among the President's titles "Marshal of France; to Benjamin Franklin, President of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania"; to Nicholas Vandyke, Governor of Delaware, and many others.

"Parke's book," says Duyckinck, "if the honors of Horatian felicity in poetry be denied it, can fall back on its claims as a rather comprehensive Revolutionary directory. The inscriptions at the head of the odes are quite a catalogue of the worthies of the times. Augustus does duty for several persons."

Mr. John Prior, of Delaware, is another writer of verses who figures in this collection. The volume winds up with "Virginia, a Pastoral Drama on the Birth-Day of an Illustrious Personage, and the Return of Peace, Feb. 11, 1784." There is also a long list of subscribers and this suggestion:—"The frontispiece is the work of Mr. James Peller Malcolm, of this city (Philadelphia), a young artist, who served but a short time in the business, therefore any inaccuracies therein must be imputed to the above cause."

- 1426 PARNASO ITALIANO.—Poeti Italiani Contemporanei Maggiori e Minori. Front. of portraits. Thick 8vo, half calf. Paris, 1843

LARGE PAPER COPY OF THE LIFE OF THE AUTHOR OF LARGE PAPER COPY. Limited edition of 15 quarto and 250 octavo, for subscribers only, the above being a 4to copy in good condition.

- 1428 PETRARCH. Life and Times of, with Notices of BOCACCIO and his Illustrious Contemporaries, by THOMAS CAMPBELL. Portraits of PETRARCH and LAURA. 2 vols. 8vo, half calf. London, Henry Colburn, 1843

The following is taken from the advertisement on pages 3 and 4:—"I undertook to write the Life of Petrarch more from accident than original design. The Rev. Archdeacon Coxe had bequeathed to the Library of the British Museum a MS. life of the poet, which he had written. Mr. Colburn caused a copy of it to be taken, intending it for publication, and requested me to be the editor . . . I found it most incomplete and stops short twelve years before the poet's death, and so sprawlingly diffuse, that where three words would do, the Archdeacon is sure to employ nine. I found that the reverend man's verbosity defied all powers of packing . . . The Coxeian MS. is placed in the wrong part of the Museum, it should not be in the Library, but among the bottled abortions of anatomy, or the wooden visages of the South Sea Idols."

MAGNIFICENT EDITION ON JAPAN PAPER OF ZELIS AU BAIN—BOUND BY PAGNANT.

- 1429 PEZAY (Le Marquis de). ZELIS AU BAIN.—Poème en Quatre Chants.—Réimpression sur l'édition de "Genève, s. d." With EISEN's erotic plates engraved by DE MALVAL, also head and tail pieces and initial letters designed by MESPLES,—every page surrounded by a rose border. 8vo, handsomely bound by PAGNANT in brown crushed levant morocco, extra inside gold borders, rounded corners and gilt edges, in leather-lined drop case.

Imprinted at London by EDWARD ALLDE [circa 1570]

EXTREMELY RARE and PARTIALLY BLACK LETTER. With the following manuscript note, inserted by General Rush C. Hawkins:—"Of this very rare play not more than five copies are known, and if it is not the first it is among the very earliest of the English dramatic productions, written and arranged in the mechanical form for stage representation which has obtained to the present time. Shakespeare mentions it thus—"In King Cambyes vein," King Henry IV., Part I., Act II., Scene IV. Hawkins, O. E. D., I, 243. Halliwell Dictionary, 41. Beloe I, 322. N. Y., March 10, 1886.—RUSH C. HAWKINS."

This curious play in old metre was printed about 1570 and licensed in 1569. A copy is in the British Museum, and it is reprinted in the first volume of Hawkins's "Origin of the English Drama." On the title is given the division of the 38 parts, which had to be played by 8 men, who had to keep "doubling up" and assuming different characters. The six women's parts were assigned—"for one man."

Thomas Preston, LL.D., died in 1598. For about fourteen years he was Master of Trinity Hall, Cambridge. He also wrote—"A Gelliflower, or Swete Marygolde." Allibone says of his "King Cambyes":—"This play was ridiculed by Shakespeare ('in King Cambyes vein,' Falstaff) and others."

GEORGE POWELL'S PLAYS—SÆC. XVII.

- 1438 POWELL (George). ALPHONSO, KING OF NAPLES, a Tragedy, as it is Acted at the Theatre Royal, by Their Majesties Servants. 4to, sewed. London, 1691

RARE. With MS. on title—"FIRST EDITION, William^o Powell." The prologue was written by John Haynes and the epilogue by Tom D'Urfey. A trifling portion of the tragedy is said to have been taken from the "Young Admiral" of Shirley. George Powell was an actor as well as a playwright. He died in 1714, and was commended by Steele in "The Spectator."

- 1439 POWELL. A Very Good Wife, a Comedy, as it is Acted by Their Majesties Servants at the Theatre-Royal. 4to, half calf (foxed).

London, printed for Samuel Briscoe, over against Will's Coffee-House, 1693

RARE and ONLY EDITION. This play has little of Powell's own writing in it. It is almost entirely borrowed from the "City Wit" and the "Court Beggar," by Richard Brome, without any acknowledgment. The prologue was written by Congreve. At the end is a curious advertisement of a—"Famous Powder called Arcanum Magnum . . . for preserving and beautifying the face even to old age . . . In short it adds more lustre and beauty than any powder or wash known, as many persons of quality can testify, who daily use it with the greatest approbation."

- 1440 [POWELL.] The Cornish Comedy, as it is acted at the Theatre Royal in Dorset Garden, by His Majesty's Servants. 4to, sewed (foxed). London, 1696

RARE, ONLY EDITION, and with four prefatory leaves.

"This play was published by George Powell, who, in a dedication to Christopher Rich, one of the patentees of the Theatres Royal, says it was the conception of a few loose hours, and committed by the author to dispose of in the world. The title and prefatory leaves are properly six in number, but two of the leaves are often wanting."—HALLIWELL.

- 1441 [POWELL.] A New Opera, called BRUTUS of Alba, or AUGUSTA'S Triumph. 4to, sewed. London, 1697

RARE, with MS. on title—"Written by George Powell, FIRST EDITION Wm. Powell." It is a kind of sequel to Nahum Tate's tragedy of—"Brutus of Alba, or the Enchanted Lovers," licensed in 1678.

"George Powell" and "John Verbruggen" sign the epistle dedicatory (dated Monday, Octob. 16, 1699) to "Sam. Briscoe, Bookseller." They say, among other good literary thoughts:—"Sure none can prove a Warmer Patron to a Book, than the Bookseller for whom 'tis Printed. . . . Most Readers rather judge of the Worth of a Book, by the Name of the Bookseller that Prints it, than by that of the Great Man to whom 'tis Inscrib'd. . . . Many books are only thought bad, through the Prejudice of most Readers against their Nameless Writers, as if those works were not worth owning; and many are thought good only for the sake of the Author's Fame," etc.

QUARLES'S "ARGALUS AND PARTHENIA," 1684.

- 1443 QUATRE HEURES (Les)—de la Toilette des Dames—Poème Erotique par DE FAURE—Reimpression sur l'Édition de Paris, BASTIEN, 1779. With frontispiece, plates, vignette head and tail pieces by LECLERC, engraved by ARRIVET, HALBON, LEGRAND, LEROY and PATAS—IN DIFFERENT STATES. 8vo, new crushed levant morocco extra, inside gold tooling, gilt edges, by PAGNANT. Paris, Edouard Rouveyre, 1880

No. 5 of 10 copies on JAPAN PAPER out of a limited edition of 600 in all, splendidly printed by Unsinger of Paris, with rose borders.

The very erotic plates and vignettes of Leclerc are in three states—bistre, black and "crayon sanguine (genre Boucher)." This volume was dedicated to the Princess de Lamballe, the Sapphic friend of Marie Antoinette.

THE "MUSE'S LOOKING-GLASS" OF RANDOLPH—OXFORD, 1638.

- 1444 RANDOLPH (Thomas). The Muses Looking-Glasse, by "T. R."; Amyntas, or, the Impossible Doury, a Pastoral, Acted before the King and Queene at White-Hall; Poems. 3 vols. in 1 (last-named vol. lacks title). Half morocco. Oxford, 1638

RARE. Ben Jonson adopted Randolph as his—"son-in-the-Muses," and introduced him to a set of boon companions, who soon drank him into an early grave.

"Who looks within his clearer Glass will say,
At once he writ an Ethick Tract and Play."

—LANGBAIN.

- 1449 RIMBAULT (E. F., LL.D., etc.). A Little Book of Songs and Ballads, Gathered from Ancient Musick Books. Rubricated title. Small 8vo, half morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut, Roxburghe style. London, 1851
- 1450 ROGERS (Samuel). Poems. Vignette woodcuts. Small 8vo, boards, uncut (a few pp. foxed). London, T. Cadell, 1827 RARE. Printed by Bensley on ribbed paper.
- 1451 ROWE (Nicholas). The Ambitious Stepmother, a Tragedy. 4to, sewed (foxed). London, 1701
RARE and MS. note on title—"first edition." Congreve styled the above—"a very good tragedy," and the success of the piece confirmed the literary disposition of the author, whom George the First on his accession made "Poet Laureate." He is buried in Westminster Abbey, and Alexander Pope wrote his epitaph.
- 1452 ROWE. Tamerlane, a Tragedy. 4to, sewed (foxed). London, Jacob Tonson, 1702
RARE and FIRST EDITION. In this play "Tamerlane" represents William the Third, King of England, and "Bajazet," Louis XIV. "Tamerlane" used always to be acted on the Fifth of November, the anniversary of the Gunpowder Plot, vide Gibbon.
- 1453 SABBATH BELLS CHIMED by the Poets. Numerous finely tinted illustrations by BIRKET FOSTER. Ornamental initials COLORED BY HAND. 4to, cloth, beveled sides, gilt edges (some pages loose and name on false title). N. Y. [London, printed at Chiswick Press, by C. Whittingham], 1856
- 1454 SAVAGE.—Life of MR. RICHARD SAVAGE, son of the EARL OF RIVERS, to which are Added the Lives of SIR FRANCIS DRAKE and ADMIRAL BLAKE—all Written by the Author of "The Rambler." 12mo. London, 1775
- 1455 SCHILLER (F. von). Sammtliche Werke. Portrait. 12 vols. in 6. Thick square minimo. Stuttgart, 1847

- 1456 SCOTT (Sir Walter). Poetical Works, edited by J. G. LOCKHART. Beautiful frontispiece and vignette titles on steel from drawings by J. M. W. TURNER, engraved by GOODALL, LE KEUX and others. 12 vols. small 8vo, calf gilt, marbled edges. Edinburgh, A. and C. Black, 1857 Author's Favorite Edition.

SEDLEY'S PLAYS—FIRST EDITIONS.

- 1457 SEDLEY (Sir Charles). ANTONY and CLEOPATRA, a Tragedy as it is Acted at the Dukes Theatre. Written by the HONOURABLE SIR CHARLES SEDLEY, Baronet, Licensed April 24, 1677, ROGER L'ESTRANGE, London, RICHARD TONSON, 1677; Also—BELLAMIRA, or the Mistress, a Comedy, by SIR CHARLES SEDLEY, London, 1687. 2 vols. in 1. 4to, half calf.

RARE. Both are FIRST EDITIONS. The first of the above named is founded upon Shakespeare's "Antony and Cleopatra," and the second upon the "Eunuch of Terence." Sir Charles in his preface to "Bellamira" says—"The whole play runs upon a Rape, committed by a Lover under the disguise of an Eunuch."

Sedley, after leaving Oxford—Wood says:—"became a debauchee, set up for a satirical wit, a comedian, poet, and courtier of ladies, and I know not what." He was a warm promoter of the Revolution—actuated as he sarcastically professed,—"from a principle of gratitude. For, since his majesty has made my daughter a Countess," he remarked,—"it is fit I should do all I can to make his daughter a Queen."

- 1458 SEDLEY. BELLAMIRA, or the Mistress, A Comedy. 4to, sewed. London, "at the Maiden-Head," 1687

RARE and FIRST EDITION. It was at the acting of this play that the roof of the theatre fell down. Few were hurt except the author himself, which occasioned Sir Fleetwood Shepherd to say—"there was so much fire in his play, that it blew upon the poet, house and all."—"No," replied the author, "the play was so heavy, it broke down the house and buried the poet in his own rubbish."

THE 1807 REPRINT OF THE 1623 FOLIO.

- 1459 SHAKESPEARE.—MR. WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE'S Comedies, Histories and Tragedies, published according to the True Originall Copies. Portrait after MARTIN DROESHOUT. Thick folio, half vellum, uncut (binding broken).

London, printed by Isaac Iaggard and Ed.

Blount, 1623 (reprint)

RARE. SPLENDID COPY of the 1807 reprint and in uncut condition, with interesting MS. notes on fly-leaf, also under Ben Jonson's lines.

"Too long have the pages of this father of our stage been encumbered by tedious dissertations on old customs, by long quotations from contemporary authors, by endless controversies on the comparative merits of various readings, by ridiculous trials of punctuation, by the long-winded lucubrations of purblind annotators and by the obscure hints of black-letter critics."—"Gentleman's Magazine," November, 1808.

FIFTH EDITION OF SHAKESPEARE AND THE FIRST ILLUSTRATED EDITION.

1460 SHAKESPEARE.—The Works of MR. WILLIAM SHAKESPEAR. Revis'd and Correct with an Account of the Life and Writings of the Author. By N. ROWE, Esq. Plates—very fine impressions of the curious illustrations. 7 vols. small 8vo, half morocco, top edges gilt (foxed somewhat). London, printed by Jacob Tonson, within Gray's-Inn Gate, next Gray's Inn Lane, 1709-10

VERY RARE. This is the FIFTH EDITION of Shakespeare's Complete Works—the fourth being the folio of 1685. It is the FIRST SMALL EDITION and the FIRST WITH PLATES. This copy was W. E. Burton's and has his name on the backs of the volumes. There are two interesting newspaper cuttings inserted, one relating to this—"the first complete Shakespeare." On the backs of the titles is the inserted 18th century heraldic book-plates of—"Thomas Isted of the Middle Temple, Esquire."

"Twenty years had been allowed to elapse since the publication of the fourth folio, before popular opinion encouraged any London publisher to venture on a new or portable edition. Rowe unfortunately adopted the fourth and worst of the folio editions for his text and corrected but few of its errors. His biography, however, is the most authentic we have."—LOWNDES.

The editor, Nicholas Rowe, being himself a dramatist, his studies, to quote Samuel Johnson—"necessarily made him acquainted with Shakespeare, and acquaintance produced veneration." Rowe gave a new impulse to the study of Shakespeare in producing, under the ægis of that eminent member of the "Kit-Kat Club," Jacob Tonson, these handy octave volumes. The tenth volume is the third collected edition of the "Poems." The second, Lintot's edition, intended to go with the above, was edited by Charles Gildon, but according to Malone was "full of errors." The above is the third edition and is stated on the title-page to be the "seventh volume" of the works. The dedication signed "S N" precedes "An Essay on the Art, Rise and Progress of the Stage" and "Glossary." Rowe, in his life, appended to the first volume, wrote:—"There is a book of poems published in 1640 under the name of Mr. William Shakespeare, but as I have but lately seen it, without an opportunity of making any judgment upon it, I won't pretend to determine whether it be his or not."

Chiswick, printed by C. Whittingham, 1823

RARE. Printed on the bi-centenary of the first folio of 1623. This copy of the Whittingham diamond type edition is bound with a diamond design on the sides, and as a MS. note says—"by Thouvenin or Lewis."

"In this edition as originally printed, the play of Midsummer's Night's Dream was omitted, but afterwards inserted, the pagination being marked with full points."—LOWNDES.

- 1462 SHAKESPEARE.—The Works of SHAKESPEARE. Imperial Edition. Edited by CHARLES KNIGHT. With illustrations on steel from pictures by C. W. COPE, E. M. WARD, C. R. LESLIE, S. A. HART, D. MACLISE, W. P. FRITH, SIR JOHN GILBERT, J. A. HOUSTON, J. PETTIE, W. MULREADY, E. W. FROST, J. L. GÉROME, C. CLINT, H. S. MARKS, W. Q. ORCHARDSON, G. H. BOUGHTON, and others. 2 vols. thick large 4to, half turkey morocco gilt, cloth and beveled sides, gilt edges. N. Y., Virtue and Yorston, n. d.

A modern excellently illustrated edition, only sold by subscription.

RICHARD GRANT WHITE'S EDITION OF SHAKESPEARE.

- 1463 SHAKESPEARE.—Mr. WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE'S Comedies, Histories, Tragedies and Poems—the Text Newly Edited, with Glossarial, Historical and Explanatory Notes, by RICHARD GRANT WHITE. Portrait. 6 vols. 8vo, fresh half yellow calf gilt, marbled sides and edges.

N. Y., Riverside Press, 1884

"Mr. Dyce and Mr. Singer are only dry, common-place books of illustrative quotations; Mr. Collier has not wholly recovered from his 'corr. fo.' madness: Mr. Knight (with many eminent advantages as an editor) is too diffuse; and we repeat our honest persuasion, that Mr. White has thus far given us the best extant text, while the fullness of his notes gives his edition almost the value of a variorum; and we think that a careful collation justifies us in saying that in acute discrimination of æsthetic shades of expression, and often of textual niceties Mr. White is superior to any previous editor."—J. R. LOWELL.

"LOVE'S LABOR LOST"—THE VERY RARE SECOND QUARTO.

- 1464 SHAKESPEARE.—| Loues Labours Lost. | A WITTIE AND | PLEASANT | COMEDIE. | As it was Acted by his Maiesties Seruants at | the Blacke-Friers and the Globe. | Written | By WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE. | Small 4to, half morocco (date cut off title).

London, | printed by W. S. for Iohn Smethwicke, | and are to be | sold at his Shop in Saint Dunstone's Church- | yard under the Diall. | 1631.

EXTREMELY RARE. Among the quotations in Lowndes are the following of prices paid over a quarter of a century ago for copies of the above 1631 or second quarto "Love's Labor Lost":—"Halliwell in 1856, £9. Another in 1837, £3. Libri, July, 1862, £4 6s. (bought by Mr. Tite)." Copies are in the British Museum, Capell's Collection and Devon Library.

When Stevens published his reprints of the twenty early quartos in 1766, he was unable to procure the first or 1598 quarto of "Love's Labor Lost." In the 1863 edition of Lowndes it is stated—"Mr. Daniel has a very fine copy, which he values at £200." This was sold at his sale in July, 1864, for £346, 10s.

THE "RETURN FROM PARNASSUS," 1606—PRINTED IN SHAKESPEARE'S LIFETIME AND WITH ALLUSIONS TO HIM THEREIN.

1465 [SHAKESPEAREANA.]— | THE RETVRNE FROM
| PERNASSUS: | or | The Scourge of Simony. | Pub-liquely acted by the Students | in Saint Iohns College, in Cambridge. | Small 4to, half morocco interleaved, top edge gilt (a few pp. slightly stained).

At London, printed by G. Eld, for Iohn Wright, and are to bee sold at his shop in Christ Church Gate [1606]

EXCESSIVELY RARE. W. E. Burton's copy of the above, with his initials stamped on the back. The date, 1606, has been added to the title in MS., and on the fly-leaf is the following MS. note by General Rush C. Hawkins:—"On pages 10, 50, 52 are allusions to Shakespeare and quotations from his works. This play was evidently written by a strong friend of the great poet and a pronounced hater of Ben Jonson. If this work has no literary merit, it is, nevertheless, worthy of respect, if for no other reason than that its author was one of the first who discovered and recorded an appreciation of the supreme grandeur of Shakespeare's poetry. R. C. H."

The three passages alluded to are as follows:—

"William Shakespeare.

Ind. Who loues Adonis loue, or Lucre's rape,
His sweeter verse contains hart robbing life,
Could but a grauer subiect him content,
Without loues foolish languishment."—Vide p. 10.

"Kemp. Few of the uniuersity pen plaies well, they smell too much of that writer Ouid, and that writer Metamorphosis, and talke too much of Proserpina and Iuppiter. Why here's our fellow Shakespeare puts them all downe, I and Ben Iohnson too. O that Ben Iohnson is a pestilent fellow, he brought vp Horace giuing the Poets a pill, but our fellow Shakespeare hath giuen him a purge that made him beray his credit."—Vide p. 50.

"Bur. I like your face, and the proportion of your body for Richard the 3. I pray M. Phil. let me see you act a little of it.

Phil. Now is the winter of our discontent, Made glorious summer by the sonne of Yorke."—Vide p. 52.

Halliwell says—"The poets of that time are treated with much severity in it [the above]; and on the hints thrown out in it against the clergy, Dr. Wild laid the foundation of his play called the Benefice. There were two impressions dated 1606 having minute differences." The same printers are quoted by Mr. Halliwell as on the title page of the above as having printed the 1606 edition, yet this copy is undated.

THE VERY SCARCE 1825 REPRINT OF THE FIRST
QUARTO "HAMLET."

1466 SHAKESPEARE.—The Tragicall Historie of HAMLET, Prince of Denmarke, by WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE, as it hath beene diuerse times acted by his Highnesse seruants in the Cittie of London: as also in the two Vniuersities of Cambridge and Oxford and elsewhere. 8vo, half morocco gilt, edges gilt.

At London, printed for N. L. and Iohn Trundell, 1603

UNIQUE and VERY SCARCE. This is a copy of the fac-simile—"reprinted at the Shakespeare Press, by William Nicol, for Payne and Foss, Pall Mall, 1825." In the preface of this reproduction it is stated—"the present Edition of Hamlet is an accurate reprint from the only known copy of this Tragedy as originally written by Shakespeare, which he afterwards altered and enlarged."

The last leaf is wanting; but as the Play is perfect to the death of Hamlet, the loss is of comparatively little importance."

This copy has been made unique by the addition of the last page discovered in 1856, and the errors corrected in this reprint of the last page, which bears the imprint—"M. W. Rooney, 26 Anglesea Street, Dublin." On a fly-leaf will be found some contemporary newspaper cuttings anent the Duke of Devonshire's Hamlet and the successful "find" of Mr. Rooney of the only other known 1603 quarto which wanted the first leaf, but contained the last, deficient in the Devonshire or only copy then known. The errors in this reprint of the last page are corrected.

TWO VERY RARE PIECES BY SHIRLEY, THE DRAMATIST.

- 1497 SHIRLEY (James). The Trivmph of Peace, a Masque, presented by the Foure Honourable Houses, or Innes of Court, before the King and Queenes Majesties, in the Banquetting-house at White Hall, February the third, 1633. Invented and Written, by JAMES SHIRLEY of Grayes Inne, Gent. Small 4to, half morocco (2 leaves slightly stained).

London, printed by John Norton, for William

Cooke, and are to be sold at his Shop, neere

Furnivals-Inne Gate, in Holborne, 1633

VERY RARE, and FIRST EDITION. Halliwell speaks as follows of the presentation of this masque:—"The machinery and decorations were under the conduct of Inigo Jones, and the music composed by W. Lawes and Simon Ives. The masquers went in a cavalcade from Ely House to Whitehall; and the author tells us, that for the variety of the shows, and the richness of the habits, this masque was the most magnificent of any that had been brought to court in his time, the names of every one of the masquers, with the house or inn of court to which they belonged, may be seen in a little book, written by Francis Lenton, called the Inns of Court Anagrammatist, or the Masquers Masqued in Anagrammas, 4to, 1634. In the library of the Music School at Oxford, are two large volumes in the hand-writing of W. Lawes, one of which contains some fragments of the music he wrote for this masque."

- 1498 SHIRLEY.—The Lady of Pleasure, a Comedie, as it was Acted by her Majesties Servants, at the Private House in Drury Lane. Small 4to, sewed (a few pp. damaged).

London, printed by Tho. Cotes, for

Andrew Crooke and William Cooke, 1637

VERY RARE and FIRST EDITION, with autograph signature of "W. E. Burton" on the title. The incident of "Kickshaw" being with "Aretina," and thinking her the devil, is a circumstance that this author has also introduced into his "Grateful Servant," and Aphra Behn has copied it in her play of the "Lucky Chance." This play was licensed in October, 1635, and met with great success on representation.

- 1499 SMITH (John). Poems upon Several Occasions. 8vo, old calf. London, H. Clements, 1713

ANACREONTIC and EROTIC. Includes—"The Wedding Ring or an Infallible Remedy against Cuckoldom"; "A Cannibal's Love Song"; "Upon a Flower in a Lady's Bosom"; etc.

- 1501 SMITH (William). The Hector of Germany, or The Palgraue, Prime Elector. A New Play, an Honourable History. As it hath beene publickly Acted at the Red-Bull, and at the Curtayne, by a Company of Young-men of this Citie. Made by W. SMITH: with new Additions. Historia vita temporis. Small 4to, sewed.

London, printed by Thomas Creede, for Iosias Harrison, and are to be Solde in Pater-Noster-Row, at the Signe of the Golden Anker, 1615

EXTREMELY RARE, with MS. on only title—"first and only edition." This was Burton's copy, and has on the cover his signature and directions to the binder. The author, a contemporary of Shakespeare, wrote two other plays—"Freeman's Honour" and "St. George of England," neither of which seem to have been printed. The above is dedicated to—"To the Right Worshipfull the Great Fauourer of the Muses Syr John Swinnerton Knight, sometimes Lord Mayor of this honourable Cittie of London." On the last page the author signs—"Finis. W. Smyth." This was the last play, Halliwell says, we hear of as being acted at the Curtain Theatre, London.

- 1502 SONTAG (Henrietta). Life of, portrait, N. Y., 1852; also—Sketch of Musical Career of MRS. CHARLES MOULTON. Together 2 pieces. 8vo, sewed.

- 1503 SOPHOCLES. The Tragedies of, literally translated into English prose, with Notes. 8vo, olive green crinkled morocco gilt, beveled sides, inside gold borders, edges gilt. Oxford, D. A. Talboys, 1833

With autograph signature on title of "Richard Grant White."

- 1504 SOUTHERNE (Thomas). The Fate of Capua, a Tragedy, as it is Acted at the Theatre in Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, by His Majesty's Servants. 4to, half calf.

London, Benjamin Tooke, 1700

RARE and FIRST EDITION, with prologue written by Charles Boyle, and Epilogue by "Coll. Codrington."

"Southerne was born at Oxmantown, County of Dublin, 1660, and died in 1746—the oldest and richest of his dramatic brethren.' He came of an Anglo-Norman family, which had settled in Ireland at an early date, and had previously lived on the borders of Yorkshire, England, where they were Lords of Mitton and Colmolyn. Of the same stock was John Soothern, who wrote 'Pandora,' published in 1584, and which he dedicated to 'Edward Dever, Earl of Oxenford.'"—FARNUM LIBRARY CATALOGUE."

THE FIRST FOLIO OF SPENSER'S COLLECTED WORKS esque designs on the sides (some pp. stained, and a few carefully mended).

[London] Printed by H. L. for Mathew Lownes,

Anno. Dom. 1611

VERY RARE, with many separate titles. A good copy of the second folio edition of the Faerie Queene and the first folio of the other poems and the sonnets are here prefixed, two commendatory poems by "G. W., senior," and "G.
W., I(unior)." Todd believed the editor to be Gabriel Harvey, Spenser's particular friend. The date at the end of the "Faerie Queene" is 1612, sic
"16012."

"Spenser to me, whose deep conceit is such As passing all conceit, needs no defence." —SHAKESPEARE.

- 1506 SPENSER. The Same. Small folio, old calf, rebacked, gilt (MS. on title, and some pp. stained).
[London] Printed by H. L. for Mathew Lownes,
Anno. Dom. 1617

VERY RARE. This is the edition of 1611, reissued with a new title-page, but the date 1612 at the end of the "Fairy Queen," as in the preceding lot. Although Queen Elizabeth died in 1603, the dedication is continued in both the editions—"To the Most High, Mightie, and Magnificent Emperesse Renowned for Pietie, Vertue, and all Graciously Government Elizabeth," etc., etc. The "Colin Clouts Come Home Againe" is dedicated to Sir Walter Raleigh.

THE FIRST EDITION OF THE WORKS OF THE "WATER POET"—LONDON, 1630.

- 1511 TAYLOR.—All | the Workes | of | JOHN TAYLOR | THE WATER POET. | Beeing Sixty and three in Number. | Collected into one volume by | the Avthor: With Sundry new Additions, corrected, | reuised, and newly Imprinted 1630. Numerous wood-block portraits, etc., also engraved false title. Small folio, handsomely bound by F. BEDFORD in red morocco extra, inside gold tooling, edges gilt. London, printed by J. B. for Iames Boler; at the signe of the Marigold in Paul's Churchyard, 1630

VERY RARE and EDITIO-PRINCEPS of the complete works, containing many pieces of which no separate editions are known to be extant. The engraved frontispiece (false title) is by Cockson, in the centre of which is a title, and beneath an oval portrait of the author. This is a perfect copy, and according Lowndes, like all others—"with several errors in the pagination."

John Taylor, the "Water Poet," was a waterman, collector of the wine fees for the Lieutenant of the Tower of London, and keeper of a public house, both at Oxford and Westminster. His works have been always very high-priced. In March, 1862, a copy sold at Sotheby's for £16; Smith, 1868, £20 10s.; and since then copies have gone still higher.

- 1512 TEMPLE OF APOLLO, a New Musical Magazine (8 pages); Two Excellent New Songs, Edinburgh, 1719; Youth's Delightful Magazine, being a New Spring Garland of 15 Choice Playhouse Songs (8 pages); The Jenny Wren, 2 parts (8 pages each), London, n. d. Together 1 vol. Small 8vo, calf.

N. Y. [London], 1867

- 1516 TROTTER (Catherine, afterwards Cockburne). Fatal Friendship. 4to, sewed (lacks title and damaged).

London, 1698

RARE and FIRST EDITION. Acted at Little-Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, with great applause. In a few copies of the first edition the head-line on some pages is given as the "Fatal Marriage." Among the dramatis personæ are "Count Roquelaure" and "Grammont, his younger Son."

FIRST EDITION OF SIR JOHN VANBRUGH'S PLAYS.

- 1517 [VANBRUGH (Sir John).] The Provok'd Wife: a Comedy. By the author of a new Comedy call'd the "Relapse, or Virtue in Danger." 4to, sewed (a page soiled).

London, 1697

RARE and FIRST EDITION. "It has, in the language as well as the conduct of it, too much loose wit and libertinism of sentiment, and hence it was one of the plays most severely censured by Collier, to whom the author considered it necessary to reply in a work entitled 'A Short Vindication of the Relapse and the Provok'd Wife from Immorality and Prophaneness.'"—HALLIWELL.

- 1518 [VANBRUGH.] ÆSOP, a Comedy. The Second Edition, with the addition of a Second Part. 4to, half calf, interleaved (title mounted and last leaf mended).

London, Thomas Bennet, 1697

VERY RARE and FIRST COMPLETE EDITION. Sir John Vanbrugh, the designer of Blenheim Place, was as celebrated for his architectural work as his plays. In Æsop he endeavored to atone for his early immoral efforts. Blair writes of him—"Sir John Vanbrugh has spirit, wit and ease; but he is to the last degree gross and indelicate. He is one of the most immoral of all our comedians."

- 1519 [VANBRUGH.] The Pilgrim, a Comedy as it is Acted at the Theatre-Royal in Drury-Lane, written originally by MR. FLETCHER, and now very much Alter'd, with Several Additions. 4to, half calf (holed slightly).

London, Benjamin Tooke, 1700

RARE and FIRST EDITION. The title shows that the above further contains:—"Likewise a Prologue, Epilogue, Dialogue and Masque written by the late Great Poet Mr. Dryden, just before his Death, being the last of his works" It includes also—"Song of a scholar and his mistress, who, being cross'd by their friends, fell mad for one another, and now just meet in Bedlam; written by Mr. Dryden."

- 1520 VANDENHOFF (George). Leaves from an Actor's Note-Book; or, Anecdotes of the Green-Room and Stage at Home and Abroad. Small 8vo, cloth. London, 1860

- 1521 VAUXHALL PAPERS, edited by ALFRED BUNN. Illustrated by CROWQUILL, some plates inserted. Small 8vo, half calf, cloth sides. London, 1841

UNIQUE. W. E. Burton's copy, with his name on back.

MAGNIFICENT HEXAGLOT VIRGIL'S GEORGICS.

- 1522 VIRGIL.—GEORGICA PUBLII VIRGILII MARONIS HEXAGLOTTA. Square folio, fine old russia elegant, marbled edges. London, William Nicol, 1827

RARE, magnificently printed edition of the Georgics of Virgil in six languages. The Latin is the best text known, and the following were the translators of the five modern versions—Spanish, John de Guzman; German, John Henry Voss; English, William Sotheby; Italian, Francis Soane; French, James Delille.

The above was a presentation copy from one of the translators:—"To the Revd. George Peacock from William Sotheby, London, June 29th, 1833." Christopher North thus speaks of Sotheby's translation:—"Sotheby's Georgics stamped him the best translator in Christendom . . . comparing all the fine or difficult passages in the original with Pope, Hobbes, Chapman, and my friend Mr. Sotheby, who will probably be found, on the whole, to have excelled all his predecessors in this great task."

- 1523 VIRGILE. Les Georgiques avec Traduction en Vers Francoi par DELILLE. Portrait. Old calf, gilt edges. Genève, 1777

- 1524 WATTS (Isaac, D.D.). Divine and Moral Songs. 30 woodcuts drawn by C. W. COPE, and engraved by JOHN THOMSON. 4to, cloth. London, 1848

PRESENTATION COPY from John Carter Brown, with his autograph on false title.

JOHN WEBSTER'S PLAYS.

- 1525 WEBSTER (Iohn). The Deuils Law-Case, or when Women goe to Law, the Deuill is full of Businesse. A new Tragecomœdy. The true and perfect Copie from the Originall. As it was approouedly well Acted by her Maiesties Seruants. Small 4to, sewed (title and few pp. at end soiled slightly).

London, printed by A. M. for John Grismand, and are to be sold at his Shop in Paul's Alley at the Signe of the Gunne, 1623.

VERY RARE and FIRST EDITION, printed in the same year as the first folio Shakespeare. Hazlitt calls attention in his "Dramatic Literature" to the similarity between the "general conception and individual expression" of the plays of Webster and those of the Bard of Avon, which is nothing extraordinary, considering the two authors were contemporaries. Sir Walter Scott, writing to Dyce in 1831, remarked:—"Webster, I think, is one of the best of our ancient dramatists."

- 1526 WEBSTER. The DRAMATIC WORKS of JOHN WEBSTER, Edited [with Notes, etc.] by WM. HAZLITT. 4 vols. small 8vo, half calf, gilt edges.

London, John Russell Smith, 1857

SCARCE, and printed at the Chiswick Press. "An author that liv'd in the Reign of King James the First and was in those Days accounted an Excellent Poet. He joyn'd with Decker, Marston and Rowley in several Plays, and was likewise author of others, which have even in our Age gain'd Applause."—LANGBAIN.

- 1527 WEBSTER (John) and ROWLEY (William). A Cure for a Cuckold, a Pleasant Comedy as it hath been several times Acted with great applause. Small 4to, half sheep.

London, 1661

RARE and FIRST EDITION. It must have been acted many years before it was printed. Francis Kirkman, the publisher of the above, who had—"his Shop at the sign of John Fletcher's Head, over against the Angel Inne, on the Back-side of St. Clements, without Temple-Bar," tacked on to the play a splendid puff of his business in a preface—"The Stationer, to the Judicious Reader." He writes:—"I have been (as we term it) a gatherer of Plays for some years, and I am confident I have more of several sorts than any man in England, Book-seller, or other; I can at any time shew 700 in number, which is within a small matter all that were ever printed, many of these I have several times over, and intend as I sell, to purchase more; All, or any of which, I shall be ready either to sell or lend to you upon reasonable considerations."

- 1528 WESTON.—Memoirs of that Celebrated Comedian, and very Singular Genius THOMAS WESTON. Small 8vo, half calf.

London, S. Bladon, 1776

RARE. W. E. Burton's copy.

- 1529 WILSON (John). ANDRONICUS COMNENIUS; a Tragedy. 4to, half calf (title cut down).

London, John Starkey at the Mitre, 1664

RARE and FIRST EDITION. The author of the above was John Wilson. Recorder of Londonderry in the time of Charles the Second, and not "Jack Wilson, the Singer of Shakespeare's Stage." For the story of the above play, vide Heylin's "Cosmography," in the description of Greece.

- 1530 WILSON. The Cheats, A Comedy. Written in the Year MDCLXII. By J. WILSON of Lincoln's-Inn, Gent. Imprimatur Nov. 5, 1663—ROGER L'ESTRANGE. 4to, sewed.

London, 1693

RARE. FIRST COMPLETE EDITION, but the "Fourth Edition corrected with the addition of a New Song," near the end of the fifth act also a short prologue on its revival after it had been suppressed by a faction.

III. Illuminated Manuscripts, etc.

FIFTEENTH CENTURY VOLUME OF LATIN PRAYERS—ILLUMINATED AND ON VELLUM.

- 1531 MS.—"PRIERES." A FIFTEENTH CENTURY VOLUME OF PRAYERS IN LATIN AND GOTHIC SCRIPT ON 142 LEAVES OR 284 PAGES OF FINE THIN VELLUM. With hundreds of small capitals in gold and colors. Minimo (four and seven-eighths inches by three and three-quarters), calf, blind tooled. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL VELLUM MANUSCRIPT of the fifteenth century French school, with hundreds of small capitals in blue and gold or red and gold—also rubrications above the black Gothic script. There are no miniatures, and some leaves are short.

■ This little volume is interesting as a piece of genuine sixteenth century binding. It is blind tooled. Repeated around the covers is the motto—"Patendo vinces." At the corners are fleurons. In the centre is a coat-of-arms with the charges—"three chevrons." The sides are covered with the letter "S" referring to the owner, whose name—"Svsanne de Sovcelle," is lettered above the date "1568."

HANDSOMELY BOUND GERMAN PRAYER BOOK OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY, ON VELLUM.

- 1532 MS.—"GEBETBUCH."—A FIFTEENTH CENTURY VOLUME OF PRAYERS WRITTEN IN GERMAN AND GOTHIC SCRIPT ON 121 LEAVES OR 242 PAGES OF VELLUM. With seven floriated borders illuminated in gold and colors, with hun- dreds of illuminated small capitals. Minimo (six inches by three and seven-eighths), new morocco doublé, gilt edges, by BOUCHE, of Paris. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL FIFTEENTH CENTURY VELLUM MANUSCRIPT IN GERMAN.

This volume has been newly and handsomely bound by F. BOUCHE in crushed brown levant morocco. The highly beveled sides are blind tooled paneled shape with griffins, Gothic flowers and bees. The insides of the covers are doublé in red morocco, with broad gold lace tooling. The ends are red watered silk.

The text of the manuscript is heavy Gotho-German script. Some of the large initial letters to the full-page illuminations have quaint physiognomies therein. The borders are floriated Gothic in design, and with birds, quaint monsters, flowers, foliage and fruit. One is rubbed and on another is a nude.

FRENCH "LIVRE D'EGLISE" WITH MUSIC—ILLUMINATED AND ON VELLUM.

- 1533 MS.—"LIVRE D'EGLISE." FIFTEENTH CENTURY VOLUME OF MANUSCRIPT, WITH MUSIC, ON 152 LEAVES OR 304 PAGES OF VELLUM. With illuminated borders and capitals. Minimo (five and three-eighths inches by three and a half), sheep gilt, edges gilt. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL FIFTEENTH CENTURY VELLUM MANUSCRIPT. This consists of portions of two sets of offices with music. The first, of 104 pages of Roman and italic text in French and Latin, has fourteen capitals in gold and colors ornamented with flowers. It commences—"En la cérémonie des cendres." The second part, of 200 pages, is written in Gothic script on very thin vellum. There are 192 borders in color heightened in gold, mostly with illuminated capitals. Some of the decorative work in this minimo volume is of a good order of illumination.

INTERESTING VELLUM BOOKS OF HOURS FROM THE CONVENT OF "SAN AGUSTIN" IN THE CITY OF MEXICO.

- 1534 MS.—CATHOLIC OFFICES. A FIFTEENTH CENTURY VOLUME OF OFFICES OF THE CHURCH, PRAYERS, PSALMS, ETC., WITH MUSIC, WRITTEN IN LATIN, WITH SOME OF THE RUBRICS IN OLD FRENCH—AND IN GOTHIC SCRIPT ON 87 LEAVES OR 174 PAGES OF VELLUM. With numerous ornamental capitals in red and blue, also rubricated directions. Minimo (five and three-eighths inches by three and seven-eighths), vellum gilt, two silver clasps.

SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL FIFTEENTH CENTURY VELLUM MANUSCRIPT. This book of offices is of Flemish workmanship and is lettered on the back, "Canto Llano.—Convento de San Agustin de Mexico." On a fly-leaf are MS. inscriptions showing that this manuscript—which was probably brought from Europe centuries ago—was presented by President Diaz of Mexico, to Don Leopoldo Batres, Director of the National Museum of Mexico, who in turn gave it to the Abbé Fischer, the confidential adviser and friend of the ill-fated Emperor Maximilian of Mexico.

SPLENDID MEDIEVAL GERMAN MISSAL ON VELLUM, WITH TWELVE MINIATURES AND HUNDREDS OF CAPITALS IN COLORS HEIGHTENED WITH GOLD.

- 1535 MS.—HORÆ BEATÆ MARIE VIRGINIS. AN EARLY FIFTEENTH CENTURY MANUSCRIPT "HOURS" WRITTEN IN OLD GERMAN AND IN BLACK AND RED GOTHIC SCRIPT, ON 166 LEAVES OR 332 PAGES OF FINE VELLUM. With six page miniatures with borders, six smaller miniatures in capitals with borders, 31 capitals with floriated Gothic borders and every page covered with capitals—all heightened with gold. Small 4to (seven and a half inches by five and a quarter), old calf gilt, edges gilt. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL FIFTEENTH CENTURY VELLUM "HOURS" in German, and an extremely fine example. Every page is brilliant with many gold capitals and on some there is a curious gold and blue diagonal pattern. The borders around the miniatures have amid the illuminated gold and colored Gothic floriation—such animals or birds as the stag, the peacock, the stork, the hare, monkeys with barrels the bear, the owl, the unicorn, etc.

The twelve miniatures are as follows:—1, "The Annunciation"—representing the B. V. M. in an oratory kneeling before a prie-dieu, a lily at her side—the announcing angel in a cope balances on two fingers a label with the "Ave" legend thereon; 2, "The Crucifixion"—Christ on the Cross, St. Mary and St. John on either side—a cathedral in the distance; 3, "Christ giving the benediction with one hand and holding an orb in the other"; 4, "Descent of the Holy Ghost,"—the Virgin seated in the midst of the Disciples—the nimbuses are Byzantine; 5, "The Judgment Day"—Christ standing on an orb with two swords pointing at his temples angels with trumpets, one to his right and the other to the left, two saints (male and female) kneeling and the naked dead rising from opening graves; 6, "A Medieval Funeral"—in the centre of a church a coffin covered with a pall—blue with pink and gold cross,—a priest habited in a pink and gold chasuble asperging—a group of mourners dressed in black; 7, "A German merchant and wife kneeling"—evidently the owners of this missal, as the uncharged coat-of-arms below denotes a possible burgher association—the costume of the man is of the period of the missal, and he wears pointed shoes—in the borders to this miniature are a parrot and a monkey, the latter might be a lion; 8, "Open Sepulchre, with tau cross, scourge and hyssop"; 9, "The Veil of St. Veronica"; 10, "The Infant Christ seated and holding a scourge and hyssop"; 11, "King David, in burgher costume, with palmer's hat and harp on the ground"; 12, "Two Damned Souls in Hell with Flames Ascending their Limbs." The last six described are in large initial letters. All the miniatures are in good preservation, although a portion of the volume has been attacked by damp, but not worth considering. The gold and colors throughout are very brilliant. Very few "Hours" of this period and of the German school can begin to show such conscientious work. The vellum is particularly fine of this "Horæ," which is perfect, including the "Calendar."

FRENCH HOURS OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY, ON
PAGE MINIATURES.

- 1536 MS.—HEURES DE LA SAINTE VIERGE. AN EARLY FIFTEENTH CENTURY FRENCH MANUSCRIPT HOURS, WRITTEN IN OLD LATIN AND GOTHIC SCRIPT ON 98 LEAVES OR 196 PAGES OF VELLUM. With very fine full-page miniatures with borders and capitals—also

numerous capitals in red and blue. Small 4to (nearly six and three-quarter inches by four and three-quarters), mottled sheep, gilt. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL FIFTEENTH CENTURY VELLUM "HEURES GOTHQUES" in Latin, with Calendar in French. A few pages of the text appear to have been added in a later hand, notably where two miniatures seem wanting.

The nine page miniatures are admirably painted—the physiognomies of the characters being most carefully finished. The details are very minute. The subjects are:—1, "Angel appearing to the Shepherds" (somewhat rubbed in the centre)—at bottom of page a peasant playing on the pipes; 2, "The Nativity"—Infant Christ, body entirely rayed, lying on pillow on the ground—Joseph and the Virgin kneeling—stable in rear with two heads from open window—a castle in the distance; 3, "Visit of the Three Magi," one a crowned and coal-black negro, and one, with cup of maintenance thrown on the ground, offering a gift to the Infant Christ, who is playing with it, and has his head turned towards the B. V. M.; 4, "Presentation in the Temple"—five figures, Infant Christ on stone table with circular canopy overhead, the Virgin and attendant, two Jewish ecclesiastics, one being Simeon, who is addressing the Saviour, is habited in cope, and has a green and gold mitre on head—at bottom of page a man attacking a monstrous bird with a club; 5, "Flight into Egypt," Virgin and Child on mule, which Joseph is leading—an angel behind with whip; 6, "The Crucifixion"—the Saviour on the cross—St. Mary and St. John on either side—Jerusalem in the distance; 7, "Descent of the Holy Spirit"—dove hovering above—Virgin surrounded by apostles, behind her a red and gold curtain, on which words "Maria grac."; 8, "King David before the Lord"—the Psalmist crowned, hands outstretched and harp on ground—castle and buildings in the distance—God the Father, orb in hand, blessing David—Bathsheba nude at the bottom of the page; 9, "Death's Call"—Death with arrow seizing a burgher, whose wife endeavors to save him (one face rubbed). At the bottom of this last miniature page is "a pelican feeding its young." The initial letter, also on this page, is "D," within which is a skull and cross-bones."

ITALIAN MINIMO "HOURS" OF THE RENAISSANCE, ON VELLUM, AND WITH THIRTEEN MINIATURES.

1537 ~~MS.~~ MS.—HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS. A LATE FIFTEENTH CENTURY ITALIAN MANUSCRIPT "HOURS," WRITTEN IN LATIN AND BLACK AND RED GOTHIC SCRIPT ON 181 LEAVES OR 362 PAGES OF VELLUM. With thirteen miniatures in capitals, some with borders, illuminated in gold and colors—and with numerous smaller capitals in gold, red and blue. Thick minimo (three and three-quarter inches by two and three-quarters), fine old red morocco binding, extra gilt tooled, with "The Crucifixion" on one side and "Madonna and Child" on the other; one clasp (one short). SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL FIFTEENTH CENTURY VELLUM "Hours" of the Italian Renaissance school. This is a beautiful little specimen of a good class of mediæval illuminated work. The initial letters throughout the volume, including the Calendar, are excellent.

The borders to some of the pages are very fine, particularly the first. The body color is blue, heightened with gold. Six child angels are on this page—at the top two with trumpets, and standing between them a large jewel—a basket of fruit is supported by two others, who stand on a vase with pedestal—and two at the bottom hold an uncharged shield. The base is a landscape. Around the other scroll and in the floriated borders will be found grotesque figures, birds, animals, etc.

The first of the thirteen miniatures is—"The Annunciation." There are also—"St. Paul with sword and book"; "St. Peter with keys"; "St. George and Dragon"; "St. Sebastian"; "God the Father, with Orb"; "St. Mary Magdalene"; "Death with scythe at an open grave"; "The Crucifixion"; "Descent of the Holy Ghost"; and others.

SUPERB BURGUNDIAN FIFTEENTH CENTURY VELLUM MISSAL, WITH MINIATURES AND BROAD MARGINS.

1538 MS.—LIVRE D'HEURES. A LARGE, HANDSOME BURGUNDIAN MISSAL OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY, WITH CALENDAR IN OLD FRENCH, TEXT IN LATIN AND ALL IN GOTHIC SCRIPT, ON 136 LEAVES OR 272 PAGES OF VELLUM. With three miniatures in capitals with borders, twenty-four capitals in borders, and hundreds of smaller capitals in red and blue—all heightened with gold. Thick quarto (eight and three-eighth inches by six and a half inches), wooden boards. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL FIFTEENTH CENTURY BURGUNDIAN "HOURS OF THE VIRGIN," almost entirely in Latin, but with the Calendar and many of the rubrics in old French.

A very handsome missal, as to the illuminations, and with bold, large Gothic script. Nearly every page has capitals heightened with gold. The borders are floriated Gothic; the capitals, both large and small, are chiefly finished in scroll-work, and the blank spaces at the end of the various paragraphs terminate with diagonal ornamentation in blue and gold or blue and red. A few pages are in a little later MS. to the body of the volume. The margins range from one and a half inches to over two.

The three miniatures are very quaint. They represent—"St. Michael Vanquishing Apollyon"; "The Psalmist Singing in the Night to the Lord, who appears over the New Moon"; "The Crucifixion, with the Blessed Virgin and St. John at the Foot of the Cross."

QUAINTLY DECORATED ITALIAN "HOURS" OF THE RENAISSANCE ON VELLUM.

1539 MS.—HOURS OF THE VIRGIN. A LATE FIFTEENTH CENTURY MANUSCRIPT OF THE ITALIAN SCHOOL, IN GOTHIC SCRIPT, WITH LATIN TEXT AND ON 100 LEAVES OR 200 PAGES OF VELLUM. With one fine miniature within capital letter and border—fourteen illuminated borders with very curious grotesque ornamentations—numerous smaller red and blue capitals heightened with gold AND WIDE MARGINS. Minimo (five and a half inches by three and three-eighths), morocco gilt, edges gilt (back of binding broken). SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL FIFTEENTH CENTURY ITALIAN ILLUMINATED "HORÆ" ON VELLUM. This missal is full of the grotesque ornamentation so affected by the artists of the Renaissance, whose almost microscopical work is well displayed by the miniature in this volume. It represents an altar, with red antependium and white altar cloth, on which stands a monstrel enclosing the Blessed Sacrament—with her back to the sedillia of a chancel kneels with clasped hands a lady of rank habited in blue and with tall conical head-dress.

The fourteen illuminated borders referred to, one of which is rubbed, are worthy of considerable attention. Among the subjects represented therein are—a mandolin player; a medieval lady riding a monster; hunter with horn and spear chasing hare; archers shooting song birds; grotesque monsters with human heads; Zany pointing at a lady of the "moyen age," the lower part of her body consisting of a comic head and the legs of an animal; lady with hawk on finger; a cowed monk reading book; and lady crowning ape. These figures are worked into the illuminated Gothic floriation of gold and colors, where also will be found animals and birds.

"HEURES DE TROYES"—ILLUMINATED AND VELLUM
BLACK LETTER PRINTED BY GEOFFROY DE MARNEF AT PARIS.

1540 Black Letter.—"HORE AD VSUM TRECENSEM."

A SUPERB LATIN "HOURS ACCORDING TO THE USE OF TROYES," AND PRINTED ON 100 LEAVES OR 200 PAGES OF VELLUM. With 20 full-page illuminated miniatures painted by hand and 31 illuminated small miniatures—every page surrounded by quaint woodcut borders. Small 4to (six and seven-eighths inches by four and five-eighths). Elegantly bound in smooth purple morocco extra gilt, with red and green morocco mosaiced into the back and sides, also doublé-doublé, on both the inside covers and fly-leaves, with purple morocco, red and green leather being inlaid and tooled with a Grolieresque design, gilt edges.

Paris, Joffroy de Marnef, 1488

UNIQUE MAGNIFICENT PERFECT EXAMPLE OF VERY EARLY BLACK LETTER AND PRINTED "HOURS" ON VELLUM ILLUMINATED BY HAND. This copy came from the library of "A. Beresford Hope" and his autograph appears on the fly-leaf. It was purchased afterwards in New York for $300 and a Coombes (Duprat) catalogue cutting of the book, priced that amount, is inserted. There is also this MS. note on a fly-leaf—"Brunet, p. 1666, Vol. 5, $339."

The colophon reads:—" | Ces presentes heures a lusaige de troyes | ont este acheuees le viii iour daoust. Lan | mil . quatre cens quatre vingtz et viii. pour | Joffroy de Marnef libraire demourant a Pa | ris en la grat rue Saint Jaques a lenseigne | du pellican. | "

Geoffroy de Marnef—"stands fifth on the roll of Parisian typographers, having established a press in the capital in 1481 De Marnef died in the Rue St. Jacques. He had two brothers, Enguilbert and Jehan; they were associated with him in business. The typographic mark here given is the most complete of any that appeared in their books. It represents on one side the pelican, as described in fable, nourishing its young with its blood; on the other is a parrot perched on a branch; between the two is a covey of birds on the wing. Underneath are the three letters 'E. J. G.', being the initials of the baptismal names of the brothers Enguilbert, Jehan and Geoffroy."—BIGMORE and WYMAN'S "Bibliography of Printing," p. 160.

The first page of the above-described missal bears the objects just stated, with the addition, around this typographical mark, of the words:—"Benedictvm sit nomen domini."

The miniatures illuminated in gold and colors by hand are elaborate and curious. Many of the woodcut borders are colored, as well as the larger number of the hundreds upon hundreds of capitals. Following the almanack, which commences A.D. 1489, and ends 1508, is a remarkable full-page nude disembowelled male figure, in which the parts of the body—including the genital organs—exhibit the astrological effect of the seven planets upon the human frame.

Among the other miniatures are the following:—"Attempted Martyrdom of St. John"; "St. Luke"; "St. John"; "St. Mark"; "the Kiss of Judas"; "the Passion" (several); "Worship of the B. V. M."; "the Annunciation"; "Eve and the Serpent"; "the Nativity"; "Altar Scene"; "the Shepherds Watching their Flocks"; "the Visit of the Wise Men"; "Presentation in the Temple"; "Flight into Egypt"; "David and Goliath"; "Hawking Scene"; "Death—Three Skeletons"; "the Crucifixion"; "Descent of Holy Ghost"; "the Trinity—God the Father holding Crucified Son in his Arms, with the Holy Dove fluttering around"; "St. Michael"; "St. John Baptist"; "St. John the Evangelist"; "Saints Peter and Paul"; "St. James"; "St. Stephen"; "St. Lawrence"; "St. Christopher"; "St. Sebastian"; "St. Nicholas"; "St. Ann"; "St. Mary Magdalene"; "St. Katharine"; "St. Margaret"; "St. Barbara"; "St. Appollonia"; "St. Genevieve"; "the Blessed Sacrament"—curious altar scene, depicting High Mass—Celebrant with deacon and sub-deacon—Naked Christ supported by two angels; "God the Father with Orb"; etc., etc.

HARDOUIN BLACK LETTER MISSAL ON VELLUM, PRINTED IN 1505, WITH THIRTY-THREE MINIATURES ILLUMINATED BY HAND.

1541 Black Letter.—"HEURES A LUSAIGE DE ROME."

A LATIN HOURS, WITH OCCASIONAL FRENCH TEXT (VERSES, ETC.), PRINTED IN BLACK LETTER. With 14 full-page miniatures illuminated in gold and colors, and 19 smaller miniatures also colored by hand. Small 8vo (six and a half inches by four), old calf. Paris, Hardouin, 1505

UNIQUE VELLUM BLACK LETTER "HOURS," WITH MINIATURES ILLUMINATED BY HAND. The first page is rubbed and the last leaf of Index is wanting. On a fly-leaf is the memorandum—"Prix 300 francs." The miniatures are admirably illuminated and represent the usual subjects, with slight variations, found in Hardouin missals.

The strangest feature in this "Hours" is the woodcut on the first page, of which the title, consisting of three lines, occupies but a small space at the bottom of the page. This woodcut, any one not acquainted with the details of ancient bibliography would take for the frontispiece. It is, however, only Hardouin's device, exhibiting the mythological scene of Hercules rescuing Dejanira from the Centaur Nessus. Speaking of the Hardouins, Egdius and German, Dibdin says:—"They were both unquestionably very beautiful printers, and maintained a prodigious traffic in the sale of devotional volumes: their productions being, upon the whole, fully equal to those of Kerver, Pigouchet or Vostre."

FIFTEENTH CENTURY LATIN "HOURS" OF THE GERMAN SCHOOL ON VELLUM.

1542 MS.—HORÆ BEATÆ MARIE VIRGINIS. A FIFTEENTH CENTURY "HOURS OF THE VIRGIN" IN LATIN, WITH A FEW GERMAN LINES IN THE CALENDAR, AND WRITTEN ON 239 LEAVES OR 478 PAGES OF VELLUM. With one illuminated miniature, capital and border—21 illuminated capitals in gold and colors—also curious illuminated additions on paper affixed to the bottoms of some of the pages. Small 4to (six and three-quarters by five and one-eighth), bound in blind stamped calf in the style of the Renaissance, and one strap clasp with carved brass hinged catch and pin (one short). SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL GERMAN "HOURS" OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY ON VELLUM, in splendid preservation internally, and perfect.

The illuminated page commencing the text has a handsome initial in gold, pink and blue—the border is of flowers and fruit, including a butterfly settling on a strawberry. At the bottom of the page is represented "Christ's Agony in the Garden of Gethsemane." The Saviour is attended by three disciples and an angel is appearing to him. Other initials have flowers and fruit within them painted on the vellum—some, however, are only medieval paper illuminations pasted on. Paper designs are also fastened on the bottom of some of the pages. Of this curious character are two coats-of-arms held by Cupids, rabbits at play, fruits and flowers.

Hymn Books of the Middle Ages.

THE INTERESTING COLLECTION OF DEVOTIONAL BOOKS WITH MUSIC—COMPRISED IN LOTS 1543 TO 1576 INCLUSIVE—ALL COME FROM THE LIBRARY SHELVES OF ONE OF THE MOST ANCIENT CONVENTUAL HOUSES IN SOUTHERN GERMANY. THEY CONSTITUTED ALL THE MANUSCRIPT CHOIR BOOKS, OFFICES AND PSALTERS, ON VELLUM, OF THAT COMMUNITY. MANY OF THESE UNIQUE AND CURIOUS VOLUMES WERE IN USE BEFORE THE INVENTION OF TYPOGRAPHY.

REMARKABLE RELIGIO-GROTESQUE OFFICES OF THE B. V. M. ACCORDING TO THE DOMINICAN USE—ON VELLUM AND WITH NEARLY THREE HUNDRED ILLUMINATED BORDERS AND THREE HUNDRED MINIATURES.

1543 MS.—"OFFICIUM BEATE MARIE VIRGINIS JUXTA USUM F. F. PREDICATORUM. CUI AUCTS. SUT. VARIE ET PIE PRECES ET TONI. EIUSDEM ORDINIS SCRIPTU. ET PIETU. JLB-ENSTA. DII. ANO. SALUTIS MDCXXII." AN EXTREMELY CURIOUS GERMAN MISSAL OF THE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY, WRITTEN IN GOTHIC SCRIPT, ON 150 LEAVES OR 300 PAGES OF VELLUM. With illuminated title in gold and colors—two page pictures—254 miniatures at the bottom of the pages and 271 illuminated borders. Thick small 4to (seven and a quarter inches by five and five-eighths), old morocco gilt on wooden boards, with "Madonna and Child" stamped in gold on the sides and brass clasps (one loose). SÆC. XVII

UNIQUE VELLUM LATIN MISSAL OF SEVENTEENTH CENTURY GERMAN ILLUMINATIONAL WORK.

This is one of the most remarkable religious works ever executed by hand. Almost every page is ornamented with a different original border and numerous illustrations of a humorous, secular or scriptural character. Taking the subjects one and all—it is one of the most curious and elaborately illuminated volumes ever produced. It is impossible to find its equal, and it was probably intended for the delectation of the juvenile visitors of the convent where it was preserved.

The title-page of the volume is very decorative. At the top between two seated cherubs with colored wings is the monogram "I H S" of the Order of Jesus. On the left-hand side of the page in a niche of the architectural design is St. Dominic and on the left St. Ambrose with archiepiscopal mitre on head, a book in one hand and a crosier in the other. The first of the two full-page paintings is curious. It represents a cavalier with broken sword defending himself from a black and white dog, almost as high as himself—on the upper part of page is his horse saddled. The other page illustration is of the "Madonna and Child"—very delicately painted in blue, touched up with pink—the face of the Virgin very Teutonic. This follows the date "1622," below which are the initials "F. W. D. S. I." and some eighteen pages of music.

As stated, every border and miniature is of a different design—the comic and religious being curiously intermingled. Among those particularly unique are—"A Monkey on an Entomological Expedition"; "The Good and Bad Child" (2); "A Bagpiper"; "Zany with Dogs"; "Cat and Monkey"; "Hare Riding a Snail"; "Mother Flogging Child"; "Drowning Infant"; "Boys Playing with Dog"; "The Devil Forcing Sinners into Hell"; etc. Most of these have Latin mottoes applicable to the scenes depicted. The borders are floriated and full of fruit, animals, birds and fishes.

SIXTEENTH CENTURY OFFICES ON VELLUM.

- 1544 MS.—OFFICIA VARIA ET HYMNI. AN EARLY SIXTEENTH CENTURY BOOK OF CATHOLIC OFFICES AND HYMNS, WITH MUSIC, WRITTEN IN LATIN AND IN BOLD GERMAN SCRIPT, ON 70 LEAVES OR 140 PAGES OF VELLUM. With curious blue and red border heightened with gold. Small 4to (six and three-quarter inches by five inches), fine old calf binding on wooden boards, paneled and Gothic floriation, blind tooled, with strap clasp and brass-hinged catch and pin.

SÆC. XVI.

OFFICES AND OBSEQUIALE OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY.

- 1545 MS.—OFFICIA VARIA ET HYMNI, OFFICIUM DEFUNCTORUM (OBSEQUIALE). A FIFTEENTH CENTURY VOLUME OF OFFICES OF THE CHURCH, WITH FUNERAL SERVICES AND MUSIC—WRITTEN IN LATIN WITH GERMAN MARGINALIA, ON 59 LEAVES OR 118 PAGES OF VELLUM. Small 4to (six and a half inches by five and seven-eighths), Fine old stamped pigskin on wooden boards, brass clasp.

SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL GERMAN Obsequiale and Offices, with music, on vellum.

The binding is handsome blind-tooled pigskin on wooden boards. The Gothic floriation is very conventional and the word "Maria" is frequently repeated—on the brass clasp and catch, "Ave." On a fly-leaf is the autograph—"Sr. Maria Canlida," and inside the cover the date "1496." There is a leaf at the end of yet earlier manuscript.

FIFTEENTH CENTURY ANTIPHONARY ON VELLUM.

- 1546 MS.—ANTOPHONARIUM. A FIFTEENTH CENTURY VOLUME OF ANTIPHONIES IN LATIN, WITH MUSIC, AND IN BLACK AND RED GOTHIC SCRIPT—INITIALS RED AND BLUE—ON 79 LEAVES OR 158 PAGES OF VELLUM. Small 4to (six and a half inches by four and seven-eighths), fine old stamped pigskin on wooden boards, brass clasp. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL GERMAN "ANTIPHONARY" OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY. There are six loose leaves of ancient music and some pages have been added in a later hand to the end of the volume. The binding is very similar to the preceding lot. Some of the tooling is a little different, and the sacred monogram "I H S" is repeated on the sides instead of the word "Maria."

Antiphonal singing was introduced into the Greek Church in the Second Century by Ignatius, Bishop of Antioch, and by St. Ambrosius in the Western Church in the Fourth Century. The division of the Antiphonies into verses is attributed to Pope Coelestin circa 430. The first regular "Antiphonarium" was prefaced by Pope Gregory the First A. D. 590.

CATHOLIC OFFICES ON VELLUM

- 1547 MS.—OFFICIA VARIA ET HYMNI OFF. DEFUNCTORUM. A FIFTEENTH CENTURY VOLUME OF OFFICES IN GERMAN AND LATIN, BLACK AND RED GOTHIC SCRIPT, WITH ONE LARGE CAPITAL IN RED AND BLUE, ALSO MUSIC, ON 55 LEAVES OR 110 PAGES OF VELLUM. Small 4to (six and a half inches by four and three-quarters), old leather on wooden boards, with strap clasp and brass hinged catch and pin. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL GERMAN and LATIN manuscript dated 1481. The ends are portions of another MS.

LATIN OFFICES OF THE CHURCH ON VELLUM.

Minimo (five and three-quarter inches by four and one-eighth), old calf on wooden boards, blind tooled, with winged lions and Gothic floriation—brass clasp. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL VELLUM MUSICAL MANUSCRIPT OF GERMAN WORKMANSHIP. At the beginning and end of the volume are MS. addenda on the fly-leaves. Some memoranda are dated, the earliest being 1498. One states that—"in the year 1591, Brother Mathias Dillingan, Prior and Confessor of St. Cross," wrote a prayer on a fly-leaf. There is a Latin prayer, dated 1617, and in another place the prayers of "Brother Han Loutellarius" are asked for.

OBSEQUIALE OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY.

- 1549 MS.—OBSEQUIALE. A FIFTEENTH CENTURY VOLUME OF THE FUNERAL SERVICE, WITH THE PRAYERS IN LATIN AND THE RITUAL IN GERMAN—WITH MUSIC—WRITTEN IN RED AND BLACK GOTHIC SCRIPT ON 87 LEAVES OR 174 PAGES OF VELLUM. Small 4to (six and five-eighths by four and three-quarters), old stamped leather on wooden boards, with strap clasp and brass hinged catch and pin.

SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT, with end papers of MS. from other volumes. A leaf is cut, without hurting the text. On a fly-leaf is signature:—"Sor. Maria Vincentia Sallanherin."

- 1555 MS.—PSALTERIUM LATINUM. AN EARLY FIFTEENTH CENTURY PSALTER IN LATIN AND GOTHIC SCRIPT, WITH MUSIC, ON 218 LEAVES OR 436 PAGES OF VELLUM. With twenty curious miniatures within capitals in gold and colors, numerous small capitals in red and blue, and Calendar of Saint's Days. Thick small 4to (six and five-eighths inches by five and a quarter), old stamped calf on wooden boards, blind tooled with figures of "Lucrece," "Prudentia," "God the Father supporting the Crucified Christ," "Jacob's Ladder," etc.
SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT EARLY FIFTEENTH CENTURY PSALTER, WITH MUSIC ON VELLUM. Three are occasional marginalia in German, and three pages of MS. on the fly-leaves.

The miniatures, heightened with gold, are very quaint, and of a style of nearly two centuries earlier. The first following the calender represents—"A King and Queen with attendant," and in the lower portion of the letter—"A Christian Knight slaying an Infidel," others are of—"The Slaughter of the Innocents"; "Judith and Holofernes"; "Jonah and the Whale"; "The Trinity"; "Madonna and Child"; "Daniel and the Lions"; "Moses receiving the Law"; "Souls in Hell"; "Christ Enthroned"; etc.

ILLUMINATED FIFTEENTH CENTURY GERMAN PSALTER, WITH MUSIC—ON VELLUM.

- 1556 MS.—PSALTERIUM LATINUM. A FIFTEENTH CENTURY PSALTER IN LATIN, WITH CALENDAR AND MUSIC, ON 245 LEAVES OR 490 PAGES OF VELLUM. With one beautiful miniature; eight fine capitals painted on a gold ground, with half scroll borders, and hundreds of smaller capitals in red and blue. Thick small 4to (six and a quarter inches by four and three-eighths), calf, blind tooled, of Renaissance design, on wooden boards, with brass clasps.

SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT PSALTER, WITH MUSIC, on vellum of the Fifteenth Century, in red and black Gothic script. The miniature is an excellent example of German illumination. It represents King David praying and on his knees, with his harp on the ground. Behind him is a landscape, with buildings, and in the heavens is St. Michael with sword.

A FIFTEENTH CENTURY PSALTER IN LATIN AND GOTHIC SCRIPT, WITH CALENDAR AND MUSIC, ON 211 LEAVES OR 422 PAGES OF VELLUM. With curious front., eight very fine capitals in gold and colors, one smaller in red and gold, two curious capitals with borders in red and blue enclosing demons, and hundreds of small capitals with grotesque heads, animals, fishes, birds, demons, saints, etc. Thick small 4to (seven inches by five and one-eighth), old stamped calf on wooden boards (one cover loose), and two strap clasps, and brass hinged catches and pins.

SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT PSALTER ON VELLUM. Facing the beginning of the calendar is a curious frontispiece. There are two figures within circles—one of the sun and the other of the moon. There are two circles with letters around the sun, a man's face in gold and tinted. Around the moon is a circle with the figures one to nineteen divided off. Within the golden crescent of the planet is the face of the traditional "man in the moon," and in silver.

The last page is a colophon in German of nine lines of Gothic script in five colors, and it states that this Psalter was finished at Nuremberg in the year 1496.

CATHOLIC PSALTER ON VELLUM, WITH MUSIC.

- 1559 MS.—PSALTERIUM LATINUM. A FIFTEENTH CENTURY PSALTER IN LATIN AND GOTHIC SCRIPT, WITH CALENDAR AND MUSIC, ON 211 LEAVES OR 422 PAGES OF VELLUM. With half border and capital containing miniature heightened with gold, eight capitals in gold and colors with half borders, and numerous smaller capitals in red and blue. Thick small 4to (six and a quarter inches by four and a half), fine old pigskin on wooden boards, stamped on the sides with Crucifixion, sacred monogram, "I.H.S.," etc., two brass clasps. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT GERMAN PSALTER, with Calendar of Saints, and music of the church. The miniature referred to above represents King David praying in the fields. He is on his knees, his harp beside him, and with a head-dress of the shape of that of the Doge of Venice. The half-borders are floriated Gothic.

FIFTEENTH CENTURY PSALTER, WITH BEAUTIFUL MINIATURES AND BORDERS IN GOLD AND COLORS.

- 1560 MS.—PSALTERIUM LATINUM. A FIFTEENTH CENTURY LATIN PSALTER IN GOTHIC SCRIPT, WITH CALENDAR AND MUSIC, ON 231 LEAVES OR 462 PAGES OF VELLUM. With two gold and colored capitals with miniatures and borders—two illuminated capitals—and three capitals in red and blue with curious borders and painted figures at bottom of pages. Thick small 4to, old calf on wooden boards, stamped with Crucifixion and "I.H.S.," etc., two brass clasps (a leaf torn at corner). SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT GERMAN PSALTER, with music and calendar. One of the borders is very elaborate. It represents five nimbused cherubs proceeding out of flowers—on the same page is a large capital "B," in the centre of which is seated the Infant Christ marked with the stigmata. In one of the margins is a golden-haired saint with nimbus and by the side of a church tower. Three children with golden haloes are at the bottom of one page, and on another is an embonpoint child with nimbus and two angels in attendance. A peacock in his glory among foliage with flowers and fruit is one of the subjects.

MEDIEVAL AND ILLUMINATED PSALTER ON VELLUM.

- 1561 MS.—LIBER PSALMORUM. A FIFTEENTH CENTURY LATIN PSALTER, WITH CALENDAR, MUSIC AND OCCASIONAL MS. IN GERMAN, ON 235 LEAVES OR 470 PAGES OF VELLUM, IN GOTHIC SCRIPT. With a very fine miniature capital and border, and seven capitals with floriated half borders in gold and colors. Thick small 4to (six and five-eighths inches by four and three-quarters), old calf on beveled wooden boards, stamped with figures of "Charity," "Justice," etc., and two strap clasps with brass Gothic hinged catches and pins. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT GERMAN PSALTER ON VELLUM, with fine miniature heightened with gold of King David with crown and "blue trunk hose" playing the harp. On the end paper is the name in MS. of a nun who formerly owned the volume. There are also four loose leaves of music.

GROTESQUELY ILLUMINATED VELLUM PSALTER.

1562 MS.—PSALTERUM LATINUM. A FIFTEENTH CENTURY LATIN PSALTER IN GOTHIC SCRIPT, WITH CALENDAR, MUSIC AND OCCASIONAL GERMAN MS. ON 210 LEAVES OR 420 PAGES OF VELLUM. With one large capital in gold and colors, two smaller, and hundreds of yet smaller capitals in color, mostly with grotesque heads or curious monsters. Thick small 4to (six and a half inches by four and five-eighths), old stamped leather on wooden boards, and strap clasp with brass hinged catch and pin.

BRIDGET STROMER'S VELLUM PSALTER, DATED 1473.

1563 MS.—PSALTERIUM LATINUM. A FIFTEENTH CENTURY PSALTER IN LATIN, WITH CALENDAR, MUSIC AND OCCASIONAL MS. IN GERMAN, ON 199 LEAVES OR 398 PAGES OF VELLUM, IN GOTHIC SCRIPT. With eight illuminated capitals and half borders, two large capitals in colors, and hundreds of smaller capitals in gold and colors, many with monsters of all descriptions, and very curious grotesque male and female heads. Thick 4to, old stamped leather, original binding, on wooden boards. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL VELLUM MANUSCRIPT PSALTER, in good condition. This volume, according to a Latin manuscript note, in five colors, was finished in 1473:—"Completus est iste liber psalmorum anno domini M^o CCCCLXXIII." From another MS. memorandum, but in German, we learn that ten years after, i. e., in 1483, it was in the possession of "Bridget Stromer." The name of a yet later owner is written on an end paper:—"S. Maria Rosalia Schweigartin."

There are many outline drawings for the filling in of borders that it was evidently proposed to illuminate.

The binding is a good example of genuine Renaissance work. The centres of both sides are paneled and floriated. In the border panels are the following three subjects repeated with Latin mottoes:—"St. John baptising Christ," below "Hic est filius meus"; "Christ trampling on Death," below "Mors ero, mors tuam"; "The Crucifixion," below "Ecce agnus dei qui to."

PSALTER ON VELLUM WITH ILLUMINATED CAPITALS.

IF NOT SOLD AS A LOT, THEY WILL THEN BE OFFERED SEPARATELY, AND LOTS 1570 AND 1571, AT AN UPSET PRICE OF FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS EACH.

NUMBER 1570 IS AN UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT CHOIR BOOK OF THE FIRST QUALITY. NO ALTAR OR OFFICE BOOK OF SO GOOD A STYLE OF WORK-MANSHIP OR IN SUCH FINE PRESERVATION HAS EVER BEEN SEEN IN THIS COUNTRY.

There is a manuscript note in German fastened on a fly-leaf stating that it was presented in 1491 to a nunnery in Germany by Anne Folkamer, of Nuremberg, and that it cost her forty florins.

The remarkable and ancient distemper painting on the inside of the cover was probably inserted in the volume at the time of the gift. This curious painting is one of the earliest examples of the late fifteenth century Nuremberg school. It antedates Albert Durer and Lucas Cranach, who endeavored to give to the physiognomy of their figures greater angularity of countenance. In this work of art the faces have the round, full German appearance.

Paintings entirely in distemper of the date of the above are of great rarity. Although the distemper method is now only used for scene-painting and wall-painting, some of the old masters used it altogether. Some executed portions of their works of art in this way, and then oiled them over, by which means they acquired the character of being painted originally in oil. It is said that as late as the sixteenth century Paul Veronese began his pictures in distemper and finished them in oil.

The subject of the distemper painting in this "Antiphonary" is very medieval. It represents the Madonna and Child seated on the grass within a garden wall. Without are twelve female figures, of whom six are saints. In attendance upon the Virgin Mary are four other saints, viz., St. Catherine, with wheel and sword; St. Ursula, with arrow; St. Margaret, with palm branch, and Satan in the form of a goat and held in leash; and St. Agatha, with shears and flowers. In the foreground are five Sisters, in the black and white Dominican habit, one of whom is a novice, without the black veil. Kneeling at the head of the nuns is the donor of the MS. in secular costume. Each of the six has a patron saint behind her. These are—St. Agnes, with lamb; St. Brigitta, with staff; St. Maria Magdalene, with a pot of ointment; St. Barbara holding a tower; St. Sophia; and St. Cunigunde, with a church in her hand.

The faces of Dominican nuns represented in the above are probably intended for portraits. The first female convent of the order of St. Dominic was founded at Rome in 1218. These nuns follow the same rules as the Dominican friars. They were solemnly pledged to habits of industry. There were also female "Penitents of St. Dominic." Some of these embraced a conventual life. The most prominent of whom was St. Catherine of Sienna. It is not unlikely that the Sister behind whom St. Mary Magdalene is standing was one of this class.

The borders to the six illuminations in this "Antiphonary" are floriated Gothic. Within the first initial letter is a naked Christ, his forehead bleeding from thorns, and blood flowing from his hands and sides. To the right and left of the Saviour are two crowned female figures. This illumination is executed in the most superb manner, the tooled gold background—heightening the brilliantly colored and splendidly drawn figures—being thick and highly burnished.

Equally magnificent is the gorgeous miniature of St. Dominic, who holds in one hand a crucifix and in the other a staff. Before him is a black-and-white hound, allusive to the dream of the saint's mother previous to his birth that she had brought forth a dog with a torch in his mouth, as depicted in this miniature, which measures five and a half inches by five, as do the others in the volume. The golden background is most highly burnished and latticed with acorns and flowered corners.

The "Death of the Virgin" is the subject of the third miniature. St. Peter, aspergillum in hand, stands beside the Mother of God, who is dying, surrounded by the disciples. In the upper part of the initial letter is a small blue medallion, in the centre of which is a Madonna and Child.

The last of the miniatures in the volume represents Saints Peter and Paul. The gold tooling to this illumination is identical with that in the other paintings of this remarkable "Antiphonary," which seems to have been hardly in ecclesiastical use at all, and probably was, like the rest of the set, simply a show book.

SPLENDID "HYMNS OF THE CHURCH" ON VELLUM.

- 1571 M.S.—HYMNARIUM ECCLESIAE ROMANÆ. A LATIN CHOIR BOOK OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY, IN BLACK AND RED GOTHIC SCRIPT, WITH MUSIC, AND ON 124 LEAVES OR 248 PAGES OF VELLUM. With large painting in distemper on the inside cover—grand miniature in gold and colors—with border, three fine large capitals in red and blue interlaced scroll work, and hundreds of other smaller capitals, showing a marvellous variety of design. Thick large folio (twenty-two and three-quarter inches by fifteen and five-eighths). In original binding of stamped pigskin, Gothic brass corners and centre-pieces, and two leather straps with catches and pins. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT CHOIR BOOK OF THE FIRST QUALITY, uniform in almost every respect with lots 1570, 1572, 1573 and 1574, in binding, style, etc.

The distemper painting on the inside cover has all the peculiarities of that in lot 1570. It was executed doubtless at the same time, and represents "the Coronation of the Virgin Mary." Two angels hold a jewel-studded crown over the head of the "B. V. M.," who is habited in blue. Their wings are many hued. The Virgin holds the Infant Christ in her arms. He is blessing a number of Dominican nuns, who are kneeling under the protection of his mother, whose blue mantle, lined with crimson, is held back by the angels so as to envelop the Sisters of St. Dominic. This is a remarkably ancient example of distemper and is of the very rare early Nuremberg school.

"Christ Rising from the Tomb" is the subject of the miniature in this volume. One of the Saviour's hands grasps a white flag with a red cross, and the other is held to his bleeding breast. The golden background is equally ornate with those described in lot 1570.

SUPERB "ANTIPHONARY" ON VELLUM.

- 1572 M.S.—ANTIPHONARIUM ROMANÆ ECCLESIAE. A LATIN CHOIR BOOK OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY, IN BLACK AND RED GOTHIC SCRIPT, WITH MUSIC, AND ON 316 LEAVES OR 632 PAGES OF VELLUM. With large miniature and border in gold and colors—four very large capitals, with long scrolls in gold and colors—and many hundreds of smaller colored capitals, with grotesque heads in outline. Very thick large folio (twenty-one and seven-eighths inches by fifteen and a quarter). In original binding of stamped pigskin, marbled edges, Gothic brass corners and centre-pieces, and two leather straps and brass pins. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT CHOIR BOOK OF THE FIRST QUALITY, uniform in almost every respect with lots 1570, 1571, 1573 and 1574, in binding, style, etc.

The large capitals, which look as if they were painted on plates of gold, have colored and gold borders depending from them. The golden backgrounds are tooled with diamond-shaped lattice work and stars. The smaller capitals are artistically and elaborately painted and many of the outer outlines are extremely curious.

"King David seated and playing the Harp" is the subject of the very beautiful miniature in this volume. It will be found on the second page. There is also a loose leaf of sixteenth century music, and in the middle of the book is a half-page of music inserted.

HANDSOME "OFFICES OF THE SAINTS" ON VELLUM.

1573 MS.—OFFICIA SANCTORUM. A LATIN CHOIR BOOK OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY, IN BLACK AND RED GOTHIC SCRIPT, WITH MUSIC, AND ON 185 LEAVES OR 370 PAGES OF VELLUM. With two fine large miniatures and borders in gold and colors—240 grotesque capitals with heads in curious head-dresses—seven of the same with birds and animals—fifty-six scroll-work and floriated capitals in colors—a large capital with interlaced work—and hundreds of other capitals, colored and decorated. Thick large folio (twenty-four and two-eighths inches by sixteen). In original binding of stamped pigskin, Gothic brass corners and centre-pieces, and two leather straps with catches and pins. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT CHOIR BOOK OF THE FIRST QUALITY, uniform in almost every respect with lots 1570, 1571, 1572 and 1574, in binding, style, etc.

The first miniature, which measures five inches by five and seven-eighths, represents—"the Annunciation." The "B. V. M." habited in pink with blue mantling, arms crossed on breast, golden hair and nimbus, is kneeling before a prie-dieu, on which is an open book. In front of the Virgin is an angel with green and crimson wings, green garment and pink cloak, and with one uplifted hand, two of the fingers of which are giving the benediction. In the other hand is a label bearing the legend "Ave Gra." The golden background, which is very heavy, is rayed. The border is of Gothic floriation in gold and colors.

The other miniature is of—"the Risen Saviour." Christ is standing beside an open sepulchre. In front of him are two sleeping soldiers in armor, with battle-axes. The background is a rural landscape. The miniature is heightened with heavy gold, on which the nimbus of the Saviour is tooled.

The grotesque heads are of the most curious character. They represent :—monks, cowed and cowlless—nuns, black-hooded, white-hooded and red-hooded—mitred ecclesiastics—bearded patriarchs, some with shaven crowns—Satanic faces, the color of copper—Zanies with caps, grinning faces and protruding tongues—humorous masks—the Devil in the form of an ass and with four tails—and his Satanic Majesty with the body of an animal and the head of a beautiful woman.

GRAND "OFFICIALE" ON VELLUM.

1574 MS.—OFFICIALE OMNIUM SANCTORUM.—A LATIN CHOIR BOOK OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY IN BLACK AND RED GOTHIC SCRIPT, WITH MUSIC, AND ON 166 LEAVES OR 332 PAGES OF VELLUM. With large capital and magnificent page border in gold and colors—104 capitals beautifully painted with grotesque heads of ecclesiastics, devils, etc., in curious head-dresses—and many hundreds of other capitals in colors. Thick large folio (twenty-four and two-eighths inches by sixteen and a quarter). In original binding of stamped pigskin, Gothic brass-corners and centre-pieces, and two leather straps with catches and pins.

SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT CHOIR BOOK OF THE FIRST QUALITY, uniform in almost every respect with lots 1570, 1571, 1572 and 1573, in binding, style, etc.

The grotesque capitals are equally curious with those described in the notes to the preceding lot.

The border to the superbly illuminated letter "D" heightened with engraved gold in this volume is of the most sumptuous workmanship. It is in the finest Renaissance style and in not one of the four other volumes of this valuable set of Choir Books is there a border superior to it. The colored floriation, diversified with heavy golden spheres, has within its beautifully interlaced mass of colors many lovelily painted birds such as the peacock in glory, also with closed tail, the parrot, the horned owl, the hawk, etc.

SÆC. XVII.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL VELLUM MANUSCRIPT CHOIR BOOK of the Seventeenth Century. The music and text is partly in Gothic and partly in Roman script boldly and carefully executed in red and black. Some leaves are yellow by age and add to the venerable character of the volume. There are blank fly-leaves at the beginning and end.

ITALIAN DEVOTIONAL MANUSCRIPT, WITH CALLOT'S ETCHINGS.

- 1577 MS.—ITALIAN PRAYERS. A COLLECTION OF DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES AND PRAYERS IN ITALIAN, ON 104 LEAVES OR 208 PAGES OF LAID PAPER. Every page surrounded by a border of gold and silver—some pages having birds and flowers in gold as centre ornaments. Minimo (five and seven-eighths inches by four), old calf. SÆC. XVII.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL ITALIAN MANUSCRIPT of the Seventeenth Century, written in Roman letter, but some pages damaged, and three leaves lacking at the front. Twenty-one original etchings by Callot have been inserted and mounted in the centre of some of the pages.

HISPANO-MEXICAN HERALDIC AND LEGAL MANUSCRIPTS ON VELLUM OF A REMARKABLE CHARACTER OF AMERICAN ILLUMINATIONAL WORK.

- 1578 MS.—† BLAZON YESCVDO DE ARMAS: DE LOS SEÑORES CONQVISTADORES DE EL APELLIDO PORAS, MERODIO Y BELASQVES, ETC. ORIGINAL ILLUMINATED MANUSCRIPTS, TWO OF WHICH ARE WRITTEN ON VELLUM AND ONE ON PAPER. 3 vols. small folio. SÆC. XVI. ET XVII.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL SPANISH-MEXICAN MANUSCRIPTS OF GREAT INTEREST AND CONSIDERABLE VALUE. Although these volumes relate more particularly to a curious law-suit brought to recover lands, mines and other property in Mexico originally granted to some of the companions of Cortes for services in the New World, they demonstrate the fact that the seventeenth century American monks did not content themselves with missionary work alone. We have in these volumes illuminational decoration fully equal to that done by their European predecessors before the days of Gutenberg.

These three volumes, which belonged to the Abbé Fischer—the Secretary of the Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, who heard that unhappy monarch's dying confession previous to his execution—more especially narrate the story of Spanish hidalgos endeavoring to wrest their ancestral property from Israelite creditors by the aid of the civil authorities and the Holy Inquisition. The arguments made were that Grandees of Spain—Dons, Hidalgos and Caballeros of unmixed and unadulterated blue blood—could not in equity and should not under orthodox laws, be despoiled of their lands by Infidel dogs, and that, although their forbears may have been guilty of extravagances, even of profligacies, and may have alienated their inheritances in Old Spain and in the New World, still their Christian descendants should not be permitted to suffer at the hands of grasping usurers—heretic Jews—outside of the pale of the One Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church.

The three volumes are full of manuscript in the Spanish language, with some page heraldic illuminations and colored Hispano-Moresque borders. Every page throughout is attested at the bottom by notarial initials, and at the end of two of the volumes and throughout the other, with numbers of autograph signatures of judicial and inquisitional officials, among which is plainly and frequently discernible that of—TORQUEMADA.

The illuminations, etc., of these volumes will now be described.

I.—The first volume is a magnificent illuminated manuscript in two parts. The text of the first is in a different handwriting to that of the second. Altogether they make 62 leaves or 124 pages of vellum. Every page of the first part of 96 pages is surrounded with a colored floriated border, some being heightened with silver. There are forty-six very large illuminated capitals, some with grotesque heads, and all in metals and colors—from some of these are labels containing words or parts of sentences in gold. Smaller capitals are in great quantity. Three-quarters of one of the pages is a mass of boldly treated decoration. The opening page or frontispiece is a large coat-of-arms within a superbly ornamented border. A plumed silver helmet with closed golden visor surmounts the De Luna shield:—"Gu. and argent, in chief an inverted crescent moon argent." The mantling around this coat armor is admirably painted. The second part of the volume contains twenty-eight pages. There are sixteen large capitals, mostly with other words continued in gold on bands across the pages. Facing the first page of the text of the second part is a magnificent heraldic achievement. The mantling is "azure and or" on one side of the page, and "gules and argent" on the other. A silver helmet, with closed gold visor and colored plumes, surmounts a shield of four quarterings, over which is an escutcheon of pretence:—"azure, six crowns or." The blazon of the quarterings is:—1, "or, nine roundlets azure"; 2, "a fountain"; 3, "or, a castle between six roundlets"; and 4, the De Luna shield as in Part I, "gu. and argent, in chief an inverted crescent moon argent." The volume measures eleven inches by eight and a half, and it has been rebound in vellum, over which has been placed the original velvet cover. The date of the signed document at the end of the volume is—"Mexico, December 2, 1641." The names which occur most frequently are those of Alonso Lopez de Luna, Familiar of the Holy Office, and his parents, Don Diego Lopez de Luna and Dona Isabel de Paz. The name of Del Rincon seems to have been interpolated throughout the first part, and that of Vazquez appears very frequently.

II.—The second volume, in which the last date that appears is—"Sept. 20, 1561," has been damaged by water, but every syllable of the text is legible. There are in all 55 leaves or 110 pages of vellum. Eighteen fine large Hispano-Moresque capital letters heightened with gold are scattered through the volume. At the beginning are three full-page paintings, with very ornate borders, but damaged. The first represents in the lower portion King Philip II. of Spain and his two sons kneeling—in the upper, "The Ascending Saviour." On the opposite page in the upper division is "The Annunciation," and in the lower Queen Isabella and her two daughters, also kneeling. The third full-page illustration is heraldic. At the four corners are shields and a large quartered coat-of-arms is charged on an imperial eagle. Across these three pages at the bottom runs the legend:—"Don Felipe por la Gracia de Dios Rey de Castile." The old leather binding is covered with gilt tooling of ancient Roman heads, lions, birds, etc.

III.—The third volume consists of a number of official documents signed by numerous persons. All are attested notariaily, and are each stamped with three seals, two of the Royal arms of Spain and one with "a tower, on the front of which the letter M." Around this stamp is the date—"MDCLXII—1663." There are three leaves or six pages of vellum, illuminated on one side only, and 85 leaves or 170 pages of laid paper covered with MSS. The binding has been damaged by water. The interior of the volume is in perfect condition with the exception of the first and last pages, which are mounted, but without interfering with the text. One page is torn. The first of the vellum pages has a quartered shield with mantling below a helmet—1, "argent five fleurs-de-lys sable"; 2, "or, in chief five fleurs-de-lys sa. and in base two fish azure"; 3, "or a bend sable"; 4, "chequey azure and or." The second page is worded the same as the title given to this lot—"Blazon Yescvdo," etc., and the third vellum page has in the upper part "St. Francis" to the left and "the Blessed Virgin of Guadalupe" to the right. In the lower portion below a helmet is the shield—"gules, three roundles depending from a ragged staff to the sinister."

The signature of the eminent Mexican savant, Father Fischer, is at the commencement of each of these three curious volumes, which are of importance not only as of Genealogical, Heraldic and Legal value, but as most rare, unique and genuine examples of Sixteenth and Seventeenth Century American calligraphy and illumination!

FIFTEENTH CENTURY MANUSCRIPT GERMAN "RECHT BUCH."

1579 MSS.—"RECHT BUCH," COMMENCING "HIER HEBT SICH AN DAS REGISTER UBER DAS RECHT BUCH," ETC. A FIFTEENTH CENTURY MANUSCRIPT WRITTEN IN OLD GERMAN SCRIPT, ON 65 LEAVES OR 130 PAGES. With curious grotesque heads in many of the red and black capitals. 4to (ten and seven-eighths inches by seven and five-eighths), purple morocco. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT volume of early German Code of Laws. It is water-stained at the top of the pages. The index, first leaf and six last pages are added in a different but contemporaneous hand. The water-mark on the body of the book is "a bugle-horn"—on the addenda "a bull's head."

This volume has much to interest in connection with the laws governing society in Germany during medievalism under the jurisprudential systems of the Emperors of the Holy Roman Empire. It is written in old German. It refers continually to the "Golden Bull" of the Emperor Charles the Fourth thus—"Kunig Karel's buch sagent," and again—"Das ist kunug Karl's wort."

Charles the Fourth, who became Emperor in 1347, issued nine years later his celebrated code—which became the fundamental law of Germany—known as the "Golden Bull," and so called from the golden seal affixed to it. This sanctioned all the rights and privileges that had been usurped by the great vassals. It, however, contained provisions restraining the so-called "Faust recht" (fist law) or right of private redress. It regulated not only the methods of electing Emperors, but also the coinage, customs and commercial treaties of Germany, as well as the rights and obligations of free cities.

ANCIENT MANUSCRIPT—ECCLESIASTICAL AND HISTORICAL.

1580 MSS.—BARTHOLOMEW (FRATER ORDINIS PREDICATORUM). VOCABULARIUM ECCLESIASTICORUM CONTINENS EXPLICATIONEM ECCLESIAE ROMANÆ; also—NIDER (JOHANNES) FORMICARIUS SPECULI HISTORIALIS. 3 parts in 1 vol. Thick large 4to (eleven and a half inches by eight and a quarter), old calf on beveled wooden boards, rebacked. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL LATIN MANUSCRIPT OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY. There are 198 leaves or 396 pages of MSS. in this volume, and in the middle are six blank leaves. The works described above are complete, and a few pages are stained slightly. There are four pages of MSS. with a different paper mark bound up in the volume and preceding a leaf of vellum before the first page of the "Ecclesiastical Vocabulary." This was written by Brother Bartholomew, a Dominican monk, who, according to the colophon, completed his work in December, 1338, and died in 1348. A note in the margin of the "Formicarius," which is in two parts, states that the author John Nider died in 1438. Vide works by this Dominican author in Brunet, Vol. 4, pp. 73-74.

CURIOUS WILL AND CODICIL OF AN EARLY FIFTEENTH CENTURY ITALIAN TRAVELER.

- 1581 MSS.—TESTAMENTO E CODICILLO DI GIACHETTO ITALIANO DEL Q. TOBIA DEL 1413-23, FATTO IN OCCASIONE CHE DOVEVA INTRAPIENDERE UN VIAGGIO OTTRE I MARI: BOGATO DA GIOVANNI DI ST. STEFANO, NOTO. Consisting of nine leaves or eighteen pages of MSS. on vellum, also nine blank leaves and four pages of earlier MS. used as ends. 4to, old stamped leather. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL FIFTEENTH CENTURY MANUSCRIPT will and codicil, on vellum, of an Italian of the Middle Ages, made upon the occasion of his being about to undertake a voyage beyond the seas. The will is dated 1413, and the codicil 1423. There are also documents relative to the children of the testator, and the attestation in 1465 of the notary, who styles himself:—"Johannes de Sancto Stephano quonda. Lombardi imperiali auctoritate notarius," and whose elongated autograph would do justice to the signatures of a convention of Holy Roman Emperors.

EXQUISITE MODERN HOURS.

- 1582 NOUVELLES HEURES GOTHIQUES, D'APRES LES MANUSCRITS DES BIBLIOTHÈQUES NATIONALES ET PARTICULIÈRES. Nearly 200 pages of EXQUISITE MEDIEVAL ORNAMENTATION, chromolithographed in gold and colors after ancient missals, together with large MINIATURES, etc. Small 4to, crushed levant maroon morocco, gilt edges.

Paris, Leroy, Secail & Cie, n. d.

FOUCQUET—LIVRE D'HEURES.

- 1583 FOUCQUET (JEHAN). ŒUVRE, CONTENANT LE LIVRE D'HEURES DE MAISTRE ESTIENNE CHEVALIER. 52 EXQUISITE MINIATURES ILLUMINATED IN GOLD AND COLORS, and numerous elegant borders, woodcuts, etc. 2 vols. 4to, beautifully bound in brown crushed levant morocco, blind tooled, inside gold borders, with red watered silk linings, morocco joints, and gilt edges by AUGUSTE PETIT. Paris, Curmer, 1866-67

A SPLENDID COPY. A Chef d'Œuvre of Art. Sotheran's price for a copy of the above in a late "Price Current" was £25. The illuminated miniatures are the size of the page. The second volume with the text of M. L'Abbé Delaunay is finely decorated with illuminations, ornamental borders, woodcuts, etc. The 250 pages of the text of volume one are surrounded by illuminated borders selected from various celebrated manuscripts, each of a different pattern. The above copy has leather-lined drop cases for the volumes.

This is one of the most magnificent and interesting productions ever published, and all the resources of the Chromolithographic Art were lavished upon fac-similes of paintings in every way worthy of them.

SPLENDID WORK ON MEDIEVAL ILLUMINATION.

Anvers, n. d.

This splendid work has the prefatory matter and index in French, German and English.

IV. Incunabula and Black Letters.

EXTRAORDINARILY RARE BLACK LETTER ATTRIBUTED TO GUTENBERG.

- 1585 Black Letter.—SIFRIDUS DE ARENA.—| Respon-
sio ad quatuor questiones dui. sifri | di episcopi cirenensis.
| etc. Small 4to (seven and three-quarter inches by five and three-eighths), fresh dark green levant morocco extra, top edge gilt, by ALFRED MATTHEWS.
[Mayence, Gutenberg, 1450-60]

EXCESSIVELY RARE BLACK LETTER. A small quarto of ten leaves in fair condition, very slightly wormed and rubricated throughout the text.

General Rush C. Hawkins, whose "Titles of the First Books from the Earliest Presses in Europe" shows him to be one of the best posted living authorities on early printing, has written the following memorandum anent the above little volume, which he believes should be among the first of his black letters:—

"Hain, 14.724. This is one of seven small tracts from one font of type, and by a very early printer. The copy in the British Museum has a written date of 1456, and another of 1465 in different hands. While there is no exact evidence as to the birth-place of these tracts, there are many circumstances that point to Mainz and Gutenberg. This particular tract is very rare—not more than four other copies known—three being among the show books of great public libraries. The one in the Syson Park sale, in 1881, brought £53.

"The following are the titles of the other six tracts, with references—'A Prognostication or Kalendar,' believed to be for 1460, therefore printed in 1459. Fischer, 'Typogr. Seltenh.' 6.69.—'Hermann de Soldis (S. Childis),' Hain, 14.519, 'Notices des Objets Exposés,' Ed. 1881, 16.48.—'Celebratio Missarum,' Hain, 4833. Fischer, 81, cites a copy of this tract seen by him at Mainz with a written inscription to the effect that it was presented by Gutenberg to a convent and was printed by John Numeister, one of his workmen, the inscription is dated—"at Mainz, June 19, 1463."—"Traite sur les Councils," 'Notices des objets Exposés,' Ed. 1878, 15.47.—'Dyalogus inter Hugonem,' Hain, 6140.—'Notices des objets Exposés,' Ed. 1882. (Among additions) No. 84.697.—'Sifridus de Arena, Determinatio duarum quæstionum,' Hain, 14.723. (Moguntinæ).

"The one now offered for sale is, probably, the only specimen of the seven that has ever found its way to this country."

THE STATUTES OF THE ARCHBISHOPRIC OF MAYENCE—PRINTED BY GUTENBERG.

1586 Black Letter.—STATUTA PUINCIALIA. COCILII. MOGUNTINEN. A DNO. PETRO ARCHIEPO. CELEBRATA AB ANNO DNI. MILLESIMO TRICENTESIMO DECIMO, ETC.; also—STATUTA PROUINCALIA. MOGUNTIN. NOUA. 4to (ten and a half inches by seven and three quarters) elegantly bound by AMAND, of Paris, in crushed dark brown levant morocco extra, uncut.

[Mayence, Gutenberg, 1453-60]

EXCESSIVELY RARE and one of the earliest works printed by the "Father of Typography." It is in magnificent condition, has broad margins, rubricated MS. capitals, is a quarto of fifty leaves and forty-one lines to the full page.

That this most interesting example of the earliest printing was the work of Gutenberg is corroborated by the following authorities:—Zapf (Mainz Books, 139, 148); Lichtenberger ("Initia Typographica Argentori," 1811, 46); Gemüner ("Bib. Ratisbona," 277); Seemiller (11, 172); Meerman (139, note 7); "Cat. Bib. Schw. (11, 57 s.); Wundtwein (139, note 3); Dennis (Suss. 524, 670); Panzer (2, 138, 91); Ebert (21, 723); Hain (15, 039); Oberlin (45 reprint).

There is inserted in the volume the following French translation from page 148 of the "History of the Books printed at Mainz in Fifteenth Century" by G. W. Zapf, Ulm, 1790:—"SANS AUCUN DOUTE, cet ouvrage de 51 feuilles SANS signature, custos, ni nombre de feuilles A ETE IMPRIME PAR JEAN GUTTENBERG, c'est l'opinion de Meermanns dans son 'Origin Typograph.'"

This volume was probably printed at the same time as the Mazarine Bible was being executed by Gutenberg. It relates to the archiepiscopal see in which the first printer was resident. The first document that appears in the volume is dated 1310—the last 1453. None later are mentioned, although doubtless both the Supreme Pontiff and the Archbishop of Mayence may have issued others between that and the earliest dated specimen of printing with movable metal types. This was the "Letter of Indulgence, of November 15, 1454," which is now generally conceded to have been the work of Gutenberg at Mayence. The "Psalter" of John Fust and Peter Schoeffer of Gernsheim was dated three years later and in the year 1457.

FUST AND SCHOEFFER'S EDITION OF CICERO—PRINTED
AT MAYENCE IN 1466.

1587 Black Letter.—| MARCI TULII CICERONIS ARPINATIS CONSULISQUE | ROMANI AC ORATORU. MAXIMI. AD M. TULIU. | CICERONEM FILIU SUU. OFFICIORUM LIBER INCIPIT. | etc. With three illuminated letters (two with gold)—the title, colophon and many lines printed in red—the initials inserted by hand in red, and every page ruled with red ink—many pages inlaid, others most carefully mended, and others where text was somewhat defective near a few margins neatly perfected in fac-simile by hand. 4to (eight and seven-eighths inches by six and three-quarters), loose in portfolio. Mayence, Füst and Schoeffer, 1466

• EXCESSIVELY RARE. One of the earliest dated books printed with movable types. There are 87 leaves or 174 pages in all in this most valuable volume.

At the late Sunderland sale in London, No. 3044, a copy of the above brought £91, i. e., $425. a note to that number saying:—"A copy sold in Paris a few years since for upwards of £400, i. e., $2,000."

The colophon reads as follows:—"Presens Marci tulij clarissimu. opus. JOHANNES FUST Mogutinus. ciuis. no. atrameto. plumali cana. neque aerea. Sed arte quadam per pulcra manu PETRI DE GERNSHEM pueri mei feliciter effecti finitum. Anno. M.CCCC.LXVI. quarta die mensis februarj, etc."

This rare and beautiful edition has been fully described by bibliographers. A long account will be found in Dibdin's "Bibliotheca Spenceriana." It is given the place of honor and is "Number One," in "the Early Printed Books in the Archiepiscopal Library at Lambeth" as described by Maitland. Under the colophon of the Archbishop of Canterbury's example is a MS. note in the handwriting of a Fifteenth Century Archdeacon of Berkshire, John Rustel, to the effect that copies of this volume were on sale in the Church of St. Donatian at Bruges on the 15th of May, 1467.

This 1466 Cicero is the "editio secunda" of the 1465 "De Officiis," the first ancient classic printed with a date. Dibdin writes in his "Greek and Latin Classics":—"It may here suffice to remark, that the edition of 1466 is a copy of its precursor—and presents no varieties (as in the previous edition) of its own text. The number of leaves is the same in both; and the scarcity of each is pretty nearly alike."

"Petrus de Gernshem," whose—"handsome hand happily finished" the above, was, of course, "Peter Schoeffer de Gernsheim." He was, as it is well known, employed in the printing office of John Gutenberg, when John Füst selected him to manage the typographical arrangements for him as foreman after that money lender had wrested the printing business and plant from the inventor of printing.

For copies of other books printed by Peter Schoeffer vide supra under lots 1604 and 1621.

Füst, whose name appears so vividly visible on the colophon of the above Cicero, became Gutenberg's partner in 1450. The usurer, according to the terms of a five years' partnership, was to loan the "pater typographiæ" 800 guilders at six per cent. interest, taking as his security a mortgage on all the tools and materials when completed. Füst was to provide Gutenberg 300 guilders a year for wages, paper, vellum, inks, etc., in consideration of which he was to receive fifty per cent. of the profits, but he was neither to perform any work nor to be responsible for any debts. This partnership was dissolved about November 6, 1455, when Füst commenced suit against Gutenberg, foreclosed his mortgage and took possession of the entire business.

This Cicero is therefore of the greatest possible bibliographical interest, it being one of the books which, without any doubt, was printed by the VERY HAND of Schoeffer, and showing by the colophon that—although the son-in-law (?)—he was not, as generally supposed, the partner of Füst, who died before the 30th of October, 1466, when a mass was said for the repose of his soul.

Anent the current value of books with the imprint of Füst and Schoeffer, the following paragraph by the erudite and bibliophile editor Richard Halkett Lord in "The Bookmart" of February, 1887, is assuredly pertinent:—"In Mr. Quaritch's last catalogue is offered at the moderate price of TWENTY-SIX THOUSAND TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS, a copy on vellum of Füst and Schoeffer's Psalter of 1459, the second book printed with a date and of the very rarest of the earliest monuments of printing. By the side of this incunabule the Mazarine Bible is a comparatively common book; this is the only copy that has turned up for nearly a century."

EXCESSIVELY RARE EXAMPLE OF ULRIC ZELL'S TYPOGRAPHY.

- 1588 Black Letter.—EXPOSICO. SYMBOLI GLORIOSI
JERONIMI CONTRA JOUIMANU. HERETICUM.
Small 4to (seven and five-eighths inches by five and a half), half crushed levant morocco, gilt.

[Cologne, Ulric Zell, circa 1460-65]

EXTREMELY RARE volume of twenty-nine leaves, and printed by the first printer of Cologne. The opening initial is added in red by hand, a few pages are slightly stained, and the copy came from the "Koninklyke Bibliotheek."

Lot 925 of the "Menzie's Catalogue," a copy of the above, sold for $92.50. Joseph Sabin, in a note, called it:—"A very early edition of this father, having neither the name of the printer, his office, residence, nor date, but with the types of Ulric Zell, (about) MCCCCLX. A fine copy, and a beautiful specimen of early typography. Ulric Zell was the first printer at Cologne, and a workman for Schoeffer, one of the first printers."

This is probably one of the earliest works printed in Cologne by Ulric Zell, who had been, as just stated, one of Schoeffer's printers at Mayence. Bigmore and Wyman write concerning Zell:—"He was an industrious printer there [at Cologne] for more than forty years, but never printed a book in German, nor did he adopt any of the improvements of the printers of Italy. He adhered rigidly to the severe style of his master, Schoeffer, printing all his books from three sizes of a rude face of a round Gothic type. Madden supposes that he went to Cologne in 1462, and was engaged by the brotherhood of the Life in Common at Weidenbach, near that city, to assist them with his new art of printing in their pious task of making books. Zell's name appears for the first time in a book dated 1466, which date may be accepted as indicative of the time when he left the monastery and began to print on his own account."

St. Jerome, author of the above work, is also known in biography as "Eusebius Hieronymus Sophronius." He was born on the confines of Dalmatia, circa 331-345. He retired to the desert of Chalcis in 374, and became a priest at Antioch four years later. For three years after he lived at Constantinople in close intimacy with Gregory Nazianus. In 382, St. Jerome came to Rome and acted as the secretary of Pope Damasius, engaging in his great work of biblical revision. He was celebrated chiefly for his Pelagian controversies, and died on September 30, in the year 420. Erasmus edited his works. St. Jerome is—"universally regarded as the most learned and eloquent of the Latin Fathers."

ULRIC ZELL'S EDITION OF ST. AUGUSTINE'S
"ENCHIRIDION."

- 1589 Black Letter.—ENCHIRIDION AUGUSTINI CON-
SCRIPTUS AD LAURENTIUM PRIMÆRIUM ECCLESIE
VRBIÆ. With the capital letters, chapter numbers, etc., added in red by hand. 4to (eight and five-eighths inches by five and five-eighths), handsome smooth morocco, extra gilt.

[Cologne, Ulric Zell, 1460-65]

EXTREMELY RARE, and from the library of "Le Comte D. Boutourlin," whose quartered coat-of-arms, coronet, etc., is inserted on an end paper. A remarkably handsome copy, with very broad margins, of a volume printed between 1460-65 by Ulric Zell. A MS. note on the fly-leaf refers the reader to Brunet, Panzer, La Valliere, Spencer and Hain in reference to the volume. The types are not unlike some of those of the first English printer, William Caxton. All the biographers of Caxton previous to William Blades speak of Ulric Zell as his preceptor, and believe that he supplied the English mercer with his first types.

The "Cologne Chronicle" of 1499 has the following:—"The origin and progress of the art was told me verbally by the honourable master Ulric Zell, of Hanau, state printer at Cologne, anno 1499, and by whom the said art came to Cologne. . . . Moreover, the first inventor of printing has been a citizen of Mentz, and he was born at Straissburch, and was named Sir Johan Gudenburch."

"The influence of Augustine upon his own age, and upon all succeeding ages of Christian history, cannot be exaggerated. It is believed that he was at once one of the purest, the wisest and the holiest of men. He was equally mild and firm, prudent and fearless; at once a philosopher and a mystic, a student and a ruler."—American Cyclopædia.

THE FIRST BOOK PRINTED IN THE CITY OF NUREMBERG—A COPY BOUND BY ROGER PAYNE.

1590 Black Letter.—CODEX EGREGIUS COMESTORU. VICIORUM SACRE THEOLOGIE PROFESSORIS EXIMU. FRANCISCI DE RETZA ORDINIS PREDICATORUM. With ILLUMINATED INITIAL LETTER painted by hand in gold and colors—and the other capitals inserted by hand in blue and red. Thick folio (fifteen and seven-eighths inches by ten and three-quarters), fine old red russia, gilt, by ROGER PAYNE. Nuremberg, 1470

EXCESSIVELY RARE. Magnificent copy of the first book printed in the City of Nuremberg. It is the Wodhull copy, and was bought at that sale for £12 10s. The signature of "M. Wodhull, Nov. 17, 1794," is on a fly-leaf with a number of other memoranda in old MS. such as—"Paynes Sale—collated and complete," etc., etc. The red russia binding is a very fine example of Roger Payne's work. It cost, a century ago, according to a note, about £1 2s. to bind. The back is splendidly tooled, and on the side are the heraldic bearings of the Wodhull family stamped in gold.

There are 49 lines on each of the 286 pages of this first book issued from a press at Nuremberg. It is of extraordinary rarity, and not more than four copies have been offered for sale during this century. The colophon omits all mention of the printer or printers; but there can be no doubt about its having come from the press of John Sensenschmidt and Henry Kefer, who were the first to issue books in that most renowned city.

References to this fact will be found in—Panzer, 2, 1671; Santander, 3, 113, 1170; Hain, 13, 884; Deschamps, 936; "Objets Exposes," 38, 170; also, in Cotton and Hawkins as per following quotations:—

"Nuremberg was amongst the first places to admit the newly-discovered art of printing. Its earliest known specimen is the 'Comestorium Vitorum' of Franciscus de Retza, executed by John Sensenschmidt, in 1470."—COTTON'S "Typographical Gazetteer," p. 199.

"This book [Retza, i. e., the above] was probably printed by John Sensenschmidt and Henri Kefer. A copy can be found at the National Library, Paris. Kohler mentions a man by the name of Henri Kefer, who learned the art of printing from Gutenberg, and went from Mentz to Nuremberg. This city occupies a prominent position in the early history of printing, particularly on account of the enterprise of one of its printers, Anthony Koberger, who had more presses at work and produced a greater number of books than any other printers of his time."—RUSH C. HAWKINS'S "First Books and Printers of the Fifteenth Century," p. 5.

MARTIAL—THE EDITIO PRINCEPS, WITH INSERTED INITIALS IN GOLD AND COLORS.

1591 MARTIALIS EPIGRAMATV. LIBRI XIV. Large 4to (eleven and a quarter inches by eight inches), half vellum. [Rome, Georgius Lauer, 1470]

EXCESSIVELY RARE. This edition in Roman letter, according to several of the best authorities, including Audeffredi, p. 1414, and Hain, No. 10,805, was the first printed edition of Martial. In this copy, unfortunately, all the leaves before thirty-one have been beautifully and accurately reproduced by hand. There are fourteen large initials in gold and colors of the Italian school of the Renaissance, and the book—notwithstanding the lost leaves and a few stained pages—is a most valuable example from one of the early Roman presses.

Brunet mentions this edition, and agreeing with later authorities, says it is the most rare of all the Martials. The Sunderland copy sold for £10 5s.

Thomas Frognall Dibdin, in his account of "Rare and Valuable Editions of the Greek and Latin Classics," writes of this edition:—"Editio Princeps of the ENTIRE WORKS of the poet; and an impression of such rarity that I believe no other copy of it exists in this country but that which is in the library of Earl Spencer, and is described in Vol. IV., p. 529 of the 'Bibliotheca Spenceriana.' . . . I have assigned the name of Laver as that of the printer of this edition—in deference to the bibliographer last named [Audeffredi]—but whoever will be pleased to examine the authority first quoted will find that a reasonable inference may be drawn in favor of Ulric Han—as being the printer of this most uncommon volume."

Ulric Han, or Udalricus Gallus, as he is also called, followed to Rome Sweynheym and Pannartz, the first printers of the City of the Seven Hills. The first book printed by them in Rome was published on the last day of December, 1467.

"Roma, Rome, the celebrated capital of Italy, once mistress of the world. This city, as might be expected, was early in admitting and cherishing in its bosom an art which promised such extraordinary advantages as typography, the knowledge and practice of which was conveyed to it by two enterprising Germans in the year 1465. These men, Conrad Sweynheym and Arnold Pannartz, whose names are familiar to every one acquainted with the earlier editions of the classics, were the first to exhibit throughout all Italy the newly-discovered art of printing, and under the auspices of Pope Paul the Second set up their printing establishment in the monastery of Subiaco, in the vicinity of Rome. After two years they removed into the city itself, and being received into the house of two noble brothers, Peter and Francis de Maximis, opened their Roman typographical career by giving to the world, in 1467, an edition of Cicero's 'Epistolæ ad Familiares,' which is the first book printed at Rome. Until the year 1473 they continued to supply editions of standard works with an execution truly admirable, and a correctness which has been duly appreciated and proclaimed by the learned of all subsequent ages, having been fortunate enough to obtain for almost all their publications the revision of Jo. Andreas, Bishop of Aleria, who not only corrected the press, but wrote the prefaces and dedications," etc.—COTTON.

FIFTEENTH CENTURY EXPLANATION OF THE ATHANASIAN CREED BY A DOMINICAN.

1592 Black Letter.—| EXPOSITIO FRATRIS BERNHARDI
| DE LUTZENBURGO: ORDINIS PDI- | CATORU.
COUENT. COLONIEN. MAGISTRI. | AC SACRE THEOLOGIE
LICETIATI. IN SYM- | BOLUM ATHANASII. | Rude wood-

block on title. Small 4to (seven and seven-eighths inches by five and a half), boards. [Cologne, circa 1470-80]

EXTREMELY RARE. The woodcut on the title-page represents a monk at his desk, book in hand, instructing four scholars, all of whom hold volumes. The work is an exposition of the Athanasian Creed by Brother Bernard, of Lutzenburg, who was, as the title says, a Dominican monk in the Monastery at Cologne. It was doubtless printed at Cologne, somewhere between the years 1470 and 1480.

VERY RARE BLACK LETTER—PROBABLY THE FIRST WORK PRINTED AT EICHSTADT.

1593 Black Letter.—PETRUS DAMASCEN. LIBER IN LAUDEM MARIE VIRGINIS GLORIOSE EX AUTENTICIS SCRIPTURIS CONTRA APOCRIFA. Cut of the B. V. M. 4to (eight inches by five and three-eighths), boards.

[? Eichstadt, Michael Reyser, circa 1470]

VERY RARE BLACK LETTER, with the initial letters inserted BY HAND, in red. On a fly-leaf is the following MS. note:—"I believe this book was printed by Michael Reyser, at Eichstadt, not later than 1470. It is a great rarity, and the single cut with which it is illustrated was done by a woodcutter of whom all trace has been lost. He had a style quite his own, and unlike any of the known works of the Augsburg or Ulm artists of that period. Hain, 59, 17. Libri Cat., p. 2, No. 1567. (Signed) RUSH C. HAWKINS, N. Y., May 5, 1884."

The first volume printed at Eichstadt with a date was in 1478. The first printer was Michael Reyser. There is a printed note in French pasted on the inside cover. It quotes Hain in reference to the illustration of the Virgin Mary, referred to above, which, he says, was engraved on metal, and was executed about 1470. Weigel authoritatively states this well-known engraving was executed on metal, if so, it was the first metal engraving ever used in a printed book.

A REFUTATION OF THE KORAN, PRINTED IN THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY.

1594 CONFUTATIO ALCORANI SEU LEGIS SARACENORUM EX GRAECO NUPER IN LATINUM TRADUCTA. 4to (eight and three-eighths inches by six), vellum.

n. p., n. d., circa 1470

VERY RARE. This is one of the earliest Oriental works printed in antagonism to the principles of the Bible of the Mohammedans. It was written by Brother Richard, of the Dominican Order, whose name is thus written in MS. on the back of the title—"Richardus ex Ordine FF Praedicatorum." Concerning the work vide Prideaux's "Life of Mahomet." The above edition was translated from the Roman (Italian) of the author into Greek by "Demetriu. Cydoniu." and from Greek into Latin by "Bartholemeus Picenus de Montearduo," who dedicates this translation to Ferdinand, King of Arragon and Sicily. This edition is printed in Roman letter and the above copy is bound in a portion of an early fifteenth century MS.

VENETIAN INCUNABLE ATTRIBUTED TO NICHOLAS JENSON.

1595 JUSTINIANUS (BERNARDUS).— | BERNARDI IVST-
INIANI LEONARDI | ORATORIS FILII LEGATI VENETI
O | RATIO HABITA APVD XISTVM IIII. | PONTIFICEM
MAXIMVM. | Large 4to (eleven inches by eight and an eighth), boards. [Venice, circa 1471]

EXCESSIVELY RARE. A volume of six leaves with very broad margins of forty-two lines to the page and printed in Roman letter. This copy is rubricated and the last page is carefully mended.

Hain, 9642, attributes its typography to Nicholas Jenson, who—"is claimed to have been the first Venetian printer, and who was considered—"the only printer of merit in that age, and the productions of his press are far superior to those of any other." Timperley says that in 1458—"King Charles the Seventh, King of France, having received private information of the invention of printing at Mentz, sent Nicholas Jenson, or Jensonius, an engraver of coins and medals at Paris, to obtain a knowledge of the art. Having succeeded he returned to France, when he found his patron dead; upon which he returned to Venice and commenced letter founder and printer; he excelled in all branches of the art, and more than are united with it. He first determined the form and proportion of the present Roman character. The date of his first work is 1471, and the last 1481, in which year he is supposed to have died."

Paul Lacroix (Bibliophile Jacob) printed an unqualified statement that Jenson introduced typography into Venice, but that honor is now generally conceded to John de Spire, presumably of Spire on the Rhine.

EXTREMELY SCARCE EDITION OF ÆNEAS SYLVIUS.

1596 ÆNEAS SYLVIUS— | PIUS PAPA SECUNDUS
ELOQUENTISSIMUS QUI | OBIIT ANNO MCCCCLXIII.
IN ANCHO | NA DU PROFICISCI PPOSUENT CONTRA TUR-
COS | COMPOSUIT ZC. | With initial added by hand and
MS. marginalia. Small 4to (seven and a half inches by five), half vellum. [Milan, Zarotus, circ. 1471]

VERY RARE. Printed in Roman and consisting of 62 leaves, 27 lines to the page. There is the following MS. note by General Hawkins on the inside cover:—"I have compared this work with the Pompeius Festus of Zarotus, Milan, 1471, and find the types the same. This is probably one of the earliest specimens of the Milan press. VERY RARE. R. C. H."

Philippus de Lavagina has been considered by many as the first Milan printer—but it is believed now that he only hired typothetæ, of whom the first was probably Zarotus of Parma, 1470-71, who was followed by Christopher Valdarfer from Venice in 1474, and by John Bonus in 1475.

Pope Pius the Second, the author of the above celebrated tract against the Turks, was born 1405 and died in 1464. He is better known, however, as Æneas Sylvius. By a bull addressed to the universities of Paris and Cologne he condemned his own writings as heretical, concluding with these memorable words—"Believe what I, an old man, now say to you, and not what I wrote when I was young; believe the pontiff rather than the private individual; reject Æneas Sylvius and accept Pius II."

NIDER'S PRÆCEPTORIUM, PRINTED BY JOHN ZAINER, THE FIRST ULM PRINTER.

- 1597 Black Letter.—NIDER (JOHANNES, Dominican). PRÆCEPTORIUM LEGIS—EXPOSITIONES DECALOGI. With the capital letters, etc., inserted in red. Thick small folio (eleven and three-quarter inches by eight and a quarter), original old stamped calf binding on wooden boards. Ulm, impressus per Johanem Zainer [circa 1471]

VERY RARE. A black letter, printed by the first printer at Ulm, and of 244 leaves, 42-44 lines to the page. This copy, with broad margins, belonged to the Dominican Convent of Ratisbon and has inserted the heraldic book-plate of that community. With occasional MS. notes.

This volume bears the imprint of John Zainer de Reutlingen, who printed the earliest book with a date issued from Ulm. This was an "Albertus Magnus," dated May 29, 1473. Dr. Hassler maintains that Hoghenwang was the first printer of Ulm, but the above work doubtless proves the precedence for Zainer.

John Nider, the author of the above, was a Dominican monk, and one of his works will be found in manuscript in the preceding division of this catalogue.

ONE OF THE EARLIEST BOOKS PRINTED AT AUGSBURG
AND BY GUNTHER ZAINER, A. D. 1471.

- 1598 Black Letter.—RODERICUS SANCIUS DE AREVALO ZAINARENSI SPECULUM VITÆ HUMANÆ [Musica et Cantus, Navigataria Ars, Theatrica Ars, Venatoria Ars, de Ludis, etc.]. Small folio (twelve inches by eight and three-eighths), original old stamped calf on wooden boards (rebacked).

Augsburg, a Gunthero Zainer ex Reutlingen, 1471

VERY RARE, with the capitals inserted in red by hand, 128 leaves, 35 lines to the page and wormed slightly. According to Panzer, this is the sixth book from the press of the first printer at Augsburg. It is rare and one of the most interesting productions of the early press. The chapter relating to music is the first ever printed upon that subject.

Hain, Panzer, Santander, and other bibliographers refer to this volume. It is the third edition of the "Speculum," the first having been printed at Rome in 1468. This copy was from the Library of the Carthusians at Buxheim, vide coat-of arms on the first page.

Several writers have given 1466 as the date of the first book printed at Augsburg and by Gunther Zainer. General Hawkins, in his valuable work, claims the first with a date printed in Augsburg, to have been St. Bonaventure's Meditations, by Zainer, in 1468, and adds—"It might almost be said that the first school of wood-engraving in Europe was founded in that city." This, of course, means outside of xylographic books.

Gunther Zainer's imprints, write Bigmore and Wyman—"were all printed in the semi-Roman character, first used by the Cologne printers; but in 1472 he introduced for the first time a true Roman letter in imitation of that cast by Jensen at Venice."

EDITIO PRINCEPS OF PALLADIUS AND PRINTED BY JENSON IN 1472.

1599 PALLADII RVTILII TAVRI ÆMILIANI VIRI ILLVSTRIS DE RE RVSTICA. Large 4to (eleven and a quarter inches by seven and five-eighths).

Venice, Nicholas Jenson, 1472

VERY RARE and in Roman letter. In fine condition, and was formerly bound up with another book. It is now without binding, and is a beautiful and early specimen of the work of this celebrated printer.

The colophon reads:—"Palladii Rvtilii Tavri Æmiliani viri illvstris de Re Rvstica libri Impressi Venetiis opera et impensa Nicolai Ienson Gallici, MCCCCLXXII."

This is a copy of the first edition of the interesting work relating to rural affairs, by Palladius who lived about the fourth century. It has been claimed that the portion of his "De Re Rustica," relating to gardens and trees, was plagiarized from Gargilius Martialis.

PLAUTUS, PRINTED AT VENICE IN 1472, AND THE FIRST EDITION OF THIS ROMAN AUTHOR.

1600 PLAUTUS (M. Accius). VIGINTI COMEDIÆ, LINGUÆ LATINÆ DELICIÆ, MAGNA EX PARTE EMENDATÆ PER GEORGIUM ALEXANDRINUM (MERULAM). Thick small folio (twelve and one-eighth inches by seven and three-quarters). Calf, gilt (cover loose).

Venice, Joannes de Colonia atque Vindelinius de Spira, 1472

EXTREMELY RARE and first edition of Plautus. "Première édition, très rare."—BRUNET. The above copy has 230 leaves, but should have 241—the first three containing the epistle, the fourth blank, and the last seven of the comedy of "Truculentus" are wanting. Otherwise this copy is in good condition. It has clean, broad margins, and many beautifully ornamented initials in colors. This edition is much sought after by scholars for the value of its text, which is believed to be nearer correct than any other ever printed.

A perfect copy in the Sunderland sale brought £90, i.e., $450.

"EDITIO PRINCEPS. 'The editor of this very scarce and beautiful work, Georgius Merula, deserves the highest encomiums for having divided the text of Plautus into verses: the comedies of Terence were long published without any regard to the metre.' See Bibl. Harleiana, Vol. III., No. 1113 (erroneously dated 1473), which refers us to Merula's epistle to Giacomo Zeno, Bishop of Padua, in which this is asserted to be the first edition of Plautus, and the completion of it is compared to the labors of Hercules. I refer the reader to a very full and particular account of this most desirable volume which appears in the 'Bibl. Spenseriana,' Vol. II., pp. 243-6; and therein to the principal authorities bearing upon it. The press work is the joint production of J. DE COLONIA and VINDELIN DE SPIRA."—DIBDIN'S "Greek and Latin Classics."

The honor of having introduced printing into Venice was claimed for both John de Colonia and Nicholas Jenson, but that is now conceded to John Spira. Windiline Spira, the brother of John, took into partnership in 1472 John de Colonia, who later became the partner of the celebrated Jenson, who died in 1481.

Polydore Virgil highly commends John de Colonia and his partner Jenson for their improvements in typography. Sabellicus says these two grand old printers excelled all the typothetæ of their time in the richness and elegance of their impressions. Leoniceus extols the beauty of Jenson's types and speaks of him as one to whom the greatest share of the invention of typography was due.

HIPPOCRATES, HIS APHORISMS BY FORLIUIUS—A MAGNIFICENT UNDATED BLACK LETTER, CIRCA 1472-73.

1601 Black Letter.—| ILLUSTRIS MEDICI JACOBI FORLIUIENSIS | in afforismos ypo. egregia expositio | cum questionibus feliciter incipiunt. | Square folio (sixteen and a quarter inches by ten and three-quarters), paneled leather, red edges, in imitation of the early work of AMAND of Paris. [? Pavia, circa 1472-73]

VERY RARE EDITIO PRINCEPS and MAGNIFICENT COPY with broad margins of over four inches. It has double columns, initials inserted in red, some contemporary marginalia, and at beginning and end is slightly wormed.

The author of this work was a doctor of medicine and this is the first of five editions of this work issued during the fifteenth century.

The place of printing cannot be determined with any degree of certainty, but the type and general make up of the book resemble productions from the press of Pavia of about 1472-73.

"Pavia was very early in its adoption of typography: its oldest remaining specimen is a medical work of 'Johannes Matthaei de Ferrariis' of the year 1471; the printer of which, Anthonius de Carchano, who seems to have been so small coxcomb, styles himself in one of his books 'Gymnasii Papiensis generalis juristarum bidellus; (i. e.), as we should say in Oxford, 'esquire bedel of law!'. The art was carried on extensively at Pavia by about thirty printers during the XVth and beginning of the XVIth century. One of them, apparently a whimsical mortal, designates himself by three appellations, viz.: 'Jacobus Pulchridrapensis,' 'Jacobus Parvidrapius,' and 'Jacobus Pandicrapius—de Burgo franco.'" —COTTON.

ULRIC ZELL'S 1473 EDITION OF ROBERT DE CARACCIOLLO'S GREAT WORK.

1602 Black Letter.—CARACCIOLUS DE LITIO (Robertus). —| SACRE THEOLOGIE MAGISTRI | NECNO. SACRI ELOGII PRECDIS CE | LEBERRIMI FRATRIS ROBERTI DE LI | TIO ordinis Minoru. professo | ris opus qdragesimale. p. utilis | simu.qd. de penitentia dictu.est | Feliciter incipit. | Thick 4to (ten and a half inches by eight), calf, gilt.

mgrm. Colonia, etc., 1473

EXTREMELY RARE, 358 leaves of two columns to the page.

Ulric Zell, the first printer of Cologne, learned his art of Gutenberg and may have set up a press in that city as early as 1462, but the first book bearing his name has the date of 1466. The above is one of the very few with his name, as he issued nearly all of his books without either name of printer, date or place, and for that reason, if for no other, this lot should be considered a valuable addition to any collection of early printed books.

The above is printed in the Gothic type which Jenson introduced into Venice in 1475. Timperley writes—"It is a lamentable instance of the perverted taste of those times that these ancient printers [Jenson and De Colonia] were obliged to change their beautiful Roman type for the old and disagreeable Gothic."

EXTREMELY RARE EARLY IMPRINT OF WINDELIN

*Vindelinus ego gentis Cognomine Spiere

Sedis apostolice Romano preside sexto
Magnanimo et Venetum Nicolao principe Truno.
M.CCCC.LXXIII.*

EXTREMELY RARE. A thick quarto of 287 leaves, 40 lines, and in good condition with early marginalia.

This is a fine specimen from the press of Windelin de Spira, the second printer of Venice and a brother of the first. The earliest works from the presses of these brothers were printed in Roman type. This is among the first in which Gothic characters were used.

THE 1474 "TURRECREMATA," PRINTED BY PETER
SCHOEFFER, ONE OF THE INVENTORS OF PRINT-ING.

1604 Black Letter.— | REUERENDISSIMI CARDINALIS TITULI SANCTI SIXTI DOMINI IO | HANNIS DE TURRECREMATA EXPOSITIO BREVIS ET UTILIS SUPER | TOTO PSALTERIO MOGUTIE. IMPSSA. ANNO DNI. MCCCCLXIIIJ | TERCIO IDUS SEPTEMBRIS P. PETRU SCHOYFFER DE GERNSZHEM | FELICITER EST CONSUMATA. Thick large 4to (twelve inches by eight and five-eighths), old stamped leather on wooden boards.
Mayence, Schoeffer, 1474

EXTREMELY RARE. The above title is a verbatim copy of the colophon, below which is the device of Fust and Schoeffer, all in red. This copy has wide margins and is wormed somewhat. It has 173 leaves—35, 6 lines—ornamental letters added in red—missal types of the Psalter of 1457 for chapter headings, and is a good example of early printing by one of its inventors.

"Fust and Schoeffer continued to print together until the death of the former in 1466, then Schoeffer printed alone until the year 1502; and his sons followed the business for thirty or forty years afterwards."—COTTON.

A VERY RARE VOLUME PRINTED 1474 AT AUGSBURG IN THE MONASTERY OF SAINTS ULRIC AND AFRA.

1605 UTINO.— | SERMONES AUREI DE SANCTIS FRATRIS
LEONARDI DE VTINO: | SACRE THEOLOGIE DOCTORIS
ORDINIS PREDICATOR. | Thick small folio (eleven and a half inches by seven and a half), stamped pigskin on wooden boards.

[Augustæ. Vindel, in Monasterio SS. Ulrici et Afrea.] 1474

EXTREMELY RARE. A thick small folio of 430 leaves, 2 cols., 38 lines in original binding. This copy was once the property of the library of the monastery in which it was printed. It afterward came into the possession of Dr. Kloss, and has the book-plates of both. The opening inserted initial after the index is large and floriated in blue and red. The other capitals are also added by hand. Some pages are stained, and there are contemporary marginalia.

Cotton states:—"In 1472 a press was erected in the monastery of SS. Ulric and Afra, but no book issued from it before 1474 now remains. Anthony Sorg, who is supposed to have printed for the monastery, says of one of his books that it is not—"cyrographatus, sed stanneis karakteribus artificialiter effigatus."

Venice, impressio venetiis extat facto dudum et impensa Johannis Colonie agripines: ac Johannis Mathen., de gherretsem, 1474

VERY RARE. 150 leaves, 2 columns and 40 lines to the page, the bottom margin of the first leaf is torn off and some pages are stained, otherwise a fine specimen, with broad margins, from the press of two rare Venice printers. There are many hand-painted large initials in red and blue.

This is about one of the last books printed without signatures by John de Cologne and John Manthen de Geretzen, who were the first to use them in Venice and in 1474. Timperley writes as follows concerning the partnership of these two printers:—"1414 John de Cologne and John Manthen de Geretzen were printers at Venice soon after the Spiras, and appear to have been equal to any of their contemporaries; but they likewise fell into the Gothic way of printing. From an inscription affixed to their edition of 'Valerius Maximus' printed in this year, they appear to be booksellers, and not printers, for they inform the reader that they had given this work to be printed by men hired for that purpose. Yet all the works that came from their press, or were printed for them, do them infinite credit."

THE FIRST BOOK HAVING HEBREW CHARACTERS AND BY THE FIRST PRINTER AT ESSLINGEN.

- 1607 Black Letter.—PETRI NIGRI TRACTATUS CONTRA PERFIDOS JUDEOS HEBRAICE ET LATINE CUM COMMEN-TARIO. 4to (ten inches by seven and three-quarters), half vellum.

Esslingen, impressus est p. discretu ac Industrii. viru.

Conradum Fyner, 1475

VERY RARE and the first book in which Hebrew characters were used. These will be found on leaf 47, and were engraved upon wood. There are many contemporaneous marginalia and two pages of MS. at the commencement. This is one of the show-books of the great European libraries.

Conrad Fyner introduced typography into Esslingen, Suabia, about the year 1472, when he printed a Thomas Aquinas. His third book, John Gerson's "Collectorium super Magnificat," is remarkable as being the first book containing musical notes or characters printed with movable metal types.

BLACK LETTER COPY OF ST. THOMAS AQUINAS
PRINTED AT MANTUA, CIRCA 1475.

- 1608 Black Letter.—THOMAE DE AQUINO QUESTIONES
SECUNDI LIBRI SECUNDAE PARTIS. Thick small folio (twelve and seven-eighths inches by eight and five-eighths), old half sheep.

Mantua, imprimente magistro Paulo de Puzpach

germanico eius artis pento, circa 1475

VERY RARE. This is a beautiful specimen from the press of the second printer of Mantua. Unfortunately the first and part of the second leaf are missing, otherwise it is in fine condition. Printing was introduced into Mantua before 1472. Gen. Hawkins states there were at least five books printed there in that year, and of these he quotes in his work a "Decameron" and a Plutarch. Cotton implies the first printer was Petrus Adam de Michaelibus, who calls himself—"ejusdem urbis civis imprimendi auctor."

St. Thomas Aquinas, the profoundest philosopher of the Christian Church, is ranked as the "Angelic Doctor" among the four great doctors of Catholicity. His "Summa Theologiæ" may be regarded as the most finished compend of scholastic divinity. In early youth this extraordinary man was nicknamed by his companions, on account of his apparent dulness, "le bœuf muet." Some person calling him thus in the presence of his master, the celebrated Albertus Magnus, was rebuked in the following prophetic words: "Les doctes mugissemens de ce bœuf retentirent un jour dans l'Univers." Labbe tells us, "Neque aliud super est nisi Lumen Gloriæ post Summam Thomæ"; and Bucer emphatically said, "Tolle Thomam et Ecclesiam Romanam subverterem."

A FIFTEENTH CENTURY COLOGNE BLACK LETTER.

QUADRAGESIMO SEPTUAGESIMOQUINTO. 4to (ten and seven-eighths inches by seven and seven-eighths).

[Cologne, 1475]

VERY RARE. This tract consists of ten leaves, with wide margins. It is unbound, in good condition, and was printed at Cologne by an unknown printer about 1475.

THE PSALTER OF ST. BRUNO—THE FIRST BOOK PRINTED AT WURTZBURG.

- 1610 Black Letter.—ST. BRUNO, BISHOP OF WURTZBURG.
—PSALTERIUM ex doctorem dictis Collectum. Corrigendi emendandiq. psalterii prologus BEATE BRUNO·NIS herbipolen. brevis comendatio et quo proficue ligendu sit istud psalteriu. institutio et Cohortatio. (In fine.) Hec est fides Catholicæ qua nisi quisq. fidilitu firmiterq. crediderit salu. ee. nopot' eit. Thick 4to (ten and three-quarter inches by eight), old half pigskin, two brass clasps.

[Wurtzburg, George Reyser, circa 1475]

VERY RARE. 279 leaves, 2 columns, and in the original binding of stamped pigskin and oak. The first page of the text has a large illuminated initial and ornamental border covering the lower margin. There are also some early MS. notes.

This rare edition of the "Psalms of David," according to Deschamps was the first book printed at Wurtzburg. The text is in beautiful missal type done in red and black, and the Commentaries of St. Bruno are in small Gothic. It is one of the early books printed in two colors, and is also a most charming example of fifteenth century typography.

The first dated book printed at Wurtzburg, and in 1479 was from the press of "Stephano Dold, Ieorio Ryser et Johanni Bekenhub." The second member of the firm, General Hawkins writes—"is supposed to have been Georgius Ryser, who was at Eichstadt in 1483. Beckenhub had a press at Strassburg in 1473 and a third at Ratisbon in 1485."

VERY RARE VOLUME RELATING TO THE MEDIEVAL

IN SUBIUL | META IN PREDICTO REGNO IN ANNO DNI.
MILLESIMO. | 4to (eight and one-eighth inches by five and three-eighths), vellum. [? Treviso, 1475-80]

VERY RARE. This is probably the edition quoted by Brunet as having been printed at Treviso by Mich. Manzol. There were several other editions of this rare fifteenth century tractate. The above is printed in Roman letter. It may have been issued by the first printer of Treviso, Gerard de Lisa, of Flanders, who was printing there from 1471 to 1498.

NICHOLAS JENSON'S TYPOGRAPHY—A 1476 SPECIMEN IN ROMAN LETTER.

- 1612 NONII MARCELLI PERIPATETICI TIBVR | TICENSIS COM-

Venice, Impressa Venetiis Industria at que impendio

Nicolai Ienson Gallicii, 1476

A VERY RARE Jenson imprint of 192 leaves, 34 lines to the pages and water-stained. Complete with very wide margins and (save the stains) in fine condition for binding. A copy in the Pinnelli sale, 1789, brought £9 9s.

NICHOLAS JENSON'S EDITION OF DIOMEDES—VENICE, 1476—THE DUKE OF GRAFTON'S COPY.

- 1613 DIOMEDIS DOCTISSIMI AC DILIGENTISSI | MI LINGVÆ
LATINÆ PERSCVTATORIS | DE ARTE GRAMMATICA OPVS
VTILISSI | MVM. 4to (ten and five-eighths inches by seven and a quarter), old calf.

[Venice], Nicolaus Ienson Gallicus [1476]

VERY RARE. This volume in Roman type has 35 lines to the page and consists of 170 leaves. The first leaf is wanting, otherwise the whole is in fine condition. It is clean and with wide margins. This copy came from the Duke of Grafton's Library, through Heber, who paid for it at that sale £2 5s. A good copy in the late Syston Park sale brought £5 10s. The work is very rare and was greatly esteemed for the quality of its text. It has many Greek letters, and is among the early books in which they were used.

- 1614 DIOMEDES. Another copy of the preceding lot. Old wooden boards.

VERY RARE. This is another copy of lot 1613. It only contains the first part, but has the first leaf with which the other copy may be made complete.

TACITUS—A VENETIAN EDITION OF 1476.

- 1615 CORNELII TACITII ILLVSTRISSIMI HISTORICI | DE SITV
MORIBVS ET POPVLIS GERMANIÆ | LIBELLVS AVREUS. | 4to
(eleven inches by seven and three-eighths).

Venice, per Andrea. Iacobi Katharesem. Andrea

Vendramino Duce fortunatissimo, 1476

VERY RARE unbound tract of eight leaves. On the first page is a large ornamental colored capital and border with a curious sketch in the margin. The title reads as above, but the colophon commences—"Diodori Siculi Bibliothecæ historia libri."

ROLEVINCK'S CHRONICLE PRINTED BY THE CELE-BRATED VELDENER IN 1476.

- 1616 Black Letter.—ROLEVINCK (WERNERUS). CRON-
ICA QUE FASISCULUS TPM. DICIT IN FLORETISSIMA VNIUSI-TATÆ LOUANIESI. Rude cuts. 4to (ten and five-eighths inches by eight and a quarter), half sheep.

Louvain, johannes veldener, 1476

VERY RARE. This is a notable example from the press of the most famous Low Country printer of the fifteenth century. It has many curious wood engravings and is one of the earliest Holland books containing illustrations. Veldener was a type-founder, printer, binder and possibly an engraver. His printer's mark is under the colophon.

"Panzer and Hain both state that printing commenced at Louvain in 1473. The former names two books issued in that year. Campbell does not mention either, but is doubtful about the date of an edition of a work of Zambarellus, which he thinks may have been printed by Jean Veldener in 1473-74."—RUSH C. HAWKINS, "First Books," page 84.

THE BIGGEST BOOK PRINTED IN THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY.

1617 Black Letter.—VINCENTII BELVACENSIS SACÆ. THEOLÆ. DOCT. EXIMIJ, ORD. FF. PRAEDIC. SPECVLVM MORALE. Inserted initials in red. Very thick folio (sixteen and five-eighths inches tall, eleven and a half wide and four and a quarter thick), old vellum.

Strasburg, John Mentelin, 1476

VERY RARE and in fair condition. A thick folio of 473 leaves, 62 lines and two columns to the page.

The colophon reads :—"Impressum in inclyta urbe Argentinensium ac nitide terse emendatque reffectum per honorandum Dum Dum Iohanem Mentilin artis impressoris magistrum famosissimum. Anno a partu Virginis salutifero millesimo quadringentesimo Septuagesimo Sexto die mensis Novembris Nono."

This may be regarded as one of the early typographical wonders. It is undoubtedly the largest book printed in the fifteenth century by one of the earliest and most celebrated printers, who set up a press as early as 1460 and may have worked with Gutenberg at Strasburg. This is one of only three books in which his name appears. All others from his press are without it.

Strasburg, where the above was printed, is one of those towns which put in a claim to the honor of giving birth to the typographic art, and it has been concluded by Schoeffer and others that John Gutenberg printed there between the years 1440 and 1450. Gen. Hawkins quotes in his "First Books and Printers" a Bible that was probably printed at Strasburg between the years 1459-61 by the typographer of the above work, John Mentelin, who he claims to have been the first printer of old "Argentoratvm."

PETER LOMBARD'S SENTENCES PRINTED AT VENICE IN 1477.

1618 Black Letter.—CELEBERRIMUS AC FAMOSISSIMUS SENTENTIARUM LIBER MAGISTRI PETRI LOMBARDI SACRE THEOLOGIE DOCTORIS EXIMI. Thick large 4to (eleven and three-eighths inches by eight), old calf on wooden boards.

Venice, Vindelinus de Spira, 1477

VERY RARE. 243 leaves, slightly wormed and in the original binding of leather and oak boards. The latter part of the colophon reads :—"Anno domini 1477. per magistrum Vindelimum de Spira in urbe Venetiarum literis eneis impressus, die decima mensis Martii finit feliciter. Laus Deo."

The above is a good specimen of the typography of the second printer at Venice, a brother of John de Spira, who set up the first press in that city.

The above work of Peter Lombard, which afterwards constituted the great text-book of the scholastic theologians, and which established to that writer the title of "The Master," or "The Master of the Sentences," is exactly such an exposition of Christian doctrine as might have been expected from the conflict between reason and authority which existed in the Latin Church. It was regarded with the highest veneration as the precious depository of the Sentences of the Great Fathers and luminaries of the Church, and became itself an authority of the Church.

THE 1477 POMPONIUS MELA, WITH ILLUMINATIONS ADDED.

1619 POMPONII MELLÆ Cosmographiæ. Small 4to (seven and three-quarter inches by five), old stamped calf on wooden boards. Venice, 1477

VERY RARE and in Roman letter. The title has a hand-painted border with coat-of-arms—"or three bends azure," the verso of leaf twenty has an illuminated letter and border, and the last page is colored by hand with border and shield of arms. This is a fine copy to be left as it is, but can be easily ruined by cleaning and new binding, and is beyond all doubt the rarest of all the early editions of this cosmographical work, of which sixteenth century editions are classed as Americana.

The 1522 edition of Pomponius Mela contains one of the celebrated early maps of this continent. America appears on it as a narrow strip of land extending from the 55th degree of Southern Latitude to about 65 degrees North.

A RARE NUREMBERG EDITION OF ST. ANTONINUS.

1620 Black Letter.—| DECISIO CONSILIARISSUPRA DUBIO PRO-
DUCTO DE INDULGECIJS: EDI | TA PER REUERDU. IN XPO.
PATRE. ET DUM. FRATRE. ANTONINU. DE ORDI | NE PDICCA-
TOR. ARCHIEPM. FLORENTINU. DOCTOREM CLARISSIMUM. | Small folio (twelve and one-eighth inches by eight and three-eighths), half sheep. Nuremberg, [1477]

VERY RARE. The colophon reads:—"Impressum p Fridericum creussner ciuem Nurmbergen." The above is a folio of ten leaves, very wide margins, and from the library of Dr. Kloss, with his book-plate. It is a beautiful example of the press of the early printer Frederic Creusner of Nuremberg, who was issuing books there from 1473 to 1497.

The author of the above volume was St. Antoninus or "Little Antony," and who was born at Florence in 1389. His life was written by Castiglioni, a contemporary priest and Canon of Florence. A history of his chapel in the Dominicans' Church of St. Mark, at Florence, and of the translation of his body into the same in 1589, was printed at Florence in 1728. St. Antoninus held that—"all the riches of a successor of the Apostles ought to be his virtue." He was canonized by Adrian VI. in 1523. Quetif, Moreri, Cave, Dupin, and Alexand. Natalis all concur in ascribing to St. Antoninus the highest position amongst theologians. See also Dr. Pusey's Eirenicon, Part II.

PETER SCHOEFFER'S PRESS.—A MAGNIFICENT SPECI-MEN OF TYPOGRAPHY BY THE ASSOCIATE OF GUTEN-BERG AND FUST.

SCHOYFFER | DE GERNSZHEYM FELICITER EST
CONSUMMATA. | Thick large 4to (eleven and one-eighth inches by eight and an eighth), fine old stamped vellum.

Mayence, Peter Schoeffer, 1478

EXCESSIVELY RARE. 195 leaves, 31 lines to the page, broad margins, many ornamental letters in red, with the missal type letters of the Psalter of 1457 for the chapter headings, and the colophon printed in red accompanied by the well-known book device of Fust and Schoeffer.

This copy may be considered in fine condition and in every way a most desirable example of early printing, by one of its inventors. From the library of Dr. Kloss, with his book-plate.

1622 Black Letter.—BIBLIA LATINA | PROLOGUS IN BIBLIAM, | INCIPIT EPLA. SANCTI HIERONYMI AD PAULINU, P. BREM. D. ORB. DINE HISTORIE LIBRIS, | [INTERPRATIONES HEBRAICORU. NOMINU. SED IN ORDINEM ALPHABETI.] 2 vols. small folio (eleven and three-quarter inches by seven and three-eighths), half vellum.

Venice, 1478

EXTREMELY RARE. The colophon reads:—"Biblia impressa Venetijs opera atq. | impesa. Theodorici de Reynsburch | et Reynaldi de nouimagio. Theuto | nico. ac socio. MCCCCLXXVIIJ." There are in all 454 leaves of two columns to the page. Two leaves, one of the prologue, and probably the first of the book of Genesis, are wanting. With these exceptions the volumes are complete and in fair condition. The "Interpretationes hebraicoru. nominu." are at the end after the imprint.

Some loose pages of Italian MSS. by a former owner in reference to the copy are at the beginning of the first volume.

PETRARCH'S LIVES OF THE ROMAN PONTIFFS AND EMPERORS—FLORENCE, A.D. 1478.

1623 PETRARCH.—LE UITE DE PONTIFICI ET IMPERADORI ROMANI DA MESSERE FRANCIESCO PETRARCA. 4to (ten and five-eighths inches by eight), boards.

Impresseum, FLORENTIÆ, apud Sanctum Jacobum de Ripoli, Anno Domini MCCCCLXXVIII.

VERY RARE. An imperfect copy, with numerous MS. marginalia, of this rare edition of one of Petrarch's most sought after works. Five or six leaves from the beginning are wanting. The biographies of the Popes commence with St. Peter, A.D. 35.

The art of printing was introduced into Florence at a very early period. The first dated Florentine book, a commentary on Virgil, was printed by Bernardo and Dominico Cennini in 1471-72. Bernardo was a native of Florence, a worker in metal and goldsmith. He and his sons were the first to introduce printing into their native city.

Petrarch, who is most popular on account of his poetical works, wrote many other books, and in prose. His place in literature is thus located by Sismondi in the "History of the Italian Republics"—"A crowd of poets at this epoch obeyed the same inspiration. The name of Petrarch, born in 1304, and that of Boccaccio, in 1313, both Florentines, are the most universally known. The second owes his celebrity to the light, elegant and easy prose of his novels more than to his poetry. Both have descended to posterity with their Italian writings alone, which they regarded only as relaxations from their labor, and not with their Latin works, upon which they depended for their glory. . . . Petrarch and Boccaccio attained a degree of celebrity, credit and power, unequalled by any other men in the Middle Ages; not by reason of those merits which we feel at the present day, but as the pontiffs and interpreters of antiquity."

VERY RARE. 138 leaves and 38 lines in two columns to the page. From the library of Dr. Kloss with his book-plate and many capitals and other letters in red. The above date is given by Dr. Kloss in an MS. note. According to Tross and others, the editor of these sermons was Richard of Maidstone.

EARLY ALCHEMICAL WORK PRINTED AT LYONS IN 1478.

- 1625 Black Letter.—PRACTICA VALESCI DE THAR-AULA QUE ALS. PHILONIU DICITUR VNA CU. OIB. ANTI-DOTIS TAM SIMPLICIB., etc. Thick 4to (nine and a quarter inches by six and five-eighths), old stamped calf in wooden boards.

Lyons., impssum. p. Johem. Cleyn alemanu., 1478

VERY RARE. On the title and ends are early MS. notes—also portions of ancient vellum MS. This early alchemical and medical work is based upon the writings of Massowa, who was physician to Haroun-al-Raschid. Cleyn was one of the earliest printers at Lyons. Examples of his work are rare.

This volume is one of the finest of the early examples of the Lyons press, which was commenced in 1473 by Bartholomew Buyer; 250 works were printed at Lyons during the 15th century, and one of the most remarkable printed the century after was the 1521 edition of the Latin Vulgate Bible, it having been used by Luther, and whose copy is now preserved, covered with his MS. notes, in the Royal Library of Stockholm.

ST. THOMAS AQUINAS—A VENETIAN EDITION OF 1479.

- 1626 Black Letter.—SECUNDUS LIBER SECUNDE PARTIS THOME. DE AQUINO ORDINIS PREDICATORUM. Thick large quarto (eleven and five-eighths inches by eight and a quarter). Venice, 1479

VERY RARE. A fine copy with broad margins, but without printer's name. It lacks the first leaf. There are occasional contemporary marginalia.

TWO RARE FIFTEENTH CENTURY WORKS PRINTED IN ITALIAN 1479-82.

- 1627 CHERVBINI.—FRATRIS CHERVBINI MINORVM ORDI-NIS AD IACOBUM DE BORGIANNIS SPIRITUALIS
INTE COMPENDIOSA REGULA QUEDAM HEC EST, Florentie, per me Nicholaum Alamanuca, 1482;—also CONFESSIONALE IN VULGARE SERMONE EDITUM PER

VENERABILEM ANTONINU ARCHIEPISCOPUM FLORENTIÆ [Venice, per Raynaldo de Novimagio, 1479].

2 vols. in 1. 4to (eight and one-eighth inches by five and a half), half vellum.

VERY RARE. The first in Roman letters, with three leaves reproduced by pen, and the second in Gothic. Both in fair condition, and in Italian. They are among the earliest works printed in that tongue, and are valuable on that account.

VERY CURIOUS ZWOLL IMPRINT, WITH EARLY WOODCUTS.

1628 Black Letter.—BARTHOLOMEI COLONIENSIS CANONES VNA CUM DECLARATIONIBUS EORUNDEM IN TABULAS COMPUTI ECCLESIASTICI, etc. Small 4to (seven and a half inches by five and a half). Zwoll, [circa 1479]

VERY RARE. The engraving on the last leaf of Mars and Saturn with a crab between them is one of the very curious fifteenth century cuts. That of Christ in the Garden on the title is also interesting. There are curious arithmetical diagrams, coats-of-arms and printer's mark below the colophon, which reads—"Impressit petr. ossessis calcograph. zwollensis." Peter Os de Breda and Johannes de Vollhoe were the first printers of Zwoll in the Netherlands. The first printed book there with a date is the "Vocabularius" of 1479.

The only other known copy is in the Royal Library at the Hague.

BLACK LETTER WORK OF BISHOP JOHN ANDRE ON MARRIAGE.

1629 Black Letter.—JOHANNIS ANDREE DE SPOSALIBUS. ET MATRIMONIJS. Small 4to (seven and three-eighths inches by five and three-eighths). [? Rome, circa 1480]

VERY RARE. This early brochure consists of eight leaves, 33 lines to the page. It is in fine condition. This most interesting and curious tract, Gen. Hawkins thinks, was, probably, printed at Rome by Stephen Planck, about 1480. The author was John Andre or Andreas, Bishop of Aleria, who read the proofs and wrote the prefaces and dedications of many of the books printed by the first printers of Rome, Sweynheym and Pannartz, vide note to lot 1591.

A GRAND COPY OF THE 1480 EDITION OF ST. ANTONINUS.

1630 Black Letter.—VTILISSIMA CONFSSIONIS FUMULA A REVERENDISSIMO IN CHRISTO PATRE FRATRE ANTONINO ARCHIEPO. FLORENTINO EDITA: CUI V-TILITATIS P. TEXTU. 4to (eight and a quarter inches by five and three-quarters), fine old purple morocco, gilt.

Venice, John de Colonia et John Manthen Gherretzen, 1480

VERY RARE and a SPLENDID COPY. The initials are inserted in red by hand. The above title is the first part of the colophon—the second reads:—"Impendio Johannis colonie agrippine et Johannis q. Manthen Gherretzen socioru. Venetijs eadem impressioni dedita est; 3^o. Cal. April anno salutis dni. ce. M.CCCCLXXX."

The early Venetian printers John de Colonia and John Manthen Geretzen, as well as St. Antoninus, have been fully referred to in previous notes of this division of the Hawkins Catalogue.

NICHOLAS JENSON'S 1480 EDITION OF ST. THOMAS AQUINAS.

- 1631 Black Letter.—DE VERITATE CATOLICE FIDEI ET ERRO-RES GENTILIU: EDITUS A VENERABILI FRATRE THOMA
DE AGNO, D. ORDINE FUM. PDICATOR. DOCTORE EGREGIO.
Large 4to (eleven and three-eighths inches by eight), half vellum. Venice, Nicolaus Jenson gallicus, 1480

VERY RARE. This copy of St. Thomas Aquinas, printed by Nicholas Jenson in 1480, has 194 leaves, 55 lines and two columns to the page of Gothic type. In fair condition and somewhat stained. The recto of the fifth leaf has a large capital in blue and at the bottom of the same page, in colors, the arms of a former owner:—"Argent a greyhound rampant azure." Books with Gothic types, by Jenson, are very scarce. He usually used the Roman.

THE LIFE OF ST. JEROME IN ITALIAN—TREVISO, 1480.

- 1632 ST. JEROME.—LA VITA DEL GLORIOSO SANCTO HIERONYMO DOCTORE EXCELLENTISSIMO. 4to (eight and one-eighth inches by five and five-eighths), original thick wooden boards.

Treviso, per Michele Manzolo de Parmo, 1480

VERY RARE. This edition of the Life of St. Jerome, loose in oak boards, commencing "A II," is in fair condition for binding. It is in the Italian tongue and for that reason valuable.

MICHAEL OF HUNGARY'S SERMONS—A VOLUME OF DEEP INCUNABULIC INTEREST.

- 1633 Black Letter.—SERMONES TREDECIM VNIUER-
SALES MAGISTRI MICHAELIS DE UNGARIA.
4to (seven and seven-eighths by five), elegantly bound in crushed levant morocco extra, beveled sides, dark edges, by AMAND, of Paris.

[Louvain, Jean de Westphalie, 1480]

EXCESSIVELY RARE volume of 128 leaves, and a most beautiful example from the press of the first printer at Louvain; as fresh, clean and perfect as when it first came from the hands of the printer. Bigmore and Wyman, in their bibliography of printing, write as follows respecting the eleventh letter of Madden's "Lettres d'un Bibliographe—Deuxième Série," and pertinent to this work:—"Eleventh letter: Of an edition of the 'Imitatio,' printed by John of Westphalia, and its remarkable typographical defects. What is their cause? Of the 'Sermones Michaelis de Hungaria' of the same printer. Of another edition of the same printer. Of another edition of the 'Imitatio' by John of Westphalia, and comparison of the two texts. Here it is shown that they were dictated from one manuscript to two compositors at once, and that it was neither John of Westphalia nor Thierry Martens of Alost who introduced printing into the Low Countries, but the Brothers of the Life-in-Common, of the Convent of St. Gregory, in Louvain."

TWO RARE FIFTEENTH CENTURY BROCHURES—THE FIRST ON MOHAMMEDAN PERSECUTIONS.

- 1634 Black Letter.—TRACTATUS QUIDA. DE TURCIS
AUT AD PSENS. ECCLESIA SANCTIS AB EIS AFFLIGIT, etc., Nuremberg, 1481; also—
ORATIO EDITIA PERREUERENDUM FRATREM JACOBUM
DE CURTE ORDINIS AUGUSTINENSEM, Venice, n. d.

2 vols. in 1. Small 4to (seven and three-quarter inches by five and a quarter).

VERY RARE and slightly wormed. The first title was—"Impressus anno. dni. MCCCLXXXI, Nureberge. per conradum zeninger." The colophon of the second reads:—"Impressum Venetijs per magistrum. Erhardum radolt de Augusta."

NICHOLAS DE LYRA'S POSTILS—THE VENICE EDITIONS OF 1482-88.

1635 Black Letter.—BIBLIA LATINA.—POSTILLA VENERABILIS FRATRIS NICOLAI DE LYRA. 4 vols. thick small folio (twelve and a half inches by eight and a half), old half sheep. Venice, 1482-88

VERY RARE and in fair condition. The colophon to volume two of the "New Testament" states that portion was printed in 1482 by—"Franciscus Renner de Hailbrun." The Old Testament was finished by "Anton de Strata" in 1488.

The author of the Postils was Nicholas de Lyra, vel Lyranus, who was born about 1270 and died in 1340. This celebrated biblical commentator was a French monk, who knew more about Greek and Hebrew, it was said, than any scholar of his time. His commentary has always been greatly esteemed by the learned.

"Celebratissima est inter scriptores Medi Ævi Glossa illa, quæ Ordinaria dicitur, quia commune omnium interpretum fuit refugium, tantæque auctoritatis, etc."—MASCH.

THE FIRST EDITION OF EUCLID, AND THE FIRST BOOK PRINTED WITH WOODCUT DIAGRAMS.

1635* EUCLIDES. OPUS ELEMENTARUM. UNA CUM COMMENTIS CAMPANI IN ARTEM GEOMETRIAM, Venice, Erhardus radolt Augustensis impressor solertissimus, 1482.

Also—SACROBUSTO, SPHERA MUNDI. E. TRIBUS COMMENTIS. NUPER EDITIS. V. CICCHI ESCULANI, FRANCISCI CAPUANI DE MANFREDONIA, JACOBI FABRI STOPULENSIS, Venice, per Simonem Papiensem, 1499.

Also—GEOR. PURBACHII THEORICA NOVA PLANATARIUM, COMM. FR. CAPUANI DE MANFREDONIA. [Venice, 1499]

TOGETHER 3 works in 1 volume. Large 4to (twelve and an eighth inches by eight and three-eighths), vellum (a few pages mounted and some slightly stained).

Venice, 1482-99

EXTREMELY RARE. It is seldom that such an array of rare and valuable works are found bound together. The first edition of Euclid, and which is the first book issued with woodcut diagrams, is not often offered for sale, and when it is a very large price is usually paid for it.

The copy in the Syston Park sale brought £15 10s., and a vellum copy in the Osterly Park sale £53, i. e., $265.

The recto of the second leaf has the beautiful metal-plate border used by Radolt for the first time in 1477 in the production of his edition of Appian.

The second and third works described contain numerous illustrations and are also rare and interesting. Purbach, the author, was born at Puerbach, Austria, studied in Vienna and Italy; and the production of his work, "New Theories of the Planets," gave him a great reputation for astronomical knowledge. The binding is old vellum, and all are in good condition.

VENTURI'S GRAMMATICAL WORK, A. D. 1482.

- 1636 VENTURINUS (Franciscus). RUDIMENTA GRAMMATICES [ex multis voluminibus excerpta et in unum corpus redacta]. 4to (ten and a half inches by seven and three-quarters), half sheep.

Florentiæ, per me Anthonium bartholomei, mischomini, anno salutis, MCCCCLXXXII.

VERY RARE. 178 leaves, 33 lines to the page, wide margins, two capitals inserted in colored scroll-work, and in good condition generally, excepting a few worm holes at the end. This is not only a beautiful specimen of early printing, but a very rare book upon an important subject.

THOMAS AQUINAS—A 1842 VENICE EDITION.

- 1637 Black Letter.—PRIMA PARSSUME, SUPER TOTAM THEOLOGIAM FRATRIS SANCTI THOME DE AQUINO ANGELICO DOCTORE ORDINIS PREDICATORUM. Large 4to (eleven and three-quarter inches by seven and seven-eighths), old half sheep, gilt.

Venetiis, impressa per Antonium de Strata de
Cremona, 1482

VERY RARE. 197 leaves, 2 columns and 57-59 lines to the page. A beautiful example of early printing; in a fine, clean condition, and very slightly stained.

THE VERY RARE SOLOMON AND MARCOLPHUS.

- 1638 Black Letter.—INCIPIUNT COLLATIONES QUAS | DICUNTUR FECISSE MUTUO REX SALOMON SAPIETISSIMUS ET | MARCOLPHUS FACIE DEFORMIS ET TURPISSIMUS TAMEN VT | FERTUR ELOQUENTISSIMUS FELICITUR. | Small 4to (seven and three-quarter inches by five and a half), stamped parchment. n. p., circa 1482

VERY RARE, black letter, initials inserted, and with curious wood-block cut on title, colored by hand, with figure and border added in outline to the margins. Contemporary MS. on fly-leaf.

"Une de 1482 in 4, sans lieu d'impression ni nom d'imprimeur."—BRUNET.

"REI RUSTICÆ" PRINTED BY THE FIRST TYPOTHETÆ OF REGGIO IN 1482.

- 1639 REI RUSTICÆ SCRIPTORES CATO, TERENCEIUS VARRO, COLUMELLA, PALLADIUS RUTILIUS. PRÆMISSA EST EPISTOLÆ GEORGII ALEXANDRINI AD PETRUM PRIOLUM, etc., etc. Thick large 4to (twelve and three-quarter inches by nine), boards.

Reggio, Impressi Regii opera et impensis Bartholomei Bruschi al. Boloni Regiensis nonis
Iunii, MCCCCLXXXII.

VERY RARE. Leaves 302, lines 40 to the page and double columns. A very fine clean copy with wide margins of the rare second edition of this great work, and also the fourth issue from a press at Reggio, in Modena. Printed with type used in printing the first and by one of two brothers, who were the first to set up a press in that city. This is in every respect a desirable example of early printing.

THE MILAN SALLUST OF 1482.

1640 SALLUST.—HOC LUCII CATILINÆ GESTORUM ATQUE INTÆ IUGURTHINI QUOQUE CRISPI, etc. 4to (eleven inches by seven and a half), sewed in cover.

Milan, impressum per Leonardu pachel una cum Vlderico scinzenceller eius socio nono Kaledas. februarii Anno domini, 1482

VERY RARE. 47 leaves with wide margins, many beautiful capital letters in colors, and a fine specimen of early Milan printing.

THE FIRST BOOK FROM THE MEMMINGEN PRESS AND ISSUED IN 1482.

1641 Black Letter.—ROLEVINCK (WERNERUS). FASISCULUS TEMPORUM. 4to (ten and seven-eighths inches by eight), old half leather wooden boards.

Memmingen, Impressum p. me Albertu Kune de Duderstat Magunt. dyoces, 1482

VERY RARE. 71 leaves commencing "A 2," with numerous early marginalia and MS. on inside of covers. With two colophons, that at the end being simply—"Impressus Memmingen."

Rolevinck's Chronicle was one of the most popular of the fifteenth century books. The above is the sixteenth of the thirty-five known editions printed before the year 1501. The work is a chronological history of the world from the creation, illustrated with many curious woodcuts, and is also a copy of the first publication from the press of Memmingen, in Bavaria.

"The earliest specimen of the typography of this town [Memmingen] is an edition of the well-known chronicle entitled 'Fasisculus Temporum.' . . . This work was executed by Albertus Kunne de Duderstadt, who had previously been a printer at Trent, and who appears to have reigned without a rival at Memmingen, as more than fifty of his books are mentioned by Panzer in the XVth century, but not one single volume executed by any other printer."—COTTON.

TURRECREMATA—FROM THE PRESS OF THE FIRST PRINTER AT TURIN.

1642 TURRECREMATA (Joannes de). LAUDABILIS EXPOSITIO SUPER PSALTERIU. 4to (nine and a half inches by seven and a quarter), half sheep. Turin, 1482

VERY RARE. 164 leaves and in fair condition. The colophon ends:—"Impressa per egregium magistrum Iohannem Fabri lingonensem de anno domini Millesimo. CCCCLXXXII die XXIX Marcii."

This is the ninth book from the press of the first printer at Turin, in Piedmont, and of whom Gen. Hawkins writes:—"Fabri was probably a native of Langres, France, his name in that country being Jean Lefevre. He has sometimes been confounded with Jo. Faber, a German, who printed at Lyons from 1478 to 1494, and with another of the same name who was at Stockholm in 1495 and 1496."—"First Books and Printers of the Fifteenth Century," page 37.

EARLY ALCHEMICAL WORK OF A MOORISH PHILOSOPHER.

- 1643 Black Letter.—AUEROYS, LIBER DE MEDICINA. 4to (eleven and five-eighths inches by seven and three quarters), half sheep. Ferrara, 1482

EXTREMELY RARE. The colophon reads:— | “Anno gratie domini 1482 die octo | bris: Deo dante. Finis impositus est huic | aurei operi Aueroys phil-osophorum ex | imii diligenti cura Emendato. Impso uo. | p. Solertes impssares Magistrum Lau | rentium de Valetia et Socios. In felici Fer | rariensi Gimmasio, Diuo Hercule Duce | inuictissimo bene merito Regnante | Laus Deo. |
There are 116 leaves to this volume, of which a few are holed and the first two mended.

Panzer and Hain, without having seen a copy of this book, have attributed it to a printer at Venice. It is, without doubt, a very scarce specimen from one of the early presses at Ferrara. The author was born at Cordova, in Spain, about the first quarter of the twelfth century, was one of the most learned and accomplished of the Arabian philosophers, alchemists and physicians. He died at Morocco in 1198.

The art of printing was exercised at Ferrara as early as 1471. Andreas Belbrus Gallus was the first printer of this important Italian town.

BISHOP VORAIGNE—AN EDITION BY THE FIRST PRINTER OF DELFT.

- 1644 Black Letter.—VORAIGNE (Jac. de). PASSIONAEL SOMERSTRUC. Thick 4to (ten and one-eighth by seven and five-eighths), vellum.

Delft in hollant, MCCCCLXXXII.

VERY RARE, and printed by Jacob Jacobzoon van der Meer, with his heraldic printer's mark under the colophon, also many ornamental initials in colors.
According to Campbell, this edition in Dutch is the seventeenth book of the first printers at Delft. Cotton says, that at Delft—“ was printed in 1477 ‘ De Bybel dat neve Testament,’ being the first edition of the Dutch Bible in two volumes, folio, by Jacob Soëns. A volume ‘ Dat passionel,’ being an earlier date (1472) should, perhaps, be rather assigned to 1482.” The colophon of the above lot proves Cotton's statement to be correct.

Jacobus de Voraigue, author of the above, was a general of the great Dominican Order and Bishop of Genoa. He flourished in the thirteenth century, and Cave states—“ He is said to have known almost all St. Augustine by heart.”
He was the author of a complete series of sermons, as well as the Golden Legend, and Pusey quotes them largely in his “ Eirenicon.”

FIRST EDITION OF PLATO AND PRINTED AT FLORENCE IN BLACK LETTER.

- 1645 Black Letter.—PLATONIS OPERA LATINE A MAR-SILIO FICINO. 4to (ten and seven-eighths inches by eight), boards. Florence, per Laurentii Venetu [? 1483]

VERY RARE. 179 leaves of the second part of this first edition of the works of Plato. The whole or any part of this edition is seldom found for sale.
A few pages are stained slightly.

THE 1483 VENICE EDITION OF AQUINAS.

- 1646 Black Letter.—PRIMA PARS SECUNDE. PARTIS SUMME THEOLOGIE EXIMIJ DOCTORIS SANCTI THOME DE AQUINI ORDINIS PREDICATORUM. Small folio (twelve inches by eight), half sheep. Venice, 1483

VERY RARE. 202 leaves, sixty lines, and two columns to the page, some pages waterstained in the margins and a few leaves wormed. The names of the printers are given in the colophon:—"Impssa. p. Andream de Torresanis de Asula: Bartolomeu de baiijs de Alexandria: & Mapheum de Peterbonis de Salodio Socios." Copies of this edition of Aquinas are exceedingly rare.

BALBUS—HIS LATIN GRAMMAR AND DICTIONARY,
VENICE, 1483.

- 1647 Black Letter.—BALBUS (Joh. de). OPUS PRECLARU. PICTU. CATHOLICON: EDITU. A FRATRE JOHANNE ORDINIS FRATRU. PREDICATORUM. Small folio (twelve inches by eight and a quarter), fine old russia, rebounded. Venice, impesa. Hermannii liechtenstein coloniensis, 1483

EXTREMELY RARE and printed by an ancestor of the Princes of Liechtenstein, and with colored initials. An unusually fine copy of this very ancient Latin Grammar and Dictionary. The Grammar is divided into four parts—"Orthographia," "Etymologia," "Diasyntactica" and "Prosodia," and the Dictionary commences with "Alma" and ends with "Zozimus."

THE CHRONICLE OF EUSEBIUS, CONTAINING ONE OF
FEW REFERENCES IN THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY TO GUTENBERG AS THE INVENTOR OF PRINTING.

- 1648 Black Letter.—EUSEBII CÆSARIENSIS EPISCOPI. CHRONICON ID EST TEMPORUM BREVIARIUM. 4to (eight and a quarter inches by six and one-eighth), vellum. Venice, Erhardus Ratdolt Augustiensis, 1483

VERY RARE and commencing "A 3." Rubricated throughout and with initials illuminated by hand in gold and colors. The first table is bound at the end. On page 155 will be found one of the very few mentions of Gutenberg's name during the fifteenth century as the inventor of printing. It says:—
| "Quantu litteraru. studiosi Germanis debeant | nullo satis divedi. genere exprimi posset. Naqz. | a JOANNE GUTENBERG Zinunge equiti Mogu-
tie. rhein solerti ingenio libror. Imprime dor. | ratio 1440 inenta. hoc repe. i oes.
fere, orbe par. | tes ppagat. q. omnis antiquitas. paruo ere. copa- | rata posterior
ib. infinitis voluminib. legiter." |

TRANSLATION.—"How much students of literature owe to the Germans cannot be expressed adequately by any form of speech. Especially the method of printing books discovered in the year 1440 by the remarkable genius of JOHN GUTENBERG, Zum-Junghen, Knight, of Mayence on the Rhine. This being quickly propagated in almost every part of the globe, all antiquity is read by posterity in an infinite number of volumes at a small price considering the quality of copies."

This may probably help to solve the Coster heresy as to the inventor of the art typographic, as it most certainly endorses the statement of the good Abbot Trithemius in the "Chronicon Spanheimense," under the year 1450, that printing was invented by his contemporary John Gutenberg, who—"lived at Mentz in a house called the Zum Junghen, but afterwards known by the name of the Printing House."

THE FIRST MEMMINGEN PRINTER'S EDITION OF THOMAS AQUINAS.

- 1649 Black Letter.—THOMA DE AQUINO. TRACTATUS SOLLENNIS DE ARTE ET VERO MODO PREDICADI EX DIVERSIS SACROR DOCTORUM, etc., etc. Small 4to (seven and five-eighths by five and a half).

Memmingen, per Albertum Kunne de duderstat, 1483

VERY RARE tract of twelve leaves from the press of the first printer of Memmingen, in Bavaria.

THE EXTREMELY RARE WORK OF UBALDUS ON FEUDAL CUSTOMS, ETC.

- 1650 UBALDUS (Nicolaus de Perusio). FAMOSISSUM OPUS BALDI SUPER USIBUS FEUDORUM. Thick folio (sixteen inches by eleven and a quarter), old half sheep.

Pavia, impressum Papie per Benignam de honate impensis dni. Petri antonii de Castiliano Civis Mediolanen primo Octbr., 1483.

VERY RARE edition in Roman letter of Baldus on Succession, etc., with marginalia in fifteenth century MS. Only a few copies of this work are known.

Bound up at the end of the above is—"Repetitio pulchra dni. pauli di Castro in rubrica de liberis et postumis." This was printed at Pavia in 1483 by—"Jo. Francilchi de Pezanis."

AN EDITION OF HUGO OF VIENNA BY THE FIRST LEYDEN PRINTER.

- 1651 Black Letter.—HUGO DE VIENA: Sup illo Genz. primo Faciamus homine, etc.:—also Ambulante in dilictione, etc. Small 4to, sewed. Leyden, 1484

EXTREMELY RARE. Nine leaves, 28 lines to the page, in fair condition but slightly wormed. The colophon reads:—"Impssu. Leydis Anno MCCCC. LXXXIIII. die X Marcii Per me Heynricu. heynrici."

This little specimen of printing from the press of the first printer of Leyden is a great rarity. There are two continuous tractates and from the end of a work of Michael de Hungaria.

Leyden—Lvgdvnvm Batavorvm—had printing commenced as early as 1483, yet we have scarcely any except Dutch books from there before the close of the fifteenth century. The above is therefore rare, being in Latin. Gen. Hawkins says on page 81 of his book—"This first-known book [i. e., Die Cronike va Hollant] of Leyden is said to be the work of Heynricus Heynrici, who, it is believed, was the first printer of that city." It antedates all the Elzevirs.

AN UNKNOWN ROMAN PRINTER'S EDITION OF THE REGULATIONS OF POPE INNOCENT THE EIGHTH.

- 1652 Black Letter.—REGULE CANCELLAIRE S. INNO. P. VIII. Small 4to (eight inches by five and a quarter), cloth. [Rome], 1484

EXTREMELY RARE. Eleven leaves, 34 and 35 lines to the page, and in good condition, but the title torn and a few pages stained. The small uncouth Gothic type with which this tract was printed is quite unknown. It being the first edition of these "Regulations," the probabilities are in favor of its having been printed at Rome, but when, where or by whom it was issued nothing definite is known.

EXTRAORDINARY ASTROLOGICAL WORK FROM THE ARABIC—VENICE, 1484.

- 1653 Black Letter.—LIBER QUADRIpartiti, PTOLOMEI
ID E QUATTUOR TRACTATU: IN RADICANTI DISCRETIONE
P. STELLAS D. FUTURIS i hoc mundo costructionis et des-tructionis. cotingelib., etc. 4to (eight and three-quarter inches by six and one-eighth), half sheep (two end leaves stained).

Venice, impressum per Erhardum ratdolt de Augusta, die 15 mensis Januarii, 1484

VERY RARE. First Latin edition from the Arabic. In two columns, with rubrications, astrological cut, tables and many beautiful initials engraved on wood and for which Erhardt Ratdolt was so justly famous.

THE "COLOGNE MISSAL," PRINTED BY JOHN DE
LUBECK IN 1486.

- 1654 Black Letter.—ORDINARI. MISSAR. SCD'Z MAIORE ECCLESIAM COLONIENSEN. Thick minimo (five and a quarter inches by three and five-eighths), vellum.

Cologne, [John de Lubeck vel Kollhoff], 1486

EXTREMELY RARE. This copy of an unknown edition of the "Cologne Missal" was once the property of Dr. Kloss and has his book-plate inserted.
It is so rare that neither Panzer, Hain nor Ebert mention it. The first and last leaves are slightly torn without interfering with the text. The initials throughout are inserted in black and blue by hand. It is a valuable specimen of the art of printing at Cologne.

John de Lubeck was one of the earliest Cologne printers, and Timperley suggests that as—"his date is older than either himself or the invention of printing, it is uncertain as to the exact time of his appearing." Cotton in the "Typographical Gazetteer" styles him "Johannes Kolhoff de Lubec" and claims him to be the first who made use of signatures. He seems to have been associated with William Caxton in the publication at Cologne of "Bartholomæus de proprietatibus rerum" in Latin, which bears, however, only the imprint of Jo. Koellhoff, although Wynkyn de Worde alludes as follows in his English edition of the same book:—

"And also of your charyte bear in remembrance
The soule of William Caxton, first printer of this boke,
In Latyn tongue at Coleyn, himself to advaunce
That every well disposyd man may thereon loke."

AN EARLY IMPRINT BY THE FIRST MEMMINGEN PRINTER.

- 1655 Black Letter.—[BERNHARDUS DE PAREN-
TINIS] OFFICII MISSÆ. SACRIQUE CANONIS EXPOSITIO [in alma Universitate Lipziensi edita]. Large 4to (eleven inches by eight), boards.

[Memmingen, Alb. Kunne, circa 1486]

VERY RARE. 133 leaves, 2 columns and 42 lines to the page. In good condition and in every way a most desirable specimen from the press of the the first printer of Memmingen and Duderstadt. From the library of Dr.
Kloss, with his book-plate, and the name of the printer, place of issue, and the date inserted in his handwriting on the cover.

FIRST EDITION OF THE HISTORY OF THE VISCONTIS, DUKES OF MILAN.

1656 MERULA ALEXANDRINUS (Georgius). ANTIQVITATIS VICE COMITUM. Large 4to (eleven and a quarter inches by seven and five-eighths), half sheep.

[Milan, Alexander Minutecinus, circa 1486]

VERY RARE. 143 leaves, 39 lines to the page, and in fine condition, with some marginalia and some pp. stained. Preceding the text, which commences "A I" is the dedication to Lodovico Maria Sforza, Duke of Milan, and index, beginning A II. This is the rare first edition of the "History of the Visconti, Princes of Milan."

THE EXTREMELY RARE FIRST EDITION OF THE MORALS OF ST. GREGORY—WITH REMARKABLE PORTRAIT ON METAL—FLORENCE, 1486.

1657 GREGORIO (St., Papa). I MORALE VOLGARIZZATI DA ZANOBI DA STRADA E DA GIOVANNI DA SAMMINIATO. 2 vols. large 4to (twelve and five-eighths by eight and three-quarters), half vellum gilt, red edges.

Florence, Nicolo di Lorenzo della Magna, 1486

EXTREMELY RARE, and in Roman letter. Double columns, 43 and 44 lines to the page, and 626 leaves. A fine clean perfect copy, and in every way most desirable.

This "Editio Princeps" of the great work of St. Gregory, is printed in the best Tuscan-Italian, and was one of the first works admitted to the Florentine Academy, and it is for that reason especially valuable to scholars.

The first volume has at its commencement a full-page portrait of the author, printed from a metal plate, which Gen. Hawkins claims is among the earliest of the authenticated Italian metal engravings.

An inserted catalogue cutting shows that Quaritch asked £8 for the Wellesley copy of this grand edition of the works of Gregory the Great, the celebrated sixth century Pontiff, Father and Saint of the Catholic Church, who brought Britain within the pale of Christianity, and of whom it is written—"he devoted himself altogether to God."

QUADRAGESIMALE BY THE MONK CRACHANO.

1658 Black Letter.—QUADRAGESIMALE SEU SERMONARIU. DUPLICATU. SCILICET PER ADVENTU ET QUADRAGESIMA.: de PENITENTETIA ET EIUS PARTIB. Editu. a venerabili viro fre. MICHAELE DE [CRACHANO.] MEDIOLANO ordinis minor. obseruatin. Small 4to (eight and three-eighths inches by six and one-eighth), vellum.

Venice, 1487

VERY RARE. 221 leaves. A fine copy, with occasional MS. notes and added manuscript index. The colophon reads:—"Impressu, optimag. castigatione emandatu: cura et impensis Nicholai Franckfort: 3. idus Decebris. anno Salutis. 1487. Venetijs. Laus Deo."

THE CONSTANTINE BREVIARY—CIRCA 1487.

- 1659 Black Letter.—BREVIARUM CONSTANTIENSE.
Large 4to (eleven and seven-eighths inches by eight and a quarter), fresh half vellum. [? Augsburg, 1487]

VERY RARE. 57 leaves, wide margins, and all the text, including the calendar, rubricated. This volume is probably from the Augsburg press of Erhardt Ratdolt, circ. 1487. The woodcut of "Madonna and Child, with two Saints in Attendance," on the verso of the first leaf is certainly of that town, and the type and press-work speak for themselves. The crowns of the Saints, the crescent moon and coat-of-arms in this cut are reddened by a later hand.

A BLACK LETTER BY JOHN DE AMERBACH OF BASLE, 1487.

- 1659* Black Letter.—NICOLAUS DE TUDESCHIS.
ABBATIS SICULI, Libri Secundi pars prima et Secunda
Decretalium. Thick square folio (thirteen and a half inches by nine and three-eighths).

Basle, "Impressa Basilee per Magistrum Ioanne de Amerbach," 1487

VERY RARE, and by one of the most notable printers of the fifteenth century. Amerbach was of a good family and well educated. Examples of his work are especially valued for their accuracy and mechanical execution.

"Basle was the first city in Switzerland which could boast of the art of printing, which is thought to have been carried thither by Berthold Rodt of Hanau—formerly employed in the office of Füst at Mayence—between the years 1460 and 1465."—COTTON.

RARE EDITION OF SABELLICUS—VENICE, 1488.

- 1660 MARCI ANTONII SABELLICI DE VENETÆ URBIS SITU, etc. 4to (eight and a quarter inches by five and three-quarters), old stamped calf on wooden boards, with brass clasp.

Venice, impressa per Antonium de Strata Cremonense anno Domini M.CCCC.LXXXVIII.

VERY RARE. With MS. marginalia. Printed in Roman types with two leaves in the centre in black letter. In this volume there are four rare works by Sabellicus. The first, "De Situ Orbis," and the last, "De Venetis Magistratibus," are of exceptional interest.

THE "OPUSCULA" OF ST. AMBROSE—MILAN, 1488.

- 1661 ST. AMBROSE.—VITA GLORIOSE VIRGINIS AGNETIS A SANCTO AMBROSIO EDITA; and several others by the same author. 4to (eight and one-eighth inches by five and seven-eighths), half sheep. Milan, 1488

VERY RARE, and in small Roman types. 58 leaves, with wide margins, MS. marginalia, and in fine condition. The colophon ends:—"M'i. Impressum per magistrum Vldericu. scinzenzeler teutonicu. Opera et impensa domini Philippi Lanagnæ ciuis mecholanesis. Anno dni. MCCCCLXXXVIII. Die uero XVII. Ianuarii."

Saint Ambrose, Archbishop of Milan, flourished in the fourth century. His complete writings fill two folio volumes in the printed editions of Erasmus, Basle, 1527, and of the Benedictines, Paris, 1686-90. The greatest legacies, however, that he left to the Church are his hymns, and the Ambrosian chant. He first reduced the music of Catholicity to an orderly system and style. Although the Gregorian music is principally used ecclesiastically, in our age, the Milanese Churches still boast that they retain the rhythm and cadence which their great Archbishop left them. St. Ambrose is still claimed by many as the author of the "Te Deum."

FIFTEENTH CENTURY BLACK LETTER, WITH CURIOUS ENGRAVING.

1662 Black Letter.—TRACTATUS IN ELUCIDATIONEM CUIUSDAM HOSTIE RUBRICATÆ IN VRBE INCLITA BERNA. Small 4to (seven and five-eighths inches by five and a quarter), sewed. [? Basle, circa 1488]

VERY RARE, with curious wood engraving on title representing statue of B. V. M. and Dead Christ, St. Francis with the stigmata and tonsured monks in a church. On the last page are the following concluding lines:—"Magister Jacobus de marcepalto ordinis minorum couentus Naneten.

Gen. Hawkins has written this note on the cover:—"The engraving is certainly the work of a Basle artist, and the tract must have been printed at that city about 1488. This copy came from the University of Friburg."

EXCESSIVELY RARE WORK AGAINST THE JEWS.

1663 PETRI BRUTI VENETI EPISCOPI CATHAREISIS, VICTORIA CONTRA IUDAEOS. Square small folio (twelve and one-eighth inches by eight), half morocco. Vicenza, 1488

EXTREMELY RARE. 130 leaves, and 40 lines to the page. A fine copy of the first edition of a rare and interesting work.

Specimens of any fifteenth century press of the City of Vicenza are seldom found for sale. This was printed by Simon de Gabis, one of the most notable of the early Vicenza printers, the first of whom were Joannes de Reno and "Leonardo da Basilia."

A VENICE BLACK LETTER, WITH ITALIAN RENAISSANCE ILLUMINATIONS PAINTED BY HAND.

1664 Black Letter.—AUSINO (Nicolaus de). SUPPLEMENTUM SUMMÆ PISANELLÆ. Thick 4to (eight and three-eighths inches by five and seven-eighths), old calf on wooden boards (loose). Venice, 1489

EXTREMELY RARE. The colophon reads:—"Impressum est opus hoc Venetijs Cura atqz diligentia Leonard Unild de Ratisbona, 1489." The last leaf is damaged. This copy has "ends" of ancient MSS, wide margins, and the capitals are added throughout in red and blue. There is some beautiful Italian Renaissance work on the first page—a capital "O" illuminated in colors, heightened with gold. At the bottom is some floriated ornamentation in gold and in colors—the centre of which is circular and with the letters "I. B."

DIOGENES LAERTIUS—VENICE, 1490.

1665 DIOGENES LAERTIUS. DE VITA ET MORIBUS PHILOSOPHORUM. Small 4to (seven and five-eighths inches by six), boards, red edges.

Venice, impensis nobilis uiri Octauiani Scoti

ciuis Modoetresis, 1490

VERY RARE. 112 leaves, 42 lines to the page, many engraved floriated initials, and in fine condition.

The works of Diogenes Laertius are valuable for information respecting the ancient Greek philosophers, that can be obtained nowhere else.

ST. AUGUSTINE'S OPUSCULA—VENICE, 1491.

- 1666 Black Letter.—AURELII AUGUSTINI HIPPO-NENSIS EP. AC DOCTORIS ECCLESIE SANCTISSIMI PARIT.
ET PERSIPACISSIMI: PLURIMORUM OPUSCULOR. NECNON VITE EI A POSSIDONIE SCRIPTE. Thick 4to (nine and three-eighths inches by seven and seven eighths), unbound.

Venice, ipesis. et opa. Dionysii Bertochi de Bologna, 1491

VERY RARE. 338 leaves, 2 columns, 55 lines to the page and unbound, but in good condition.

This is a very rare and valuable edition of the miscellaneous works of St. Augustine, Bishop of Hippo, the influence of whose literary labors has been felt for over 1500 years. He compacted the Christian religion into a system, with a logic, the severity of which is relieved by the glow of his eloquence and the fervor of his piety.

BONAVENTURE ON THE SENTENCES—NUREMBERG, 1491.

- 1667 Black Letter.—ST. BONAVENTURE. PERLUSTRA-
TIO IN LIB. IV. SENTENTIARUM. 2 vols. thick small folio (twelve and a quarter inches by eight and a quarter), stamped leather on wooden boards. Nuremberg, 1491

VERY RARE, a few pp. wormed.

The author of this work was St. Bonaventure, the "Seraphic Doctor," and great scholast of the Franciscans, who was born in Tuscany, A.D. 1221, and died at Lyons in 1274, universally regretted as the second of the two great lights which illumined that age. His works, besides the above, consist of Exposition of Genesis, Psalms, Ecclesiasticus, Wisdom, Lamentations, Matthew, Luke and John; Sermons; Commentaries on the Four Books of Sentences; seventy-three tracts.

Dante has added to Bonaventure's immortality by placing him in his "Paradiso." Luther considered Saint Bonaventure as a most excellent man; Bellarmine as beloved by God and man. Alexander de Hales (his preceptor) used to say that Brother Bonaventure seemed not to partake of Adam's sin. Gerson greatly admired him and recommended the study of his works, which obtained for him the title of SERAPHIC DOCTOR,—his companion when he took his Doctor's Degree, being the ANGELIC DOCTOR, Saint Thomas Aquinas.

"Bonaventure, called the Seraphic Doctor, was a scholar, an man of an acute mind, a good writer, and a very devout man. He united mystic with scholastic theology, and was a voluminous writer on practical religion. His works comprise commentaries on the Scriptures; a full comment on the Sentences of Lombard; a great number of tracts, chiefly on ascetic and practical subjects; letters; sermons; etc."—DR. MURDOCK.

FIRST EDITION OF LUDOLPH ON THE PSALMS.

- 1668 Black Letter.—LUDOLPHI CARTHUSIENSIS EX-POSITIO IN PSALTERIUM [edente JAC. WIMPHELINGIO: que et auctorfiunt Vite CHRISTI.] Thick small folio (eleven and a quarter inches by seven and seven-eighths).

Nuremberg, circa 1492

VERY RARE. 224 leaves, 2 columns to the page, with many colored initials. At the end of a preliminary statement on the verso of the first leaf there is the date, "Ex Spiris * * * * 1491," which has led several writers to the erroneous conclusion that this work was printed at Spire. It is an "Editio Prima" of an important theological publication, and was probably issued by Cruesner at Nuremberg about 1492. This copy is from the library of Dr. Kloss, and has his book-plate.

ST. AMBROSE'S WORKS—PRINTED BY AMERBACH OF BASLE IN 1492.

- 1669 SANCTI AMBROSII MEDIOLANENSIS. OPERA TRIBIS CONSTANS PARTIBUS. Large 4to (twelve and a quarter by eight and three quarters), boards.

Basle, per magistrum Johannem de Amerbach impressum, 1492

VERY RARE. In good condition, and a most desirable specimen from the press of this learned and most celebrated of the Basle printers of the fifteenth century. It has broad margins and many initials in colors.

THE WORKS OF BERNARD GIUSTINIANI—VENICE, 1492.

- 1670 JUSTINIANUS (Bernardus). ORATIONES; EPISTOLÆ
NONNULLÆ; TRADUCTIO IN ISOCRATIS LIBELLUM AD
NICODEM REGEM; LEONARDI JUSTINIANI
EPISTOLÆ. Large 4to (twelve and a half inches by eight and five-eighths), boards.

Venice, per Bernardinum Benalium, [1492]

VERY RARE. 66 leaves in Roman letter, 40 lines to the page, very wide margins, almost uncut, and in an exceptional state of preservation. This copy came from the library of Dr. Kloss, who in a note on an end paper fixes the date as 1492.

VERY RARE WORK IN ROMAN TYPES FROM THE PRESS OF THE FIRST MILANESE PRINTER.

- 1671 PETRVS MONTIS DE DIGNOSCENDIS HOMINIBVS INTER-PRETE G. AYORA CORDVBENSI. 4to (ten and seven-eighths inches by seven and three-quarters), vellum.

Milan, Antonius Zarotus Parmensis, [1492]

VERY RARE. 228 leaves of Roman letter, 38 lines to the page, with back of binding broken and first leaf mended. But, with all its faults, it is still a fine example from the press of this famous first printer of Milan.

A FIFTEENTH CENTURY VENICE BLACK LETTER.

- 1672 Black Letter.—SERMONES DOMINICALES PER TOTUM ANNUM FRATRIS ANTONII DE BITOTO ORDINIS FRATRU. MINORUM DE OBSERVANTIA. Small 4to (seven and one-eighth inches by four and three-quarters), fresh half calf gilt.

Venice, 1492

VERY RARE. 144 leaves, 2 columns and 45 lines to the page of small Gothic type. The colophon ends:—"Quibus i primedis. in gente. Sollicitudine. adhisuit Bonetus locatell' bergomesis iussu et expensis p. battissimi Viri Nicolai de Franchfordia Anno domini M.CCCCXCII.XV. Chaledas. Septembres."

This book is exceedingly well preserved, and the title is carefully mended. It is an interesting and desirable example of early Venice printing.

MANCINELLI'S POEMS—PRINTED AT VENICE 1493.

- 1673 MANCINELLI (Ant.). CARMEN DE FLORIBUS, Carmen de Figuris, De Poetica Virtute, Vitæ Carmen. 4to (eight and three-eighths inches by six and one-eighth).

Venice, per Ioannem de Cereto de Tredino, 1493

VERY RARE. With handsome printer's mark at the end and capitals. On the first pages are some original Latin verses in MS.

OVID AND MARTIAL—VALUABLE EARLY TEXTS.

- 1674 OVIDII FASTI, VITA PER PAVLVM MARSVM, etc., Venice per T. Z. P., 1492; also—

MARTIALIS CUM DUOBUS COMMENTIS, Venice, per Bartholomeu. de Zanis, 1493.

2 vols. in 1. Thick large 4to (twelve and a quarter inches by eight and a quarter), half sheep. Venice, 1492-93

EXTREMELY RARE. Slightly holed and important early editions of Ovid and Martial, from the Venice press.

VLIEDERHOVEN—A VERY RARE WORK BY THE FIRST DEVENTER PRINTER.

- 1675 Black Letter. — [VLIEDERHOVEN (Gerard de).
 QUATTUOR NOUISSIMA CU. MULTIS EXEPLIS. PULCHERRIMIS.
 Small 4to (seven and one-eighth inches by five and a quarter), vellum, red edges.

Deventer, impressa per me Richardu Pafraet, 1494

VERY RARE. 54 leaves, 37 lines of Gothic type to the page. The lower corners of the last eleven leaves mended, otherwise a good and rare specimen volume of the work of the first printer of Deventer, who had at least one singular peculiarity. He evidently did not know how to spell his own name, since we find that he printed it thirteen different ways.

MANCINELLI—VENICE, 1494.

- 1676 MANCINELLI (Ant.). Elegantiae Portus, Lau. Vallensis
Lima; Rhetorica ad herenium. esse Cicerones; Rhetorica ad herenium. Commentariolus. Small 4to (seven and three-eighths inches by five and three-quarters), sprinkled calf.

Venice, per Simonem Bibilaquam Papiensem, 1494

VERY RARE and in Roman letter, with MS. marginalia and woodcut initials.

VERY RARE BLACK LETTER BY THE FIRST PRINTER OF HAGUENAU.

- 1677 Black Letter.—NICOLAI SALYCETI artium medicine doctoris abbat. moasterii. bte. marie de Pomerio (al's Bogart) ordinis cister. Argetinen. dyoce. in Anthidotarin.
 die psaliacula. Liber meditationum ac orationum devo-tarum, etc. Minimo (five and a quarter inches by three and three-quarters). Haguenau, 1494

VERY RARE with MS. on end papers, title mounted and leaf xxiv. wanting.

This is one of the early and rare specimens from the press of Henry Grau, the only printer at Haguenau during the fifteenth century.

Haguenau and Grau are mentioned by Cotton, who says—"Hageno, Haguenau, a fortified town of France, seated on the river Motter. From the year 1489, the date of the earliest book now known, printing seems to have been carried on with success in this city; and many specimens remain to us from the press of Henry Grau, which purport to be in imperiali Oppido Hagenaw diligentissime impressa."

SENECA—PRINTED AT PARIS IN 1494 BY WOLFGANG HOPYL.

- 1678 Black Letter.—SENECA (Lucius Annaeus). De Quatuor Virtutibus Cardinalibus. 4to (eight and one eighth inches by five and a quarter), sewed.

Paris, p. Vuolffgagu hopyl, circa 1494

VERY RARE, 16 leaves, printed in three sizes of semi-Gothic type, MS. on title and a few pages slightly stained. This very rare edition of one of the lesser works of Seneca is from the press of one of the most notable of the early Paris printers. It has on the recto of the first leaf his curious printer's device with its singular inscription. Hopyl had a press by himself from 1489 to 1500, and in 1502, in company with the celebrated Henri Estienne issued, an edition of the "Ethics" of Aristotle, which might lead one to believe that he was one of the founders of the great house of Stephanus.

"There is no doubt that Paris witnessed the exercise of the art of printing so early as 1470, in which year through the exertions of two of its learned professors, Guillaume Fichet and Jean de la Pierre, a press was set up in the college of the Sorbonne by the three illustrious partners—Ulric Gering, Martin Crantz and Michael Friburger."—COTTON.

ANOTHER PARISIAN AND THE RAREST BLACK LETTER EDITION OF SENECA.

- 1679 Black Letter.—LUCII ANNEI SENECE Epistole. 4to (eight and one-eighth inches by five and a half), old stamped calf on wooden boards.

Paris, Claude Jammart, 1494

EXCESSIVELY RARE. 196 leaves, 28 lines to the page, and with MS. at beginning. This is the rarest of all the fifteenth century editions of any of Seneca's works, is from the press of a Paris printer who issued this one work, and this copy is probably unique. Panzer, who had never seen a copy, mentions but does not describe it, and the later writers ignore it altogether.

PLAUTUS—PRINTED AT VENICE, A. D. 1495.

- 1680 PLAUTUS (M. Accius). COMOEDIÆ ex recensione GEORGII MERULÆ. Small 4to (seven and three-quarter inches by five and five-eighths), vellum. Venice, 1495

VERY RARE. A fine copy of this quarto edition of the Comedies of Plautus, and with the text as written by the author.

PHILELPHUS AND OVID—VENICE EDITIONS WITH GROTESQUE INITIALS.

- 1681 PHILELPHUS. EPISTOLÆ FAMILIARES DOMINI FRANCISCI PHILELPHI, Venice, 1495; also—

OVIDIUS, DE PONTO A D. BARTHOLOMAEO MERULA, ET DE TRISTIBUS, Venice, 1507.

3 vols. in 1. Large 4to (eleven and a quarter inches by eight and an eighth), vellum (some pages stained).

Venice, 1495-1507

VERY RARE and in Roman letter. The Phil'elphus, which is full of floriated initials and some marginalia, has on the last page the printer's device of Octavius Scotius of Modena. Its colophon ends:—"Venetiis impressæ per Mattheum Capcasum Parmensem iussu et expensis nobilis iuri domini Octauiani Scoti ciuis Modociensis, anno ab incarnatione Domini MCCCCLXXXV."

There are many grotesque initials throughout the two vols. of Ovid, also a woodcut. The printer was "Ioannes de Tridino alias Tacuinus."

CURIOUS EXAMPLE OF THE PRESS OF CREMONA.

- 1682 CASTIGATIONES HERMOLAI IN PLINIUM CASTIGATISSIMÆ QUUM VIX POST ROMANAS. Large 4to (eleven and seven-eighths inches by eight and one-eighth), vellum, rebacked. Cremona, per chalcographu. Carolum a Darleriis ciue Cremonesen, 1495

VERY RARE and in Roman letter. Bound in leaves from an ancient MSS. Both covers lined with a very old music manuscript in the tenor clef, probably written about the time the book was printed. The work is curious and a specimen of a very rare out-of-the-way press.

"Printing was exercised at Cremona so early as 1472; of which year we have remaining a treatise of 'Angelus de Perusio,' executed by Dionysius de Paravesino and Stephanus de Merlinis. But it is remarkable that this is followed by a complete cessation of the art for the long period of twenty years, no other Cremona publication being known until the year 1492."—COTTON.

THE ONLY EDITION OF THE WORKS OF CAMPANUS.

- 1683 CAMPANUS (Io. Ant., Archbishop). OPERA OMNIA. Thick small folio (eleven and three-eighths by seven and seven-eighths), full leather, genre AMAND de Paris.

Rome, characteribus Venetis impressum Romæ per Eucharium Silber alias Franck, 1495

VERY RARE. Clean and in fine condition, with many floriated initials and two full-page wood engravings. The author, Giovanni Antonio Campani, was an archbishop and was born at Cavelli in 1427. He wrote numerous orations, verses, epistles, etc., etc., and this is the only edition of them ever printed.

FIRST EDITION OF THE EMPEROR JUSTINIAN'S "DE TORTIS."

- 1684 Black Letter.—JUSTINIANII INSTITUTA DE TORTIS. Folio (sixteen and seven-eighths inches by eleven), full bound in imitation of early leather binding, by AMAND of Paris. Venice, per Baptistam de Tortis, 1495

VERY RARE. 82 lines to the pages and 76 leaves, beautifully printed in red and black with semi-Gothic characters of two different sizes. Slightly wormed at beginning and end. With many marginal notes by an ancient hand and printer's device in red at the end under the colophon.

FIRST EDITION of this rare work. The famous digest of the Roman law known as the Justinian Code was completed about the year 529 A. D. It was compiled out of the Gregorian, Theodosian and Hermogenian Codes by ten of the ablest lawyers of the empire under the guiding genius of the juris consult Tribonian

BLACK LETTER EDITION OF ÆGIDIUS ROMANUS WITH DIAGRAMS—VENICE, 1496.

- 1685 Black Letter.—ÆGIDIUS ROMANUS.—EXPOSITIO DOMINI EGIDII ROMANI SUPER LIBROS ELEUCHORUM ARISTOTELIS, etc. Large 4to (eleven and three-quarter inches by eight and a half), vellum.

Venice, impssa. mandate et expensis nobilis viris dni.

Octauiani Scoti ciuis Modoetresis, 1496

VERY RARE. 86 leaves, with floriated initials, large and small, several diagrams and printer's device at the end. Leaf 72 is short.

The author was one of the celebrated Colonna family and died in 1316.

THE SOLILOQUIES OF APPLANUS—RARE CREMONESE IMPRINT.

- 1686 APPLANUS.—SOLILOQ. VIORVM. LIBER CONSTANTII APPLANI MEDIOLANENSIS CANONICI REGULARIS, etc. 4to (eight and one-eighth inches by six), loose in cover. Cremona, Charolus de Darleriis, 1496

VERY RARE and in Roman letter, with large printer's device. Complete and in good condition for the binder. Specimens from the press of this printer are seldom found in the auction room or upon the shelves of the second-hand bookseller.

BURMANN'S COPY OF A MOST RARE PRUDENTIUS.

- 1687 Black Letter.—OPERA AURELII CLEMETIS. PRUDENTII. Small 4to (seven and three-quarter inches by five and three-eighths), vellum. [Deventer, R. Paffroet, 1497]

EXTREMELY RARE, without name of place, printer or date. With six leaves reproduced by pen, and the title transferred to first blank leaf. Prudentius was born in Spain in 348. His works consist of Latin Christian poems and hymns. He had a great popularity in the Middle Ages.

This copy has the autograph signature of the great classical editor—Peter Burmann. There are some MS. notes at the commencement. Among others:—"Haec est rarissima e prima editio Prudentii Daventriensis—Aldinain anni 1502 cum aliis poetis Christianis," etc.

EUSEBIUS—THE 1497 EDITION, BOUND BY ROUSSELLE.

- 1688 EUSEBIUS DE EUANGELICA PRAEPARATIONE A GEORGIO TRAPEZUNTIO E GRÆCO IN LATINUM TRADUCTUS, etc. Large 4to (eleven and one-eighth inches by eight), handsomely bound by E. ROUSSELLE, of Paris, in half crushed levant morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut.

Venice, Bernardinus Benalius exactissima impressit diligentia, MCCCCLXXXVII.

EXTREMELY RARE, in splendid condition, and with wood-block portrait of Eusebius on the last page under the index.

Dibdin calls the text of Trapezuntius the purest, and says:—"Harwood adds that George Trapezuntius, at the command of Pope Nicholas V., translated it into Latin, in such a manner, that, having cast away all the thorns of Arianism, he presented men with only roses to walk upon."

SPLENDID EDITIONS OF TACITUS AND KRANTZ'S "WANDALIA."

- 1689 CORNELII TACITI HISTORIÆ AUGUSTÆ—Venetis p. Philippum pinci sumptibus dni. Benedicti fontana, Anno Dni. MCCCCXCVII.; also—

WANDALIA IN QUA DE WANDALORUM POPULIS ET EORUM PATRIO SOLO, AC IN ITALIAM, GALLIAM, HISPANIAS, APHRICAM ET DALMATICAM MIGRATIONE: etc., etc.—

Cologne, Iohannes Soter alias Heil ex Bentzheim et socii impresserunt, MDXVIII.

TOGETHER 2 vols. in 1. Thick small folio (twelve inches by eight and one-eighth), old stamped calf on wooden boards.

VERY RARE. Both the above works are of great importance.

The 1497 Tacitus consists of 103 leaves, 45 lines to the page. Uniform with this edition is the "Vita Agricolaë," of Tacitus, of the same press and date. Each has the printer's device of Fontana—"a fountain," and the initials "B. F." Any of the fifteenth century editions of the works of this writer are scarce, and although this is the fourth edition of the "History," it is the rarest of all. It is beautifully printed and has hand-painted large initials in red. It is complete and perfect in every particular.

The "Wandalia," Cologne, 1519. There are six leaves of table, signatures A. I. to T. VI., 44 lines to the page. This copy is a perfect and beautiful specimen from the press of a very rare Cologne printer. It has an engraved title-page, and many hand-painted initials in red and blue. The author of the work, Albert Krantz, historian and diplomatist, was born at Hamburg, about 1450. This is the most notable of all his literary efforts, and has been highly praised by many writers.

ST. THOMAS AQUINAS—VENICE, 1497.

1690 Black Letter.—S. THOMAE AQUINATIS. SUMMÆ PARS PRIMA. Small folio (twelve and three-eighths inches by eight and one-eighth), old half sheep.

[Venice], impressa per Joane. Rubeu, 1497

VERY RARE EDITION of a well known standard work by one of the most celebrated of the early fathers. It consists of 131 leaves, is complete and in fair condition.

THE ONLY KNOWN FIFTEENTH CENTURY EDITION OF A VERY RARE AND IMPORTANT WORK.

1691 VITERBENSIS (Frater Ioannes Annus). COMMENTARIA SUPER OPERA DIVERSORUM AUCTORUM DE ANTIQUITATIBUS LOQUENTIUM. Large 4to (eleven and seven-eighths by eight and a quarter), half vellum.

Rome, impressa per Eucharium Silber, als Franck, 1498

VERY RARE. Following the above is another work by the same author and printer issued at the same time, 215 leaves, commencing "A. II."—52 and 43 lines to the page—the text in a large, beautiful Gothic character—the commentary in Roman.

This is a copy of the only known fifteenth century edition of a most rare and interesting antiquarian and historical work. On page 73 is an engraving of Rome, and probably the only one made before the year 1500, by an artist who had seen that city.

EARLY BOLOGNESE IMPRINT.

1692 BAPTISTÆ MANTUANI Carmelitæ Secunda Parthenice de S. Catharina, Bononia impressum Benedicti Hectoris, 1489; BAPTISTÆ MANTUANI de Suorum temporum Calamatatibus liber, impensis Benedicti Hectoris Bononia, 1489; B. M. Carmelitæ Theol. in Robertum Seuerinatem panegyricum Carmen, Bononie impressum, Benedicti Hec- toris, 1489. 2 vols. small 4to (seven and a half inches by five and a half), mottled calf. Bologna, 1489

VERY RARE. For full particulars of the above see Panzer, I, 220, 119, 120 and 221, 124. These two volumes are the complete works of a popular fifteenth century author. Hallam says he was the poet of the school rooms, and Erasmus writes that he would be placed by posterity next below Virgil.

Dominic de Lapis and Balthasar Azzoguidi were the first printers of Bologna. Nearly forty typographers carried on the art of typography at that city before the close of the fifteenth century. Among these was the famous Hebrew printer, "Abraham Ben Chaiim Pisamensis."

POMPONIUS LÆTUS—RARE EDITION.

1693 POMPONIUS LÆTUS. ROMANÆ HISTORIÆ COMPENDIVM AB INTERITV GORDIANI IV. NIORIS VSQ VE AD IVSTI NVM III. Small 4to (seven and half inches by five and a quarter). Venice, per Bernardinum Venetu, 1499

VERY RARE, with charming initial letters and life of the author by—"M. Antoninus Sabellicus."

ALBERTUS MAGNUS "DE MULIERE"—COLOGNE, 1499.

1694 ALBERTUS MAGNUS. LIBER DE MULIERE FORTI, i.e., Commentar in ultimum caput Proverbior. Salmonis. Small 4to (seven and three-quarter inches by five and three-eighths), half pigskin. Cologne, Henry Quentell, 1499

VERY RARE, MS. on title and some pp. wormed.

The great thirteenth century scholar Albertus Magnus had St. Thomas Aquinas as his favorite pupil. All branches of human knowledge, theology, philosophy, natural history, physics, astronomy and alchemy, are represented in his works. The particular studies of Albertus Magnus were Aristotle and Arabic philosophy. Although Bishop of Ratisbon, his contemporaries, marvelling at his learning, regarded him as a magician and made him the subject of many legendary stories.

ERHARD RATDOLT'S 1499 PSALTER IN GERMAN AND LATIN—PRINTED IN RED AND BLACK.

1695 Black Letter.—PSALTERIUM CUM APPARLATU VULGARI FAMILIANTER APPRESSO—Lateinisch psater mit dem teutschen nutzlichen dabey gedruckt. Small 4to (seven and three-quarter inches by six), boards.

Augsburg, Erhard Ratdolt, 1499

EXTREMELY RARE, with Calendar at the commencement, rubricated throughout and with numerous charming floriated initials. Occasional early MS., and on the end papers a few pp. stained and mended.

The last page bears the rubricated printer's mark of Erhard Ratdolt, showing that he sported coat armor. Arms with mantling—"A naked man holding two serpents in his right hand and in the left a star placed over the stomach and thighs," crest—"a six-pointed star between two horns on a helmet." Above are the lines:—

"Erhardi ratdolt felicia conspice signa.
Testata artificem qua valet ipe. manum."

"Among the Augsburg printers of the XVth century occurs Erhard Ratholdt, who had carried on the business at Venice in 1476, and seems to have entertained no mean opinion of his own abilities, as may be seen by his colophons, in which he styles himself, 'Vir solertissimus,' 'imprimendi arte nominatissimus,' 'artis impressarie magister apprimè famosus,' 'perpolitus opifex,' 'vir sub orbe notus,' etc., etc."—COTTON.

VENICE IMPRINT OF 1499 WITH FLORIATED INITIALS.

1696 THEMISTIUS PERIPATETICUS. OPERA PARAPHRASIS IN POSTERIORA ARISTOTELIS, etc. Large 4to (twelve and one-eighth inches by eight and a quarter), mottled vellum.

Venice, Octavianus Scotus Cuius Modoetienses expensis suis Venetiis imprimi fecit per Bartholomeum de Zanis de Portesio, 1499.

VERY RARE. 114 leaves, in good condition, and with many beautiful floriated initials, large and small.

FIFTEENTH CENTURY VOLUME ON MARRIAGE, ASTROLOGY, MUSIC, ETC.

1697 MARTIANUS.—OPUS MARTIANI CAPELLE DE NUPTIIS—PHILOLOGIE ET MERCURII LIBRI DUO—DE GRAMMATICA, DE DIALECTICA, DE RHETORICA, DE GEOMETRIA, DE ARITHMETICA, DE ASTRONOMIA, DE MUSICA LIBRI SEPTIMUM. Large 4to (thirteen and one-eighth inches by eight), vellum.

Vicenza, 1499

VERY RARE, and with MS. marginalia. The colophon reads that this volume was printed by "Henricus de Sancto Vrso." Cotton states that the first printers of Vicenza, Joannes de Reno and Leonardus Achates de Basilea, sometimes dated their books—"in Sancto Ursio propre Vincentian," etc., and adds—"St. Orso appears to have been a quarter of the city so called; and I notice it in this place merely with a view of obviating any mistake which might arise; but Santander states it to be a distinct village, and affirms that the art of printing was exercised here before it was introduced into the city."

JUSTIN, PRINTED AT VENICE IN THE YEAR 1500.

1698 JUSTINI. EX TROGO POMPEIO HISTORIÆ CUM MULTIS MEMORABILIBUS IN MARGINE. ADDITO, etc. Small folio (twelve inches by eight and a half inches), paper.

Venice, Impressum Venetiis per Ioannem

Tachuinum De Tridino, 1500

VERY RARE. 69 leaves, unbound, with printer's device on first page, and many beautiful large initials engraved upon metal.

THE PARIS PRESS OF THE FAMOUS JEHAN PETIT—A 1505 SPECIMEN.

1699 JUSTINUS FLORUS ET SEXTUS RUFUS. Small 4to (seven and three-quarter inches by five and a quarter), half sheep.

Parisiis, in Campo gaillardo Venalis apud

Ioan. Petit, circa 1505

VERY RARE, with printer's device, floriated initials, from the library of Dr. Kloss, and in fine condition. A good specimen in Roman letter of the famed Parisian press of Jehan Petit, who, Timperley says—"was more of a bookseller than a printer, yet kept a greater number of workmen than any of his contemporaries: he had no less than fifteen presses constantly employed. He printed with the Gothic character; but his impressions were so correct and beautiful, that he was sworn printer and bookseller to the University of Paris, and chosen Master of the Company; the words petit a petit (little by little) he used in his titles, alluding to his own name."

BATTISTA SPAGNUOLI—PETIT'S PARIS EDITION OF 1507.

1700 Black Letter (and Roman).—NOUËM F. BAPTISTE MANTUANI CARMELITÆ THEOLOGI. PÆTÆQ. CLARISSIMI OPERA, etc., cum comment. SEB. MURRHONIS, SEB. BRANTII et (BADIO) ASCENSII. Thick 4to (ten and seven eighths inches by seven and a quarter), old calf, gilt (MS. name on title).

Paris, Venundantur ab Ioane Parvo et ipso

Ascensio Parrhisiis, 1507

VERY RARE. 339 leaves, rubricated title, and some MS. memoranda on end papers.

Battista Spagnuoli, or Mantuano, a Carmelite friar, was born at Mantua in 1448. He was the most popular writer of verses of his time. There were about seventy editions of his various poems printed before the close of the fifteenth century.

This beautiful edition of several of his poems is in double columns, with notes, and bears upon its title-page the book device of Jehan Petit, one of the most notable of the early Paris printers.

THE GIUNTA AND SODERINI EDITION OF JOSEPHUS IN ITALIAN.

1701 IOSEPHO DE BELLO IVDÆICO IN LINGVA TOSCANA.

Large 4to (twelve and three-quarters by eight and a half), old half sheep. Florence, 1512

EXTREMELY RARE, 146 leaves, with floriated initials, in good condition. It may be considered—although stained in parts—a fair example from the justly celebrated press of the great Florentine printers—the Junta or Giunti. On the last page is the Giunta "fleur-de-lys," supported by two Cupids.

The colophon reads:—"Impressum Florentiæ Kal. Iulii M.D.XII. Sumptibus PHILIPPI IUNTÆ—PETRO SOTERINO uexilliserio perpetuo." Pietro Soderini was one of great house of the Soderinis of Florence, of which republic they were the Gonfalonieri. Their ancient pedigree, covering many pages, will be found in Litta's "Famigli Celebri Italiani." Machiavelli, Trollope and Roscoe refer to important members of the family and their association with the De Medicis and Florentine history. In 1512 Philip Giunta's edition of Lucretius was dedicated to Thomas Soderini:—"Petrus Candidus THOMÆ SOTHERINO, S. P. D."

The above volume is also interesting as an early Italian version of the "Jewish War" of Josephus, which was written by him in Greek. His most important literary labor was his "Jewish Antiquities," of which there are twenty books, giving an account of the world to the year of our era A. D. 66, the commencement of the Israelite revolt against the Roman rule. The story of this rebellion is given in the seven books of his "History of the Jewish War." Botta writes—"Flavius Josephus wrote the 'Jewish Archæology' in order to show the Roman conquerors of Jerusalem that the Jews did not deserve the contempt with which they were universally regarded." Another reason for his authorship of the "Antiquities" is that he desired to accommodate the Jewish religion to Latin tastes and prejudices.

The great Jewish historian was born at Jerusalem A. D. 37. Josephus was not only an author, but a General of repute, fighting against the Romans until the subjection of his people by Vespasian, who took him prisoner, but spared his life upon the intercession of Titus. Thereupon the Hebrew writer prophesied that the Roman empire would be ruled over at a future period by Vespasian and his son. Josephus accompanied Titus to the city of Rome after the siege of Jerusalem. He was made a Roman citizen by Vespasian and treated with extreme condescension both by that Emperor and successors Titus and Domitian.

Josephus died about A. D. 100. It was in consequence of his being a dependent of the Flavian family that he assumed the name of Flavius.

BEROALDUS—VERY RARE PARIS EDITION OF LOUIS HORNKEN, 1512.

- 1702 BEROALDUS.—COMENTATIONES CONDITE A PHILIPPO BEROALDO ADIECTA PARAPHRASTICA M. ANT. Eiusdem PHILIPPI BEROALDI uita per BARPTOLEMAEUM BLANCHINUM composita. Large 4to (eleven and three-eighths inches by seven and five-eighths), fresh Spanish calf, gilt. Paris, Lodovicus Hornken, 1512

VERY RARE. With rubricated title and the bibliopole's mark on both title and last page before the Index. A few pp. wormed. The colophon reads:—"Impressum Parrhisiis opera cum primis honesti uiri Magistri Ioannis Philippi; ære uero necnon impensis integerrimorum Bibliopolarum Lodouici Hornken et Godofredi Hittorpii MDXII."

THE FIRST GIUNTA EDITION OF LASCARIS.

- 1703 LASCARIS (Constantinus). GRAMMATICA GRÆCA. Accedunt CEBETIS THEBANI Tabula et alia Opuscula. Omnia Græce et Latine cum Præfatione BERNARDI IUNTÆ. 4to (eight inches by five and a half), half calf. Florence, circa 1513-14

VERY RARE. 287 leaves and 36 lines to the page. First Giunta edition. This is nearly a reprint of the Aldine edition and one of the most sought after of the early editions of this celebrated work. This copy is clean and almost in an uncut condition.

A 1514 LEIPSIC BLACK LETTER.

- 1704 Black Letter.—BAPTISTÆ MANTUANI Parthenice tertia, Diuarum Margarithe, Agathes Lucie et Appolonie agones. 4to (eight and one-eighth inches by six), sewed. Leipsic, per Baccalaureum Vuolfgangum Monacensem, [1514]

VERY RARE. MS. marginalia, title mended, and printed with a peculiar and rare Gothic letter.

PTOLEMY—THE 1515 VENICE EDITION.

- 1705 Black Letter.—ALMAGESTUM CL. PTOLEMEI PHELUDIENSIS ALEXANDRINI Astronomor. principis: opus ingens ac nobile omnes Celorum motus continens. Felicibus Astris eat in lucez: Ingenio labore et Sumptibus PETRI LEICHTENSTEIN Colonien. A. V. partus 1515. Die 10. Ianua. Venetiis. Large 4to (eleven and three-quarter inches by eight).

Venice, Peter Leichtenstein, 1515

VERY RARE. 152 leaves engraved initials and broad margins with many astronomical and mathematical diagrams engraved upon them, and printer's device in red and black at the end. This exceedingly rare first edition of this work is in good condition, and is a fine specimen from the press of one of the most notable printers of scientific books in the sixteenth century.

STEPHANUS NIGER, DEDICATED WITH VERSES TO JOHN GROLIER, AND PRINTED AT MILAN IN 1517.

- 1706 STEPHANI NIGRI UIRI UNDECUNQZ. ERUDITISSIMI
DIALOGUS, QUO QUICQUID IN GRECARUM LITERARUM
PENETRALIBUS RECONDITU: QUOD AD HISTORIÆ UERI-TATEM; ETC. 4to (ten and a half inches by seven and five-eighths), old vellum (cover loose). [Milan, 1517]

EXTREMELY RARE. This volume is of great Grolierite and biblio-philistic interest, as there is a poem of fifteen lines on the second leaf headed:—"Ad Preclarum. D. IOANNEM GROLIERUM nostrorum temporum Mecenatem." The first page of text begins:—"Stephanvs Niger IOANNI GROLIERO Lvgdvnensi Christianisimi Francorum Regis a Secretis ac insvbriae qvaestori Primario. S. P. D."

"'Livre excellent et très rare qui conserve encore une haute reputation'; tel est le jugement que portait de ce recueil le Dr. Parr (voir son catalogue, p. 315). . . . L'édition de 1517 est dédiée à Grolier."—BRUNET.

THE PARIS EARLY SIXTEENTH CENTURY PRESS—AN IMPRINT OF IEHAN FRELLON AND FRANCOIS REG-NAULT.

- 1707 Black Letter.—PRECLARISSIMI SACRE THEOLOGIE DOC-TORIS F. JO. DE BASSOLIS MINORITE IN TERTIU.
SENTETARIU. 4to, (ten and seven-eighths inches by eight), rough calf on original wooden boards (rebacked).
Paris, Iehan Frellon, 1517

VERY RARE, with numerous charming initial letters and engraved title-page, the centre of which has the beautiful printer's device of Frellon, Christ standing on a shield, with "agnus dei" in hand, etc. In the upper portions, over the name of the author, are two scholists with books, and in the centre between lions and dolphins is a monastic reading from a lectern. At the bottom of the base are Renaissance figures, and the two sides are made up of the same design as on the cover of this Catalogue, which was facsimiled from a book printed by "Jodocus Badius" in the year 1511.

This copy came from the library of the "Marques de Astorga," whose book-plate is on the back of title, and whose coat-armor is drawn on the fore red edges of the volume. There are two shields, both surmounted with coronets—one bearing—"six roundles" and the other is "chequey." This copy is slightly stained.

The colophon shows that Francis Regnault was associated with John Frellon in the publication of this handsome work, and the second title-page has Regnault's device in the centre of the same beautiful border as described above. His mark was "an elephant and castle," on which are the initials "F. R."

THE GIUNTA BOCCACCIO OF 1527—THE 1729 REPRINT OF THIS BEST UNCASTRATED EDITION.

- 1708 BOCCACCIO (GIOVANNI). IL DECAMERONE NVOVA-MENTE CORETTO ET CON DILIGENTIA STAMPATO. 4to
(nine and one-eighth inches by six and three-eighths), vellum, beveled sides, very elaborately tooled and ornamented with mosaiced colored moroccoes, inside gold tooling, blue watered silk ends and tooled gilt edges on red.

Impresso in Firenze per li heredi di Philipppo di Giunta nell' anno del signore, MDXXXVII.

VERY RARE. This is the 1729 Venice reprint in ITALIC LETTER with broad margins—"chez Pasinello, par les soins d'Étienne Orlandini, et aux frais de Salvatore Ferrari," and which was limited to 300 copies.

The story of this copy is told in an inserted catalogue cutting as follows:—"This copy was exhibited as a specimen of elaborate binding at the great Exhibition (of 1851). A verbatim reprint of the celebrated Junta Edition of 1527, which, being much sought after as being the BEST UNCASTRATED EDITION, has become exceedingly rare, and worth upwards of $200."

BOCCACCIO, FLORENCE, 1527—THE 1725 LONDON RE-PRINT.

Florence, P. di Giunta, 1527

VERY RARE. This is the London reprint in ROMAN LETTER of the Giunta Boccaccio of 1527, and printed by Thomas Edlin in 1725. It has two titles, is dedicated by Paolo Rolli to Count Antonio Romualdo, and has a life of Boccaccio in Italian by Matteo Villani.

GALLIOT DU PRE'S EDITION OF VIRGIL IN HANDSOME ANCIENT GROLIER RELIURE.

1710 Black Letter.—LES ŒUVRES DE VIRGILLE TRANSLATEES DE LATIN EN FRANCOYS: ET NOUUELEMET. IMPRIMEES A PARIS. 4to (eleven inches by seven and a half), fine old binding, red edges.

Paris, Galliot du Pre, 1529

VERY RARE. A magnificent copy of this rare translation of Virgil in old French verse, with the heraldic book-plate of—"Harry Vane Milbank." The title-page is rubricated with a charming woodcut border of the Renaissance school, with ancient Roman heads, Cupids on pillars, hand holding ancient book and shield charged with "a horse," the device of the famous Galliot du Pre. Scattered throughout the volume are beautiful initials, and quaint wood block illustrations, of which the first, a half page, represents a monk with books before him, lecturing a class. The types are charming French Gothic, and every page is ruled with ink. The first letter "L" on title is a grotesque head.

The binding is a superb example of early French reliure. The design is of the genre Grolier—geometrical interlacing, Gothic floriations, etc.

Galliot du Pre published the book, but it was printed by "Nicolas Couteau." This celebrated edition of Virgil, which, at the MacCarthy sale, sold for 521 francs, had two translators—the Bucolics and Georgics by "Michel, dit de Tours," and the Æneid by "Octavian de Saint Gelais."

PTOLEMY'S ALMAGESTUM—THE VENICE GIUNTA EDITION OF 1528.

proprio ac typis excussa—in Urbe Veneta urbium et orbis Regina, horoscopante jovis stella in Calce Febru.
ad Calcem redact est Anno Christi, 1528.*

VERY RARE and second edition. The astrological colophon reads as above, showing the horoscope of its publication was cast under the planet Jupiter. Below are printed the hypothetical years of the world according to four chronologies, making it a matter of choice for the medieval reader to decide whether this "Almagestum" was printed "Anno Mundi" 5035, 6726, 7027 or 8512.

This copy has 143 leaves with wide margins and engraved diagrams upon them. It came from the celebrated Giunta's Venice printery, with the printer's device of "L. A. J." in red upon the title-page. It is quite as rare and as desirable as the first edition.

NICOLE GILLES—HIS EXTREMELY RARE AND THE FIRST FRENCH HISTORY, WITH CURIOUS ILLUSTRATIONS—PARIS, 1528.

1712 Black Letter.—GILLES (Nicole). Les tres elegantes:

mieres imprimees. 2 vols. in 1. Large 4to (twelve and three-eighths inches by eight and a quarter), old rough calf. Paris, 1528

EXTREMELY RARE, and in French Gothic type, with MS. on title showing this volume came from the Fromentin Library, where it was in 1610. The colophon reads:—"Cy fine le second volume des Annales et Croniques de France augmentees jusqs. en lan Mil Cinq ces. Vingt huyt le V. jour Doctober par Guillaume bossoyel pour Jeha. petit libraire de luniversite de Paris."

There are two beautifully engraved title-pages, the first with the book device of "Jehan Petit," and the second with that of "Theilman Kerver." It has four pages of engraving, one of the Creation showing the labor of each of the six days, also hundreds of very beautiful floriated initials. This is the first history of France ever written, is exceedingly rare—there is probably no other copy in this country—and it is very valuable.

MAGNIFICENT EDITION OF VIRGIL PRINTED BY THE FAMOUS CRESPIN—BOUND BY CLAESSENS.

- 1713 VIRGIL.—OPERA VIRGILIANA | cum decem commentis, docte et | familiariter exposita, docte quidem BUCOLICA, et GEORGICA | a SERVIO, DONATO, MANCINELLO & PROBO nuper addito: cu. | adnotationibus BEROALDINIS . . . Lyons, in Typographaria Officina Ioannis Crespini,

Anno Virginici partus M.D.XXIX. (1529)

VERY RARE. This fine edition of Virgil is remarkable for the extraordinary number of curious engravings on wood, upwards of two hundred, which it contains. Purchased of Coombes (Duprat) for $150. The edges are gilt on citron and tooled.

Brunet speaks of this rare Lyons edition as still very valuable. In his "Essai sur L'Histoire de la Gravure sur Bois," M. Ambroise Firmin-Didot refers to this edition of Virgil in the following words: "Jean Crespin a imprimé en 1529 une grande édition in-folio de Virgile, dont le texte, entouré des commentaires de Servius, etc., et des annotations de Bernoalde, a été revu par Josse Bade qui y a joint l'opuscule in Priapi lusum. Les plupart des gravures de Grüninger ornent cette IMPORTANTE ÉDITION."

John Crespin or Crespen, who published the above, was an ingenious sixteenth century printer, and a native of Arras, in France. He was advocate to the Parliament of Paris, but afterwards, forming a friendship with Beza, he embraced the reformed religion and retired to Geneva, where he gained great reputation by his printing, and, according to Bayle, died of the plague. He is allowed to have been a man of great learning, and an useful and accurate printer. Crespin was the author of a "Greek Lexicon."

CRESPIN'S BLACK LETTER BIBLE OF 1529.

- 1714 Black Letter.—BIBLIA LATINA, cum concordantis Veteris et Novi Testamenti. Curious woodcuts. Folio (eleven and one-eighth inches by nine and five-eighths), vellum (a few pp. stained).

Lyons, per Johannem Crespin, 1529

VERY RARE EDITION. This valuable edition contains in rhyming quatrains the—"Toto Biblia Compendio Sissime per rithmos descripta per Franciscum Gothi ordinis minorum sacræ theologiæ professorem," which is a great curiosity.

The rubricated title is a fine piece of wood engraving. It represents at the sides the "six days of creation"—"Christ in Glory" at the top and the "Last Supper" at bottom. In the centre is "St. Hieronymus writing and referring to books on a lectern." There is also at the commencement of Genesis a very curious three-quarter page engraving of God creating the World in six days—this is divided into six divisions. The volume is full of handsome initials and other quaint illustrations mostly in the style of those in the Nuremberg Chronicle. There is a curious Latin poem in MS. at the end with "a heart transfixed with an arrow and a sword."

THE RAREST EDITION OF CICERO—FLORENCE, 1532.

- 1715 M. TVLLII CICERONIS. Questionum Tusculanarum libri quinq; nuper recogniti et typis diligenter excusi. Small 8vo (six and a half inches by three and three-quarters), half vellum. Florence, 1532

VERY RARE. Engraved title-page and printer's device of the celebrated Giuntas. It has many marginalia. This is the rarest of all the known editions of Cicero. A note by a former owner on the first leaf says it was printed by the care of Luca della Robbia, who dedicated it to his master, Benivenio. This great celebrity was born in 1390, and died 1463 or 1482.

CURIOUS EXAMPLE OF NUMERICAL PRINTING.

- 1716 CHRONICVM REGVM REGINORVMQVE Omnium Catalogvm, et Perpetuum ab exordio mundi temporum, seculorum qz. seriem complectens, ex optimis quibus qz. Hebracis, Graecis et Latinis autoribus congestum, PAVLO CONSTANTINO Phrygione autore. Large 4to (twelve and seven-eighths inches by nine), old stamped calf on wooden boards. Basle, apud Iohan Hervag, 1534

THE 1541 ALDINE EDITION OF CASTIGLIONE'S
"CORTEGIANO."

- 1717 ALDUS.—IL LIBRO DEL CORTEGIANO DEL CONTE BALDESAR CASTIGLIONE, Nvovamente stampato, et con somma diligenza revisto. Minimo (five and five-eighths by three and three-quarters), vellum. Venice, in casa de figliuoli di Aldo, 1541

VERY RARE. With the printer's device, an "anchor and dolphin," at both the beginning and end, below the last named being the signature in MS. of "Anto. Lopez." There is MS. on title, MS. marginalia, and a few pp. are stained.

Count Castiglione in his work traces the character of an ideal courtier. He was the favorite of Popes Leo the Tenth and Clement the Seventh.

AN ALDINE CICERO—VENICE, 1546.

- 1718 ALDUS.—CICERONIS RHETORICORVM AD C. HERENIVM LIBRI IIII INCUTO AVCTORE. Thick small 8vo (six and a quarter inches by three and five-eighths), vellum. Venice, corrigente Pavlo Mantio Aldio filio, 1546

VERY RARE. With the Aldine mark repeated on the false separate titles and at the end. With MS. name on title, which, with a few other pages, is stained.

THE LOUVAIN BIBLE OF 1547.

- 1719 BIBLIA AD VETUSTISSIMA EXEMPLARIA NUNC RECENS CASTIGATA—Hebræa, Chaldaea, Græca et Latina nomina virorum, mulierum, populorum, idolorum, vrbium, fluuiorum, montium, caelerorum que locorum quæ in Bibliis leguntur restituta cum Latina interpretatione ac locorum e Cosmographis descriptione. Thick folio (fourteen and three-eighths inches by nine and three-quarters), old wooden boards.

Louvain, ex officina Bartholomæi Gravi typographi, anno MDXLVII.

VERY RARE, with numerous sixteenth century marginalia, etc. Not mentioned in Brunet.

SEBASTIAN BRANDT'S "SHIP OF FOOLS"—THE 1569 STRASBURG EDITION.

- 1720 Black Letter.—BRANDT (SEBASTIAN) DER NARVEN SPIEGEL—Das Gros Narrenschiff durch besonderen fleiss ernst vund arbeyt jetzt von newem mil vil schonen spruchen exempeln vund zugesetzten historien ergantzet. With numerous curious wood-block humorous illustrations—also inserted ancient portrait of BRANDT. Small 4to (seven inches by five).

Strasburg, getruckt zu Strassburg bey Wendel Rihel, anno MDLXIX.

EXTREMELY RARE German edition. This copy has inserted the heraldic coats-of-arms of M. Thiebault.

At the Edwards sale a copy sold of the "Ship of Fools" for forty-three pounds sterling.

The design of this most curious and amusing work was to ridicule the prevailing follies and vices of every rank and profession, under the allegory of a ship freighted with fools. There are a variety of characters satirized, with advice to the various fools.

At the end of Barclay's metrical version of the "Ship of Fools" are the following verses, headed—

AN EXHORTATION OF ALEXANDER BARCLAY.

"But ye that shall read this Booke I you exhorte
And you that are hearers thereof also I you pray,
When as ye know that ye be of this sorte,
Amende your life, and expell that vice away,
Slomber not in sin, amende you while ye may,
And if ye do and ensue virtue and grace,
Within my Ship ye get no rounne ne place."

Dibdin says: "There are few books more interesting to the collector."

THE FAMOUS ESTIENNE PRESS—A 1553 EXAMPLE.

- 1721 DICTIONARIUM HISTORICUM AC POETICVM: omnia Gentivm, Hominum, locorum, fluminum, ac montium antiqua recentioraque ad sacras ac prophanas historias, poetarumque fabulas intelligendas necessaria vocabula, bono ordine complectens. Large 4to (nine and seven-eighths inches by seven), old leather, vellum re-backed. Paris, cura ac diligentia, 1553

VERY RARE. With the printer's mark of the Stephani on title—"An olive tree, with old man at foot thereof, and motto, 'Altvm sapere noli.'" There are the names of two former owners on title, one of whom was—"Cornelio Francescucci."

This volume was printed by a member of the Stephanus or Estienne family. From Bigmore and Wyman's "Bibliography of Printing" we learn that Henry Estienne, the first printer of that name, was a man of noble birth, but little is known of his early history. He alienated himself from his family and abandoned his title, preferring to win distinction in promoting the then comparatively new Art of Printing, and thus throwing open the sources of learning to students generally. He had three sons—Francis, Robert and Charles—all printers of distinction.

The above example is from the press of the youngest son, a printer of Paris, who was even a finer scholar than his brothers. During his youth he traveled much throughout Europe, increasing the vast stores of his learning upon scientific and artistic subjects. On his return to Paris he became a physician. About the time (1550) his brother Robert fled to Geneva, Charles, impelled by his inherited tastes, abandoned the profession he was adorning, and established himself as a printer. He produced a very large number of books, which appeared with extraordinary rapidity. His great merit won him the title of "King's Printer," which was never granted to Henry. He remained "Rex typographus" from 1551 to 1561. He also wrote a number of works upon scientific subjects, and others on grammar and criticism. He died in affluent circumstances.

For nearly two hundred years some member of his family was carrying on the art typographic in France and Switzerland with the greatest distinction.

RARE SIXTEENTH CENTURY LIFE OF JULIUS CÆSAR.

1722 MESSIA.—LE VITE DI TVTTI GL' IMPERADORI DA GIVLIO CESARE INSIUO A MASSIMILLIANO TRATTE PER M. LUDOVICO DOLCE DAL LEBRO SPAGNVOLO DEL NOBILE CAVALIERE PIETRO MESSIA, etc. Thick 4to (eight and a half inches by six and three-quarters), vellum (somewhat stained, etc.).

Venice, Gabriel Giolito de Ferrari, 1558

VERY RARE. Printed in Italic letter with handsome printer's mark of Gabriel Giolito, also charming capitals.

RABELAIS—AN EXCESSIVELY RARE EDITION BOUND IN CRUSHED LEVANT BY EENHAES.

1723 RABELAIS.—LES | OEUVRES | DE M. FRANÇOIS RABELAIS. | Minimo (four and a half inches by two and five-eighths), fresh brown crushed levant morocco, super extra, gilt back and edges, inside gilt borders, by P. EENHAES, and in a sliding case.

Anvers, par François Nierg, 1573

EXTREMELY RARE and charming bibelot. This handsome edition of Rabelais has woodcut borders on the titles, pretty initials and a cut of the "O Bouteille" on page 141 of the fifth book. This was purchased from a Coombes (Duprat) catalogue for $125.

Take the scholarly Father Prout, Dean Swift and the Rev. Laurence Sterne, at their very worst, throw in the rollicking spirit of the Rev. Thomas Barham, with a 'spice of the wit of that "eminent ascetic," Sydney Smith, flavor it strongly with the gross license of the "Table-Talk" of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther, add the profligacy of Boccaccio, and you then have something akin to the literary monstrosity called Rabelais.

"Beyond a doubt Rabelais was among the deepest as well as boldest thinkers of his age. His buffoonery was not merely Brutus' rough stick, which contained a rod of gold: it was necessary as an amulet against the monks and legates. . . . The caricature of his filth and zanyism show fully he both knew and felt the danger in which he stood. I could write a treatise in praise of the moral elevation of Rabelais' work, which could make the church stare and the conventicle groan, and yet would be truth and nothing but the truth. I class Rabelais with the great creative minds of the world, Shakespeare, Dante, Cervantes, etc."—S. T. COLERIDGE.

VITRUVIUS' ARCHITECTURE—PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED AND PRINTED IN 1567 AT VENICE.

1724 VITRUVIUS.—| M. VITRVVII POLLIONIS | de Architectura | Libri Decem | cum commentariis | Danielis Barbari, | electi patriarchae | aqvileiensis: | multis aedificiorum, horologiarum, | et machinarum descriptionibus, | et figuris, una cum indicibus copiosis, aëctis et illustratis. | With numerous architectural illustrations, diagrams, etc. Large 4to (eleven and three-eighths inches by seven and five-eighths), old calf, gilt.

Venice, apud Franciscum Franciscum Senensem et Joan. Crugher Germanum, 1567

VERY RARE. The "Architecture" of Vitruvius Pollio is a very important work, as it explains the knowledge of the ancients on the matters treated. Vitruvius mentions the several ancient writers to whom he was chiefly indebted, all of whose works are lost.

JOVIUS, PRINTED IN 1577-78, WITH RARE SIXTEENTH CENTURY PORTRAITS.

1725 JOVIUS.—| PAVLI IOVII | NOVOCOMENSIS | EPISCOPI NVGERINI | VITÆ | ILLUSTRIVM VIRORVM | . etc. With numerous portraits of the SFORZAS, VISCONTIS, Popes, etc., etc. 2 vols. in 1. Folio (thirteen and three-quarter inches by nine). Basle, Petri Perni typographi, 1577-78

VERY RARE. The Didot copy sold for 105 francs. It is seldom the two volumes of this work are found together. It is greatly esteemed for many rare portraits, several of which are not to be found elsewhere.

MUSIC AND OFFICES OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH—
SALAMANCA, 1582.

- 1726 Black Letter.—OFFICIVM HEBDOMADE SANCTÆ A DOMINICA IN RAMIS PSALMARUM VSQUE AD SABBATHUM SANCTUM INCLUSIUE. With music. 2 vols. in 1. Folio (thirteen and five-eighths by nine and one-eighth), old leather, on wooden boards (some pp. mended, and no titles to second part).
Salamantica, apud haeredes Mathiæ Gastii, 1582

EXTREMELY RARE, printed in red and black, with music and numerous wood-engravings of initial letters, containing cuts after the missal style. A fine printer's mark of the Spanish typographer Gastius is on the last page.

AUGSBURG BLACK LETTER OF MICHAEL MANGER, 1588.

In Venetia, Presso Damian Zenaro, M.D.XC.

EXTREMELY RARE and the FIRST EDITION of this valuable work on costume, containing 420 woodcut figures in costume, the size of the page, from designs traditionally ascribed to TITIAN. A very fine copy in nearly uncut condition. An absolutely uncut copy, bound by Trautz, produced 2,480 francs at the sale of R. M. S. Turner. The above copy was purchased from a Coombes (Duprat) catalogue for $225.

CURIOUS WORK ON EMBLEMS, SYMBOLS AND EGYPTOLOGY.

- 1729 VALERIANUS (JOANNES PIERIUS). HIEROGLYPHICA SEU DE SACRIS ÆGYPTIORVM, ALIARVMQVE GENTIVM LITERIS COMMENTARI. Folio (fourteen inches by nine and one-eighth), old stamped leather.

Lyons, apud Thomam Soubron, 1595

RARE. This curious treatise on ancient symbols is illustrated with many singular woodcuts, and contains a wealth of out-of-the-way information not found in any other work.

THE EXCESSIVELY RARE BREECHES BIBLE, LONDON, 1599—BEAUTIFULLY BOUND BY R. DE COVERLY.

- 1730 HOLY BIBLE.—THE BIBLE, THAT IS THE HOLY SCRIPTVRES contained in the Old and New Testament. Translated according to the Ebrew and Greeke, and conferred with the best Translations in diuers Languages. With most profitable Annotations upon all hard places and other things of great importance ;

Imprinted at London by the deputies of Christopher Barker, Printer to the Queene's most excellent Maiestie, 1599

MAGNIFICENT COPY OF THE EXTREMELY RARE BREECHES BIBLE OR GENEVAN VERSION of 1599. A few pages are slightly stained. With false title engraved on wood, with the Four Evangelists and Twelve Disciples, and the shields of the Twelve Tribes depicted thereon. With vignette on the general title and separate title of—

"The New Testament of our Lord Iesvs Christ, translated out of the Greeke by Theod. Beza: With briefe Summaries and expositions vpon the hard places by the said Authour, Isac. Camer, and P. Loseler. Villerius, Englished by L. Tomson. Together with the Annotations of Fr. Iunius vpon the Reuelation of S. John." Like the title to "the Bible," this has a wood engraved border of the Evangelists, Apostles and Twelve Tribes. Also, at the bottom of each is a musical score.

The Sternhold and Hopkins Psalms have the music and there are curious wood engravings of scenes and maps throughout the text of the Holy Scriptures.

ELZEVIKIAN IMPRINTS.

- 1731 ELZEVIK.—Q CURTH RUF1 Rerum ALEXANDRI MAGNI
Libri VIII. Superstites Accedunt TITI POPURÆ Notæ.
Engraved front. (mounted). Minimo.

Leyden, ex officina Elzeviriana, 1622

RARE.—“The Elzevir family, who flourished in Holland during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, were famous for the elegance of their type, the excellence of their press-work, the accuracy of their text, and their successful efforts to introduce the duodecimo as an improvement upon the larger and more expensive forms of books. Their type was highly esteemed in this country, and furnished the model for that of the first Caslon. Of twelve printers belonging to this family, at least seven were celebrated for special excellence.

“Louis Elzevir, the first printer of the family, was born at Louvain, and established himself at Leyden. His first book was an edition of Eutropius in 1592, and it is excessively rare. He continued to print in that city until his death in 1617. He adopted for his device the arms of the Batavian Republic and the motto ‘Concordiâ res parvæ crescunt,’ which motto, adopted by Jo Steels, with another device, Brunet and other bibliographers, were led to believe that Elzevir’s and Steels’s devices were the same.

“The five sons of Louis were all printers—the youngest, Bonaventure Elzevir, achieving great celebrity as the publisher of the famous duodecimo classics. Louis, a grandson of the first Louis, was the founder of the Elzevir press of Amsterdam.

“The Elzevirs did not aim at luxury, like the Aldi and the Stephens, for they printed only one work upon vellum, but devoted their endeavors to furnishing accurate works for common use.”—BIGMORE AND WYMAN.

- 1732 ELZEVIK.—RESPUBLICA ROMANA.—Honor1 Vrbis Æternæ P. SCRIVERIUS Restitvit. Elegantly engraved title.

Engraved title. Minimo, old calf.

Leyden, ex officina Elzeviriana, 1630

RARE. With the arms of De Thou on the sides in gold—“a chevron between three bees.”

- 1736 ELZEVIK.—GRAECORVM RES PVBLICAE ab VRBONE
EMMIO Descriptæ. Engraved title. Minimo, vellum.

RARE. Leyden, ex officina Elzeviriana, 1632

- 1737 ELZEVR.—IOSIÆ SIMLERI Vallesiae et Alpivm Descriptionis. Minimo, old calf, gilt.
RARE. Leyden, ex officina Elzeviriana, 1633
- 1738 ELZEVR.—C. CORNELIVS TACITVS ex I. Lipsii Accuratisima Editione. Engraved title and plate of portraits. Minimo, mottled sheep.
Leyden, ex officina Elzeviriana, 1634

VERY RARE, MS. note on end paper—"très rare et très recherchée."

On the sides are stamped an heraldic cognizance—"a lion statant holds on his shoulder a column and stands beside a shield on which are charged a patriarchal cross, etc." This belonged, it is believed, to a member of the Colonna family.

- 1739 ELZEVR.—C. IVLII CAESARIS quæ extant ex emendatione IOS SCALIGERI. Engraved title. Minimo, old sheep (cut down).
RARE. Amsterdam, typis Ludovici Elzevirii, 1650
- 1740 ELZEVR.—M. VELLEIVS PATERCVLVVS cum Notis GERARDI VOSSII, G. F. Engraved title. Minimo, half vellum.
RARE. Leyden, ex officina Elzeviriana, 1654

- 1741 ELZEVR.—PISO (W.) et BONTIUS (J.). De Indiæ utriusque Re Naturali et Medica Libri Quatuordecim. Handsomely engraved title and numerous illustrations. Folio (fourteen and one-eighth inches by eight and five-eighths), vellum.

Amsterdam, apud Ludovicum et Danielelem Elzevirios, 1658

VERY RARE, and a fine example of a folio Elzevir, with head and tail pieces, fleurons, initial letters, etc.

Daniel Elzevir, named above was a son of Bonaventure, achieved great fame in Leyden, and afterwards at Amsterdam,—“continuing to print until his death in 1689 His widow carried on the business after his death; and the last book issued by the family was in 1712 by Abraham Elzevir, alderman at Leyden, the sole survivor of the family.”

- 1742 ELZEVR.—CONCIONES ET ORATIONES ex Historicis Latinis. Minimo, old calf.
Amsterdam, ex officina Elzeviriana, 1662

VERY RARE. With the rarely used Elzevirian device on title of Minerva and her Owl beneath on olive tree with the motto—"Ne extra olea."

"The emblem of the olive tree and vine, under it an old man gathering fruit, on the other side on a scroll the motto, 'Non Solus' (not alone), was a later and better-known mark of these famous printers. The adopting for their mark of the prolific vine—crowned by Grecian fable as the greatest blessing to mankind, and the gift of the wise Minerva—was very appropriate for a family so many in number and so multitudinous in works."—BIGMORE AND WYMAN.

- 1743 ELZEVR.—Q CVRTII RVFI Historiarum Libri accuratissime editi. Engraved title. Minimo, old sheep.

Venice, per Iacobum Pentium de leucho Anno Domini, 1511

EXTREMELY RARE edition of the Ptolemy of Sylvanus, a copy of which was priced last year in a German catalogue at 350 marks (about eighty-five dollars).

The above, although somewhat water-stained, is complete. Harris mentions a copy of this geography examined by him which was without the "Mappemonde," so interesting to Americans. Of the twenty-eight maps this is the most valuable, as it contains the islands of "Cuba," "Spagnuola," and a portion of the mainland designated as "Terre Sanctæ Crucis," and which is the SECOND KNOWN DELINEATION OF ANY PART OF COLUMBUS'S DISCOVERIES.

"Of all [the ancient geographers] that I have named," writes Ramusio, "Ptolemy, as the latest, possessed the greatest extent of knowledge. Thus, towards the North, his knowledge carries him beyond the Caspian, and he is aware of its being shut in all around like a lake,—a fact which was unknown in the days of Strabo and Pliny, though the Romans were already the lords of the world. But though his knowledge extends so far, a tract of fifteen degrees beyond that sea he can describe only as 'Terra Incognita,' and towards the South he is fain to apply the same character to all beyond the Equinoctial." —YULE.

Of the editor of the above, Harris says—"Bernard Sylvanus of Eboli (in the kingdom of Naples), was a geographer of remarkable learning, boldness and imagination. His work can scarcely be called an edition of Ptolemy's 'Cosmographia,' for he undertook therein to remodel Ptolemy himself, by means of data borrowed from modern navigators, which he interspersed with such erroneous conjectures boldly set forth as facts, that no reliance whatever can be placed upon his texts, maps or assertions. Withal, Sylvanus' 'Ptolemy' is, in a cartographical point of view, an extremely curious book."

- 1747 PTOLEMY.—GEOGRAPHIA VNIVERSALIS VETVS ET NOVA COMPLECTENS CLAVDII PTOLEMÆI ALEXANDRINI ENARRATIONIS LIBROS VIII. Numerous maps and cuts. Small folio, roan (stained title and some maps mended).

Basle, per Henrichum Petrum, 1545

VERY RARE. This volume is interesting on account of the description of America which precedes the curious double-paged map—"Nova Insvlæ XXVI.—Nova Tabvla." This presents North and South America with the West Indies in a very strange manner, particularly the upper portion, where "Terra Florida," and "Francisca" (Canada) are divided by an isthmus. This edition is known as Sebastian Munster's, and has, among other maps, the same as those in the 1540 edition, of which the first chart is styled—"Typhus universalis," containing the western continent, the southern part of which bears the name "America seu insula Brasilia."

- 1748 PTOLEMY.—| LA GEOGRAFIA | DI CLAVDIO TOLO-MEO | ALESSANDRINO | NUOAMENTE TRADOTTA DI GRECO IN ITALIANO, | DA GIROLAMO RVSCCELLI con expositioni del medesimo, particolari di luogo in luogo & uni | uersali sopra tutto il libro, et sopra tutta la Geografia, o modo | di far la dessoritione di tutto il mondo. | Numerous maps and cuts. Thick 4to, vellum (title mended). Venice, apresso Vincenzo Valgrisi, 1561

VERY RARE. A fine clean copy of this edition in Italian, which contains in all 64 maps, ten being of special interest to those interested in the pursuit of geographical knowledge relating to America. All the maps are mounted upon independent joints, and are as fresh and clean as when first issued from the press.

The maps of the American continent and islands are of a very different aspect to those in the preceding lot, printed sixteen years before. The notable maps in this respect are the second, "Orbis Descriptio;" and the third, "Carta Marina Nvova Tavola." At the end are separate maps of "Terra Nova," "Nveva Hispania Tabvla Nova," "Terra Nveva," "Brasil Nvova Tavola," "Isola Cvba Nova," and "Isola Spagnola Nova."

- 1749 PTOLEMY.—GEOGRAPHIA CL. PTOLEMAEI ALEXANDRINI OLIM A BILIBALDO PIRCKHEIMHERIO TRAS-LATA, ETC., REDACTA A IOSEPHO MOLETIO MATHE-MATICO. Maps and cuts. Thick quarto, half sheep.

Venice, 1562

VERY RARE. The maps in this Latin edition are very similar to those in the preceding—particularly those most interesting to us, i. e., the second, "Orbis Descriptio," and the third, "Carta Marina." At the end are separate maps of "Terra Nveva—Novæ Galliæ," "Nveva Hispania," "Terra Nova—Americæ sive Perv," "Brasil," "Isola Cvba," and "Isola Spagnola."

The map of the Brothers Zeni, first published in 1558, is here reproduced, being map No. 17 of the additions, or 26 in regular order.

- 1750 PTOLEMY.—LA GEOGRAFIA DI CLAVDIO TOLOMEO ALESSANDRINO GIA TRADOTTA DI GRECO IN ITALIANO da M. GIERO RVSCCELLI, etc. Cuts and maps. Thick 4to, vellum (MS. name on title and wormed slightly).

- 1751 PTOLEMY.—GEOGRAFIA CIVE DESCRITTIONE VNIVERSALE DE LA TERRA DI CL. TOLEMEO UNCONTRANTI E CORRETTI DALL' ECCELLMO. SIG. GIO. ANT. MAGINI DAL LATINO NELL' ITALIANO CERNOTI, etc. Maps, cuts and fleurons. Thick small folio, half vellum (title and a few other pages mended).

Venice, 1598

VERY RARE. Published by "Gio. Battista E Giorgio Galignani, fratelli." Chapter 34 is devoted to a description of America, to the map of which, as well as others where the New World appears, attention should be given as they show the evolution of 16th century cosmography. New Guinea and Terra del Fuego are given as one enormous continent across the the entire bottom of the map and appear to be separated from the mainland of South America by a channel below the Isthmus of Panama.

- 1752 PTOLEMY.—GEOGRAFIA DI CLAUDIO TOLOMEO ALESSANDRINO TRADOTTO DI GRECO NELL' IDIOMA VOLTATE ITALIANO DA GIROLAMO RVSCCELLI ET HORA NUOUAMENTE AMPLIATA DA GIOSEFFO ROSACCIO. Cuts and maps. Thick 4to, vellum. Venice, 1599

SMILLIE; "The Smugglers' Landing Place," by J. C. NICOLL; and "Twilight," by J. A. T. MONKS.

"The great variety of these subjects by twenty representative American etchers will be noticeable at a glance. Europe and America have both furnished themes, and the time-honored glories of Florence and Venice are found side by side with the almost tropical splendor of Mexico and the simpler, but not less poetical, scenery of the coast of New England, while the Indian and the negro stand upon the same basis, as regards their artistic usefulness, with the cavalier of the seventeenth century. Nor is the ideal note wanting, although the prevailing key is decidedly realistic."—Introduction.

It is needless, perhaps, to state that all the etchings in this collection were made specially for the purpose, and that none of them have ever been published before.

CABALISTIC LETTERS OF THE MARQUIS D'ARGENS.

- 1777 ARGENS (Jean Batiste de, Marquis de). LETTRES CABALISTIQUES, ou Correspondance Philosophique, Historique et Critique entre deux Cabalistes, divers Esprits Elementaires et le SEIGNEUR ASTAROTH. Nouvelle Edition, Augmentée de LXXX. Nouvelles Lettres, de Quantité de Remarques et de Plusieurs Figures. Portrait, front., and vignettes on title by SIBLEY. 6 vols. 12mo, old marbled calf gilt, red edges.

La Haye, chez Pierre Paupie, 1741

VERY RARE. The works of this freethinking Marquis are quite uncommon. They are marked with reckless boldness and infidel erudition. Frederick the Great was so charmed with the writings of the Marquis D'Argens that he made their author King's Chamberlain and Director of Fine Arts in the Berlin Academy.

ARTISTIC HOUSES OF THE UNITED STATES.

- 1778 ARTISTIC HOUSES: BEING A SERIES OF INTERIOR VIEWS OF A NUMBER OF THE MOST BEAUTIFUL AND CELEBRATED HOMES IN THE UNITED STATES; WITH A DESCRIPTION OF THE ART TREASURES CONTAINED THEREIN. 200 plates. 4 vols. in 10 sections. Folio, paper, complete as published. N. Y., 1883-84

"We are assured that this collection as a whole is the worthiest extant representative of the triumphs of contemporaneous American interior architecture and decoration, not only by the testimony of American architects, but of foreign, who, especially in Paris, have expressed their delight and surprise at the revelations made by some of these pictures. The difficulties of producing such a work as this are best known to the publishers themselves. Each plate in the series has been secured through the courtesy of the owner of the house of which it depicts a part. The strictly private nature of the enterprise--it being in a sense the exclusive property of its five hundred subscribers--lent welcome assistance to the prosecution of it; and the generous co-operation of the subscribers was an encouragement, without the expectation of which the task would not have been attempted. In presenting the completed "Artistic Houses" to the subscribers, the publishers venture to believe that the presentation it makes of the beauty and comfort of the American home will be a lasting and most honorable memorial of the genius that inspired them. The domestic architecture of no nation in the world can show trophies more original, affluent, or admirable."--Preface.

A list of the names of the owners of the houses illustrated will be found below:--

PICKERING'S HANDSOME EDITION OF THE WORKS OF LORD BACON, IN SEVENTEEN VOLUMES.

- 1783 BACON.—THE WORKS OF FRANCIS BACON, Lord Chancellor of England. A New Edition, by BASIL

MONTAGU, Esq. Portraits, plates, fac-similes, etc. 17 vols. 8vo, half calf, gilt.

London, William Pickering, 1825-34

VERY SCARCE. Good copy of Pickering's beautiful edition.

To posterity and distant ages Bacon bequeathed his good name, and posterity and distant ages will do him ample justice. Wisdom herself has suffered in his disgrace, but year after year brings to light proof of the arts that worked Bacon's downfall and covered his character with obloquy.

MAGNIFICENT EDITION-DE-LUXE OF THE GREAT

1784 BACON (HENRY). THE GREAT MODERN PAINTERS, ENGLISH, FRENCH, GERMAN, ETC., MEDAL-LISTS OF SUCCESSIVE UNIVERSAL EXPOSITIONS. TEXT ON JAPAN PAPER, BY THE PRINCIPAL ART CRITICS. EDITED BY HENRY BACON. Illustrated with 328 vignettes on wood, 115 vignettes on steel, printed in colors, 126 full-page and vignette illustrations.—PROOFS BEFORE LETTERS ON JAPAN PAPER PRINTED IN COLORS, AND 24 DUPLICATE PROOFS BEFORE LETTERS ON SATIN. 2 vols. in 8 parts, folio, in silk covered portfolio (complete as published). Paris, Goupil and Co., 1886

EDITION-DE-LUXE, WITH JAPAN PROOFS BEFORE LETTERS, ALSO DUPLICATE PROOFS ON SATIN. This exquisite book—limited to an edition of 50 copies, and sold to subscribers only at $300—is truly the most magnificent specimen of book-making of ancient or modern times. The text (pp. 384) and plates throughout are printed on the finest paper from the Imperial Factories of Japan. The reproductions on steel and wood consist of the best examples of twenty four of the leading artists of the present day, viz.:—BOUGUEREAU, ALMA-TADEMA, MUNKACSY, BONHEUR, HENNER, BAUDRY, LEFEBVRE, BRIDGMAN, KNAUS, BRETON, BONNAT, MILLAIS, ISRAELS, JACQUE, LAURENS, VAN MARCKE, DE NITTIS, HERKOMER, MEISSONIER, BOULANGER, CHAVANNES, MADRAZO, MESDAG and GEROME.

Of the 593 illustrations, 150 are Proofs before Letters on Japan paper and satin. But one of the most important features of this grand exhibit is the reproduction in the text of the sketches or studies of those masters of all that is greatest in art. Such an insight is seldom vouchsafed to the uninitiated, and the originals are unattainable, even by the wealthiest.

NATHANIEL BACON'S VINDICATION OF PARLIAMENTS—
LONDON, 1647-51.

1785 BACON (Nathaniel, "of Graies Inn, Esquire"). - 1797 BEHN (Aphra). The Land of Love, a Poem. Curious engraved front. Small 8vo, russia (cover loose).
London, 1717

VERY RARE and FACETIOUS.

"Mrs. Behn was a woman of so celebrated a fame while she lived, and so esteemed, that to give a perfect draught of her, one must write like her."—CHARLES GIBBON.

"She has been accused, and that not without great justice, of interlarding her comedies with the most indecent scenes, and giving indulgence in her wit to the most indelicate expressions. The best and perhaps the only true excuse that can be made for it is, . . . as she wrote for a livelihood, she was obliged to comply with the corrupt taste of the times. And as she was a woman, and naturally, moreover, of an amorous complexion, and wrote in an age and to a court of gallantry and licentiousness, the latter circumstances, added to her necessities, compelled her to indulge her audience in their favorite depravity; and the former, assisted by a rapid flow of wit and vivacity, enabled her so to do; so that both together have given her plays the loose cast which it is but too apparent they possess."

- 1798 BENIGNE-WINSLOW (Jaques). Dissertation sur l'Incertitude des Signes de la Mort, et l'Abus des Enterremens et Embaumemens Précipités. 12mo, old mottled calf, gilt.

FATHER BOURDALOUE'S COMPLETE WORKS IN TWENTY-TWO VOLUMES.

- 1817 BOURDALOUE (LOUIS, S. J.). ŒUVRES COM-PLÈTES. 22 vols. 12mo, fresh mottled sheep gilt, marbled edges. Senlis and Paris, 1824

The Jesuit D'Arruis, speaking of Bourdaloue, said: "Lorsque le Père Bourdaloue prêcha à Rouen, les artisans quittoient leurs boutiques pour l'aller entendre; les marchands leur négoce; les avocats le palais; les médecins leurs malades. Pour moi lorsque je prêchai l'année d'après, je remis toutes choses dans l'ordre, personne n'abandonnoit pas son emploi."

"The style and imagery of Bourdaloue seem to rush upon us with the force of a mountain torrent; he is the Demosthenes of French divines; but it cannot be denied that his art is too apparent; and that all the subordinate parts of his composition seem to be purposely kept down, in order to sharpen the force of his logic, and to aggravate the terror of his invective. In the higher departments of sermon composition, he is, doubtless, without a rival; our Horsley seems to have had much in common with that eminent divine, as, in the deeper scenes of Christ's sufferings, and in the delineations of the day of judgment, there was much about both these preachers which exhibited all the sublimity of which such subjects are capable."—DIBDIN.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF JESSE'S LIFE OF BEAU BRUMMELL.

- 1825 BRUMMELL.—THE LIFE OF GEORGE BRUMMELL, Esq., commonly called BEAU BRUMMELL. By CAPTAIN JESSE. Revised and Annotated Edition from the Author's own interleaved copy. With forty portraits in color of BRUMMELL and his contemporaries. 2 vols. thick large 8vo, boards, totally uncut. London, 1886

LARGE PAPER and No. 40. ONLY ONE HUNDRED and FIFTY numbered COPIES of this fine edition printed—ONE HUNDRED for ENGLAND and FIFTY for AMERICA.

This re-issue of Jesse's "Life of Beau Brummell," which has been a scarce book for a long time, contains a quantity of new matter now published for the first time, collected by the author, but which it was not deemed fitting to insert in former editions. Many notes have also been added, as well as forty illustrations, after Dighton and others, of contemporaries of Brummell.

1826 BRYAN (Michael). Dictionary of Painters and Engravers, Biographical and Critical. New Edition Revised and Enlarged, edited by ROBERT EDMUND GRAVES, B.A., of the British Museum. Vol. 1 (A-K—all published). Thick large 8vo, fresh cloth, totally uncut. London, 1886

"Since the appearance of the last edition of Bryan's 'Dictionary of Painters and Engravers,' which was issued in 1849, the publication of many valuable works on art and monographs on artists, some of them embodying the results of careful researches among city records, guild books and church registers, particularly in Italy and in the Netherlands, has furnished many new sources from which material has been derived for the correction and enlargement of this work. Most especially is the editor indebted to the invaluable works of Messrs. Crowe & Cavalcaselle, Burckhardt, Milanesi and Morelli on the Italian painters, of Messrs. Crowe & Cavalcaselle, Weale and Kramm on Flemish and Dutch art, and of the late Sir William Stirling-Maxwell on the artists of Spain.

"Besides the addition of a large number of names which were not included in the former edition or its supplement, new authority has been given to every one of the old entries by a careful revision, and in most instances by important changes. In several cases the notices have been supplied by contributors specially qualified for the task, such as Mr. W. B. Scott, Dr. J. P. Richter, the late Mrs. Heaton and others. These will be distinguished by the writer's initials. It is anticipated that the new matter introduced will enlarge the work to double its former size."—From the Preface.

1827 BRYDGES. The Autobiography, Times, Opinions and Contemporaries of SIR EGERTON BRYDGES, Bart., K. J. (per legem terræ), Baron Chandos of Sudeley, etc. Portraits and vignette titles (foxed). 2 vols. 8vo, half calf gilt. London, 1834

"The author before us is as intimately persuaded of the reality of his powers, of the solidity of his reputation, as if the loud huzzas of the world were borne to his retreat. The amabilis insania (the delusion is too proud, too strong for ordinary vanity) cheats, soothes, flatters, to the verge of the abyss."—Edinburgh Review.

1828 [BRYDGES (Thomas).] A Burlesque Translation of HOMER. First American from Fourth London edition of 1797. Numerous humorous etchings. 2 vols. small 8vo, fresh half calf, gilt (foxed slightly).

N. Y., published at the Sentimental Epicure's Ordinary, 1809

VERY SCARCE. A witty travesty in very free language.

THE EXCESSIVELY RARE AND FACETIOUS "ARTIFICIAL CHANGELING"—THE FIRST EDITION OF 1650.

- 1829 [BULWER (JOHN).]—| ANTHROPOMETAMORPHOSIS: | MAN TRANSFORM'D; | or, the | ARTIFICIAL | CHANGELING. | Historically Presented, | In the Mad and Cruel Gallantry, | Foolish Bravery, Ridiculous Beauty, | Filthy Fineness, and Loathsome | Loveliness of Most Nations, | Fashioning and Altering their Bodies | from the Mould Intended by | Nature. | With a Vindication of the Regular | Beauty and Honesty of | Nature. | and | An Appendix of the Pedigree of the | English Gallant. | By "J. B. Sirnamed, The Chiroosopher." | In nova fert animus, mutatas dicere formas. | With curious engraved portrait of the author. Thick minimo, old calf, gilt.
London, printed for J. Hardesty, at the Black-spread Eagle in Duck-Lane, 1650

EXCESSIVELY RARE, and the rarest of the rare English Erotic Curiosa. The above is the first edition, and was unknown and unmentioned by Lowndes. A copy of the far less rare second or 1653 edition of this book sold at the sale of Col. Stanley at London, in 1813, for £13 2s. 6d., i. e., $66.

The chapter on the "Privy Parts" is one of the most remarkable of the curiosities of literature. It enters into some of the strangest and most erratic customs of civilization and savagery in a way that is wonderful in its eccentricity. Rabelais, Aretino and De Sade are brought to mind by this weirdly erotic volume.

An account of this extravagant work will be found in Oldys's "British Librarian," pp. 367-72, and in the "London Retrospective Review," New Series II., 205-17. It appears that the author wrote several other works, which he did not deem it desirable to publish.

"From Bulwer's extravagance some illustration is thrown upon one portion of the history of human knowledge. He lived in an age of great learning and of little judgment; at a time when there was a voracious appetite for information, and when fact and fiction were indiscriminately gorged and devoured by all who sought for the reputation of learning."—Retrospective Review.

- 1830 BULWER-LYTTON (Rosina, Lady). Cheveley, or the Man of Honor. 2 vols. 12mo, bds., uncut (stained). N. Y., 1839

A covert attack upon her husband, the late Lord Lytton, statesman and novelist.

RARE, and once very popular in New England.

- 1836 BURROUGHS. Memoirs. Front. 2 vols. in 1. Boards (stained). Boston, 1840

LARGE PAPER COPY OF BURTON'S BOOK-HUNTER.

- 1837 BURTON (John Hill). THE BOOK-HUNTER, etc. 4to, half roan, totally uncut (binding broken). Phila., 1881

LARGE PAPER. Limited edition of 27 copies only. With rubricated title. A dainty volume, full of the crumbs of conceit and the flowers of fancy, forming an entertaining literary and bibliographical treat, dealing in a most delightful way with the nature and functions of the Bibliomaniac, with numerous anecdotes.

THE 1638 FOLIO OF BURTON'S "ANATOMY OF MELANCHOLY."

- 1838 [BURTON (ROBERT).]—THE | ANATOMY OF | MELANCHOLY. | What it is, With all the kinds causes | symptoms, prognostickes & seuerall cures of it. | In three Partitions with their seuerall | Sections, members & sub-sections | Philosophically Medicinally | Historically opened & cut vp. | By | DEMOCRITUS JUNIOR | With a Satyricall Preface conducing | to the following Discourse. | With brilliant impression of the engraved title by C. LE BLON. Thick small folio, calf, rebounded gilt, red edges. Oxford, printed for Henry Cripps, 1638

VERY RARE. The great Johnson has praised the "Anatomy of Melancholy" in the warmest terms, and the ludicrous Sterne has interwoven many parts of it into his own popular performance. Milton did not disdain to build two of his finest poems on it; and a host of inferior writers have embellished their works with beauties not their own, culled from a performance which they had not the justice even to mention.

"The book, in my opinion, most useful to a man who wishes to acquire the reputation of being well-read, with the least trouble, is 'Burton's Anatomy of Melancholy.'"—LORD BYRON.

- 1839 BUSH (Mrs. Forbes). Memoirs of the Queens of France. Two portraits. 2 vols. small 8vo, cloth, gilt. Phila., 1851

FIFTY VOLUME SET OF THE VALUABLE PUBLICATIONS OF THE CAMDEN SOCIETY.

- 1845 CAMDEN SOCIETY PUBLICATIONS. 50 vols. 4to, fresh cloth, uncut. London, 1839-53

This valuable set—of which the early volumes are very scarce, and command a high price in Europe—is in most excellent condition. The Camden Society publications, which were carefully edited by the best British antiquaries, comprise deeply interesting matter of the highest archaeological, genealogical, historical, political and antiquarian information. They are of particular importance, as illustrating the domestic manners and social intercourse of the medieval people of Great Britain.

Philological students will discover in these volumes much that will help them to the proper understanding of the origin of our language. In many of these works, and which are printed from early English manuscripts, are a multitude of words that have long since passed into disuse, and can only be found in the pages of the early chroniclers and poets of Old England.

This set includes:—Political Songs of England, edited by Wright; Warkworth's Chronicle, edited by Halliwell; Ecclesiastical Documents, edited by Hunter; Hayward's Annals of Elizabeth, edited by Bruce; Rishanger's Chronicle, edited by Halliwell; Norden's Description of Essex, edited by Ellis; The Egerton Papers, edited by Collier; Chronica Jocelini de Brakelonda; Kemp's Nine Daies Wonder, by Dyce; Irish Narratives, 1641 to 1690, by Croker; Travels of Nicander Nucius, by Cramer; Poems of Walter Mapes, by Wright; Apology for the Lollards, attributed to Wicliffe, by Todd; Three Early English Metrical Romances, by Robson; Rutland Papers, by Jerdan; Private Diary of Dr. John Dee, by Halliwell; Suppression of the Monasteries, by Wright; Proceedings against Dame Alice Kyteler, by Wright; Letters of Eminent Literary Men, by Ellis; Diary of Bishop Cartwright, by Hunter; Promptorium Parvulorum, 2 vols.; French Chronicle of London, by Aungier; Thornton Romances, viz.—Perceval, Insumbras, Eglamour and Degrevant, by Halliwell; Leycester Correspondence, by Bruce; Polydore Vergil's English History, 2 vols., by Ellis; Verney's Notes of Long Parliament, by Bruce; Autobiography of Sir John Bramston; Correspondence of James, Earl of Perth, by Jerdan; Chronicle of Calais, by Nichols; De Antiquis Legibus Liber, by Stapleton; Life of Lord Grey of Wilton, by Egerton; Church of Middleham, by Atthill; Italian Relation of England, by Sneyd; Diary of Walter Yonge, by Roberts; Diary of Henry Machyn, 1550-1563, by Nichols; Twysden on the Government of England, by Kemble; Obituary of Richard Smyth, by Ellis; Camden's Visitation of Huntingdonshire, by Ellis; Queen Jane and Queen Mary, by Nichols; Chronicon Petroburgense, by Stapleton; Letters of Queen Elizabeth and James VI. of Scotland, by Bruce; Wills and Inventories of Bury St. Edmunds, by Tymms; Mapes de Nugis Curialium, by Wright; Pilgrimage of Sir Richard Guylforde, by Ellis; Secret Services of Charles II. and James II., by Akerman; Chronicle of the Grey Friars of London, by Nichols; Camden Miscellany, 2 vols.

- 1846 CAMPBELL (Sir James, of Ardkinglas). Memoirs Written by Himself. Portrait. 2 vols. 8vo, boards (covers loose). London, 1832

- 1847 CANOVA.—Della Vita di ANTONIO CANOVA, Libri Quattro, compilati da MELCHIOR MISSEINI. Portraits and medals. 8vo, tree marbled calf, gilt. Prato, 1824

A life of Canova, whose works are generally beautiful, combining nature with classic beauty and proportion. Some of his best statuary is preserved in the Vatican, such as the "Boxers" and many others. His celebrated "Venus" is in the Pitti Palace at Florence; the "Three Graces" are in England. He was created Marquis of Ischia by the Pope.

- 1848 CANTIMIR (Demetrius, Prince of Moldavia). Histoire de l'Empire Othoman, ou Se Voyent les Causes de son Aggrandissement et de sa Decadence, avec des Notes très-Instructives. 4 vols. 12mo, mottled calf gilt, red edges. Paris, 1743

Translated into French by M. De Jonquieres.

- 1849 CARD (Henry). Literary Recreations. 8vo, calf gilt, marbled edges. Essays on Bastards, Christina of Sweden, Women, Methodism, etc.

THE PARCHMENT EDITION OF THOMAS CARLYLE'S WORKS IN TWENTY VOLUMES.

- 1850 CARLYLE (Thomas). COMPLETE WORKS—THE PARCHMENT EDITION. Illustrated by fine etchings, steel engravings and photogravures, including portraits, historical views, etc. 20 vols. small 8vo, fresh half yellow calf gilt, top edges gilt, others uncut. Boston, 1884

Of this beautiful edition but 375 copies were printed. Each is numbered, this set being No. 137.

This set is divided as follows:—Frederick the Great, 7 vols.; Cromwell's Letters and Speeches, 3 vols.; French Revolution, 2 vols.; Essays, 4 vols.; Past and Present, John Knox and Miscellanies; Resartus, Teufeldröckh, Heroes and Hero Worship; Life of Schiller; Life of John Sterling and Latter Day Pamphlets. COLORED BY HAND IN FAC-SIMILE OF THE ORIGINAL DRAWINGS.* 2 vols. square folio, half russia, totally uncut.
London, printed by W. Bulmer for J. Boydell, 1794-96

RARE. One of the grand art books of the past century, dedicated to Horace Walpole, written by the eccentric and talented author of "Dr. Syntax," printed by the magnificent types of Bulmer, and published by the munificent Lord Mayor of London, who dissipated his large fortune in the attempt to revive art in England, by the publication of his celebrated Shakespeare Gallery. The drawings were made by J. Farrington, one of the most celebrated landscape painters of the time, and engraved in aquatint by J. E. Stadler.

Sets were published with the prints uncolored, and are much less valuable than colored sets such as this. The Beckford copy sold for £16 16s.

Rome, 1790

TOGETHER 2 vols. Magnificently and uniformly bound by DAVID, of Paris, in green crushed levant morocco, elegant, with let in red morocco cameos, tooled on sides and backs, with specially cut phallic design of a libidinous satyr dancing, and with beautiful inside gilt dentelle borders, the edges gilt on marble.

EXCESSIVELY RARE and PHALLIC. Both volumes have the imprint—"A Rome de l'Imprimerie du Vatican." The engraved false titles of the two volumes have not only been transposed in the binding, but the "Delices" is dated 1792, and the "Dames Romaines" 1790. The regular titles are dated as above.

"We need not regret the departure of those times when modesty had no cloak; when, like the brute, man and woman stood before each other unabashed at their nakedness. The facility of enjoyment gave birth to satiety and disgust. A frightful corruption of morals was the inevitable consequence of this state of things, for excess of debauchery could alone reanimate desire, the prime mover of enjoyment. Eternal glory to the religion which, overturning these impure idols into the mire, and unrolling the code of chastity before our eyes, has made our sensations purer and our pleasures keener."—FANIN.

SPLENDID COPY OF DIBDIN'S "BIBLIOGRAPHICAL DECAMERON," IN FINE OLD RUSSIA RELIURE.

- 1915 DIBDIN (THOMAS FROGNALL). THE BIBLIOGRAPHICAL DECAMERON; or, Ten Days' Pleasant Discourse upon Illuminated Manuscripts and Subjects connected with Early Engraving, Typography and Bibliography. With numerous plates, fac-similes and steel vignettes, many on INDIA PAPER. 3 vols. thick large 8vo, fine old stamped russia extra gilt, inside gold borders, marbled edges. London, printed for the author by W. Bulmer & Co., Shakespeare Press, 1817

A VERY FINE COPY, and with the book-plate "Ex Museo del Montino." Priced $125, see inserted catalogue cutting.

The "beautiful specimen" of printing in gold, "glittering like the sun," missing in many copies, will be found in its place on page 417, Vol. II.

The late Mr. Freeling, a distinguished book collector, enthusiastically remarked—"If the gods could read, they would never be without a copy of the Decameron in their side pocket!"

This comprehensive work contains a variety of interesting details relating to illuminated manuscripts; printed missals and breviaries; books printed from wooden blocks, and books containing early and curious specimens of engraving; bibles; books of games and sports; the origin and progress of printing upon the Continent; fac-similes of devices and marks of ancient printers; accounts of bookbinding and bookbinders; literary bibliography; book sales by auction; notices of eminent English booksellers and printers, and a description of some of the most celebrated public and private libraries of Europe.

"This is in fact a continuation of the Bibliomania, the same characters being introduced in the dialogues. From the information which this work contains, and the splendor of the decorations and printing, it will ever be considered as a model of excellence and good taste in typography and the arts. Both the copper-plates and the woodcuts which embellish the work have been destroyed."—LOWNDES.

"Overtures were made for its republication in French, but it was too late. The various blocks from which the engravings were made have been destroyed by the author and his friends. Although a thorough-paced bibliomaniac, we have no sympathy with such barbarous waste."—ALLIBONE.

"The dialogue (of the Bibliographical Decameron) is cleverly sustained, and the occasional Socratic form affords opportunity for numerous sallies of wit, while the information conveyed is of more value than that contained in any other of the doctor's works which affect greater sincerity."

"The volumes not only exceed my expectations but even my imagination. Without a rival in the whole history of Typography."—ISAAC DISRAELI.

THE SPLENDID ORIGINAL EDITION OF DIBDIN'S TOUR IN FRANCE AND GERMANY—HANDSOMELY BOUND.

- 1916 DIBDIN. BIBLIOGRAPHICAL, ANTIQUARIAN AND PICTURESQUE TOUR IN FRANCE AND GERMANY. With numerous beautiful engravings, fine impressions and vignettes on INDIA PAPER. 3 vols. large 8vo, crinkled morocco extra gilt, and blind tooled inside gold borders, leather joints, gilt edges, by FRY. London, printed by Bulmer & Nicoll, 1821

ORIGINAL EDITION. A fine copy, superbly bound and with splendid impressions of the illustrations on INDIA PAPER.

First edition, and superior to the second of 1829, as it is abridged and omits—"all the original plates excepting five."

"For these volumes $25,000 were paid for engraving alone. One of the most handsome that ever came from the British Press."—SCOTT.

The "Tour in France and Germany" is a work of exhaustless attraction for all lovers of the picturesque, and of bibliographical and antiquarian lore, and Lowndes remarks of it—"This work contains much curious information regarding the MSS. and Rare Works in public and private libraries abroad. It is printed and embellished in the same style of excellence as Dibdin's other works."

"One of the most beautiful and covetable books of modern times."—SOUTHEY.

"The most splendid publication which in my days I have seen."—KEIBBERT.

AN UNUSUALLY TALL COPY OF THE "ÆDES ALTHORPIANÆ."

- 1917 DIBDIN. ÆDES ALTHORPIANÆ: or, An Account of the Mansion, Books and Pictures at Althorp, the Residence of GEORGE JOHN, EARL SPENCER, K.G., to which is added a SUPPLEMENT to the Bibliotheca Spenceriana. With 32 beautiful engravings of the most important pictures in the gallery, and charming woodcuts on INDIA PAPER. 2 vols. large 8vo, half russia gilt, marbled sides and edges.

London, Shakespeare Press, 1822

A VERY FINE and UNUSUALLY TALL COPY of this magnificent work. See the author's "Reminiscences," II., 557-94, for the interesting account of the publication of this work, where it appears that the cost of engraving the portraits was upwards of £2,000.

"This work is intended as a Supplement to the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, forming Vols. 5 and 6. It contains an account of the ancestors of Earl Spencer, a history of the mansion, with an account of the pictures, and 32 engravings of the most important in the gallery, a systematic catalogue of editions of the Scriptures, an account of the Aldine editions, not contained in the former volumes. A supplement to the works printed in the fifteenth century."—LOWNDES.

Lausanne, chez la Société Typographique, 1778–81

RARE. In good condition, with MS. on three or four titles.

The "Encyclopédie," the greatest book ever produced in its results on the world, for it was one of the factors in bringing about the French Revolution, was written by about 160 contributors. The first edition was begun in 1751 and is in thirty-five folio volumes containing 23,135 pages. About 1761 Panckoucke and other publishers in Paris proposed a new and revised edition, and bought the plates for 250,000 livres. But as Diderot indignantly refused to edit what he considered a fraud on the subscribers to the as yet unfinished work, they began simply to reprint the work, promising supplementary volumes. When three volumes were printed the whole was seized in 1770 by the Government at the complaint of the clergy, and lodged in the Bastille.

INDIA PROOF EDITION-DE-LUXE, of which the above is No. 1, and complete.

These portraits were originally selected by the late Evert A. Duyckinck as being, in his opinion, the representation of the combined genius of the two continents. In every case great care and judgment was exercised in selecting the most authentic and faithful originals that could be found, and the finest artists both here and in Europe were employed at an enormous expense, in producing this magnificent series in the highest style of the engraver's art. An exhaustive biography, finely printed in black and red, accompanies each portrait, a list of which will be found below:

Goethe, Napoleon I., Napoleon III., B. Franklin, W. C. Bryant, Humboldt, Dickens, Washington, Martha Washington, Marie Antoinette, D. F. Sarmiento, Mrs. Siddons, David Livingstone, Duke of Wellington, Admiral Farragut, Victor Emanuel, Wagner, Byron, George Peabody, Maria Theresa, Charlotte Cushman, H. B. Stowe, Schiller, S. F. B. Morse, Sir Joshua Reynolds, Alexander II., Lord Palmerston, Robert Burns, David Garrick, Elizabeth B. GONSE'S MAGNIFICENT WORK ON JAPANESE ART—LIMITED EDITION.

1993 GONSE (Louis, Directeur de la Gazette des Beaux Arts). L'ART JAPONAIS. Illustrated by 64 full-page engravings, 30 of which are colored; there are in addition 13 etchings, 21 plates in heliogravure by the DUJARDIN process, and over 700 other engravings, exclusive of fac-similes of seals, autographs, etc. 2 vols. large 4to, fresh illuminated satin, edges uncut. Paris, A. Quantin, 1883

No. 96 of limited edition on Japan paper. The imported price of the above is 120 dollars. This magnificent work, of which but a limited edition was published, met with a ready sale among all interested in Japanese art. The work was the first published giving a general history of art of Japan. The author, M. Gonse, himself a well-known collector, had unusually fine facilities for the faithful performance of his work. The period reaches from the ninth to the nineteenth century.

- 1993* GOODALE (George L., M.D., Professor of Botany in Harvard University). WILD FLOWERS OF AMERICA. With fifty well-executed and colored plates from original drawings by ISAAC SPRAGUE. Thick large 4to, fresh half morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut. Boston, 1882

Isaac Sprague, the eminent botanical artist, has brought to this work the skill and experience acquired by association with Audubon, and during his extended investigations conducted under direction of Prof. Asa Gray, of Harvard University.

"Mr. Isaac Sprague, who has drawn these flowers, is without a superior in the country as a botanical artist. The pictures are absolutely correct in the delineation of the organs and in the tone of color. The process of lithography has been marvellously successful. . . . The accompanying text by Professor Goodale is admirable."—The New York Independent.

DE BALZAC, L'HERITIER (de l'Ain), ALFRED DE MUSSET, PAUL DE MUSSET, CHARLES NODIER, MADAME M. MÉNESSIER NODIER et LOUIS VIARDOT. Profusely illustrated with facetious plates, head and tail-pieces, vignettes, etc., by GRANDVILLE. 2 vols. thick large 4to, half roan. Paris, J. Hetzel, 1842

VERY SCARCE. A most amusing work, in which the text of notable French authors is ably supplemented by the characteristic illustrations of Grandville, who has here depicted the animal creation living, moving and having their being in human intelligence and activity. Many of the designs in the above represent well-known personages with the faces of animals. Grandville died in a lunatic asylum in the year 1847.

- 1995 GRANDVILLE. UN AUTRE MONDE.—Transformations, Visions, Incarnations, Locomotions, Explorations, Pérégrinations, Excursions, Stations, Cosmogonies, Fantasmagories, Réveries, Folatreries, Facéties, Lubies, Métamorphoses, Zoomorphoses, Lithomorphoses, Métempsycooses, Apothéoses, et Autres Choses. With numerous facetious plates, MANY COLORED BY HAND. Thick large 4to, half roan, uniform with preceding number. DIBDIN'S COPY OF THE RARE "GENTLEMAN'S ROMANCE"—LONDON, 1688.

- 1997 GUARDIAN INSTRUCTOR (The), or the GENTLEMAN'S ROMANCE, written for the Diversion and Service of the Gentry. Minimo, half calf (a few pp. foxed and title mounted).

London, printed for the authour and sold by Simon Miller at the Star, near the West-End of St. Paul's, 1688

RARE. With the following note, signed—"Dawson Turner—from the Library of Rev. T. F. Dibdin, with his monogram in the form of a coat-of-arms in the front." This quasi heraldic book-plate consists of a shield, in which are the printer's marks of Caxton, Fust and Schoeffer, a crest of a hand holding an open missal, above which is "T. F. D." on a label, and the motto—"Potuit quæ plurima virtus."

MAGNIFICENT ENGRAVINGS, BY BARTOLOZZI, AFTER GUERCINO, MICHAEL ANGELO, ETC.

- 1997* GUERCINO. EIGHTY-TWO PRINTS, MOSTLY ENGRAVED BY BARTOLOZZI, FROM THE ORIGINAL DRAWINGS IN THE COLLECTION OF HIS MAJESTY, GEORGE III.

Also—

SEVENTY-THREE PRINTS, ENGRAVED BY BARTOLOZZI, ETC., FROM THE ORIGINAL PICTURES AND DRAWINGS OF MICHAEL ANGELO, DOMENICHINO, CARACCI, GUERCINO, CORTONA, MARATTI, etc. etc., also in the collection of His Majesty.

TOGETHER 2 vols. Large folio, half russia (binding of one vol. broken). London, Boydell, 1764

EXCELLENT COPIES of these two volumes. Brilliant impressions of the plates. Guercino, one of the most celebrated Masters of the Italian School, early gave indications of uncommon genius. When only ten years old, he painted a figure of the Virgin on the façade of his father's house, which would have been considered a very extraordinary production, even at a more mature age. In 1626, he undertook his immense work of the Duomo at Piacenza, where he carried fresco to the highest perfection, in the beauty and force of his coloring, the boldness of his forshortening, and the magic of his relief. He died at Bologna in 1666, and left an incredible number of admirable drawings, which are highly esteemed—and which eventually came into the possession of King George III., and, what were considered the choicest specimens, were engraved in this collection by that admirable artist, Francis Bartolozzi. Few engravers reached so distinguished a rank in their profession as he, and that in every species of engraving. His etchings and line engravings in this collection, in imitation of the drawings of the most eminent painters, admirably represent the spirit of the originals.

MINIMO EDITION OF GRAMMONT, ETC.

- 2006 HAMILTON (Antony, Count). Œuvres, i. e., Memoires du COMTE DE GRAMMONT, Contes, Chansons, et Œuvres Diverses. 6 vols. minimo, fine old mottled calf, gilt, red edges. (Paris), 1760-62

CHARMING EDITION, including the "Memoirs of Grammont," which are universally admitted to be among the most witty and entertaining that have ever been written. It was described by Gibbon as "a classic work, the delight of every man and woman of taste," praised and edited by Sir Walter Scott, printed in almost every language and every form, and found in every good historical library. Some have said that it is too much imbued with the spirit of Charles the Second's days to suit the severer code of the present age. But the reasons which would keep these volumes away from the great mass of readers would be equally applicable to nearly all writers of Charles the Second's period, and to Pepys as well as to Ariosto, La Fontaine, Beaumont, Fletcher, Massinger, Pope, and even Shakespeare.

- 2007 HAMILTON (Elizabeth). Cottagers of Glenburnie. Minimo old sheep (foxed). N. Y., 1808 SCARCE and chap book edition.

THE EXTRAORDINARY MEMOIRS OF GEORGE THE FOURTH'S CRONY, COLONEL GEORGE HANGER.

- 2008 HANGER (George, Colonel). The Life, Adventures, and Opinions of, Written by Himself. Curious portrait drawn by the author. 2 vols. 8vo, half morocco. London, 1801

VERY SCARCE. Colonel Hanger was the Fides Achates, pimp, or, to play on his own name—Hanger on in chief, for the time being, to the so-called "First Gentleman of Europe," and royal adulterer, George IV. His work includes advice to "the Lovely Cyprians," suggestions on matrimony, compulsive wedlock, polygamy and prostitution. Also—"the history of the lovely Ægyptia, the Pamela of Norwood, and paragon of the Ægyptian race; the author's marriage with her, and her cruel infidelity and elopement with a travelling tinker: and a history of the King's Bench Prison, written by the author during his custody under the marshal of that prison."

- 2009 HARRIS (James). Three Treatises on Art, Music, Painting, Poetry and Happiness; also—HERMES, or a Philosophical Inquiry concerning Universal Grammar. Fronts engraved by BASIRE. 2 vols. 8vo, uniform calf, with the arms of Westminster School stamped in gold on sides and back. London, 1771-72

RARE. "Those who would enter more deeply into this subject will find it more fully and accurately handled with the greatest acuteness of investigation, perspicuity of application and elegance of method in a treatise called Hermes, by J. Harris, Esq., the most beautiful and perfect example of analysis that has been exhibited since the days of Aristotle."—BISHOP LOWTH.

SPLENDID COPY OF HAYLEY'S LIFE OF ROMNEY.

- 2014 HAYLEY (William). The Life of GEORGE ROMNEY. Portraits and plates engraved by CAROLINE WATSON and others. Large 4to, russia extra, gilt edges. London, 1809

VERY RARE in this state. An unusually fine copy, containing very brilliant impressions of all the plates, including the three beautiful and celebrated portraits of Lady Hamilton as "Sensibility," "Miranda" and "Cassandra," four portraits of Romney, "The Infant Shakespeare" and "Madame de Genlis"—all engraved by Caroline Watson in her peculiar and unapproachable manner.

- 2015 HAWKINS (Lætitia Matilda). The Countess and Gertrude, or Modes of Discipline. 4 vols. 8vo, old half calf (binding of Vol. 4 loose). London, 1812

This authoress—who also wrote "Siegwart," "Rosanne," "Sermonets," "Anecdotes" and "Memoirs and Biographical Sketches"—was a daughter of Sir John Hawkins. She died in 1789. Goodhugh in the "Library Manual" thus speaks of one of her books:—"This highly amusing writer has observed no order of march, but has strung her pearls together as they came to hand, giving here an account of her father's neighbors in Twickenham, then of his musical friends, now of those who visited at his table, and then of those who were met at the houses of friends; in short, it exhibits a specimen of perfect gossiping."

FIRST EDITION, with superior impressions of the plates.

"L'histoire de la céramique, c'est l'histoire de l'humanité toute entière."—

J. LELEWEL.

"Jules Jacquemart compelled etching to say what it had never been able to say before. With the point of his needle he expresses the density of porphyry; the coldness of porcelain; the insinuating surface of Chinese lacquer; the transparent and imponderable finesse of Venetian glassware; the reliefs and the chased lines of the most delicate works of the goldsmith, almost imperceptible in their slowness; the polish of iron and steel; the glitter, the reflections and even the sonority of bronze; the color of silver and of gold, as well as the lustre of the diamond, and the appreciable shades of the emerald, the turquoise and the ruby."—CHARLES BLANC.

EDITION-DE-LUXE OF THE MASTERPIECES OF GERMAN, FLEMISH AND DUTCH ART.

- 2074 JUTSUM (CARL T.). MEISTERWERKE OF GERMAN ART. Part 1, Early German, Flemish and Dutch Painters. Part 2, Contemporary German Art. Illustrated with 113

etchings, line engravings and "lichtdrucks," PROOFS BEFORE LETTER, MOSTLY ON JAPAN PAPER, and with over 200 engravings on wood and fac-similes of artists' sketches. 2 vols. in 10 sections. Folio, paper, with two silk covered portfolios to contain same. N. Y., 1883

LIMITED EDITION, of which this is number 320. The text throughout is beautifully printed on fine HOLLAND PAPER, and is a masterly and comprehensive illustrated review of German, Flemish and Dutch art, from Albert Durer to Hans Makart; including Cranach, Cornelius, Claude, Chodowicki, Cuyp, Burgmair, Breughel, Both, Berghem, Becker, Balen, Dow, Dietz, Van Eyck, Goltzius, Hals, Hobbema, Holbein, Jansen, Kauffman, Kaulbach, Knaus, Leutze, Lucas Van Leyden, Matsys, Max, Metger, Mieris, Muller, Ostade, Perugino, Piloty, Rembrandt, Rubens, Ruysdael, Schongauer, Steen, Steinla, Teniers, Terberg, Unger, Vandyck, Wohlgenuth, Wouwerman, and many others too numerous to mention here.

The illustrations are worthy of the text; the etchings are all by celebrities of the modern school—many being original painters' etchings; the line engravings are the most superb efforts that the masters of the burin are capable of producing—both etchings and engravings are proofs before letters on Japan paper. The "lichtdrucks" are beautiful fac-simile reproductions in color of chalk and water-color drawings. The engravings on wood interspersed throughout the text are most interesting, in many cases being fac-similes of sketches and studies by the principal artists which have never before been engraved.

SELECTED PROOFS ON SATIN OF THE MASTERPIECES OF GERMAN, FLEMISH AND DUTCH ART.

2075 JUTSUM. EIGHTEEN SELECTED PROOFS ON SATIN OF THE CHOICEST ETCHINGS AND LINE ENGRAVINGS IN JUTSUM'S MEISTERWERKE. Mounted in cardboard passe-partouts and enclosed in a levant morocco covered silk lined portfolio (24 x 19), with silver lock.

NEW COPYRIGHT LIBRARY EDITION. "Dr. Lingard's book is the fruit of great industry, learning and acuteness, directed by no ordinary talent. It is written in a clear and agreeable manner. The narrative has the perspicuity of Robertson, with more freedom and fancy. His diction has the ornament of Gibbon, without his affectation and obscurity. To one desirous of making a study, and not a mere amusement of the history of his country, we know no general History of England that we would sooner recommend than the one before us."—Edinburgh Review.

2161 MEYE (Heinrich). The Stone Sculptures of Copán and Quiriguá. With Historical and Descriptive Text by DR. JULIUS SCHMIDT. Translated from the German by A. D. SAVAGE, late of the New York Metropolitan Museum. With 20 plates drawn by MEYE. Square large folio, fresh half morocco, cloth sides, top edge gilt. N. Y., 1883

Published at twenty dollars. The sculptured monoliths of Copán and Quiriguá, reproduced in the plates, rank indisputably with the most interesting and noteworthy monuments of tropical America. They clearly betray the end for which they were produced—to display, embodied in stone, to the population settled in these regions, and to hand down to after-generations, the religious ideas and traditions which reigned in the spiritual life of these people. The number of places in Central America which at the present day attract attention by the presence of these monolith statues is by no means large—that is, if we look for an assemblage of many such statues on one spot. In most of the better-known collections of ruins, the statues occur singly, or else, as in the case of Santa Lucia Cosumalhualpa, the sculptured figures are represented exclusively by reliefs.

Amsterdam, 1694

VERY RARE. W. E. Burton's copy with his name stamped on the back.
Lowndes says, that the first printed editions, i. e., the London of 1670 and 1677 —"were mutilated, for the licenser expunged several passages, which reprobated the pride and superstition of the monks in the Saxon times, that were understood as a concealed satire upon the bishops in the reign of the Second Charles. Milton, however, presented a copy of the unlicensed passages to the Earl of Anglesey, which were published in 1681, with a preface, stating that they originally belonged to the third book of his history."

- 2175 MONTAGU (Lady Mary Wortley). Letters and Works, edited by her Great-Grandson LORD WHARNCLIFFE. 2 vols. 8vo, half calf, red edges (MS. name on title). Paris, 1837
- "I have heard Dr. Johnson say that he never read but one book through from choice in his whole life, and that book was Lady Mary Wortley Montague's 'Letters.'"—BOSWELL.
- "This lady has been called 'the English Sevigné,' she seems to have anticipated her title; for, in a letter to Lady Mar, she says—'The last pleasure that fell in my way, was Mme. Sevigné's Letters; very pretty they are; but I assert, without the least vanity, that mine will be full as entertaining forty years hence.' For an article relative to their authenticity, see Walpole, II., 180-182, App. No. IV."—WRANGHAM.

on the margins).

London, printed by Melch. Bradwood for Edward Blount and William Barret, 1613

EXCESSIVELY RARE and original edition of the first English translation of Montaigne. Lowndes says that a copy of this edition—"with an undoubted autograph of Shakespeare, sold at Evans's, May, 1838, for £100. The interest of this autograph was increased by its having been shown that Shakespeare used Florio's translation of Montaigne in 'The Tempest,' Act II., Sc. 2."

"Montaigne and Howell's Letters are my bed-side books. I like to hear them tell their old stories over and over again. I am informed that both of them tell coarse stories. I don't heed them, it was the custom of their time as it is of Highlanders and Hottentots to dispense with a part of dress which we all wear in cities."—W. M. THACKERAY.

2178 MONTAIGNE. Essais. Portrait. 9 vols. square minimo, half calf, totally uncut. Paris, n. d.

"Montaigne is the earliest classical writer in the French language, the first whom a gentleman is ashamed not to have read. No writer of the XVIth century has given so much delight."—HALLAM.

G. MULLER, INGOUF, AUDOUIN, MASSARD, LAURENT, KLAUBER, and many other of the most eminent engravers of the time, after the great masters of the Italian, Dutch, Flemish and French schools, including subjects after TITIAN, RAPHAEL, CORREGIO, ROMANO, GUIDO, DOMENICHINO, CARAVAGGIO, CARACCI, TENIERS, POTTER, BERGHEM, RUISDAEL, STEEN, RUBENS, VANDYCK, OSTADE, WOUVERMANS, METZU, DOW, REMBRANDT, TERBURG, NETSCHER, etc., etc. With delineations of statuary, chiefly of the ancient school (some slightly foxed)—also 20 exquisite vignettes interspersed throughout the text.* 4 vols. square large folio, half russia (bindings broken). Paris, Jules Didot, n. d.

This very interesting publication is undoubtedly the most magnificent work ever issued from the Parisian press; and it perpetuates the matchless collection which formerly graced the Louvre, combining, as it did, nearly all the excellence of which the various countries on the Continent could boast in painting and sculpture. And although a chain of wonderful events has restored many of the brightest gems of art to their rightful owners, so much of excellence still remains, that the gallery of the Louvre is yet, to the man of taste, the greatest attraction in Paris, and the very circumstance of the dispersion of so many wonderful productions gives additional value to the work which describes them in a collected state. This work is not a mere collection of prints. It contains many luminous and masterly dissertations upon the state of the arts in different ages, observations upon the style, excellence and defects of the various schools of painting; a minute description of every painting, etc., drawn with extreme care and correctness. This set, while it lacks four unimportant plates, which can easily be obtained and replaced, has brilliant impressions of the remarkable print of the "Laocoon," engraved by Bervic, and Raphael's "Madona della Sedia," which may be considered the masterpiece of J. G. Muller.

Bound up in 12 vols. 4to, half parchment (2 backs short). Paris, v. d.

VERY RARE and CURIOUS collection of French Newspapers. There are a large quantity of numbers of the—"Journal des Campagnes et des Armées," "L'Ami des Lois" and "Le Publiciste." Some of these are very anti-Bonapartian, and were printed between the years 1797-1808. There are also others of the—"Journals des Debats," "Gazette de France," "Journal du Commerce," "Journal du Soir," "Journal des Lois," "Le Courier Extraordinaire," "La Sentinelle," "Nouvelles Politiques," "Journal des Patriotes," "Gazette Universelle," etc. These range between 1796 and 1808. There is also a small pile of the—"Journal de Middlesex," of 1791, "Le Censeur Universelle," of 1785; etc. One of the volumes has some MS. notes and legal matters relating to the Panchaud and Rosset families.

THIERS'S HISTORICAL WORKS.

- 2236 THIERS (Adolphe). Histoire de la Révolution Française annoté par FÉLIX WOUTERS, 10 vols. in 5; Histoire du Consulat et de l'Empire, 6 vols. Together 11 vols. 8vo, fresh half roan, gilt. Brussels, 1845-51

"The publication of M. Thiers' 'History of the Consulate and the Empire,' is an event of interest not confined to the world of literature. The charms of so facile a style, the method of so lucid a narrative, and the abundance of its authentic and hitherto unexplored materials, place this work amongst the most important productions of our time. During the course of his inquiries on the subject, the ex-Minister has had free access to many sources of information beyond the reach of every other biographer of Napoleon."

"This great work deserves to be ranked as the foremost historical production of the age. M. Thiers indeed throws a fascination over every subject he touches. The translation is a perfect reflex of the original, and rendered with fidelity and spirit."—United Service Gazette.

REMARKABLE BROCHURES ON THE EMPEROR "BADINGUET."

- 2243 NAPOLEON III.—STELLI (L.), Les Nuits et le Mariage de CÉSAR, 1853-70; MAGEN (Hippolyte), Les Deux Cours et les Nuits de St. Cloud—Mœurs, Debauches et Crimes de la Famille BONAPARTE, 1852-70; Les Scandales du Bonapartisme, par "SEMPRONIUS"; Biographie de EUGÉNIE DE MONTIJO, Impératrice des Français, par "MARFORI," Paris, 1870 (a leaf torn); Biographie de NAPOLEON III., "Badinguet," Empereur des Français, par "MARFORI." Together 5 pieces. Sewed.

VERY SCARCE. These remarkable bibelots narrate the infamous libidinosities and monstrous crimes against morality of the members of the Bonaparte family, from the grandmother of the late Emperor "Badinguet," down to his own immediate family. What the "Delices des Douze Césars" exhibit in gems these brochures paint in words. According to them Napoleon the First, his brothers and sisters, nephews and nieces, united in themselves a volume of turpitudes, the like of which Sodom and Gomorrah, Lesbos and Pompeii never witnessed. Incest, sodomy, tribadism and the infinite possibilities of salacious lubricity are revealed in these awful exposures as frequently recurring incidents in the lives of the Neros and Messalinas of the house of Bonaparte.

NAPOLEON THE THIRD'S COPY OF ONE OF ROSSINI'S

Paris, 1780-84

SPLENDID COPY of this beautiful work, priced $78, see inserted catalogue cutting.

An elaborate description of this superb work is given in M. Em. Boucher's Catalogue d'Aug. de Saint-Aubin. It is embellished with an emblematic page frontispiece, containing the portrait of Louis-Philippe, the Duke of Orleans, and 2 head-pieces by Cochin and Saint-Aubin, 56 charming tail-pieces, and 179 fine full-page engravings from ancient cameos and intaglios. The first volume ends with a beautiful allegorical design by the Countess Eléonore de Sabran. The last engraving or tail-piece of the second volume contains 12 highly finished medallion-portraits of the Orleans family.

"Of all memorials from antiquity, there are hardly any from which a more varied and refined instruction may be drawn than from engraved stones. They exhibit with marvellous distinctness the images and attributes of the ancient deities, the features of great men and distinguished personages. Some of these cameos reveal to us curious details of primitive beliefs; others, again, represent religious and moral allegories or present beautiful fragments of Greek sculpture. Many of these engraved gems combine beauty of material with perfection of execution. . . . For various reasons, they assuredly deserve the attention of the scholar, artist, philosopher, archæologist, and the man of refined taste."—Preface.

- 2276 ORLEANS.—Mémoires de la Régence de S. A. R. MGR. LE DUC D'ORLEANS durant la Minorité de LOUIS XV. Portraits and plates. 3 vols. 12mo, sprinkled calf, gilt.

Written by the present wife of Sir Charles Dilke. "This is the first complete account that has appeared of one of the most important, and at the same time difficult, periods in the history of French art. . . . In any case Mrs. Pattison's work even now is an indispensable guide to its subject. No reader will lay down the work, carefully thought out and attractively written, without a feeling of satisfaction, and there is probably no man in this special branch of art who would not have been glad to have written such a work."—London Athenæum.

No. 137 of limited edition of 169 copies of which the above is on Holland paper. Pepys' Diary presents a true and most interesting portraiture of the busy and important times of King Charles I., Oliver Cromwell, King Charles II., King James II. and King William. There are no books of their class in the language for which it is more desirable that the widest possible circulation should be obtained.

"It is the book of books to dip into at random, to rummage for things curious and entertaining, to ransack for the light it throws on contemporary men, manners, morals, and society, and to consult for the valuable historical facts it discloses, and the interesting public and private events and occurrences it describes. A wonderful mosaic of things great and small, in church and state, in politics and affairs, in business and society, in the world of scandal and intrigue, in art, science and literature, and in the daily and household life and customs of artisans, merchants, gentry, nobility, and even of royalty itself; nowhere else can be found so complete a bird's-eye view of the England, or rather the London, of the last days of the Rump and the first nine years of the Restoration as in the unique diurnal jottings of this prince of gossips and most indefatigable of reporters."—HARPER'S Magazine.

LARGE ORGINIAL ETCHING BY REMBRANDT OF "THE DESCENT FROM THE CROSS."

- 2326 REMBRANDT. "THE (LARGE) DESCENT FROM THE CROSS." Folio (sixteen by twenty and one-half inches), BARTSCH, 81. Splendid impression neatly framed in French passepartout.

VERY RARE, and a fine impression of this masterpiece of etching by the great Rembrandt, and executed as stated on the print—"Rembrandt p. cvm pryvl: 1633."

Rembrandt's marvelous plates possess a charm for all. The artist fairly revels in them. The philosopher discovers in them a profound observation of human nature which captivates his attention at once. The poet finds in them a succession of fanciful shapes and sublime ideas. While the man who never thinks of opening a book, unless it be to while away a moment of leisure, may forget the outside world for days together in the contemplation of these incomparable works.

"Rembrandt van Rhyn holds a distinguished place among the most popular engravers of his country. This extraordinary artist, who owed everything to nature, has established an epoch in engraving more than any other master. He was the inventor of a process, for which he was entirely indebted to his genius, and which has thrown a charm over his prints that is indescribable. His plates are partly etched, frequently much assisted with the dry point, and occasionally, though rarely, finished with the graver. They evince the most extraordinary facility of hand, and display the most consummate intelligence of the effect of light and shadow. His point, playful and free, sports, if the expression may be allowed, in picturesque disorder, and, by an enchanting negligence, produces, as if by accident, the most surprising effects, which are, however, always regulated by his perfect acquaintance with the principles of chiar-oscuro."—BRYAN.

London, Ackermann, 1821

VERY SCARCE. Priced $30 lately by Dodd and Mead.

Every one at all acquainted with the arts must well know the caricature works of that very eccentric genius, Rowlandson; the extent of his talent, however, as a draughtsman, is not so generally known. His studies from the human figure at the Royal Academy were made in so masterly a style, that he was set up as a rival to Mortimer, whom he would have excelled, had his subsequent mode of study kept pace with the fecundity of his invention. His powers, indeed, were so versatile, and his fancy so rich, that every species of composition flowed from his pen with equal facility. There are certain subjects of his composition carried through with a compatibility of style so truly original, and so replete with painter-like feeling, that Sir Joshua Reynolds and Benjamin West pronounced them wonders of art.

- 2347 ROYAL LETTERS. A Collection of, written by KINGS CHARLES I. and II., JAMES II., KING and QUEEN of BOHEMIA, PRINCE RUPERT, CHARLES LOUIS COUNT PALATINE, DUCHESS OF HANOVER, etc. Fac-simile autographs and seals, also sheet pedigree (no portraits). 8vo, old half sheep.
London, John Stockdale, 1787

- 2348 ROYAL WANDERER (The); or Secret Memoirs of CAROLINE, founded on Facts. 8vo, half calf.

London, 1821

RARE. One of the numerous, though now rare, books written in vindication of the unfortunate wife of that royal voluptuary, George the Fourth:

"From the high halls of Brunswick, all youthful and gay,
From the hearth of her fathers, he lured her away;
How joy'd she in coming—how smiling the bower;
How sparkling the nuptials—how welcome her dower.
Ah! short were her pleasures—full soon came her cares—
Her husbandless bride-bed was washed with her tears.

Near a million of debts gone, all gone were her charms—
What! an Epicure have his own wife in his arms?
She was not to his taste—what cared he for the 'form,'
'To love and to cherish,' could not mean reform;
'To love' meant, of course, nothing else but neglect;—
'To cherish' to leave her, and shew disrespect."

—WILLIAM HONE.

SPLENDID ILLUSTRATIONS BY PETER PAUL RUBENS— ANTWERP, 1642.

RARE. It was not only as a financial reformer that the Duc de Sully served King Henry the Fourth of France and his country. He was the King's counsellor in all the great measures of the reign with regard to foreign affairs, and also in those by which belief of conscience and full rights of citizenship were guaranteed to the Huguenots; and by which the effective administration of the law and the maintenance of order and tranquility were secured.

"The Memoirs of Sully finish the portrait of these times, in finishing for us, not only the portrait of Henry IV., but in giving us many curious particulars respecting the practical government of France, its finances, factions and the whole state of its constitution and interests. His work is authentic and practically valuable, and must be read."—PROF. SMYTH.

- 2430 TITUS (SILAS, Colonel). KILLING NO MURDER; originally applied to OLIVER CROMWELL, a Discourse proving it Lawful to Kill a Tyrant according to the opinion of the Most Celebrated Ancient Authors, by COL. TITUS, alias WILLIAM ALLEN. Small 8vo, half calf.

London, printed in the year 1656 and reprinted for the Great Grandson of Algernon Sidney in 1775

VERY RARE, with MS note on title—"first printed clandestinely in 1657, reprinted in 1659, with some additions." Oliver Cromwell never smiled after reading the above Nihilistico-Anarchical brochure, of which Hume wrote:—"Conspiracies for an assassination he was chiefly afraid of; these being designs which no prudence or vigilance could evade. Colonel Titus, under the name of Allen, had written a spirited discourse, exhorting every one to embrace this method of vengeance; and Cromwell knew that the inflamed minds of the royal party were sufficiently disposed to put the doctrine in practice against him."

Bound up with the above is—"Lessons to a Young Prince, by an Old Statesman, on the present Disposition in Europe to a General Revolution," New York, reprinted 1791. This was written by Rev. David Williams, who died in 1816.

n. p., n. d.

UNIQUE, with the plates beautifully colored by hand.

"This collection singular by the matter, is more so by the manner in which it is done; it may be considered not only as a master-piece of the fancy of the Antients, but as a very remarkable monument of their talents and taste in engraving and designing. My opinion is that a few only of these stones were executed before the empire of Augustus and Tiberius. . . . I am certain that the original stones, from which I had the designs taken, have been done by some excellent Greek artist. . . . [they] show how elegant was the noble simplicity of the Antients, and how far they carried that point to perfection which none of the Moderns have yet attained."—Preface to the Leyden edition.

First Series. Containing 10 etchings, proofs on JAPAN PAPER, numbered, and signed by the painter and the engraver—also a duplicate set of impressions from the plates after they were defaced in such a way that they could not possibly be restored. Large folio (twenty-eight inches by twenty-one), boards.

Paris, 1876

A limited edition only of these beautiful specimens of the etcher's art was printed, and very soon, it is certain, must become rare. The plates were etched by A. MONGIN, L. MONZIES, G. M. GREUX, A. LALAUZE, N. MARTINEZ, E. P. LE RAT and A. I. GILBERT—all pre-eminent in the use of the needle—at Vibert's studio under his personal superintendence. The subjects (chosen by himself) were—"An Unequal Game," "The Premier Bull Fighter," "The Model's Repose," "Portrait of Coquelin," "The Divine's Breakfast," "The First Born," "The Melon Vendor of Valence," "The Offer of the Umbrella," "An Intruder," and "The Blacksmith."

- 2468 VIES DES HOMMES ILLUSTRES de la France depuis le Commencement de la Monarchie jusqu'à Present par M. D'AUVIGNY et Continué par M. TURPIN. 26 vols. 12mo, mottled calf gilt, red edges. Paris, 1768-75 thick large 8vo, dark green paneled calf gilt, inside gold borders, leather joints, edges gilt by TOUT.

London, William Pickering, 1836

VERY SCARCE. LARGE PAPER and beautiful impressions of the INDIA PAPER plates. This is a superb copy of this magnificent Pickering edition. It is, without doubt, the most beautifully illustrated edition of "Honest Izaak's" charming Pastoral ever published. To the late tasteful publisher, Mr. Pickering, its production was literally a labor of love. Neither time nor expense were spared to render it worthy of the arts and the importance of the subject, and the result was a union of literary and artistic talent which has rarely been equalled and never surpassed.

"A work the most singular in its kind, breathing the very spirit of contentment, of quiet and unaffected philanthropy, and interspersed with some fine relics of old poetry, songs and ballads."—BOWLES.

- 2478 WARDWELL (Joseph, alias Joseph the Dreamer). Way of the World, or Short Sketch of the Modern Customs of Mankind. Small 8vo, boards (stained and last page and Art Critics. Small 4to, paper, uncut.

London, [1878]

"Let him (Ruskin) resign his present professorship, to fill the Chair of Ethics at the University. As Master of English Literature he has a right to his laurels, while as the Populariser of Pictures he remains the Peter Parley of Painting."

- 2486 WHITTIER (John Greenleaf). Prose Works. Portrait. 2 vols. small 8vo, half morocco, top edges gilt, others uncut.
Boston, 1866

JOHN WILKES'S "ESSAY ON WOMAN."

WILKES, Esq., M.P., Alderman, Lord Mayor and Chamberlain of the City of London—Suppressed by Authority.
Minimo, half roan.

London, printed and published by R. Smith,

Drury Lane, n. d.

VERY RARE. Horace Walpole called this erotic curiosity of literature:—
"the most blasphemous and indecent poem that ever was composed," and again—"a performance bawdy and blasphemous to the last degree, being a parody of Pope's 'Essay on Man,' adapted to the grossest ideas or to the most profane."

- 2488 WILSON (John). Health and Health Resorts. Small 8vo, fresh cloth, gilt. Phila., 1880

- 2489 WINTERBOTHAM (W.). Historical, Geographical and Philosophical View of the Chinese Empire. Map and the poet Shelley's wife.

WOLTMANN AND WOERMANN'S "HISTORY OF PAINT-ING," IN TREE MARBLED CALF.

- 2491 WOLTMANN (Alfred) and WOERMANN (Karl). History of Ancient, Early Christian and Mediæval Painting. Translated from the German, and edited by PROF. SIDNEY COLVIN, of Cambridge University, and (Vol 2) by CLARA BELL. Profusely illustrated with portraits and fac-similes of sculpture, painting and ceramics. 2 vols. thick square large 8vo, fresh tree marbled calf extra, inside gold borders, gilt edges. N. Y., 1880-85

Vol. 1 was published at $15 in tree calf, and Vol. 2, "The Painting of the Renaissance," at $12.50 in cloth.

The amazing industry and learning of Professor Woltmann is all his own; so is his fidelity to history as well as his painstaking conscientiousness. All this combined makes Woltmann's work the best manual and the best reference book on the history of painting to be found in the English language.

"The work is a great treatise, broad as art itself in scope, scrupulously faithful in treatment, and founded upon scholarship the profoundest and most admirably balanced."—N. Y. Evening Post.

- 2492 WOOD (George, Captain of the Line). The Subaltern Officer, a Narrative. Front. on INDIA PAPER. Large 8vo, half calf (foxed). London, 1825

With the heraldic book-plate of Kennett Dixon. "A prosperous life, passed at home, has little incident for narrative; it is only poor devils, that are tossed about the world, that are true heroes of story."—WASHINGTON IRVING.

- 2493 WOOD (J. G.). Trespassers. Numerous illustrations. 8vo, cloth, gilt. N. Y., n. d.

- 2495 WOODARD (David, Captain). Narrative of his Captivity with four Seamen on the Malay Island of Celebes, by W. VAUGHAN. Portrait, plates and map. 8vo, boards, uncut (stained). London, 1805

SCARCE. Presentation copy from author with his signature on title. Containing, besides other curious matter, a vocabulary of the Malay language, and a list of shipwrecks, accidents, escapes and hardships suffered by mariners, many relating to America.

THE SUPPRESSED EDITION OF WRAXALL'S "HISTORICAL MEMOIRS."

- 2496 WRAXALL (Sir N. William). Historical Memoirs of My Own Time. Fine portrait. 2 vols. 8vo, old calf (slightly foxed). London, 1815

VERY SCARCE. FIRST EDITION of this most amusing and curious work, which was SUPPRESSED, containing particulars for which the author was prosecuted, which were omitted in the second edition. It is full of the most amusing anecdotes of the celebrities of the last century.

- 2497 ZIPOLI (Perlone). MALMANTILE RACQVISTATO POEMA, con le Note di PVCCIO LAMONI. Handsomely engraved front. with the DE MEDICI arms. 4to, fine old red morocco gilt, edges gilt. Florence, 1688

RARE. With handsome heraldic cognizance on the sides of—"a couchant lion holding a roundle in his paw." Dedicated to the memory of Cardinal Leopold De Medici under the patronage of his nephew, Cardinal Francesco Maria De Medici.

Book Catalogues.

" 'I cannot understand all this fuss about cataloguing,' said a bookman to us recently; 'I never could see any mystery in it.' That is how the abominably ill-compiled catalogues that we constantly receive come to be written. 'There is no mystery in it. Any fool can catalogue books.' That is the idea entertained by many ignorant people who seem to think that cataloguing books is as easy as not reading them. . . . It seems ridiculous to have to state nowadays that cataloguing is a science, only to be acquired after years of hard grinding labor, and then not to be mastered unless the student has natural qualifications for the pursuit. The majority of catalogues are nothing but 'hash,' and indigestible fifth-rate boarding-house 'hash' at that."—RICHARD HALKETT LORD in "The Bookmart."

- 2498 BRUNET (J. Ch.). Manuel du Libraire et de l'Amateur de Livres. 5 vols. large 8vo, half morocco, top edges gilt, Roxburghe style (binding of 2 vols. slightly damaged).

Brussels, 1838-45

"QUATRIÈME EDITION (avec) le table méthodique complétée et mise en ordre par le Bibliophile Jacob." A work which, if even superficially glanced over, will teach aspiring novices that cataloguing is as Charles F. Blackburne says—"A handicraft just as much as any other mechanical trade; an art to be learned by attention and diligent practice. When amateurs get together and talk about catalogues, the question is sure to come up, 'What arrangement do you prefer?' To discuss arrangement before you can prepare a title for a catalogue is as if you would be a colorist before you can draw an outline."

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1. The highest Bidder to be the Buyer; and, if any dispute arise, between two or more Bidders, the Lot so in dispute shall be immediately put up again and re-sold.

2. The Purchasers to give their names and addresses, and to pay down twenty-five per cent. on the dollar in part payment, or the whole of the Purchase-money if required; in default of which the Lot or Lots so purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.

3. The Lots to be taken away at the Buyer's Expense and Risk within twenty-four hours from the conclusion of the Sale, and the remainder of the Purchase-money to be absolutely paid, or otherwise settled for to the satisfaction of the Vendors, on or before delivery; in default of which Messrs. GEO. A. LEAVITT & Co. will not hold themselves responsible, if the Lots be lost, stolen, damaged, or destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the Purchaser.

4. The sale of any Book, Painting, Engraving, Print, Furniture, Works of Art, or any other article, is not to be set aside on account of any error in the description. All articles are exposed for Public Exhibition one or more days, and are sold just as they are without recourse. All books are presumed to be perfect unless otherwise expressed, and are collated as far as practicable when catalogued; but the sale of any book or books cannot be invalidated on account of any stained, foxed, torn, mended, facsimile, written on, stamped, or short leaves of text, plates, maps or diagrams, or want of title, frontispiece, table of contents, index, or list of plates, or on account of the publication of any subsequent volume, supplement, appendix or plates. All manuscripts and autographs, all magazines and reviews, all books in lots, and all pamphlets in lots or volumes, all single volumes or sets, will be sold with all their faults, imperfections and errors of description. The sale of any illustrated book, lot of prints or drawings is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the number of volumes or pieces, or other errors of description.

5. To prevent inaccuracy in delivery and inconvenience in the settlement of the Purchases, no Lot can, on any account, be removed during the sale.

6. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money deposited in part payment shall be forfeited; all Lots uncleared within the time aforesaid shall be re-sold by Public or Private sale, and the deficiency (if any) attending such re-sale shall be made good by the Defaulter at this sale, together with all charges attending the same. This Condition is without prejudice to the right of the Auctioneers to enforce the contract made at this sale, without such re-sale if they think fit.
